a failure on his part, he cared not called Confederate States, he would who went under so he could escape be allowed to go free and save his with his pockets full. And yet Joe Davis, Vance, Waddell and others want to have him pardoned, so he the United States would listen to can again have a seat in the United States Senate. Do the poor, beggared ex-Confederate soldiers approve of this?

Joe Davis, Vance, Waddell and other Democratic representatives from North Carolina are earnest in pardoned, so that he can again occupy a seat in the United States Senate and hatch up another rebellion. Let every ex-Confederate soldier who lost an arm or other limb, or who had friends killed after 1868, remember that Davis alone was responsible for every drop of blood shed after the Hampton Rhodes conference. Let the good and true men who struck for peace in North Carolina in 1863, remember, that but for Davis the war would have stopped and thousands of lives and millions of property been saved. Above all, let our people hold Joe Davis, Vance, Waddell and others to a strict account for again attempting to force the arch-traitor into the Nation's Halls.

When Gen. Joseph E. Johnston told Jefferson Davis at Greensboro, in 1865, that the struggle was hopeless, and, that it was best for the country that terms of peace should be made, the arch-traitor opposed any proposition for peace unless it provided for his own safety. He was willing that every village and hamlet in the land should be laid waste, and, that the wives and chil dren of the poor conscript soldiers should perish with hunger, rather than that he and his so-called Cabinet should risk a trial for treason. This is the man whom Joe Davis. Waddell, Vance and other Demo cratic Congressmen are trying to have again made eligible for seat in the United States Senate Think of it, ye poor, crippled beggared, ex-Confederate soldiers. think of it! an Torn worthless neck from the halter it deserved. But the government of no such humiliating proposals, and Davis prepared to flee the country. Now comes an act of meanness, outstripping anything we ever heard of in an honorable man-es pecially in one who claimed to have previously stood high as a soldier. We want every ex-Confederate soltheir efforts to have Jefferson Davis | dier to read what we are going to relate and then say whether such an infamous, unfeeling wretch deserves again to be allowed the privilege of aiding to make laws for, or to hold any position in a free government. When Davis found that Gen. Johnston would no longer consent to prosecute a war which to every sensible man appeared not only useless but cruel, the devilish traitor made a bold attempt to get that officer to aid him in stealing a birth of the Republic. large amount of silver coin with which he could escape the country and enrich himself. These are strong words but they are true. He telegraphed from Charlotte, N. C., to which point he had retreated, or rather stampeded, for Gen. Johnston to send him a chest of coin of which he was the custodian, to aid himself, the scoundrel Judah P.Benjamin and other civil officers of the so-called government, in getting off. The reply of Gen. Johnston redounds to his credit. He stated to the infamous and selfish traitor and tyrant, that he should do no such thing. He contended, that as there was then no other arm of the exploded government but his division of the army, and that as his poor worn-out, broken down and hungry soldiers had not received any pay for several months, the money belonged as much, if not more to them than to the head traitors, and Gen. Johnston distributed the money to the poor soldiers, share and share alike, regardless of rank. The amount was something over thirty nine thousand dollars.

E. D. MORGAN, Chairman, WM. E. CHANDLER, Sec., Republican National Committee. WASHINGTON, January 13, 1876.

Has Democracy Principles? The constant charge of Demo crats has been that the Republic ins were incapable of getting beyond the war, incompetent to effect any of the practical reforms which the country demands, and prone to stave off those reforms by con tinually reviving the passions and bitter memories of the war. If Mr. Blaine had intended to prove that charge well founded, could he have done so more effectually than by his recent speech?

The constant charge of Republicans has been that the Democrats have no principles, but only prejudices; no belie's of any kind, but only an absorbing greed for office ; of it. This is not a good time for no convictions that they are not hollow and dishonest pretext for turning their opponents out of power. If the Dymocratic leaders

But what do these Democrats propose? To repeal the pledge of resumption, and yet to continue, with less

Do they suppose men will not see that the Democratic leaders, whether hard money or soft money by profession, are ready to throw away all principle, barter off all convictions, and sacrifice all public interests, for the sake of securing the harmony and promoting the success of "the party ?"

We beg to inform the Democratic leaders that they underrate the intelligence and the sincerity of the people. Their own followers will scorne them for so vile a dodge as this. The inflationists and repudiationists are vicious and ignorant, but they are in earnest. They believe something. Watch the prediction : they will toss into the carnest political ditch the shallow persons who have gained places in Congress because their professions were satisfactory, but who really believe nothing, and are ready to barter away every interest of their constituents for party cuccess. Not less honest are the hard-money voters, Democrats and Independents, whose voters have saved Democracy from complete rout by giving it the victory where it has promised "no steps back ward." Let Democracy take this step backward. and men who take or countenance it will soon learn what the people think
