We have rather "crowded the monkey" this issue.

KEEP your patriotism before your partyism.

PEOPLE must learn that patriotism is not a commodity, but a principle.

YES, it certainly takes lots of "brass" to back up a gold standard argument.

A head full of brains is worthless that is not braced up by a good back-bone.

WE have too many men who never use their heads for anything but hat pegs.

IF a man could run out of debt as easily as he can run into it, times would not be so hard.

GOD pity the poor devil who insists that we have money enough, and yet can't buy shoes for his children.

A nation cannot prosper where a part of the people depend upon robbing the ballance for a living.

IF taking the gold cure is so recuperating to a debilitated system, why the duce isn't Uncle Sam improving?

THE man who possesses more money than he has earned, either had rich relatives, discovered a good pile, or he is dishonest.

THERE is one fact which the gold bugs can't get around:

Silver never fell in price until it was demonetized by the United States.
