MR. EDITOR -Buncombe county has hal a representative in Congress-in the Lower House-state number of years, has she a life long lease of the office and Congressional District furnish a gentleman of sufficient ability to fill the office to the satisfaction of his constituents? Can we never again have a Congress man as well as that of the city or town to time all damages will have been repairon this side of the ridge?

Let us have a recurrence to first principles and when the Convention meets n. xt year let them nominate this staunch gentleman and Democrat who in the dark days of adversity when North Carolina was over-run with carpet-baggers and scalawages dared to speak his mind as fully as he does to-day. He is known all over the State as a gentleman of ability, sound sense and discretion and as a thorough going Democrat and he is one of few who can reconcile all these differences in the Democratic ranks in this Congressional District and restore harmony to the party-let them therefore nominate Hou, B. 3. Gaithers, of Burke VOTER.

The death of Hon. Zach. Chandler, no doubt, will be read in our columns with many a dry eye; and not only will this be the case in our section, but all over the South. We rejoice not in the eterhal destruction of any soul, but in very truth we must say we are glad we have one bitter enemy less. To say that he was an uncompromising hater of the South, is too, mild by far; he was her most unscrupulous tarnisher, and bemeanur. He was a tryant, and as such would stickle at nothing to accomplish the humiliation of the southern people, whom he could not find it in his heart to picture other than as traitors and mur derers, although deep down in the re cesses of his heart and in his mind he knew we were no worse than other people, and that he was knowingly misreprenting us for a base purpose. We 1 ay be considered unnecessarily severe on this dead man, but inasmuch as the statements are neither more nor less than here facts, lying for charity sake would not only be groug, but too palpolicy thin to veit his true character.

> The New York World says: No surplus revenue is wanted. A surplus raised by taxation is a disgrace to the finances of any country. The only surplus needed in this country now is a surplus of private means to be put to productive use in business enterprises of every kind. There is a large margin for Congress to reduce, the taxes and the customs, with the certainty in this rapidly expanding country that the revenues accruing on the reduced scale of taxation will easily take care of the Sinking Fund when the time comes to begin making annual contribu tions to it once more. If Congress wil but understand and act upon this great opportunity, we can begin the year with some of the solid blessings which a relief from taxation alone can confer upon us. It is a measure of conservative prudence
