It is a little amusing to see the Rich mend Dispatch parading the vote of the Virginia delegation at Cincinnati, even to the extent of giving the individual vote of each delegate, as if any body cared how they voted. That delegation "puttered" about and exercised no influence on the convention. Indeed it looks like the "mother of States and presidents" had about "played."

Plan of Organization.

ROOMS CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF N. C., RALEIGH, July 2, 1880.

In pursuance of authority vested in this ommittee, the following rules are this day adopted for the organization of the Democratic party of North Carolina :

PARTY ORGANIZATION. 1. The unit of county organization shall be the township. In each township there shall be an executine committee to of the several townships, and said com-mittee so elected that compare of its Abraham Laucoin. members as chairman, who shall preside at all said committee moetings.

2. The several township executive committees shall convene at the meetings of this matter : of the several county conventions, or at any other time and place that a majority of them may elect, and shall elect a county executive committee to consist of not less than five members, one of whem skall be designated as chairman, who shall preside at all of said committee

3. In case there shall be a failure on part of any township to elect its executive committee for the period of thirty days, the county executive committee shall appoint said committee from the Democratic voters of said township. 4. The members of the township committees shall elect to any vacancy occurring in said committees. 5. The county executive committee shall call all necessary county conventions by giving at least ten days' notice by public advertiseme it in the public places in each township, at the court house door, and in any Democratic newspaper that may be published in said county, requesting all Democrats of the county to meet in convention in their respective townships, on a common day therein stated, which said day shall not be less than three days before the meeting of the county convention, for the purpose of electing their delegates to the county convention. That therefore the said con ventions so held shall elect their delegates to represent the townships in the her house of which she was cognizant. county conventions from the voters of Martial law was declared, and the writ of or such of them as shall attend, shall vote Mr. Seward had been stabbed by an asthe full Democratic strength of their respective townships, on all questions that may come before the said county convenons. That in case no convention shall be held in any township in pursuance of said call, or no election shall be made, the township executive committee shall appoint such delegates.

6. Each fownship shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote tor every one hundred Democratic votes. and one vote for fractions over fifty Democratic votes cast by that township at the last preceding election for members of the General Assembly : Provided. That every township shall be entitled to cast at least one vote.

7. That for the purpose of fully insugurating this system, the present anty executive committees shall continue in office until their successors are elected under this system, and shall exercise all the functions pertaining to said office under this system of organization,

8. The chairman of township comm tees shall preside at all township couveutions; in their absence, any other member of said committees may preside. COUNTY CONVENTIONS.

The several county conventions shall be entitled to elect to their represective Senatorial, judicial and Congressional conventions one delegate for every one hundred Dem scratic votes, and for fractions over lifty Democratic votes cast at the last preceding gubernatorial electron in their respective counties. And if any such delegate be simble to attend such conventions, he shall be authorized to appoint his own alternate, in writing, spproved by the charman of his county convention, or by the chairman of his county executive committee, and none but delegates or afternates so provided in said conventions : Propided That

The chariman, or, in his street, any member of the county executive commit tee, shall call to order all such county conventions, and hold the chairmanship thereof until the convention shall elect its chairman.

The executive committees of the Sens torial, Congressional and judicial districts, respectively, shall, at the call of their respective chairmen, meet at some time and place in their respective districts, designated in said oall, and it shall be their duty to appoint the time and place for the holding of conventions in their respective districts, and the chairmen of said respective committees shall mmediately notify the chairmen of the different county executive committees of said appointment, and the said county executive committees shall forthwith call conventions of their respective counties m conformity to said appointment, for the purpose of sending delegates to said

> The National Republican is one of the bitterest of Republican papers, yet in its issue of the 26th June it has this to say

"We are in receipt of several com-munications which allude censoriously to the part of General Hancock bore in the conviction and execution of Mrs. Surratt." "So far as the Republican is concerned it cannot be made a party to any crusade that may be pushed against Gen. Hancock on that account. He simply discharged his duty as an officer of the government in the part he bore on that trial and in executing the judgment of the court and we cannot consent now because he has been nominated for the Presidency by a party to which we are opposed, to censure an act that was approved by all loyal men at the time it was committed. We shall oppose General Hancock for the reason that he trains with the enemies of his country now, and not because he discharged his duties fearlessly during the war. We hope, there-fore, that our friends will not trouble us with any more communications of censure upon General Hancock on account of his connection with the Surratt drama, as it is termed." It will be remembered that Lincoln was the idol of the North, and he was brutally and cruelly murdered. The nation North and South was shocked at the enormity of the crime, committed though it was by a cruzy man. There were circumstances which pointed to the fact that John Wilkes Booth was only one of a party of conspirators who had undertaken to take the life of Mr. Lincoln and that Mrs. Surratt, was in their secrets. It was said that meetings were held at habeas corpus was suspended, inst after sassin's knife, because there was no telling just how deep, or how, far the conspiracy extended. The indignant populace demanded a victim, and Booth' and already been slain. It turned with Felentless fury upon the only victim-Mrs. Surratt-it could reach. Lincoln had been murdered in cold blood, but not less cool was the murder of Mrs. Surratt. A Republican court martial called by a Republican President, through a Republican Secretary of War, condemned Mrs. Surratt, as accessory before the fact, and it fell to the lot of the commanding general to see that the order was executed. How it was carried out is a matter of history. The nomination of General Hancock has revived the affair, and in order that our readers may have a full understanding of the occurrence, we copy the following correspondence of the New York Herald, from Washington under date of June 27th: Mr. John W. Clampitt the only surviving counsel for Mrs. Surratt says that on the day this woman was executed that on the day this woman was executed that he met Gen. Hancock near the cell where she was imprisoned, and asked him (Gen. Hancock) "if there was any hope, to which the general replied in a very sorrowful manner, "I fear not," and it ions of official trust."

"Mr. Garfield," says the New Yerk Herald, (Independent,) "is the first candidate of either party whose nomination for the Presidency has been followed by charges of pecunilary dishenor in possitions of official trust." very sorrowful manner, "I fear not," and in an impressive tone he continued :

"I have fought all through this war and I have fought through it conscien-tiously. I have been in the very front of the battle and amid the fires of bell itself, and say to you that I would rather stand to-day amid the consuming flames than to stand here to-day to order the execution of this woman; but I am a soldier. I have been ordered as the chief command of this department to see that these parties are executed, and as a

The counsel further said that in a conversation a few days since with Father Walter that gentleman said in substance that General Hancock had not been guilty of any unkindness towards him as the spiritual adviser of Mrs. Surratt. Republicans who ordered the court, and convicted the woman, should be the last persons in the world to condemn the sheriff for carrying out the execution of their own court.

The Press Convention.

The press convention met in the court house at Asheville on the 30th of June, and was called to order by President Dossey Buttle, at 4 p. m. There were altogether about seventy members of the association present. President Battle delivered a very admirable address, which received many encomiums from all present. After the adoption of sundry amendments to the constitution and by-laws, and the appointment of several committees, the association accepted an invitation to attend a reception at the college chapel at 8 o'clock that evening, at which time the annual address and poem were to be delivered. At the appointed hour the association found themselves in a large and commodious hall, where about five hundred of the ladies and gentlemen of Asheville had assembled to greet the press of North Carolina.
