Winfield Scott Hancock.

When the Republican force has been overthrown, and peace established, and the civil authorities are ready and willing to perform their duties, the military power should be withdrawn, and the civil authorities in possession of their natural and rightful dominions.

Hancock in 1861.

Register.

Every voter should see that his name is registered, before the day of election.

The registration books will be closed on election day, and any name not on the list will lose its right to vote.

Who does not believe that Hancock's chances are not very much better than Garfield's? He has 171 votes, we think, certain. He needs but 14 more. Can he not get them from all of the remaining States mentioned above? It would seem so, really.

Disturbive storm.

There were terrible storms on Saturday and Sunday in the Northwest.

There have been numerous disasters reported on the lakes, and it is feared that the loss of life will be considerable.

There were also heavy snows reported in some places the drifts were twelve feet deep, and trains are blocked.

The maximum of the wind was seventy miles an hour.

The following vessels with their crews are reported lost: The Steamers Alpena and Trader and Schooners, J. H. Hartzell and Hope.

The tax levy for the State in 1890, under Radical rule, was eighty cents and nothing for schools. The tax levy under Democratic rule is thirty-two cents, including right and a third cent for schools.

At Fulton, N. J., Samuel J. Ramsey, a brother of the Hon. George Ramsey, of Illinois, and a well-to-do farmer of Clayton township, died at an early hour Saturday from the effects of two pistol wounds inflicted by himself on Wednesday night last.

He had a wayward daughter, who quitted her home to lead a dissolute life in the city, and the disgraceful story that he fell upon her refusal to return led to the father's act. Ramsey was over sixty years old.

The Republican Hope.

The Republican National Executive Committee have formally resolved to make a strenuous effort to carry one of the Southern States. Buoyed up with a hope of success by the recent vote in Indiana, they have decided to make a fight for the Presidency. Heretofore they have not had the heart to carry on a campaign in the South, because, even with a Southern State in their column, they could not expect Garfield's election. Now they are more hopeful. They think Indiana will go with them, and that would give them such strength that should soon Southern State formally Hancock and go to Garfield he might be elected.

The determination of the Republican committee to change their ground from the North to the South can be explained only on the idea that they really feel that the solid South means Hancock's election. They despair of winning either Connecticut, New Jersey or New York from us, and they therefore propose to attack the Democratic column at some point that seems weaker than any of these. Northern States North Carolina is one of the points where they hope to break through the solid South. They will doubtless send speakers down to persuade our people to support Garfield. When they come we hope our friends will treat them with the utmost respect. We would not have our North Carolina folks to forget what manner of men Garfield is, as shown by his own speeches, of which we have from time to time heretofore printed extracts. By this is only the future. For the present we are only anxious to see that they can look hopefully to the future when their chances of success depend on the desertion of North Carolina from the Democratic column? We have at least 40,000 majority in North Carolina, if our voters can be brought to the polls. We mean to get it. The voting population of Ohio and Indiana, as shown by the recent election, is nearly one-third of the entire population. The same proportion here would give the Democrats more than 30,000 majority. When the Republicans have to rely on heading down this majority in North Carolina in order to elect Garfield, it seems to us they are in desperate straits. They can have no well founded hope of success in such an attempt. In any case, we will bestir themselves never before to make North Carolina secure and solid for Hancock.

The Outlook.

The Morning Star says: The news from the Pacific Coast is of a character to warrant a strong hope that California, Oregon, and Nevada will all vote for Hancock. This will be 12 votes. The signs in New York are altogether favorable. There is nothing thus far to cause any Democrat to feel most important State to feel any apprehensions as to the result. It is believed most confidently that the majority will range not below 80,000, and may go as high as 100,000. Victory is certain if the Democrats have strong hearts and a firm will. Energy, push, resolution, will bring victory to our standards. To doubt, would be diabolical, to falter would be sin.

We concede to the Republicans, Ohio, Massachusetts, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Vermont, Rhode Island, Nebraska, Colorado, Illinois, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania—in all 142 votes.

We claim as Democratic certainly the entire Southern vote with the exception of Virginia. This gives 127. We claim the following Northern States as certain:

New York..... 35
New Jersey..... 9
Add..... 127

So we place as certain.

For Garfield..... 142 votes
For Hancock..... 171 "

The following States, without exception, may be classified as doubtful but with the chances largely in favor of the Democrats:

Virginia..... 11
Connecticut..... 6
California..... 6
Indiana..... 5
Oregon..... 3

Then there are three other States that may be classed as doubtful with the chances somewhat in favor of the Democrats:

New Hampshire..... 5
Maine..... 5
Nevada..... 3

Who does not believe that Hancock's chances are not very much better than Garfield's? He has 171 votes, we think, certain. He needs but 14 more. Can he not get them from all of the remaining States mentioned above? It would seem so, really.

Hancock Can Carry Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 16.—From 20,000 to 30,000 illegal Republican votes were cast in Indiana Tuesday. The poll shows it, and the census proves it. The Democratic estimates upon the State giving from 5,000 to 8,000 majority were correct. The estimates were based upon politics of the bona fide residents of the State. Ten thousand ignorant, poor, miserable, stinking negroes, from the South, were brought into Indiana to vote away the rights of the people. These deluded black papers came to Indiana and wrest the State government out of the hands of honest men, who have honestly and economically administered the public affairs, and place it in the hands of a corrupt political party. Think of it, citizens of Indiana. The Republican party sends South and brings to your State ignorant negroes enough to over-ride your choice of rulers. That is to say, ten thousand of these ex-slaves now control the destinies of the great State of Indiana, its wealth, culture, refinement and brains and its two million of inhabitants. This is one of the glorious results of the late war.

Bill Coates, the boss leader of the Radical repeaters, brought into this State and within as ever went unburnt, remarked in the columns of the Grand Hotel last night: "The people wonder at the large vote polled Tuesday. Well, I could tell them how it was done. I wanted to." And then he gave a course of horse-lung and walked off with his arm in that of a local Republican politician. This is the kind of a man brought here to do the dirty work for the Republicans. He is the kind of cattle that help make up the Republican majority.

I do not give up Indiana to Garfield. I give up nothing before an election. I know that the fight was hot, close and desperate, that the odds against us were too fearful even to contemplate; but I thought we would pull through. I did not dream that the Republicans would commit such glaring frauds and sneaky acts as such an army of men, white and black. I estimated that the Republicans would increase their majority in their great Republican district, the sixth, from 500 to 1,000 votes. I did not think they would report and stuff the ballot-box to an extent so vast, as they have, their majority to over 10,000, a Republican gain of 2,000. I did think, and had a right to, that the Indianapolis Democrats would carry out the pledges they made to the delegates in the State convention if they would nominate Mr. Landers, and reduce the Republican majority in this city, if they could not carry it. The Indianapolis Democrats received more aid and encouragement in the campaign just closed than any half dozen counties in the State, and still the returns show a largely increased Republican majority. This, too, when the Democratic candidate for Vice-President and the Democratic candidate for Governor resided in the city. There is one poor little grain of comfort in this, however. It is everlasting for time and eternity cooks the ring of Indianapolis politicians. The boys up here are all right, but the leaders are execrable.

The Indianapolis Don't Give Up Their State.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 15.—The Democratic executive committee have issued the following address:

To the Democratic and Independent Voters of Indiana:

The result of the election last Tuesday is a deep disappointment to us all. The extent of the success which the Republican party has achieved in this State is as much a surprise to the Republicans as it is to the Democrats, and proves that a majority of the agents who were corrupt leaders were employing as we were. The temporary loss of our State is a calamity that time will enable us to retrieve; but the injury which our free institutions will sustain, resulting from the frauds and corruption practiced by the Republican leaders to secure their triumph, is incalculable. The causes which enabled the Republicans to succeed in the recent election are now plainly the partial success of their scheme to Airborne our State for political purposes, the corrupt use of money for purposes of obtaining votes, the suppression and use of repeaters, probably by deputy marshals, and the aid rendered by them from the use of the Federal machinery of elections, under pretense of supervising the election of members of Congress. In the Presidential election we will not have to encounter these forces to the same extent as in our State. The corruption fund will have to be divided among many States, their repeaters will be all at home, and those of them who were discharged from the use of the deputy marshals or straw ball will not be likely to make their appearance in our State soon again. We shall have no Federal marshals or Federal machinery to contend against; we are thoroughly united in our councils, and whatever our adversaries may say to the contrary is untrue. We, therefore, call upon you not to relax any of your efforts. Put new life and energy into your county and township organizations, and take all the measures in your power to bring out your full strength to the polls. The same vote polled by us in October, if polled in November, will secure us the State. The average vote against us at the late election will not exceed 4,000 and may fall below that figure. This vote can, and in our opinion will, be overcome in the presidential election. A change of three votes in each precinct will accomplish it. Remember, you have a leader in this contest who never sounds a retreat, and he commands an army that never surrenders. J. W. Fleming, J. M. Cranley, O. O. Sleasley, Executive Committee.

Garfield is a better, more intelligent and more energetic man than any man in Congress, he said. "Contrast their estates both personal and real, for life and forever. The war began by proclamation, and it must end by proclamation. We can hold the insurgent States in military subjection for half a century of need be. I want to see in all these States the men who fought and suffered for the truth living the life in which they pitched their tents."

Address of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

To the Democratic and Conservative Voters of the Country:

The election of President and Vice-President is now before you. State and local divisions are banished from the issues of to-day. The magnitude of a victory or a defeat can only be estimated by the forces and means employed in securing it. By these fraud and corruption the people of the country were defeated in their purposes in 1876, and the right fully elected President was kept from office. With the combined aid of the Republican party, aided by repeated assessments upon an army of office-holders, with the power of the Federal government represented by United States marshals at the polls; with intimidation, fraud, and a resort to every corrupt appliance known to Republican methods concentrated in two States, our adversaries have succeeded in procuring the probable return of their local candidates. Can it be possible that in every State throughout this broad land the same methods can be brought to bear that were used by the Republican managers in Indiana and Ohio? Can the great States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Colorado, Nevada and New Hampshire be bought, intimidated and defrauded? Even without the vote of Indiana, which we believe will be released in November, with New York and New Jersey, and the States that are conceded to us, including Maine, the election of our candidate is assured.

The Republican party have put in nomination for President James Wood-ward Brooks, why the nomination of our own party and press are unworthy of your confidence or your suffrages. It is impossible that fifty millions of intelligent and patriotic people will consent to place themselves upon the same footing level thus prepared for lead by the Republican managers.

Fellow-citizens, the first day's results at Gettysburg ended on the third with Hancock in front in glorious victory. That victory secured to us our Union. The question is not now the preservation of the Union, but of constitutional government. Hancock is now, as then, in front; the republic is now, as then, the coming victory which will secure the coming generations the inestimable blessings of civil liberty.

By order of the national Democratic Committee.

W. H. BARNUM, Chairman.

Hancock speaks on the Tariff Question.

NEW YORK, October 15.—Gen. Hancock has written the following letter to Gov. Randolph, of New Jersey, in regard to the interview published in the Paterson Guardian:

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, N. Y., October 12.—MY DEAR GOVERNOR: I have received your favor of the 11th inst. In my letter of acceptance I expressed my full sympathy with our American industries. I thought I spoke plainly enough to satisfy our Jersey friends regarding my tariff views. I do not mean an American to advocate any departure from the general features of the policy that has been largely instrumental in building up our industries and keeping Americans from the competition of the rest of the world, honest and by the public debt, and people of all parties do, and if we mean to administer the functions of government, then we must raise revenue in some way or other. With a reunited and harmonious country we should certainly pay off the public debt, but the necessity of raising money for the administration of the government will continue as long as human nature lasts. All parties agree that the best way for us to raise revenue is largely by tariff. So far as we are concerned, therefore, all talk about "free trade" is folly. But the tariff question will probably be treated with justice to all interests and people by some such bill as Eaton's. I believe that a commission of intelligent experts, representing both the government and American industries, will suggest tariff measures that will relieve us of any artificial and unnecessary existing in our present laws, and conform to a system which will be judicious, just, harmonious, and indefinitely productive as stable in its effect.

I am, very truly yours, WINFIELD S. HANCOCK.

To Hon. Theo. Randolph, Morris town, N. J.

Epizootic in Virginia.

PETERSBURG, VA., Oct. 20.—Epizootic among horses has made its first appearance in this section, and in some adjacent cities there are several unfavorable cases.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The epizootic, or horse-sickness, which made its appearance here a few days ago, has now become epidemic. Within the last twenty-four hours the disease has spread widely in the city, and many other cases that marked its progress in 1872 are visible now.

The delegation elected from Indiana to the House of Representatives stands 8 Radicals and 5 Democrats. In the present House the delegation stands 6 Radicals, 1 National, and 6 Democrats, a majority of 11.

The Washington Post says: Two weeks are left of the campaign. In the meantime we should work as no party ever worked before. The Republicans have a much harder struggle before them. They must fight along the whole line of battle and must win everywhere. They must carry Ohio. They must carry Indiana. They must carry Maine. They must carry New York. If they fail in a single instance, they are beaten. Let us put our trust in Providence, and labor unceasingly in our respective causes, until we have secured the victory.

Let us carry New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut. We said yet win.

In New York, New Jersey and Connecticut our prospects could not be better; while in Maine, Oregon, California, Nevada and Pennsylvania there are electoral votes to be gained in the balance, which if won for Hancock, will elect the Democratic ticket without the aid of Indiana. There is every prospect, therefore, of a glorious victory for us.

Resolved, That from this date we will prosecute the canvass in this State with increased energy, and that township and county committees are urged to thoroughly organize and bring to the polls every voter who will vote for Jarvis and Hancock.

Do you feel whipped, Gave no? "No, bless you, no," replied Vance. "The Democratic party is indeluctable. The chances are a thousand to one that when the trumpet of battle is sounded, a signal for a suspension of all terrestrial affairs, its solemn notes will interrupt a crowd of anxious red-headed men, sitting in the back-room of a grocery arranging a Democratic ticket to be voted for at the ensuing election. Great principles are imperishable."

The Republican Legislature of 1868-9 squandered two millions of dollars. It has been proven by the records time and again. But not a single Republican protest has been heard since.

The sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad by the Democratic Legislature of 1878-9 saved the people of North Carolina $170,000 in taxes.

In addition, it yields annual income to the State of $22,000—the price paid for the convict labor now employed in constructing the road.

Against this Democratic economy the Republicans do protest.

When taxes are reduced they cry "fraud."

After 600 years of unintermitted labor, at a cost of $1,000,000 the Cathedral at Cologne was completed last Friday. It is several years the senior of the Democratic party. It antedates the discovery of America. It antedates the rise of the foundations of the Turkish Empire, and two centuries had passed over it before Mahomet II. came thenceforward to the city of Constantinople. It has seen Louis of France set out on the seventh crusade, and Richard of Cornwall embark on the same pious mission for the redemption of the Holy Sepulchre. It witnessed the foundation of Parliament in England by Simon de Montfort; the invasion of Scotland by King Edward, and it has heard the assassination of the traitor and assassin of Wallace. As has seen Richard first and fall in battle; heard the clash of battle at Cressy and Calais, and, at the venerable age of two centuries, it saw the beginning of the Wars of the Roses, the downfall of the Eastern Empire and the establishment of Protestantism in England. Its completion in 1850 and the speech of Hancock will go into history as a contemporary event.
