J H. HALLYBURTON, Editor and Proprietor.

MORGANTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1880.

VOL. V.-NO 41.

PITH AND POINT.

And now Lady Godiva is said to be a

Acrons should be watched closely on

Our Little Friend, the Chipmuck. The chipmuck likes to dig his hole in these dry banks, and you may often hear a rustling in the thick beds of dry leaves loud enough to attract your attention from a distance of fifteen or twenty rods. A cautious approach to the spot will show you a couple of chiprances chasing each other round and round through the leaves. They will cease from their sports as you come near, but if you sit down quietly they will soon conclude that you are not dangerous, and commence again. They often include the trunk of a fallen tree in their circuit, running along its whole length; then plunging like divers into the leaves, they rush headlong through them, seeming greatly to enjoy the noise and stir which they make. They play in this way for hours. If one stops, the other turns back to look for him, and away they go again. The chipmuck can climb as well as any squirrel, and frequently does so when the coast is clear, but if danger threatens he makes haste to descend. He never can realize that a tree affords him the least security. If you get so near, before he sees you hat he dares not come down, he plainly considers the situation to be very serions. Sometimes he will make a desperate rush for the ground within reach of your hand, and as soon as you withdraw he comes down and scampers away, evidently reeling that he has got well out of a had scrape. Let his large cousins -red, black or gray-depend on trees for safety, if they choose; his trust is in store walls and brush-heaps, not to mention his burrow. Within reach of these, his easy impudence is in striking contrast with his panie-stricken condi-tion when treed.—Good Company.

Autumn Leaves.

An effective method of decorating a wall or panel with autumn leaves is to cover the space to be ornamented with tulle, the meshes of which are as large as possible. This at a distance does not hide the painting or the paper on the wall, and it makes an excellent ground work on which the leaves and ferns can be planed to form very ornamental designs. Picture scraps are excellent for decorative purposes. Small rooms, and nurseries, especially, papered with them and afterward varnished; afford great entertainment; cornices may be made of them to run around all the wall paper, with about two inches of gold roll be-tween each, and a black bordering. Wooden fire-boards and Holland mats may also be covered with them; these mats should be varnished. Common garden flower-pots can be made ofnamental by giving them a coat of paint and then bentling on them landscapes, flowers or figures. If you cannot paint, the embossed picture scraps can be the embossed picture scraps can be Bleached skeleton ferns may be laid or photograph book covers, wooden trays, and blotting books, and varnished. They look especially well on black painted wood; if haid close together they resemble an inleying of ivory. A plain table with one drawer makes quite a protty writing table by staining it black and then laying the forms on a border round the top and around the drawers. The ferns can also be applied to velvet frames, when the whole should be covered with white talle of the finest and most invisible description. An elegant fireboard may be made in this way.

A correspondent writes entreating us to conceal his name, but to let him know "what under the sun" the "agnosticism" and the "agnostics," so often mentioned in the debates of the Pan-Presbyterian Council in Philadelphia, really may be. Our correspondent need not be ashamed of his query. Prof. Huxley claims to have been the first to apply these terms, formerly used to designate a branch of the Donatists of early times, to the doctrines and the "doctrimires" now so designated. Agnostics are persons who refuse either to affirm, or deny, or accept upon authority the doctrine of the existence of a God, the immortality of the soul, and, in general, anything in the ology, psychology or metaphysics the existence of which cannot be scientifically proved or disproved. They are literally "know-nothings" in regard to such mat-ters, and, since they will neither affirm nor deny, they are, or should be, indifferent to them. In practice, however, these anti-believers and anti-infidels are apt to be as hot as if they were baptized Chris tians or rank heathen.

[Agnosticism and agnostic are defined substantially as above in the supplement to the latest edition of Webster's Dietionary. - New York World,

Whipped for Not Kissing a Homely

Girl. The district school of Barryville, Sullivan county, N. Y., is taught by a young man named Renben Frazier, George Shik, aged 12 years, was one of his scholars. Shik is a mischievous boy, and the other day he tripped up a girl about his own age as she was passing out of the school-room door He said it was an accident, but the girl went back and slapped his face. struck her, and the teacher called him up and flogged him with a stick. Then he was ordered to beg the girl's pardon and shake hands with her. This the boy The schoolmaster then said that Shik, to make full amends, must kiss the girl, but this he refused positively to do. His refusal brought him another whipping. Still he said he would not kiss the girl. Then he was flogged for the third time and sent home. Believing that the teacher had no right to insist on their son's kissing any of the girls that attended school with him, and that he had punished the boy unjustly, the boy's parents had the teacher ar rested on a charge of assault and battery.

Where Women Were Needed at the Polls. David Hopkins and Gustave Dettloff were candidates for School Trustee in District No. 1 of New Lots, L. L., at the last election. Mr. Hopkins is a farmer, and was seeking re-election. Mr. Dettloff is connected with an insurance company in this city and is a well-known resident of the town. The friends of Mr. Hopkins, about an hour-before the closing of the polls, perceived that there was danger of their candidate's defeat. A consultation was held, and it was decided to utilize the new law giving women the privilege of voting. Accordingly several farm wagons were procured and sent through the district to gather in the farmers' wives and daughters. The wagons returned to the polls with 107 women, all of whom voted for Mr. Pop-kins, thus saving him from defeat. It was too late to use a counter-poison .-

"Languist."-Au revoir is a contrac tion of the familiar phrase, "over-theriver," which is synonymous with solong, ta-ta, see you later, and take care of yourself, old boy.

IN A TIME OF TROUBLE. As an eagle from the height, Looking down upon the lands, On forces black as night, Fair fields and desort sands,

Sees the traveler below Losing heart, as, league on league Long wildernesses show No end to his fatigue,

So Faith, amid her stars, Beholding far beneath The bright or gloomy bars In the web of life and death,

Sees weary hearts that deem The dark breadth is the whole 8-es happy hearts that dream The bright rays all their goal.

Ah! let this faith be ours-That, even 'mid the pain,
Above the present towers,
And sees the nearing gain;

While, breadth by breadth, appears, As from the weaver's hand, The pattern of the years Which God Himself has planted,

A FATAL INHERITANCE.

BY LEIGH L. BROOKNER.

"Is this artist's blouse becoming to ne?" asked Drusilla Sterling of her Consin Lucrece. "What matter whether a garment be comes you or not? Your attitudes are always graceful and faseinating. If it were for this alone it would be worth while to be the daughter of a dancer. wonder what Maxwell St. Ives would say if he knew that?" Drusilla's anger was at white heat. but so great was her self-control that to an ordinary observer she would have seemed perfectly calm. Her voice was unusually smooth and low as she replied to Lucrece's scornful speech :

"Thank you for your compliment, though it is not by any means new for me to be told that I am graceful. As for St. Ives knowing the story of my parentage, I mean to tell him as soon as occasion demands; at present he is too little interested in me or my affairs to care about the story."

Poor Lu felt that her thrust had been without effect. It was rarely she allowed herself to be so bitter, but surely she had occasion. Here was this squinteyed, pale-faced, ill-born and ill-bred creature, who, by some elfish witchery, had won Lucerce's handsome lover from

From the first moment Roy Sebert heard Drusilla's voice he had been ready to follow her through the world. Only two months from England, and already so unfortunate as to have caused an affi-anced lover to be unfaithful to his yows! It was rumored that a young curate on the other side of the water had com-

'My fate follows me. I am doomed to make trouble wherever I go. Lu is jealous, and, therefore, unjust. I have never, by the slightest conscious act, tried to win her lover. Yet Roy is handsome, and the temptation and been very strong sometimes."

It was a source of deep humiliation to Drusilia that her mother had been an actress, and, when she remembered her consin's taunt, she resolved to try and make her more unhappy,

"I will deay myself the pleasure of eing amiable to Roy Sebert no longer. If Cousin La, with those lovely dark eves of hers, cannot enchain a lover, we swered: will see what the daughter of a dancer

She lifted # small green-velvet shade from the toilet table and placed it over her eyes. An intense and unremitting devotion to philosophical studies had made her nearly blind. Certainly, her eyes were not pleasant to look at, and she said, "I certainly wish to shock no one by my hideousness." Perhaps she was also aware that the dark velvet shade contrast. She was tall and well deve oped, not at all the sort of woman one would take to be a coquette. This was what her female friends called her, but the gentlemen without exception denied

"She is simply a lovable woman, and wins our interest without effort," said her gentleman admirers. "She is so artful as to conceal art.

aid the bitter and unloved of her own One day, as she sat talking to Maxwell St. Ives, the door opened and little 5-year-old Floy said, "Mr. Devine is Maxwell's lip curled, and he remarked: I did not know this was public-reception day. I will call again.

"Pray be seated, Mr. St. Ives, I have something to say to you when my young friend is gone. Fred is privleged, and comes at any time; you honor me with your presence more rare-

The caller had for exerse a pair of Drusilla's white kid gloves, that she had left in the village reading-room. She fulness, and as she talked twisted them carelessly in her hands. Fred was pained by this seemingly trival incident. He was romantic and not a little superstitions, for between the palms of the gloves he had placed a dainty blue violet, saying to himself, I will let this blossom b the symbol of my fate. If she places it at her throat or in her hair, if it in any way receives attention or gives pleasure, I shall hope. As she tossed the gloves aside the flower fell broken and unnoticed at her feet. Ah, how different is our dream from the reality. It was the first violet of the year, as it was the first love of his life!

As he arose to go she said. "If you will please take me by the hand I will accompany you to the head of the stars. I want to scold you a little for something I have heard. With this dreadful shade that I am obligal to wear I cannot find my way without stumbling Will you excuse me for the merest moment, Mr.

Now, it was not really necessary for Drusilla to be led about in a house where she was perfectly familiar, but she wished to influence Fred, and knew of no way more certain.

How her soft, magnetic hand thrilled him. Why, her lightest touch was like a caress. She talked very earnestly to him about his growing fondness for eards | comes between us." and wine. Said she had heard such rumors, but would not believe them. Would be promise that the gossip should be without foundation? He would promise anything. He would reform !

Re-entering the parlor, she remarked to Maxwell: "My college boys are so much to me like brothers. I can reprove and admonish them in truly orthodox style without their resenting it. They need some one to scold them a little Maxwell said, in his abrupt, argumentative way: "Fred Devine does not consider himself merely a boy friend; he thinks himself a man and comes a wooing.

The color crept into Drusilla's pale face: "Hush, Maxwell St. Ives, I will not believe it. My own regard for this lad is so different. I want him to re-gard me as a friend; I want him to look up to me, and come to me for counsel and sympathy; I want his csteem; in short, I want earnest, respectful, beautiful friendship, instead of fickle, passionate, fatal love!"

She was much excited. All the con trol she had shown when Lu taunted her was swept away. She had suffered so much through love that she could bear no mention of what had darkened

"Whenever and wherever I try to establish a friendship, it is shortly trans-formed into reckless and despairing

All that she said was received in utter silence. Surely he was not man but marble. All this was such deep grief to her, and he did not care. Any other man would have expressed some sympathy; not so this impassive Northerner, who, cynical and bitter, thought it a fine bit of acting. He had been drawn toward her at first, but an anonymous letter had told him to "beware of Drusilla Sterling," that she was an actress by birth, and by education, and utterly without heart. From that time he had been on

"Pardon my emotion," she said, after i moment's pause. "Pardon me also if go on to say more of myself. "I want you to know if there is an sufficient reason in the past why my present should be so full of passion and pain! You have before now accused me of being a coquette! Upon my honor I do not mean to be. What I do I cannot help. It is a deep and sad fatality. Let me tell you the story of my birth that you may judge for yourself how I came to inherit my birthright of sorrow.

"My father was an English artist and marrice a woman who made her living by singing and dancing at the theaters, She was as deceitful as she was beauti-My old nurse Jeanette has often teld me how mother would say to her 'The Englishman is an ogre.' But to him she would say: 'You are grand like the gods.' She won him, not be-cause she loved him, but because he was supposed to be wealthy. He loved her with his imagination rather than with his heart. He was very suscepti ble to beauty and gracefulness, and both were her's to a remarkable degree. The fact that she was married did not pre vent men loving her. She died when I was but three days old, and father and Jeanette brought me to England.

"From my tenth year I have been conscious of possessing my mother's fatal so much deplore, for I have my father's honest English heart, and would win love only where I could return it. Until the what that word meant. You are still sileut. I have lost your esteem thy con-fessing my mother's profession. Oh, Maxwell St. Ives, I trusted you! Are you not still my friend?"

In her earnestness she laid both her little caressing hands over both of his. All his reserve and skeptacism were swept away. He pressed her hands like rose leaves in his own, and an-

"For life-for death !" Before they parted they were betrothed overs. Drusilla had some misgivings,

"Can you go to your proud mother and tell her that you have espoused the daughter of a dancer?" "Drusilla Sterling, I can say anything to anybody. If only you are true to me there is no obstacle to our union that I will not easily overcome. I have

God help him who comes between us! she felt her heart grow cold as he spoke. Was this love also to prove unhappy? O. it was too sad that in this first glad hour of betrothal there should be a shadow of impending evil. She loved him so! It was cruel that she could not be free from forebodings. At the moment of farewell she sobbed as if her heart were breaking, and he had scarcely reached his home when a note followed him, saying:

"Maxwell St. Ives: As I love you I must never see you again. I would only bring you unhappiness. It is my sad fate. Forget me and farewell. "Yours, with love and regret,

"DRUSHALA STERLING." It was hardly the kind of letter to send a man the world's width from his heart's desire! No possible combination of words could have been more certain to bring him to her side. No pleading, no tenderness, could have been more potent than this deepty-despondent dismissal, What would be not venture for her af-Section! Other men might love herthey must love her if they but entered devotion, so bedged about by his attenthrough her brain, "God help him wh At Drusilla's command Roy instanti left the room. He had been gone but moment when she heard the report of pistol, and, fearing she knew not what she rushed into the hall only to find her there upon the floor in a last agony, the was more before her. She was down of life, and among the profusion of currence maps her knees trying to stanch the osities and artistic relies which crowd blood. Her face was distorted with horror and grief. She was still as death may be such specimens of is okservable to be found to him on the formed providing that manufacturies have the found to him. "Ella, is your father at home?" I want to propose something very important to him." "No. Clarence, basis."

"Ella, is your father at home?" her formed children. One enterprising manufacturies have the found to him." "No. Clarence, basis."

"Ella, is your father at home?" her formed children. One enterprising manufacturies have the found to him." "No. Clarence, basis." mood. Her face was distorted with herrer and grief. She was still as fleath until she found her efforts vain, and, when her lover fell a lifeless burden from her arms, such a shriek echosd through the house as could never be forgotten by those who heard it. Father and mother knew in that instant that their beloved only daughter was a hopeless maniac. Glaring wildly around, her glance fell upon Drusilla, and, regarding her cousin as the murderer of her lover, she sprang toward her with insane fury. It required the united strength of Mr. Sterling and his farm-hand to loosen her hold of Drusilla's throat! O what a night of horror was that! Drusilla lying between life and death, Lucrece raving of her lover, and accusing Drusilla as his murderer.

Only one person knew the truth of the affair; that was John Miller, the hired man. He had been to the village. and, on his return, he saw Maxwell St. Ives standing by the gate, looking toward the house. The man glanced to to find what attracted his attention, and and 27,752 colored inhabitants. there, plain as day, saw Roy Sebert kis-Drusilla's hand. The next instant Max-well went rapidly up the walk, entered the house without announcement, and, almost immediately afterward, retraced his steps, mounted his horse, and rode rapidly away.

All this was elicited the following day at the Coroner's inquest, and the fact that Maxwell St. Ives was missing was all that was needed to confirm the verdict, and free Drusilla from any susion of direct complicity in the murder. Yet when, after weeks of illness, she came back to reason and life, she felt that she could no longer remain under her uncle's roof, "I must live by myself." she said adly; "I bring sorrow and death into very household I enter." So it was planned that a cottage should be bought, and Jeanette should sent for as companion and servant,

I was visiting a friend in the country to told me the story. She said to me, ne afternoon when we were out driving. Would you like to call on Drusilla

English roses trained about the low the present Legislature. porch. A woman in French cap met us at the door and conducted us into the room where her mistress sat reading. A stately woman, wearing a black dress and a small black cap, that, with its cor-onet outline marked by tiny pearls, looked like a small royal crown. The es were clear and dark, but infinitely sad. Of late years Jeanette had read o her mistress until Drusilla's overtaxed eyes had, by rest and carefulness, ecome as bright as in youth. Her mouth was large, but curved and sweet. She was so grateful to us for coming; she admitted that her life was lonely at you her love and sympathy, "she reached her right hand out to me. I can never ville, Fla. last few months I have never known | man answering to the advertised descripmer-night tragedy, pared to this sport. What can equal e splendid sensation of flying across the deep snow at the rate of many miles a hour, without hardly moving a muse? And then, going down hill, staff often fully twelve feet long, curving upward at the prow, and are not broader given myself to you, body and soul, and a groove for the purpose of keeping | nast. them from slipping when going at an angle down hill. Although by no means ther motion I know of.

The inhabituats of Telemarken, in the iouth of Norway, are most efficient ski runners, and at the annual competitions feet! Into this country it will be imassible to introduce them, as of course here would be little or no opportunity for using them--the snow never lying long enough or becoming sufficiently deep.-Elackwood.

Newspapers.

From a newspaper directory published in New York we learn that 9,723 news-papers are published in the United Democratic, 1,747 Republican, and 122 her presence—but as for Drusilla her-self, she should be so sheltered by his papers printed in each State and Terri-fi	devotion, so bedged about by his atten-	tory is as follows :

Н	devotion, so neaged about by his acteur		Republi-	Demo-	Gree
П	tions and tenderness that she could love	States.	Call Mr.	eratic.	1142
Н	no one else.	Atabama	3	68
ļ	He would not visit her to morrow nor	Arknnize	-4	62
L		Camfornia		2.7
П	for many days. He would wait until	C larate		97
l		loaneeticut
ı	her mood had changed and she was sub-	Delaware
l	dued by a desire to see him. He had	Destrict of Columbia		- 23
l	some power over her that he knew. But	Firmin		$5 61
ľ	Manual Hamest on	trectoria		Telle
1	his own will was weakest. He must see	(HATE CA		175
l	her. He must hold her in his arms, if	Indiana		70
l	only for a moment. It was evening,	linua		25
l	thing in a moment, it was creating,	Rations		76
l	two weeks from his last visit. That very	K tucky		345	- 12
I	afternoon Roy Schert had returned from	Matte		10
ı	a fishing excursion, and at 8 o'clock he	Maryland	U 100.01	31
ı		Massachusetts		11
1	found Drusilla alone in the brilliantly-	Mich gan		46
ł	helited perfer Never had he			17
ı	144-144 (A)	Masselph.,, ı	seen her so well dressed, she	Mass art	63	142
1	was careless about her attire in general.	Nebraska		1.1
1	1 1 1 at an har one righ drose a	Novada		4
1	she had put on her one rich dress, a	New Hampshire		1.1
١	myrtle green silk, bought, I think, to	New Jersey		13-4
I	match her emerald ring and necklace,	New York.	108	1.99
i	Day III. Lad assented of howalf that Mar-	North Cardina	. 3	52
ı	Drusilla had persuaded herself that Max-	Filmo		3118
4	well would visit her that evening. Ob,	13r-2-21		11
1	could she but have known on what a	Pennsylvania		724
	fatal errand, she would never have let	Ethode Island		· - 37
ı	tatal errand, she would hever have to	- utii Carolina		5.5
ü	Boy lift her hand to examine the quaint	Trunises		101
١	device on her ring. Before she could	Texas	19.15.21
1	prevent it, Roy had pressed her hand to	Vermont		5.5
Н	inevent it, the that present all and a	West Varginia		SI
П	his lips. She snatched it angrily away,	Was odshi		44
1	and at that instant the words flashed	Arioda		4
Н	through her brain, "God help fism who	Dak ta		2
П	thirting in a country man	Haber		2
ï	comes between us."	Montana		31
	At Drusilla's command Roy instantly	New Mexico		1
u	At Drushing Command 107 Inches	Wa-Littigton.	- 5
H	left the room. He had been gone but a	Utali moment when she heard the report of a	Wyseumy pistol, and, fearing she knew not what,			-
	Towns and remark and and a contract	The later of the l	1. 184	1,000

Eveny Prince of the Royal family in there upon the floor in a last arony, the blood issuing from a wound in his heart.

Swift as Drusilla had been Lucreece was there before her. She was down SOUTHERN NEWS.

Mississippi. There are nine cotton seed oil mills

Mississippi. reach 400,000.

nearly $1,000,000. Jasper county, Ala., voted to repeal he prohibition law.

Western Texas is fast being turned nto pastures with barbed wire. Peaufort county, S. C., has 2,438 white The State offices at Little Rock still heated with blazing pine knots. There are 2.170 members of the Anient Order of United Workmen in Ten-The new public school building at Little Rock will be heated with hot water mines. A gentleman has recently settled at only ourteen per cent, New Smyrna, Fla., with twenty-two gives of bees, brought from Ohio Preparations are being made to light he Eagle and Phonix Mills at Columms. Ga., with the electric light.

outh of the Ohio river. S. H. Cox. of Oelethorne county, Ga., presented the Rev. Mr. Ivey with a plantation worth $4,000. There is but one member of Sterling? there is the cottage."

There is but one member of the forty
It was a beautiful place. There were of the last Georgia Senate returned to

> There are fourteen thousand six hundied and fifty-two more females than males in South Carolina. The Pratt coal and coke company, five miles from Birmingham, Ala., are getting out 690 tons of coal per day.

Miss Brookner your story, and she gives Port Royal, Fernandina and Jackson-measured over ten feet.

be introduced into the next Legislature. The arrangement under which the mill to increase the liquor license of Telfair all to himself during alternate weeks.

water will be obtained. A man in Madison county, Tex., gath-ered on his farm 1,000 bushels of pecans "Finally Stickpenny went down to

There will be ave colored men in the Tennessee Legislature, three from Shelby, one from Tipton and one from Davidson "He paid it and thereafter Stick." county. T. A. Sykes, the colored member from Davidson, was a member of the lively as Whewell did. 'Well,' said the North Carolina Legislature.

by the Georgia Legislature to look into and he died without finding out the exthe validity of the title of the city of planation of it at all." Atlanta to the City Hall lot, which was decided some time ago to the State for the site of the State capitol, have held a meeting and decided to accept the City fifteen years. Atlanta, Chattanooga and other Southern cities long ago adopted this policy, and now have their reward Hinds is the most populous county in in extensive and paying manufactories of various kinds.

The hotel-keepers of New Orleans.

Judge William Cothran was on his way to Lexington, Miss., to hold Circuit The cattle drive of Texas this year will Court, when he was suddenly taken sick at Winona and died in a few hours. He The State Treasury of Texas contains was seventy-five years old, and had been Circuit Judge six years before the war. He was elected by the people since the war and was removed by Governor Ames. He was appointed in 1876 by Governor Stone for six years.

The Aca Orleans Picayune has some statistics showing that before the civil war the South had more taxable property ers, the unfortunate man never dreams on her rolls than New England and the Middle States combined. After the contest and five years of peace, she had sunk his bed is put in order. The object of $300,000,000 below the New England the porter in thus requiring his passen States alone. In 1860 forty per cent of all the real and personal property as ceived. The sooner they are out of the way the sooner he can go to bed himself. sessed in the United States was in the What to him is the wail of the wretened Southern States, while now they have traveler who is thrust into a stifling borth

Some English capitalists own 500,000 acres of land in Alabama, on the line of young woman who had expected to enjoy each other's society during the eventua? the Alabama Great Southern railroad, which are very rich in timber and minerals and which they intend developing. Of 122 Greenback newspapers in the For the present chief attention will be fort is the only object which is dear to inited States only sixteen are published given to developing the mineral resources of those lands, which are almost boundless, but the farming interests will not here, but as a guarantee that they wal be neglected. Arrangements are now not get out of best without permission. making to induce immigration of En- These shoes he takes to his private bed lish farmers, and at an early day a number will probably settle on the lands.

Dellville (Tex.) Times: W. E. Crump, near his plantation on the Brazos river, last week discovered an alligator on the bank, some distance from the water. On | snore, the porter demonstrates the fearriding up quite close it reared up to attack him, when he dextrously threw a traveling nose can hope to emulate. Be strong rope over its head, and wheeling fore going to sleep the porter has, of his bases rade anickly off. The alligations, closed all the ventilators if it is The Commissioner of Immigration of tor followed so rapidly that it were fully Florida thinks that 18,000 people I ave a hundred yards before he succeeded in in migrated to that State within two tightning the rope around his neck. After a desperate struggle Mr. Crump suc-An elegant new steamer is being built ceeded in dragging his prize home, where times.
When my friend said, "I have told to run on the line between New York, he dispatched it at his leisure. It fingers. By and by she was led to talk of the past and of Maxwell St. Ives. A tin, aged thirteen, and George Mastin, aged thirteen, aged thirteen, and George Mastin, aged thirteen, aged thi man answering to the advertised description of him had died of yellow fever in Notice has been given that will will mill near Old Town, Maine, in common there is none in my opinion that can come up to snow-shoeing, as it is done in Norway. Skating is nothing compared to this short. What was a little date of the shipments of cattle and sheep from Southwestern Virginia are now so pared to this short. What was a little date of the shipments of cattle and sheep from Southwestern Virginia are now so pared to this short. What was run by a heavy that it is with difficulty that cars wheel, that gave very little power for the can be procured for their transportation.

The muchinery for a Clement Attach
The muchinery for a Clement Attachment has been received and put in posi- coming out, but Stickpenny would have tion at Mt. Pleasant, Gadsden county, nothing to do with it. He wasn't going in hand, no exertion necessary other than to keep the balance, while gliding softly but swiftly onward. Unlike the Canadian snow-shoes, these ski (proposition of the Norwegians are counted short) of the Norwegians are A sale of $20,000 in Tennessee bonds wheel in in your week.' So the new was made in Nashville at forty-six cents wheel was put in, and Whewell, being of dean three or four inches. Throughout the whole length they are provided with up some of the orifices the saw went through the log faster than when they them from sipping when going at an angle down hill. Although by no means slow when used across level ground, it is artesian well has arrived in Little Rock, and always pulled the yet downhill that they are most effective, for their long length and their poltive, for their long length and their pol-shed undersurface on the frozen snow anse a speed more like flying than any directors believe that a large volume of managed to saw a couple of thousand feet more of lumber in his week than ever Stickpenny could, no matter how at Christiania generally bear off the and sold them in San Antonio for $3.40 see Wheewell about it. Says he, Whereigness, At the competition there in the land sold them in San Antonio for $3.40 well, how is it that you manage to saw rizes. At the competition there in per bushel. Just $25 covered the eximore lumber in a given time than I can ing to a local newspaper, a distance of penses of gathering and marketing, so be when my turn comes round?' Says 18/3, one of these men reaper, according to a local newspaper, a distance of peases of gathering and marketing, so be thirty. Norwegian alea, or fully sixty prealized a profit of $3,400 on the crop.

When my turn comes round?' Says that if a man de interate his real estate would pass to his eldest sea, except in Want, I'll tell yeu. It's because you Kent, where it would be divided among In Augusta, Ga., a velocipede tourna-ain't been treatin' of me fairly in this In Augusta, Ga., a velocipede tournament for the small boys is held every year, the merchants of the city contributions, the merchants of the city contributions of the city contributions and the saw as well for you as the contribution of the city contributions of the city contr ting the prizes, which consist of knives, balls and other articles best suited to lieve that, and went away. But still the mill went on turning out regularly more that the lieve that and went away. But still the mill went on turning out regularly more that the lieve that are the lieve that and went away. But still the lieve that and went away. But still the lieve that and went away are thing in, who accumulated a vast fortune in London, partly by buying up jewels lieve that, and went away. But san the mill went on turning out regularly more London, partly by baying up proceed to get out of it; so, finally, the great revolution. Mr. Thellussen into the great revolution, and the great revolution in the great revolution.

"He paid it, and thereafter Stickold fellow, 'I always knew that the folks The Capitol Commissioners appointed around here were all ag'in me, but I never thought that the Almighty was ;

Abolishing Dog Latin. An attempt has been made on the other side of the water to abolish the dog Latin hieroglyphics used by physicians in Hall lot.

At Dallas, Tex., Maj. Penn baptized has been asserted that this hideous jarthirteen convicts, old men and women, gon, together with bad penmanship, has middle-aged and young people, in the been responsible for more fatal blunders river. Long before the hour arrived for lessness or ignorance on the part of the the immersion the town commenced pour-druggist. Doubtless in the "cultured" ing forth its citizens till the banks of the mineteenth century it seems supremely river on either side was a mass of hu- ridiculous to commence directions to a manity. His meetings are the events of druggist with "R," which is the transan invocation to that planet to exercise a favorable influence over the subsequent The hotel-keepers of New Orleans, course of the dose to be swallowed, who have decided to employ white girls However, most people think the "R" as waiters, say they have no trouble in with the down stroke is a contraction securing them, and say that respectable for "Recipe," while they do not profess to understand nor is it desired that they should understand) the cabalism which for their daughters. The girls like the covers the rest of the sheet: "R. Spir. work and give satisfastion, both to em- Scot, ziii. Suc. Dem. opt, zii. Liq. Lim. exp. q. s., ad. zviii. M. et Sol. sec. artem. Sig. Ij coch, mag. sum, intervello Three erazy persons, two nerro women brey," Who would suppose that this and a white man, all of Newman, Ga. was only a Hudibrascan method of dipassed through Macon Thursday, on their rectang that the patient should take a passest in ough Macon Thursday, of their powerful glass of whisky punch on going to bed? However, the obscurity of the Singular to say, all three went crazy words is just one of the reasons why

SLEEPING-CAR TIRANIS. A

A Discussion of the W ye and Means of the Colored Porter. New York Tues.

Every sleeping-car is nominally in charge of a special conductor, a gorgeous being, with an ernamented cap, who peaters. ing. The real despot of the sleeping color long ago.

If a mule had as many legs as a cockconductor has gone into another car to make himself comfortable, assumes unlimited authority. The moment it is dark, he puts his passengers to bed. No matter how auxious a passenger may be to sit up until ten o'clock in order to pursue an inno-ent conversation with a young lady, the porter approaches him and pone. We said to make the bed, now, said!" With the abjectness of spirit characteristic of American travelof disputing the porter's authority, but hours before he can by my possibility go to sleep? What cares he for the disappointment of the young man and the

He knows that if he orders the gers to go to bed they will not dare to disobey him, and his own personal comhim. As soon as the passengers are in bed, the porter takes away their shoes not necessarily with a view to blackening at the end of the car, where he little time in mixing them, and then prepares for sleep. As a rule the parter does not snore, because he holds that the duty of snoring properly belongs to the passengers. If, however, as sometimes happens, 'no passenger velunteers to ful power of the African mose by sworing with a sustained vigor that no ordinary summer, and stirred up the fire if it is winter, thus making sure that his vietims shall suffer from heat and gain aslittle sleep as possible for their money, passengers rarely manage to fall aslesp before twelve o'clock, by which time the porter, refreshed by his map, rouses himself and begins his midnight round. Hestops at every berth, and, studying the seping passenger, walks bim up to as ing to get out here?" Of course, no one wants to get out, as the porter perfectly well knows, but it is a part of his tiend night, and thus prevent them from forgetting their miseries in sleep. When his mulnight round is finished the rester returns to his den and takes a sound unp. Long experience has taught him that s passenger who is waked up at includent will fall asleep again at three o'clock a. m. Accordingly, he sleeps until nearly four o'clock, when he begins with malignant delight the process of getting his passengers out of bed. He informs every e that "We're most there, sale." without attaching the slightest meaning to the word "there"-and that "We're waiting to put them beds away now, sah!" The meek passenger, believing that he must be at the point of arriving at the station where breaklast was to be and, dresses hurriedly, spends half an hour in a general slice exchange with his fellow travelers, and then times that he has three long hours to wait before he can have any breakfast. At this point he generally loses his patience and uses language in regard to skeepings in por-ters which can not be defended by ans-tere moralists; but, nevertheless, when fifty cents for having mixed the shoes, he pays him without during to hint that ie deserves the most ingentious death that the ablest inquisitor ever invented The Law of Entail.

the porter comes to him and demands country as to the present powers of entail in England. There is no such thing as a law of primogeniture, except in so far tended his money to accumulate until it would have reached about $700,000,000. The Government, deeming it undesirable that any subject should percess wealth so colossal, introduced a bill limiting entail to living persons and twenty-one ansasachusetts. Many estates in and around New York—the Lefferts, Rhine lander, for example—are entailed. In England hundreds of great projecties are completely unentailed, and it is purely the custom, not the lander is purely in the custom. ly the custom, not the law, of the country which will cause them to be transtry which will cause them to be transmitted to the eldest son. Men who are very liberal in politics favor the custom, because they think that it keeps up the position of a family, and that were an estate divided up in the next generation none would be better for such division. It is not generally understood here that the law in England permits a man to leave his property precisely as here pleases, and that a Duke can leave all to his fact, and the property precisely as here pleases, and that a Duke can leave all to his fact, and the planes, and that a Duke can leave all to his fact, and the planes, and that a Duke can leave all to his fact, and the planes, and that a Duke can leave all to his fact, and the planes, and the planes, and the planes, and the planes, and the position of favor his attentions, and who was blessed with an observing little brother of only a few summers growth. The lattice chap broke into their presence, and, monating the dashing young fellow was very attentive to a young lady who secretly did not favor his attentions, and who was blessed with an observing little brother of only a few summers growth. The lattic chap broke into the represence, and montaing the dashing young fellow was very attentive to a young lady who secretly did not favor his attentions, and who was blessed with an observing little brother of only a few summers growth. The lattic chap broke into their presence, and montaing the dashing young fellow was very attention to the position of only a few summers growth. The lattic chap broke into their presence, and montaing the dashing young fellow was very attention to young fellow was very attention to the position of only a few summers growth. The lattic chap broke into the represence, and the property precise by a she planes, and the property precise by a she planes, and the property precise by a she planes, and the property precise by a she planes.

refusing to give him coffee, was chicking a company." him for saying that he didn't like some thing that was on the table, and told him he must eat what other people atc. "Very well," said he, with an injur-l look, "if I've got to take what other CHILDREN, it seems, are imported di-election day. They are professional redisappears from view when the train | Some one inquires: "Where have all starts and is not seen again until morn-the ladies' belts gone?" Gone to waist Some one inquires : "Where have all myth—a bare falsehood, as it were.

populated.

The bobtailed horse spends his whole existence in lamenting his lack of ter-minal facilities,

A composition who cannot agree with his wife says he must have taken her out of the wrong taken. Why is the discovery of the North pole like an illicit whisky manufactory? Because it's a secret still. Ir requires but a short time for a young lady out shopping to learn all the countersigns of the dry-goods trade,

The Eye says it was a Bloomington ran who fut the nail on the head, but he mourned the loss of a thumb by the transaction.

FROM Adam they took a ribbone to make fair woman. Fair weman has been made up with ribbon ever since,- Physicians now saythat the telephone is injurious to the ear. We presume it's the strain of listening and hearing nothing that does the harm. ONE of the first requisitions received from a newly-appointed railway station agent was: "Send me a gallon of red oil for the danger lauterns." Is Texas there is a township called-Gin, and in it a town called Brandy, and the mane of the postoffice is Rummy. No State could ask for anything better.

A veny disagreeable old gentleman . A nephew, charged with the duty of preparing his epitaph, suggests:
"Deeply regretted by all who never "Ain'r that a lovely critter, John?" said Jerusha, as she stopped opposite the loopard's cage. "Wa'al, yes," said lar, "but then he's dreffully freekied, ain't he?" "I THINK, dear, the dew has commenced falling," he said in his softest ascents, "Yes," she yawned, "I've been hoping to hear adjen for some time. He didn't call the next evening. THE Whitehall Times says the fish in Lake Champlain have been so long with-out water that when it began to rain, for the first time in six weeks, they were seen running about with umbrellas over A YOUNG woman in Denver flung herself into a cistern, but she was fished the purpose of the fact they have the ways." But he won't joke that way when it comes eistern, A POET asks: "When I am dead and lowly land. . . And closis fall heavy from the spade, who'll think of me?" Don't worry. Tailors and sheemakers have retentive memories, and you'll not be forgotten. - Norvistown Herald. FATE of a jilted butcher .

in the moonlight, unusually silent, almost sad. Saddenly some one-a poface—said, in a low tone, "Dal you over think of the beautiful lesson the stare teach us?" We give a vague, apposentive marrieur, but some soulless and sand, "No; what is it?" "How to wink," he answered, with a sad, sweet

In addressing the multitude, simplic ity of language is always highly desir able, there being the danger of the un-learned attaching very different (and Much misapprehension exists in this I the grand and uncommon words which even careful elergymen may be betrayed into using in the pulpit. when in his study and in the act of composing a sermon, made use of the term ere he proceeded, as to whether a great pertion of his congregation might com-prehend the meaning of the said term, and adopted the following method of and adopted the following method of proof. Ringing the bell, his footman appeared, and was thus addressed by his master: "What do you conceive to be implied by an ostentations man?" "An ostentatious man, sir?" said Thomas,
"Why, sir, I should say a perfect gentleman." "Very good," said the Vicar,
"Send Ellis his coachman here." "El-"Very good," said the Vicar. lis," asked the Vicar, "what do you unagine an estentitions man to be?" "An estentiations man, sir?" replied Ellis.

A dashing young fellow was very atleave his property precisely as he pleases, and that a Duke can leave all to his footsman. The great estates, for instance, of the Duke of Hamilton Premier Duke of the Duke of Hamilton Premier Duke of cotland, were, up to the time of his marriage, absolutely unentailed. This came out of some law proceedings.—

London Times.

A SMALL boy who lives in Brocklyn, is very fond of drinking coffee at tree k-fast-time, and his mother description in the property of the time follow, whose vanity was evidently touched by the remark. Seeing, as he thought, in the circumstance and extra twist, and reiter ated his reply with completes: "Oh yes, a very fine room." I thought so," said the young hopeful, musingly. "But what made you think so?" said the young holds a almost his curiosity by what he cause saying his description of the fully a roused. "Because," the crushing reply. "Sister Mag what he cats—saying he does take was the crushing reply, "Sister Mag this or that. Recently his mother, after said your room was better than your

The Athens (Ga. : Remor reports that many years ago Athens had a law forbidding the sale of t prors in quantities less than a quart. Whenever a man came along and benght a quart he could not, rectly from Italy and sent into the streets of course, driving it all, so the bar-keeper of New York to make a preditable basis would note the door and blow a blast on