

THE YADKIN VALLEY NEWS.

P. B. HAMER, Editor and Owner. Office over Joyce's Hardware Store.

Mount Airy, N. C., Jan. 17, 1895.

Entered as the Post Office at Mount Airy, N. C. a second-class mail matter.

The following are the regulations which will be adhered to in every instance: DISCONTINUANCE OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Two weeks before the expiration of subscription the subscriber will be notified that his paper will be discontinued unless accompanied by the cash.

ADVERTISEMENTS. All advertisements must be sent in by noon on Tuesday of each week, else they will not be inserted in any instance.

Job Work. We have a well-equipped job office and can do nice stationery work, hand bill work, in all kinds of work at reasonable rates.

A graded school is a necessity. Nothing will build up the town more than a graded school.

Jim Young, colored, of Raleigh, seems to be a big man in the Legislature.

The prospects are bright for a graded school. This is a great step forward.

The poor people of town are especially interested in a graded school. There is nothing else that will be of so much benefit to them.

Our Legislature does not seem to be very favorable to the free coinage of silver. Even the Pops seem to be turning against the white metal.

J. M. Brower very emphatically says he will not be bossed by Butler. Butler is all powerful with the Republicans, however, and spins them around as he pleases.

Every man who is interested in the welfare of the town should vote for the graded school. We don't want to be behind the whole world in the matter of education.

"They say" that nearly every Republican in North Carolina has been to Raleigh during the last week looking for an office. There's nothing surprising in that.

Brower, Holton and the other candidates for Senator never had a ghost of a showing. That thing was fixed last Summer when Butler and Pritchard made their trade. The Republicans have now ratified that trade.

A Republican politician in Raleigh is credited with saying that when any measure came up in the Legislature to be voted on the only thing he required to show him how to vote was to know how the Democrats would vote, and he would simply vote the other way. Great statesmanship that! A nice man he, to be trusted with the liberties of a people!

The Fusion Legislature in Raleigh turned out of office a poor old one-legged Confederate soldier named Norton and gave his place to one Abe Middleton, a big, brawny colored politician of notorious character. Norton was a Fusionist himself and a deserving man but the "brother in black" had to have something and so this old man was turned out to give him a place. We may expect many more instances of this kind before the Republicans have been in power long. The colored people will not vote the Republican ticket without sharing the offices and the white Republicans would not get in power in a thousand years without the colored vote. So the two elements will have to stick together and divide up the offices.

For a good many years the matter of the public printing in this State has created a great deal of criticism. The position of "public printer" was a kind of sinecure. It was a good place for some good political worker. In time, however, the people demanded that the office be abolished and the printing be let out to the lowest responsible bidder. This was done by the last Democratic Legislature and it was one of the best laws on the books. Now, however, the Republicans propose to change all this and put the law back to where it was prior to 1892, and in doing so they make a good start on the road to jobbery and corruption. They are doing one of the very things that they used to abuse the Democrats for. This is reform with a vengeance.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West-Monrocy, Clarion Co., Pa., say: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by D. A. Houston, Drug-gist, Mount Airy, N. C.

WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

What the Populists and their Allies are Doing at the State Capital. Tearing up the Very Foundations of Good Government Legislation of the Most Radical Kind in Progress. Senator Marshall Makes his Maiden Speech.

Two hours of the time of the House Thursday was spent in listening to the Governor's message, which contained about twenty-eight thousand words. The Populists and Republicans then introduced bills upsetting past Democratic legislation, chiefly in the election law and the county government system now in operation.

Only one copy of the Governor's message was prepared and it was first read to the Senate. This was criticized by some. One Republican member introducing his bill in the House called it a bill "to secure a free ballot and a fair count."

Another Republican called his a bill, "to find out whether the people of this State had a right to govern themselves."

A motion to adopt the rules of the last Senate until new rules could be adopted was defeated, and the Senate proceeded to business without rules, although the House adopted the old rules. This is understood to mean that a resolution will be passed taking the appointment of committees out of the President of the Senate.

Senator Abell, Democrat, introduced a bill to make 6 per cent the legal rate of interest.

Senator Mewborne, Populist, introduced a bill to repeal the charter of the State Farmers' Alliance and to restore the old charter, which was amended by the last General Assembly. This bill was passed and sent to the House. Senators Aycock and Smith, Democrats, who held certificates of election in the 9th district and whose seats were contested by Grant and Paddison, Fusionists, were not present, and the latter were declared to be the duly elected Senators and were seated without opposition.

In the Senate Friday the following bills were introduced: To make 5 per cent the legal rate of interest; that a committee consisting of Senators Rice, Harwick and another to be named by the president be appointed to appoint a committee of the Senate. This was adopted. Senator Adams protested against this unprecedented action. Senator Mewborne introduced a bill to repeal the act of 1893 in regard to letting the public printing to the lowest bidder. It quickly passed its readings. Senator from Cleveland introduced a bill to amend the election law. The Senator from Alexander offered a resolution asking for information from the State Treasurer in regard to the appropriations to the University, State Normal and Industrial School at Greensboro, State Normal and Industrial School for colored, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College. The Governor's message was read in the House. The committee on elections reported that it has set about a dozen cases for hearing.

A resolution was introduced in the House by Peebles, calling on the North Carolina Senators and Representatives to vote for the repeal of the State bank law, so as to permit banks of issue, and to vote for free coinage, 16 to 1; and for better distributions of currency. Among the bills was one making vote the school tax 22 cents. The bill to repeal the act of the last Legislature in regard to the Alliance Business Agency passed its final reading unanimously.

On Saturday an effort was made in the Senate to reconsider the bill repealing the law for letting out the public printing to the lowest bidder. A good many fusionists were in favor of allowing the law to remain as it had been. Senator Starbuck saying that he did not want to do what he had blamed the Democrats for doing, in refusing to let the printing to the lowest responsible bidder. The motion to reconsider was lost by a vote of 30 to 14. Mr. Rice moved that a temporary president be elected. This called forth a general discussion, quite a number of the fusionists being opposed to it. On this question the Senator from Surry made his maiden speech. The News and Observer says Mr. Marshall "enlightened the Senate with the information that the best way to do a thing was as good as any." The motion was voted down, only six Republicans voting for it.

In the House Mr. Sears, of Richmond, introduced a bill to form a new county from parts of Richmond county. A large number of other bills of no general interest were introduced.

Weather Progressions.

Irlick Hacks, the weather prophet of national fame, predicts that the roughest and most trying part of the present winter will fall in February and March. He says: "Let all concerned make a note of this. We believe that April and May will usher in an early season, and that the conditions will be good for pursuing agricultural pursuits. Heavy hail storms and marked tendency to local cloudbursts will characterize the precipitations of these months. June will prove the most stormy month of the summer, and the heaviest rains of the season will occur in that month. Rains may not be distributed as is greatly desired, but all sections will be visited by seasonal falls, while enormous down-pours, amounting to local floods, will occur in many places. The remaining months of the summer and early autumn promise to be very dry and warm."—Daily Sentinel.

PRAYER FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 11, 1895. To the Clergy of the Diocese of North Carolina:

DEAR BROTHERS—During the session of the General Assembly of our State I authorize and request you, in using the prayer for Congress, to insert, after the words "in Congress assembled," the following words: "And the General Assembly of this State, now in session." This has long been used in this diocese, I believe by some of the clergy under a former authorization by one of our bishops and it seems to me eminently proper that we should thus ask for the divine guidance and blessing upon our representative, unto whom under God so much of power and responsibility is committed.

Praying for God's blessing upon you, your people and our whole country, I remain, Your friend and servant, JOSE BLOUNT CHEATHE, JR., Bishop of North Carolina.

Has Blood in It's Eye.

The American Tobacco Company has blood in its eye for two or three of Winston's cigarette factories and is endeavoring to secure an injunction against them, upon the ground that the machines used by them is an infringement upon the Bonsack machine. It seems that nothing short of "the earth and it fenced in" will satisfy the American Company. Two of Winston's manufacturers, Brown Bros. Tobacco Company and W. F. Smith & Sons Company, have been cited to appear at Charleston, S. C., on the 15th inst. to answer certain affidavits. The object of the trust is to close up their opponents there. Mr. Clement Manly and one member of each of the above named firms will leave on Monday for Charleston.

INVITING ROBBERY.

A Pop. Treasurer With a Big Pocket Book. Newton Enterprise.

County Treasurer Barringer has had Mr. Levi Plonk make for him a bag out of a sheep skin, using the whole hide, to carry the county money in. One day last week he had about a peck of silver and a roll of greenbacks the size of a stove pipe, as a very truthful man tells us, to carry home in his bag. He fights shy of banks and would rather trust himself with the county funds than the banks. The nearest he ever came in his life of making a deposit in a bank was last week, when he carried his sheep skin bag into the Newton bank and asked Mr. Kenyon to keep it for him till morning. But he would not let him open it.

Calves Devoured by Bears.

A gentleman living in Tyrrell county, N. C., on the borders of the Alligator river, owning a stock farm and a brother-in-law of Mr. B. F. Norman, of this city, writes: "Bears are exceedingly numerous and troublesome this winter. I have had eighteen calves devoured by them during a period of two weeks." The bears come out and commit their depredations at night and retire during the day into the dense swamps, for which that section is noted, and are entirely inaccessible to the hunters.

Result of a Sunday Hunt.

While some boys were out hunting in Alleghany county, last Sunday, Roe Landreth accidentally shot Harrison Sexton in the face with a pistol—the ball taking effect in the corner of one of his eyes. The Star says they were throwing up hats and shooting at them when the accident occurred. Boys ought not to be out with pistols, and especially on Sunday.

A more striking illustration of the extremely low level which the prices of manufactured articles have reached in this country could hardly be thought of than this, cited by the Nation:

Mr. William Garrett, the well-known inventor of Joliet, Ill., in a recent lecture stated that wire nails are so cheap that it is estimated that if a carpenter drops a nail, it is cheaper to let it lie than to take time to pick it up, and this might suggest the inquiry whether cheap nails make a cheap carpenter. Mr. Garrett's statement has led the Iron Age to do some figuring, with interesting results. Assuming that it takes a carpenter ten seconds to pick up a nail which he has dropped, and that his time is worth 30 cents per hour, the recovery of the dropped nail would cost 1.083 cent. There are 200 sixpenny nails in a pound, and they are worth on an average 1.55 cents per pound, making the value of one nail 0.0077 cent. In other words, it would not pay to pick up ten nails at the assumed low of time and rate of pay of the carpenter.

AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

A Fight with an Angry Rattlesnake in a Dugout.

Our Hero Receives a Strange Presentation of His Danger and Quite Himself Like a Man—Then Finds Like a Woman.

"A man I know," says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, "had an adventure with a rattlesnake in a dugout once that was not funny. East—that's the man's name—was getting out timber during the high water, and was about two miles from camp in a submerged canebrake. He was in the bow of the boat and stooped over to get a drink of water. When he arose he started backward toward the stern. What it was that made him turn and look behind him East never could tell, but he swears that something told him to do it. Anyway he did it, and he hasn't quite been a mad of it yet, for, coiled up in the boat, about two feet in front of the stern seat, was a tremendous rattlesnake. East says it made a pile bigger than a bushel measure, and I guess it did, for it measured five feet nine inches and was as thick as the calf of my leg.

A Helpless Invalid.

Kidney and Liver Trouble and Nervous Debility 10 Years of Suffering Ended by Taking Hood's.

"The effects of Hood's Sarsaparilla in my case have been truly marvelous. It has surpassed any other medicine I have ever taken. For 10 years I was troubled with torpid liver, kidney trouble and nervous debility, and was a helpless invalid.

I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for three months and I feel that I am cured. I feel better now than I have for sixteen years. I thank God first, for my health, and C. I. Hood & Co., second, for Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has recovered me to all my neighbors and several of them are using Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results. I feel that I am cured. I did not see Mrs. E. Wade, Stonewall, Tenn., who writes: 'Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the liver and bowels. Etc.'

MUST COME SOUTH.

Great Advantage of the South Over the North in Cotton Manufacture—Opinion of a Massachusetts Manufacturer.

Regarding the removal of cotton mills to the South, Mr. T. Jefferson Goodridge, of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, of Massachusetts, says: "This Southern movement is perfectly natural. Labor at the South is a great deal lower than in the North. The mills are nearer the cotton fields, and there is the saving in freight rates. Again, Southern roads take cotton as fifth class, while Northern roads take it as second and third class, making a big difference. Then there is a great difference in fuel. Labor, however, is the great saving, because operatives work more hours for less wages, and it is claimed a saving of 2 cents per pound can be made. The product of the Southern mills is sent mostly to Chicago and St. Louis.

"I think that Southern mills will increase. We are hampered here by trade unions, strikes and legislation, makes it more difficult for us to manufacture at a profit, and unless the Legislature of Massachusetts turns around and assists the manufacturers instead of doing all it can to injure them, there will be a further loss of business.

"Fine goods can be made cheaper in the South, as well as coarse goods. It is claimed that Southern operatives are not as skilled as Northern operatives, and that it takes too long to educate them; but this is false. Southern operatives are just as good in every respect, and it is only a question of time when fine goods will be made in the South.

"The New England mills that now anticipate building in the South are the Massachusetts, the Boot, the Dwight, the Merrimac and the Whittier."

IN THE TOILS.

To Prosecute the American Tobacco Company. A special to the News and Observer from Winston says that District Attorney Glenn, of the Western district, will bring an indictment against the American Tobacco company as a trust at the instance of Attorney General Osborne. Mr. Glenn is now in Washington City.

A STRANGE BENEFACTOR.

Remarkable Story of How a Man Helped Believers Suffering in Hundreds of Homes. (From the Brooklyn, N. Y. Standard-Union.) There is a curious character in Blisville, the southern extreme of Long Island City, who is known to everybody, including children, as "the doctor," although his advice has always been gratuitous and he has but one remedy.

Joseph J. Myers, "the doctor," is the proprietor of the Homestead Hotel, where a Standard Union reporter found him last night. "What is the secret of my remedy?" he was inquired, in response to a question. "There is no secret. Neither a doctor, and there hasn't been one in my house for almost a century. My doctor stands up there in the form of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, and under no circumstances would I allow myself to be without a bottle.

"I was once afflicted by ulcerated sores on my position. I was so critical that three physicians, who had been called in consultation, gently broke the yam to me that my days were numbered. An application of Pain-Killer was suggested. I tried a week later I was back at my work. A few weeks afterwards a neighbor's wife was suffering from the same affliction. I sent a bottle to her, and in a few days she came to my house to thank me for having saved her life.

"My oldest boy, last winter, was attacked with a rheumatism. I applied Pain-Killer and drove every vestige of the malady out of his system. "My two boys were brought through a case of diphtheria, at a time when the disease was widespread, and the Pain-Killer's success with them induced me to send a dozen bottles to neighbors whose children were also prostrated. In every instance it effected a cure. That's why they call me 'the doctor' in Blisville."
