To the Afflicted.

IN justice to myself, I have been induced to reply to a false and unjustifiable attack made upon me and others by Swaim, the vender of a certain Panacea in this city. I do this also, in order to remove from the public mind, the false impressions which may arise out of his pompous and incorrect statement in the public prints. Mr. Swaim wishes to establish the belief, that he is the sole patentee of the celebrated Panacea, upon which he has built his fortunes; and not satisfied with asserting this, he goes on to condemn all others as spurious and false imitations.—Now nothing is more entirely destitute of TRUTH. I have been acquainted with the Original recipe, from which Swaim manufactures his medicine, for upwards of ten years. It was obtained from my father-in-law, who now resides in the State of N.-w.-York, who has used it for thirty years, and performed innumerable extraordinary cures with it: In every case where I have administered this medicine, its powerful virtues have never been known to fail this, of itself, and I have certificates to substantiate the fact, would give the lie to Mr Swaim's bare assertion. Perfectly satisfied as I am, with the increasing orders for it, which are reaching me from various parts of the Union, I should not have thought it necessary to make this plain statement of the relative merits of the case, had not Mr. Swaim, on one occasion, when a Lady personally waited on him to purchase his Panacea, and complained of his extraordinary price, remarked that she could purchase mine for half the money, and that her not to take any of it for fear it might produce fatal consequences, and went to say that it was not genuine. Thousands of persons who are now enjoying the blessings of health, established by its use, will bear me out in this assertion. That "Parker's Renovating Vegetable Panacea" is, in every respect, equal to Swaim's, and can be taken in all cases where his has proved efficacious, with perfect security and freedom. And I do say, without fear of contradiction, and I can establish the fact beyond the possibility of doubt—that my medicine and his are one and the same thing, with the exception of any mercurial preparation.

JOHN A. PARKER.

VEGETABLE RENOVATING PANACEA.

Religious Notice.

TO THE MEMBERS

Of the Methodist Episcopal Church in North-Carolina.

Whereas, our Itinerant Preachers having assumed to themselves the exclusive privilege of making rules for the government of our Church, and in the exercise of that authority, have in various instances encroached upon our religious and civil rights; and have (by their general conduct) evinced to us, the necessity of a general representation of the Local Preachers and Lay-members of our Church as a security for those rights—some of us, actuated by the purest principles, have formed ourselves into Union Societies and passed resolutions; among which are the following, passed at Whitaker's Chapel, in Halifax county, March 3d, 1827—viz:—

Resolved, 1st, That in the estimation of this Society, the friends of Reformation in the Methodist Episcopal Church in this State, ought to be represented at the Convention to be held in Baltimore, on the 15th of November, 1827.

2nd, That the members of our Church in this State favorable to Reform, be requested to meet, at some convenient place in each County, on the second Monday in June next, and elect two Delegates for each county, to meet at Bradford's Chapel, in Halifax county, on the second Monday in September, for the purpose of choosing Delegates for the General Convention to be held in Baltimore as aforesaid.

SWAIM'S PANACEA.

CAUTION.

THE numerous and multiplying frauds committed on the public by at least fifty spurious mixtures in imitation of this well known medicine, is alone satisfactory evidence of its superior virtue, without any other proof.

I deem it proper to inform the public that the composition of the Panacea cannot possibly be discovered by analysis; nor was it ever communicated to any other person, it being original with myself. Proofs of this are manifest almost every day.

The genuine Swaim's Panacea has my name on the seal on the cork and my signature on the label representing Hercules and the Hydra.

It is particularly requested that those who use the medicine would destroy the label, as improper use has been made of the bottles having my name on them.

POETICAL.

FOR THE CHRONICLE.

Lines written on hearing that an amiable young friend was violently taken sick.

MONDAY, June 25th.

Ah who could dream that sickness
Would wound so pure, so fair a form,
Ah who could dream that anguish
Drear,
Would aim its pain at Beauty's own.

Angelic spirits pure like thine,
Should ne'er like mortal hearts be sad,
Pleasure should wait on things divine,
And sickness wound none but the bad.

Would all the ills that ere part
wring,
So fair, so sweet a brow as thine,
Vert all their grief, their sharpest
sting,
Upon this wayward heart of mine,

Then I'd be happy, doubly blest!
With Love's own ardour clas-
s'd in the chain,
Since her I loved was thus at rest,
Since her I loved was free from pain.

ANACREON.

A JUDICIAL ANECDOTE.—No many years ago, a judge in the interior of Pennsylvania, whose character for parsimony was well known, went into a shop, to buy a horse comb—the lady waiting on him, asked eight cents for it. The judge offered six, which was finally accepted. He took the comb, and laid down a few penny bits, which is exactly, six and a quarter cents. After staying an unusual length of time in the store, a servant entered with information, that dinner was on table.—"I'll be there presently," said the judge—another message came, the judge still lingered behind—"Why do you stay," said the lady, "I am waiting for my change," said the judge, "What change Sir?" enquired the Lady—"Why, the difference between six cents and the six penny bit," said the judge—"I know not how to accommodate you, but by cutting a cent into four equal parts, and giving you one of them!" replied the lady. On saying which, the judge stepped up to a box containing snuff, and putting his hand into it observed, "Well then, I'll take it out in maccouba!"—He took a cent's worth! "Bless me," said the lady—"like a Hound on a scent, you pinch hard, and give no quarters!"

FILIAL TENDERNES.—The three sons of an eastern lady were invited to furnish her with an expression of their love, before she went a long journey. One brought a marble tablet with the inscription of her name; another presented her with a rich garland of fragrant flowers; and the third entered her presence and thus accosted her: "Mother, I have neither marble tablet, nor fragrant nosegay, but I have a heart. Here your name is engraven, here your memory is precious, and this heart, full of affection, will follow you, wherever you travel, and remain with you, wherever you repose."

A gentleman having built him a house, wanted some place to put the rubbish. He asked his Paddy what he should do with it. Why dig a hole and bury it up, was the reply. What shall I do with the dirt, asked the gentleman. By my soul, said the Paddy, then dig a hole large enough for both.

Lord Falkland was chosen very young to sit in Parliament, and when he was first elected, some of the members opposed his admission arguing, that he had not sowed all his wild oats.—"Then," replied he, "it will be the best way to sow them in the House, where there are so many geese to pick them up."

Remorse.—Let the virtuous remember, amidst their afflictions, that though the heart of a good man may bleed even to death, it will never feel a torment equal to the renderings of remorse.
