EIGHTH CONGRESSION-AL DISTRICT OF NORTH-CAROLINA.

I have just received the address of Mr. A. H. Arrington, published in the Republican of July 6th, and although I am bound to prove - Yes, he confessed in Newbern, he millions Mr. Van Buren found in the Treasfulfil the appointments published heretofore, I snatch a few moments to reply to the attacks the gentleman makes on me and to expose a few of his monstrous absurdities.

It will be remembered that at an early day, I respectfully requested Mr. Arrington to inform me where he was going, and that I would take his own time-that we might, in a manner becoming those not afraid of tions of the district, as suited his 'conveniten counties, looking for one in pursuit of his 'convenience and interest,' I made aplabor, with the assistance of-I know not how many-he has published a new edition of that same old ' little speech,' which he read out of his 'little book' in Newbern, Greenville, Washington, Hyde, &c. &c. &c. ter a month's retirement. The intelligent | It will be observed from the extract from pectation of war with England, Mr. Arring. the Hero of New Orleans, who protected The mountain in labor, brought forth a people of this district understand this better Mr. Woodbury's report in 1840, that 'after mouse-a mouse in labor, has brought forth than Mr. Arrington. In fact his charges December, 1841, the duties under the com--a worthy offspring.

should not have deemed it necessary to more than probable, I might not see what he had written, time enough to reply to it. enough to expose all that he has writtenparts of which he has been trying for two years to commit to memory, part of which he had written down in that well known 'lition City. Let not Mr. Arrington or any of his friends accuse me of dealing harshly. He has misrepresented my course, he has unworthily attacked an absent men-he is firing from behind a tree at a foe, willing to meet him, in the open field-and while I cheerfully admit his right to examine my votes, I claim for myself, for my old constituents, the right of self-defence.

Mr. A. II. Arrington, (I do not know what his middle name is -possibly Holland. There was once a candidate for Congress, of that name, whose speeches, Mr. Arrington must have studied and whose conduct he endeavors to imitate. So for the sake of brevity I shall call him Mr. Holland Arrington.) Mr. Holland Arrington seems to think that his name ' was brought before the people by a respectable portion of the Republican party.' He is mistaken. He forced his name before them, and could not have been nominated had he not refused to abide by the nomination, unless a uniform and consistent democrat' were nominated. He was not the choice of the convention that nominated

Instead of giving a 'plain and concise statement' as he promised, of measures to be acted on, at the next session of Congress, he parades a long list of charges selected from newspapers, abusing the last Congress. He tells us of much that he is 'opposed to, but little or nothing of what he favors. He objects to a high tariff, but contends for a " moderate tariff.' So do f.

He is opposed to a Bank of the United States, but omits to state that he contends for the odious sub-treasury already condemned by the people. He is opposed to a Bank of the United States, although Washington, Madison, and the Republican party in 1816 thing about which he seems to be concise, 1840 Mr. Woodbury said in his report : nine thousand, three hundred and thirty seven plain and explicit is, that he' contends' that Mr. A. Holland Arrington, ought to represent the eighth Congressional district in the next Congress-big rivers, wheelhorses and all! He communicates to the public new and interesting information, when he announces, that he has represented a district afterwards at least two millions and a half when they learn, that in Doc. 185, from in our State for two years. It would not have been known generally, had he not pub- an aggregate in six months of quite five after the statement of the 31 millions outlished it.

It gives him pleasure to state that he has met the " entire approbation of those" whom he has represented. He is mistaken. He was not, as I understand, elected by democrats: he was taken up by a portion of the democrats and the whigs to beat Mr. Haw-own political friends.

was a traitor to the Whigs.'

frequently made to the thirty seven millions lotte? of dollars, appropriated in 1836 and the im. According to the Document No. 185, to pression produced, that the whole of that which Mr. Arrington calls "particular attensum had been expended," &c. &c. I don't tion," there were 26 millions of outstanding the truth, meet before the people. In reply know where and when the allusion was appropriations on the 4th of March, 1841. he informed me that he should reserve to made. But the people of this whole coun. According to Doc. No. 259, House of Rephimself the ' priviledge' of visiting such por- try know, that in Mr. Van Buren's time, resentatives, 2nd session, 27th Congress, for Fort Macon, &c. but I could not vote the expenditures of this government exceed. there were more than 33 millions of outed 30 millions of dollars yearly. They standing appropriations; and yet with a ence and interest.' On the 18th of May we know when the reform administration com- decreasing revenue, under the compromise separated. Being unable to ascertain where menced the expenditures were about 13 act, as the extract just now made from he was going, unwilling to dodge about these millions a year. But Mr. Arrington shall Woodbury's report, fully shews, we are told not dodge the truth in this manner, by re- there were only 8 millions of debt ! If the ferring to the appropriations of 1836. Mr. compromise act bro't less than 15 millions a Van Boren's time commenced on the 4th year into the Treasury, if the public lands pointments and published them. For some of March 1837. Now let us see how he left yielded less than 2 millions a year, what weeks, four or five, he remained in Nash matters. Mr. Arrington, it is presumed, was to be done to meet 33 millions of char-County, his friends surprised at not hearing voted for Mr. Van Buren and though he ges, demands, liabilities against the Govfrom him. What could be the matter? he is 'equally fond of' Mr. Van Buren-an the appropriations of a Van Buren Congress, The mystery is solved. After a month's Irish preference truly. He favors Mr. Cal. was bound to meet payments amounting to houn and yet he likes Van Buren, just as 33 millions, and had less than 15 millions

But I am able, without any great labor, o refute Mr. Arrington's charges against the Whiles, to expose his misrepresentations af- sense. The people cannot be thus deceived. March, 1842, I delivered a speech in the ing of December, 1841, he says: 'Nearly One would have thought that, at such a mo-Had Mr. Arrington confined himself in House of Representatives in answer to char- two millions and a half will then be deducted, this address to a mere publication of what ges made against the Whig party, in which the at once. On the first of July afterwards, at North Carolinian to vote money for Forts, he has tried to say before the people, I truth was told and has never been contra. least two millions and a half more will be dicted. This speech was recently published deducted, making an aggregate, in six waste time by replying to him-but he has have or will read it, will find an ample re- how the debt seemed to increase in 1841 seen proper under circumstances not very futation of Mr. Arrington's charges. I make and 1842, after the Whigs came into power. creditable to him, to attack me, when it was the following extract, to which I invite the Mr. Arrington must unfairly refers to attention of fair-minded men. The facts what he calls the 'FIRST' year of the present are obtained from public documents and Whig administration.' He knows the Whigs will not be denied-part of them from Mr. could not be blamed for the laws passed He is mistaken: a few hours are quite Woodbury, not a Whig but a Van Buren for the acts of the Van Buren Congress, 1837, the first year of Van Buren's adminis. Because the truth will tell against him. By tle book,' which he brought from Washing- tration, and contrast the state of affairs then with our condition in 1841:

According to Mr. Woodbary's report in December, 1838, the amount in the Treasury on the 1st of January, 1837, was $16,337,688 36 But from this is to be deducted the amount distributed among the States, according to the act of

This leaves in the Treasury on the 1st of January, 1837, the $18,236,043 39 (The fourth installment withheld in October, 1837, amounting to $9,367,214 99, is part of the sum in the Treasury in January

Then the bank of the United States paid on account of the stock owned by the Government, between January, 1837, and March, 1841, the sum of $25,914,624 8 All this over and above the ordinary reof this twenty-five millions was expended during Mr. Van Buren's administration. Now let us see what were the ordinary receipts and expenditures during the years 1837,1838, 1839, and 1840.

cipts from customs and lands. The whole counts, including Treasury notes and excluding trust funds, and excluding payments column of his address, he says: 'By referby the late Bank of the United States, were ence to the official document last referred Receipts.		E	xpenditures.

1837	$21,282,008	09	1837	$31,600,003	39
1838	32,292,984	94	1838	37,150,116	49
1839	32.860,374	53	1839	36,604,212	86
1840	22,627,124	24	1540	27,414,385	99
	$109,062,431	80	-	$132,768,718	40

Expenditures more than one hundred and thirty- ton? The Secretary of course. The Sec-Deduct whole amount of receipts from expendi-

Expenditures

$23,706,226 60 Exhibiting an expenditure of more than twenty-three millions over and above rewere in favor of such a Bank. Ho is op- ceipts from customs and lands in four years posed to internal improvements by the of Mr. Van Buren's administration-expend-General Government whether they are in ing every year more than they received, the extract just made, Mr. Arrington, quot- all,) that there was no law to collect revenue. Michigan, or on the seaboard of North and taking no means to raise revenue. And Carolina, or in our own Rivers. He seems what makes the picture more dark is the the 4th of March 1843, the outstanding to be opposed to every thing national: he fact that, under the compromise act, the appropriations amounted to $31,589,337, is especially opposed to me, and the only duties were continually decreasing. In (thirty one millions, five hundred and eighty

> 1833, will, after December, 1841 take effect March last, by upwards of four and a half to a much larger extent than heretofore, millions, than at the close of Mr. Van Bu-Nearly two millions and a half will then be ren's administration." Now what will the more of duties will be deducted, making which Mr. Arrington quoted, immediately millions."

> revenue, except to borrow money, by issuing ing appropriations on the 4th day of March, Treasury notes, as they did in 1837, 1838, 1843, includes appropriations for the hall 1839, and 1840."

ed. What a sad picture it presents of Mr. of June 1844."-And yet Mr. Arrington, kins. He has never been a favorite with his Van Buren's administration! From this it by garbling a public Document, wishes to ties on articles, made in Foreign nations, John H. Eaton. 1832, the Tariff of '28 He is very faithfully remembered in Nash lions in the Treasury when he took charge outstanding appropriations on the 4th of a respectable station among the nations of for that law and it is fair to suppose they for his skill in managing the election in that of affairs. How did he leave the govern. March, 1843, were for a single year!! Oh the earth. In 1789, our Government went were satisfied with the reduction. Henry W. for his said the Reports of two shame, where is thy blush !- Surely Mr. Ar- into operation, under our present constitutional stumps' to remain in our livers, until a county-taking an active part against his ment? According to the Reports of two shame, where is thy blush !- Surely Mr. Ar- into operation, under our present constitutional stumps' to remain in our livers, until a Secretaries of the Treasury, on the fourth rington in his figuring, could not have refer- tion, George Washington was President : he Jesse Speight.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE whigs for the expenditures, he says 'the menced, there was not one million of dollars book. Or did some of the Committee write defend the Constitution.' whig party had a President of their own in the Treasury! Mr. Arrington admits Mr. this, while he went to get his trunk from Here is a copy of the title of the first turned Traitor,-that he, Mr. Arrington, millions-[38,381,555]-to quote his own understood he would have some one with was one of those who went up to see Mr. words, "the whole amount of the public Tyler, in the darkness of the night, to debt, on the 4th of March, 1841,-when thank him for vetoing the Bank of the Uni the Whig party took possession of the Govted States, which he had promised to ap ernment." What became of all these 18 went to thank Capt. Tyler, and in Wash- ury? Where is it? Echo answers, where? nesses, that the democrats would have Mr. Arrington tell us what became of all speech in Plymouth, that the whig Congress nothing to do with him, that he (Tyler,) this money? How many thousands did the in 1841, ought to have repealed the laws of was a traitor to the democrats before he "Democratic" Multicaulis Colonel, now the Democratic Treasurer of the last Legis-Mr. Arrington says " an allusion has been lature, spend at the Branch Mint in Charprefers' Mr. Calhoun, the honest nullifier, ernment? Suppose the Government by coming into the Treasury during the year. What do you call this deficit, if debt is not the proper word? Away with such non-are already answered. On the the 17th of promise act would be less and less.' Speakin the North State Whig, and those who months of quite five millions.' This explains before March, 1841. We, the Whigs, are Before I proceed to speak of the alleged not responsible for the 'first year.' But ncrease of expenditures of 1841, I will give why does he keep back the truth? Why reference to the 9th page of the circular which I issued to my constituents some months since, it will be seen from an extract taken from the report of the Committee, of Ways and Means, that in 1842, the second year, the appropriations were less than in 1841; and in 1843, the third year, the ap--half the amount appropriated in 1839, by Arrington carefully keeps out of sight!

'1841, which amounted to $20,844,561. right back again! and to avoid the necessity of an extra ses-'sion of Congress, gave authority to issue 'five millions of Treasury notes, amounting 'to $25,844,561 (twenty-five millions, eight 'hundred and forty four thousand, five hun-'dred and sixty-one dollars) for the service 'of the year 1841.' Here Mr. Arrington says that the outstanding appropriations The receipts and expenditures on all ac- when the Democrats went out of office amounted to $25,844,561. In the next to (House Doc. No. 185, 3d session, 27th Congress) it will be seen that the outstanding appropriations, on the 4th of March 1841, (the day on which Mr. Van Buren's administration terminated) amounted to $26,-977,611.' Here is a difference of more than one million of dollars !! Who is right, the Receipts about one hundred and nine millions. Secretary of the Treasury, or Mr. Arringretary don't know every thing. He don't know that we North Carolinians have a $132,768,718 40 River,-(the paradise of Terrapins, since 109,062,491 80 the Democratic Legislature passed the law)-flowing between Hyde county and the banks, twenty-five or thirty miles wide! ing from Doc. No. 185-says,-" And on "Thus the progressive reduction of the dollars) - a larger amount left outstanding present tariff, which has been going on since by the Whig administration, on the 4th of deducted at once. On the 1st of July honest democrats think of Mr. Arrington, standing, the Secretary adds the following And yet no measures were taken to raise remark: " Note. The amount of outstandcalendar year, ending the 30th June, 1843, Now, this statement cannot be impeach- and also for the fiscal year onding the 30th

Before commencing his attack on the of March, 1841, when Gen. Harrison com \red to the table on the outside of his little had taken an oath 'to support, protect and

After this exposure, I take leave of Mr. Arrington's extravagant expenditure of ladebt the whig party created. I wonder Mr. public money! Of such a suggestion, the day think Washington was mistaken. celebrated Mr. Holland senior, might justly have been proud.

Mr. Arrington proceeds to explain his vote against the appropriation for fort Macon, and what does he say ?- Listen: "As a separate measure, I should have given my vote cheerfully, for the small appropriation | Experience has taught me, that manufactures for the appropriation for Fort Macon, without voting in favor of the entire bill." Amazing indeed! Whoever before heard of voting for one fortification in a separate bill? The same bill contained appropriations for forts in Maine, Massachusetts, Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana. What would the members from all these States say to could be simple enough to make it? He Senate of the United States, and voted for vessel or every sailor in the Navy? At the continuing our present policy, we shall al against a bill appropriating money for repairing fort Caswell, in North Carolina .- | booty,' from British bayonets, in 1815. ment, patriotism would have prompted a bearing the time-honored names of Caswell gures and making quotations from Docu- from North Carolina were wrong. Indeed! poer. ments, which he never read, and could not Then if Genl. Jackson was right, Mr. comprehend, if he had, -- after wandering, Stanly was right. If Genl. Jackson was ike a lost child in the woods,

"Where wilds immeasurably spread, Seem lengthening as we go,"

Proceeds to the consideration of the Ta-Banks, that when closely followed, ran into nominated as Vice-President, with Calhoun, a statement of our financial condition in does be confine himself to the first year? Pamptico sound, and attempted to swim Mr. Arrington is pledged to support him. across. Possibly, he thought he was in ' the River;'-and I felt the same sympathy for Mr. Stanly. Or does Mr. Arrington intend the pony as I did for Mr. Arrington, when I came to that part of his address, where he If a soft gentleman like Mr. Arrington, makes a plunge, with "regular desperation," looking so bewitchingly simple, as he does, into the Tariff. The water is evidently too can stand the comparison, does he intend to deep for him. But he does his best. He stand up the stream, like the wolf in the fable, serves up the old wornout arguments of and tell the lamb below, he muddies the propriations made by a Whig Congress, the South Carolina disunion papers, in the 28,101,644 97 but little exceeded 18 millions of dollars ! best style he can. The same arguments we see in the party newspapers daily. While Mr. Van Buren's party! Yet all this Mr. discussing the Tariff, too, Mr. Arrington must refer to my votes, - to what his 'op When I read Mr. Arrington's address, I poneut' did, as he calls me. For my part, came to the conclusion that he had allowed I do not feel like one who has an 'opponent.' too many of the Committee who prepared I have met him once since the 18th of May, it, to put their fingers into the pie. Com- (and this is the 7th of July,) -about 7 weeks pare the two extracts which I now quote, ago, -and then he came to Greenville, after In the first column of his address, as pub riding as he most affectingly said, 'half the lished in the paper, he says: 'The Dem- night.' He had heard he was afraid to meet 'ocratic party just before they went out of me; so he comes to Greenville, just to 'office, made appropriations for the year show he is not afraid, and forthwith goes much it has lost to the Treasury! He says first choices' for the Presidency. General 1842, we had no law for the collection of by the strength of his purse! duties. A large majority of Congress, of both patties, thought so, and many of both parties said so; and if Mr. Arrington will look at the Journals of the second session, he will find that on the 29th of June, the acting crease after 30th June, 1842, when there was President vetoed one Tariff bill, and on the 30th June, Mr. Weller, a democrat, moved a suspension of the rules, to enable him to in-But Mr. Arrington will be as remarkable for troduce a bill, to extend the present laws his fairness as for his extraordinary discove- for laying and collecting duties on imports," ries in finding big Rivers, and large public -and Mr. Arrington voted in the affirma- lar, for the proof of my assertion. Debts. Hear him :- Immediately following tive. He then thought, (if he thought at

Mr. Roosevelt, another democrat, one of Mr. Arrington's friends, (who presented to principally consumed by the South. How ciples, and his Administration, history tells us, the House of Representatives several petis does he prove they are consumed principally, met the 'entire approbation' of a large majority of tions from negroes) made a motion similar to Mr. Weller's; and again, Messrs. Weller, Arrington and Roosevelt, voted in the affirmative! Various other motions of a like character were made by democrats and whigs-all concurring in the opinion that we had no law for the collection of duties !-When I voted for the tariff we had no law to raise money to pay the army or navy, the soldiers, pensions, or even to repair forts !-The country seemed to be on the verge of dissolution. And yet a law, which is paying the debts and supporting the honor of the is said by Mr. Arrington, to have caused 'a loss' to the Government!

choice.' He neglects to say that President Van Buren left a debt of more than eight the boat, on its way to the Banks, after he Tariff law, approved by George Washington. on the fourth day of July, 1789.

Whereas it is necessary, for the support of Government, for the discharge of the debts of the United States, and the encourbor, for so many weeks, in blundering agement and protection of manufactures, through Doc. 185, to find out how much that duties be laid on goods, wares and merchandise imported ;'-Be it enacted &c. &c. ington, he said before several hundred wit- Ask Swartwout, Boyd, Harris, Hoyt. Will Arrington did not suggest, as he did in his Genl. Washington thought the mechanics of our country ought to be protected-the framers of our Constitution thought so. But the previous Congress, and thus saved the the soap-locks-the dandies of the present

> Mr Jefferson said in 1816: "He, therefore, 'who is now against domestic manufactures, 'must be for reducing us either to dependence 'on foreign nations or to be clothed in skins, and 'to live like wild beasts in deas and caverns. I 'am not one of those .are now as necessary to our Independence, as to our comfort.'

Mr. Arrington professes great love for Jeffersonian doctrines. If Jefferson was right, Mr. Arrington is wrong :- (a question which, I think, will bother a wheel-horse to settle.)

Genl. Jackson said in his letter to Dr. such a proposition, if a member of Congress | Coleman, in 1824, when he was in the would be laughed at, and some wag would the tariff of that year, -a higher tariff than ask him, "Does your mother know you are that of 1842 :- 'In 'short, we have been out?" The thing is too ridiculous to speak | too long subject to the policy of British of seriously. Why not vote in a 'separate | merchants. It is time we should become a bill,' for the pay of every company in the little more Americanized, and instead of army of the United States? Why not vote | feeding the paupers and laborers of England in a 'separate bill,' for the pay of every feed our own; or else in a short time, by Extra Session, when there was constant ex- be rendered paupers ourselves. So spoke ton voted, according to my recollection, American laborers, by voting for the Tariff of 1824, as he protected the Beauty and

The tariff of 1824, which Genl. Jackson voted for, imposed higher duties on salt, boots and shoes, iron, nails, brown sugar, &c. &c., than did the tariff of 1842. But says Mr. A. Holland Arrington, "if Mr. mers of foreign articles, we must have direct taxa-Mr. Arrington, after wading through fi- Stan'y was right, then the whole delegation tion, which will bear with intolerable force on the right, Mr. Arrington is-wrong.

Mr. Buchanan voted in the Senate for the bill of 1842. So did Situs Wright of New York. Buchanon is before the democrats, riff. I have heard of a wild pony on the If he be nominated, or if Silas Wright be If Buchanan and Wright were right, so was to say, his opponent was wrong-any how !

But I wish the democrats of the district to ask Mr. Arrington-was General Jackson right or wrong in his war upon Mr. Calhoun, in nullification days? Is Mr. Arrington in favor of nullification, unless the tariff is repealed at South Carolina dictation? In the month of April, Mr. Arrington had 'two first choices' for the Presidency-afterwards he 'preferred Calhoon, but liked Van Buren equally well.' The nullifier democrats are had to say, he preferred Mr. Calhoun-he was his first choice. Mr. Calhoun boasts he is still a nullifier. Does Mr. A. approve Referring to the Tariff law, he says :- of that? South Carolina still threatens to Tariff.) by the tail, Mr. Arriagion branches off, But for the passage of that odious mea- dissolve the Union. Is Mr. Arrington ready to the Bankrupt law. sure, the receipts from customs, for the year | for that ? I do not intend to speak with 1842, would have amounted to nineteen or unkindness of all the nullifiers. Some of twenty millions of dollars." The Tariff them were as honest and honorable men as law. (he correctly says,) went into operation any in the country. Many of them now on the 30th of August, 1842, and although | know that their opinions were wrong. Many obedience to public opinion the law was repealed. not one year has passed, he can tell how of them I respect; but they have not "two It was for the benefit of honest debtors, and prehe is opposed to a high Protective tariff. Jackson was in favor of the Tariff and the So am I. The present Tariff is not a 'high Union-Oh, what shall Mr. Arrington do? protective Tariff.' It gives protection, as Run with the hare and hold with the hounds, the Veto power. This is untrue. No such atall Tariff laws have done, but it was passed get back, to his 'two first choices,' read out for Revenue. Mr. Arrington says " but for of his little book, say the whigs are Federalthe passage of the Tariff law, the Treasury ists, refuse to support any nullifier for Conwould have received nineteen or twenty gress, say he is 'a farmer,' lay low and keep millions of dollars." He does not know dark, attack his opponent when he is not enables the President to defeat the will of the what he says. After the 30th day of June, present, and try to make his way to Congress Representatives of the people, which gives one

> Mr. Arrington says, under the present Tariff law, the tax on 'sugar, iron, salt, coarse cotton, &c. &c. has 'been increas- ality. Well as Mr. Arrington "has always been ed.' If he means to say, there was an in- governed by true Republican principles," as he no Tariff, he is right, but if he means to say there was an increase, comparing this with | - George Washington was the President of the the Tariff of 1824 or '28-he does not speak truly. I again invite attention to a table published on the 8th page of my circu-

> Mr. Arrington selects a few articles, prove the injustice of the Tariff law. laying duties on such articles as he says are by the South? A Northern or Western State, that has a population of several hundred thousand more people than ours, must Supreme Court was "wrong," if Mr. Arrington is table which shows the duties on certain articles consumed by the South. Let the facts speak for themselves. Let it be borne in mind that the following disconnections of the North Carolina delegation Congress stood 9 for the Bank, 3 against it Jas. W. Clark of Edgecombe, Bartlett Yangs, of Caswell, W. R. King, (now Senator from Alabama,) and Wellin mind that the following disconnection of the North Carolina delegation Congress stood 9 for the Bank, 3 against it Jas. W. Clark of Edgecombe, Bartlett Yangs, of Caswell, W. this attempt at deception, I give below a in mind that the following distinguished per. sons voted for the Tariff of 1824: Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, Richard M. Johnson, John H. Eaton, and Thomas H. "the questions now at issue are the same as were nation, by bringing money into the Treasury, Benton. The following voted for the Tariff between the Federal and Republican parties, in of 1828, (called the bill of abominations by the Nullifiers) - Martin Van Buren, Rich It was a Tariff law, -a law imposing du- ard M. Johnson, Thos. H. Benton, and will be seen that he had more than 18 mil- make the public believe, that the S1 millions that first enabled our government to support was reduced. The following persons voted

Here is the table, containing some of Mr. Ar rington's articles 'consumed by the South.

1824.	1898.	1832	1842.
$30 per ton,	$37 per ton.	$30 per ton.	$25 per ton.
$18 per ton.	$22 40 per ton.	$18 per ton.	$17 do
3 c. a pound.	S c. a pound.	24 c. a pound.
12 do	12 do.	12 do	6 c. a pound.
	5 do	Free.	Free.
5 c. a gallon.	10 c. a gallon.	5 c. a gallon.	45 c a gullon.
20 c. per bush.	20 c. per bush.	10 c. a bushel.	8 c. per bushel
25 per cent.	35 per cent.	5 per cent.	15 per cent.
25 do	25 do	15 do	do.
$1,50 per pair.	$1,50 per pair.	$1 50 per pair.	$1,25 per pair.
do	do	do.	50 c. per pair.
5 c. a pound.	5 c. per pound.	5 c. per pound.	45 c. a pound.
334 per cent.	45 per cent.	16 c. sq. yard.	14 c. sq. yard.
25 do	35 do	30 per cent.	30 per cent.
25 do	35 do	30 do	30 do
5 c. per pound.	5 c. per pound.	5 c. per pound.	3 c. per pound
30 per cent.	30 per cent.	30 per cent.	18 cents.

Several of the North Carolina politicians are recommending "direct taxation,"-and other democrats in Congress, have favored it. I never heard of a Whig yet who approved it. Without a Tariff, which taxes foreigners, and the rich consu-

Mr. Arrington says I voted for a tariff, which nereases the tax upon all the common necessarie of life. If Mr. Arrington wrote that, he is autly ate duties, such as will reduce the tax, upon all the common necessaries of life, -encourage agriculture and commerce, thereby bring into the Treasas one of their candidates for the Presidency, ary, twenty millions a year." If he will only encourage agriculture, commerce and manufactures. I will agree with him. Why not "encourage" all? What strange arguments these moderate Tariff men advance! The tariff of 1814, 1824, &c. were high Tariffs, because the country was in debt, high tariffs to raise money. Yet, the Tariff of 1842, passed when the country was in debt, although lower than the Tariffe of 1824, &c. &c. is too high to raise money!!! Consistency, thou art a j-welt

Mr. Arrington seems to think I ought to have voted as my colleagues did. That course would suit him, better than me. Mr. Arrington is a happy man, to save himself the trouble of thinking and acting for himself. It is enough for me to say, in answer to this charge, that I voted as I thought best for the country, for the interest of my constituents and the State.

But my colleagues did not differ with me, because they thought the tariff was too high, but because they hoped to be able to prevent Mr. Tyler from cheating us out of the public land money, I thought differently, I knew, or believed I knew, that a majority of Congress, Northern and Westera Whigs and Democrats, were determined to have a tariff. Many of both parties said so. I respected the motives of my Whig colleagues,in favor of plain dealing; so Mr. Arrington they, I know, respect mine. Satisfied with the approbation of my own conscience, and of my constituents, I have no apologics to make. After struggling desperately like one trying to

> He thus misrepresents that law-"a prominent measure of the Whig Congress was the passage. of a Bankrupt law, which authorised debtors, to repudiate at will, their honest debts." This is an unworthy misrepresentation. In vented fraudulent assignments, in favor of favorite

Mr. Arrington says an attempt was made by the Whig party at the last Congress 'to destroy," tempt was made, that I ever heard of, by the Whig party. It comes with a good grace from a farmer,' republican, &c. &c. always governed by Republican principles, &c. &c .- to oppose any modification of the Veto power, -the power which man, in this Republican Government, the power of

Mr. Arrington is opposed to a U. S. Bank, both on the grounds of inexpediency and unconstitutiontells us, he ought to know what is constitutional. what not. But George Washington differed with Mr. Arrington. One was right, the other wrong Convention which formed the Constitution. Possibly, if he had read Mr. Arrington's arguments, he might have thought differently.

James Madison, acting under outh, said a Bank of the United States was constitutional. He was called the 'Father of the constitution.' Mr. Arrington differs with him. If Mr. Arrington : right, Mr. Madison was wrong. Mr. Madison. was a Republican, governed by Republican printthe country. The Supreme Court said, more than once, a bank of the United States is constitutional; but Mr. Arrington says it is not. Of course the "right." In 1814, Gen. Turner of Warren, in But to show the fallacy of, and expose the Senate from North Carolina, voted for a Baset. and in 1816, when the Bank was charteed, the don N. Edwards, of Warren, voted for the Bank in 1816. Then it was a Republican measure. If so then, why not now? Does Republicanism chango so often ? Is Mr. Arrington right, in sayingthe days of old John Adams ?" What nonsense ! Mr. Arrington informs us, he is a strict con-tructionist-that he is opposed to the exercise of all powers by the General Government except those expressly granted. Will he say where he finds power in the constitution to build light-houses, light-bests, and hospitals? Of course, le must be opposed to the exercise of these powers, by the Government. He would allow the 'consti-