Roofing, Guttering, tin and sheet iron work done in first-class order, at short notice, by experienced workmen, at B. L. Churchill's, Middle Street.

Our Wilmington exchanges give extended accounts of a gale in that city on Friday. Roofs were torn from houses, the streets were filled with clouds of dust and sand and the schooner Nellie Treat, narrowly escaped shipwreck.

As if to help out the perfect deluge of waters coming from above yesterday, our rivers, under an unusually high tide, overflowed many of the wharves in this city. We learn that the waters were so high in some instances that small boats drifted up on the thoroughfares.

The Washington Echo says that Mr. Reuben Allen, residing at the head of Pungo river, in that county, killed a very large bear at one of his hog-pens a few nights since, by striking him across the back with an axe.

The Morganton Blade says: Last Friday night Aden Wiseman, Sheriff of Mitchell county, acting as U. S. Deputy Marshal and accompanied by two men, undertook to arrest Sim Barrier, Isaac Barrier and John Barrier, charged with illegal distilling. The Barriers were in their still house in the Jonas Ridge section of Burke county. When the sheriff and posse reached the house a gun was presented through the door; Sheriff Wiseman seized the gun and received a flesh wound in the back. Eight or ten shots were fired by the two parties. One shot struck Jim Barrier in the breast, killing him instantly. The other two surrendered and were carried to jail at Bakersville.

The Oyster Saloon three doors below the Eagle House keeps constantly on hand the finest oysters the market affords, on half-shell or prepared to suit the most fastidious. Lunch furnished at all hours, day or night. Sardines, Lobsters, Ham and Bologne. This Saloon having been recently refitted, the manager solicits a share of the public patronage. The Bar is well stocked with the best Liquors and Cigars. Private apartments for those who do not desire to come in contact with the bar.

Mayor's Court.

His honor, the Mayor, had several cases of minor importance before him yesterday. Two parties were found guilty of violating the ordinance in reference to fast driving on the streets, but as the ordinance was probably violated innocently, the Mayor discharged the suprits with a reprimand. Our carters will do well to remember this ordinance in future, or, owing to the bad need of funds by the city, the matter may be brought to their attention when it will be too late for them to excuse themselves with less than an X or a V.

Dangerous.

On Hancock Street, between Broad and New, the ends of several planks project from the fence in a very dangerous manner. We learn that on Sunday night last several ladies were passing this place, on their way to church, when one of the party was struck in the face by the end of one of these planks and so seriously injured that she had to return home. Our city authorities should look into this matter and have the danger removed.

The Wildman Troupe.

We have received a letter from Mr. Hatch, the gentlemanly agent of the Wildman troupe which informs us that the Company is now filling engagements in Indiana, and is setting the hoosiers wild in that State. S. H. Hubbard, who took the part of Archibald Carlyle in East Lynne, when last played in this city, died and was buried in Lexington, Ky. Mr. Hatch says the troupe is doing a good business. Will go next into Illinois and from there probably to California. Will again visit Newbern on their next tour.

Warning to Lovers.

A rather interesting story is told of a buxom young woman, whose honesty of purpose is fully equalled by her physical ability to resent an imposition even though the offender be her lover. The young man in question bore a rather doubtful character to the outside world and was never suspected of being a tetotaler by the young lady herself, although affirming that he never drank. All was apparently working to the entire satisfaction of Cupid himself, until one night he asked his fair Dulcinea to "turn down the light." "It's a taller candle, you darn fool! You're drunk, you can't deceive me any longer!" And she took him by the left ear and led him to the door.

Married.

SCISSORINCTUMS.

A good lawyer is not a necessity, for necessity knows no law.

The sting of a bee carries conviction with it. It makes a man a bee-leaver at once.

Said a dry goods dealer: "Of course we lose money on every piece of these goods, but my dear [madam, we sell such enormous quantities of them."

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked a judge of a prisoner the other day. "An sure now," said Pat, "what are you put there for but to find it out?"

"Make the vagabond earn his meals," says the Philadelphia American of the tramp. Bless your heart, friend, you don't know the character of the animal. He'd rather go hungry any time.

"Tie-backs" would seem after all to be no new fashion, but simply an old fashion revived. Hesiod, who wrote twenty-seven hundred years ago, said: "Let no fair woman tempt thy sliding mind with garments gathered in a knot behind."

When a man empties the pockets of his coat preparatory to laying it out for repairs, there's nothing that makes his conscience get upon his hind legs quicker than the sight of the letter his wife gave him to mail two months ago.

A correspondent writing an account of a ball says: "There were young and old people present, and some of the old ones hopped around as though the gout and rheumatism were things unknown. The band was tip-top, and they used up a keg of lager in oiling their fiddle-sticks."

A Slight Mistake that can't Hurt Any.

A Remarkable Discovery in Florida.

We learn the Indian mound on Murphy's Island was opened, or rather entered, by a party a few days ago. This mound is one of the largest on the river, and has excited more than ordinary interest among our scientific visitors. But Colonel Hart, proprietor of the island upon which the mound stands heretofore persisted in his refusal to have his relic of past ages disturbed. On Wednesday, however, it was resolved to inspect thoroughly this monument of prehistoric age. A party from the Putnam, with others, took steamer for the island, where they arrived in good time. It was agreed to open the mound at its base. After making a breach of 35 feet, they discovered a hard wall made of coquina or shell rock. This wall was cemented, and was ornamented with various figures of warriors with bows and arrows, and various reptiles. After much difficulty a breach was made in the wall, and by the light of a torch, several of the party entered; much surprised, they found themselves within a vault eight feet high with a room twelve by fifteen feet long with armed warriors encased in niches, all in a state of petrification. This is certainly a most wonderful discovery, and has produced a most profound sensation. In view of this important discovery, Colonel Hart has stationed a guard to prevent parties making away with these wonderful objects. Murphy's Island will no doubt become the Mecca of St. John's river.
