Another Tornado.

GALVESTON, June 4.—A special to the News from Greenville says: A tornado struck this place last evening in a northwesterly direction with terrific force. Rain fell in torrents for twenty minutes and the total destruction of the town seemed inevitable. A survey of the city shows that 150 houses were either blown down or moved from their foundations. A large number of old buildings were more or less damaged. Only one life was lost, that of a colored child. Several persons, however, were severely injured. The northern end of the Missouri Pacific Railroad and freight depots were blown off. The Methodist and colored churches were to-day wrecked and the Presbyterian and Baptist churches were badly damaged. Heavy rain storms prevailed at other points, but no tornado occurred.

A Sad Death in Cabarrus.

Mr. Edward Stirewalt, who met with an accident in his shingle machine, at Mill Hill, Cabarrus county, last Thursday evening, as recorded in these columns, died of his injuries at six o'clock last Sunday morning. The accident was caused by a flying belt that jumped from a pulley and caught him up by the ankle, pulling his body through a ten inch space between two heavy oaken posts, and giving his foot and ankle several revolutions around a shaft. Dr. G. G. Smith, of Mill Hill, assisted by Dr. Holt, of Davidson College, amputated the shattered limb, and though the sufferer remained unconscious, it was thought that no serious results would ensue, until early Sunday morning when he showed signs of terrible internal injuries and soon afterwards died. His body was interred at Poplar Tent church yard yesterday morning.

The deceased was born on the 29th of July 1851, and was the only son of Jacob and Elizabeth Stirewalt. He was married in November 1876, to Miss Ella Summers, daughter of Mr. C. L. Summers, of Statesville, who, with three children survives him. There were few steadier, more industrious young men in the county than was the deceased, and the largest, best arranged and finest milling property in Cabarrus stands at Mill Hill as a monument to his skill and ability as a machinist. His death is not alone a loss to his family, but the neighborhood, and indeed the whole county, will feel it keenly.—Charlotte Journal-Observer.

After They Went Fishing.

They didn't catch many fish, although they had a great deal of fun and got themselves wet all over when the log they had been sitting on rolled over and dropped them into the water. The biggest catch of the day was the severs cold they caught from not being properly dried when they came out. A summer cold is quite as dangerous as one in winter, but PERRY DAVIS'S PAIN KILLER is the sovereign remedy in case of either.

To the Afflicted.

Below I publish a few certificates. Persons desiring to be further convinced in regard to the virtues of Scott's Linctament can call at any time and read of the many wonderful cures this medicine has made in the past 8 or 9 years. A word to the wise is sufficient. I can be found at my office, on South Front street, between Hancock and Middle, near Dennison's mill, Newbern, N. C.

EUGENE SCOTT

Newbern, N. C., Feb. 15, 1875.

This is to certify that I was suffering with Rheumatism in my knee and leg, was scarcely able to attend to my store, and I bought one 50 cent bottle of Scott's Linctament and it effected a cure. I would say to those who are suffering, give the medicine a trial and you will be benefited.

Yours respectfully,
 JACOB SHERRY LONG.

Dr. Scott—Dear Sir:—I was afflicted with sore throat and hoarseness, and am happy to inform you that your Linctament cured me. It is surely a good medicine, and all you claim it to be. Yours respectfully,
 REV. JOHN JOHNSON.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 28, 1878.

Dr. Scott—Sir:—Your medicine is all that you claim it to be. I had gone nearly blind, could not see to work, and I bought one dollar's worth of your medicine which entirely cured me. I received more good from one dollar's worth of Scott's medicine than I did from one hundred dollar's worth of other medicine in the whole two years. The cause of my going blind was cooking in my restaurant. Yours respectfully,
 DAVID SPEIGHT.
