

POETRY.

Hark, the Convent Bells are ringing- Portuguese Air. Hark, the convent bells are ringing, And the nun's are sweetly singing...

Now the lovely maid is kneeling, With uplifted eyes appealing; Holy Virgin, hear her prayer; See, the Abbess bending o'er her...

WOMAN'S LOVE.

A woman's love, deep in the heart, Is like the violet flower, That lifts its modest head apart...

A woman's love is like the spring Amid the wild alone; A burning wild, o'er which the wing Of cloud is seldom thrown...

A woman's love is like the rock That every tempest braves, And stands secure amid the shock Of ocean's wildest waves...

A Hoax.—At the court of sessions which closed a few days since at Hackensack, N. J., a hoax was played off, which for its singular audacity and success, deserves to be recorded.

Mercury. The counsel of course expressed his amazement at this singularly unexpected recourse, to which the culprit replied, chuckling at the success of his ingenious expedient...

Burying Alive.—The late Capt. Ebenezer Chapman Keup, who, in 18-6, commenced the Moira, in which he sailed to India, related to me a painful instance of self-immolation which occurred in his own family.

We suspect that the following anecdote contains more of humor than of truth, but it is perfectly in character. While Col. Crockett was at Washington, with his daughter, a young gentleman who had been paying his addresses to her, wrote to him, requesting his permission that they might be married.

Yankee Salutation and Reply.—In a neighboring town, in our county of Essex, where the parish parson is renowned as a "right down steady man," the following salutation and reply is quite common: "Good morning, neighbor A—how'd'ye do to-day?" "Well, I'm much at one, I thank you—how 't' you?"

Barberous.—Common candle snuff clear of grit, spread on a Razor Strip, produces the best edge, in the shortest time, of any thing ever tried—so says a New York paper; and they are "up to snuff" in the Empire State.

Cincinnati, April 12. Fifty years ago—this 24th day of April, Captain Lytle (the father of the late General Lytle), while descending the Ohio to the Falls with a number of emigrants, landed for a few hours at the mouth of Licking.

One of the prosecuting counsel having business in this city on the following day, crossed the ferry at the foot of Courtland street, but to the extent of his surprise and astonishment may be better conceived than described, when almost immediately on landing he ran plump against the dying man, who was hastening towards the ferry with the eagerness and speed of a flying

Mercury. The counsel of course expressed his amazement at this singularly unexpected recourse, to which the culprit replied, chuckling at the success of his ingenious expedient, and proud of the deception he had practised by the inimitable manner in which he had acted out the character of a cripple—Oh! I am a great deal better to day than I was yesterday.
