

POETRY.

GOOD NIGHT.

The clock strikes ten: its warning sound Reproves my long delay; Yet who from scenes where bliss is found Would wish to haste away?

And oh! if other words than these A warmer wish convey,
My heart the welcome phrase would seize,
Its feelings to portray;

Sweet and refreshing be thy sleep,
And all thy visions blest!
Angels their watchful guard shall keep,
Nor evils dare molest.

LIFE ASSURANCES.

For the information of those who may wish to provide for their families at a very small rate and who have not the means of rendering them any adequate assistance at their death, by will or inheritance; the following case (which occurred at Baltimore within a few months past, and which is but partially known,) is now made public.

A merchant well advanced in life, and who for more than 40 years had been successful in business, became unfortunate. His family was large, and, so far as his means extended, must necessarily have been left destitute in the event of his speedy dissolution, which, however, was not at that time, even probable.
He, notwithstanding, it seems, was fully sensible of the uncertain tenure of Life and caused his to be insured in the latter part of November at the Baltimore Life Insurance Company, in the sum $10,000. He died in the middle of February ensuing, within 11 weeks from the date of the policy, and his widow has received the whole sum without any trouble or expense, and before the period provided for the payment thereof, had expired. This provident act has rendered his family not only comfortable, but (with prudence) independent; and they have abundant cause to bless the day when a resolution, so happy in its consequences, was formed and acted on.

Gold Growing.—The farmers of Pennsylvania sow their ground with lime and plaster, to promote vegetation, and great benefits have resulted therefrom. The people of Georgia are beginning to profit by the acuteness of their eastern brethren—the soil of the upper part of the state does not require, or rather will not be improved by lime; it is a gold region and consequently other provocations are employed; large boxes of brass filings are sent to that section of the state, for the promotion of the growth of Gold. Whether it is sowed over the earth and mingled with the soil, or combined with the product, we are not able to say, but certain it is that the profits of the mines have been greatly enhanced to the first workers, by the judicious using of the brass filings. A box of this excellent material, on its way to the gold region, accidentally fell from a wagon in Augusta; the cover came off and the precious article was scattered about, to the great scandal of those who did not understand the great value of brass in all mined transactions.

A Week's work at the New York Post Office.
The amount of business performed every day in our Post Office is very great; but there are seasons when a vast deal is required to be done in a very few hours. The arrival of several European packets almost simultaneously, which not infrequently occurs, superadds greatly to the ordinary amount; and there are other circumstances which sometimes swell the flood still higher. An idea may be formed on this subject from the business here in a single week.

The following statement we copy from the Gazette showing the number of letters received at the post office for the last six days, ending on Saturday evening.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Quantity. Includes City delivery (21,929), One cent letters (3,900), Letters for distribution (7,670), Ship Letters (23,021), etc.

OF this large number, 39,219 were delivered in this city, and the remainder forwarded to every part of the country. Each of these letters was handled six or seven times for the purpose of marking, assorting, delivering, mailing, &c. will be equal to the handling of seven hundred thousand letters. The number of newspapers passing through the office amounts to a million per month.—N. Y. Daily Advertiser.

When a Man and Wife are Not One.
A Mr. Bostwick and his wife were some time since thrown from a stage in the upper part of New York, and received considerable injury.—Mr. B. instituted a suit against the proprietors of the line, and recovered $800 for damages sustained in his head and arms.—This sum was duly paid. Then Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick asked further damages for injury done to Mrs. B. and the jury thought if $800 were given for a man's broken head, no less a sum would compensate for his injured wife—so $800 were given for Mrs. Bostwick's wounds.—U. S. Gazette.

Inexhaustibility of Literature.—Books are the cause of books. Were there no books in the world, it might be difficult to write one; but because there are so many, there may be so many more. The facility of production, the rays of intellectual light are, by the prismatic operation of books, broken into an infinity of lines and colours. Men may as soon cease to talk as cease to read and write books. All our daily and hourly talk may be made matter of literature, aye, and of interesting literature too.
The more books that are printed, the more food is given to the mind; and the more nourishment the mind receives, the more vigorous its powers; and the greater in strength, the more valuable its thoughts, and the more excited its powers and capacities.
There is no one topic in the whole range of literary interest that can be conceived capable of exhaustion; and in matters of imagination there is no intellectual foresight, however sagacious, that is capable of conjecturing what may be done.—Lon. Atlas.

voyage of discovery.—She had coasted up so far as lat. 30; and it is stated had examined the ports and places of the Chinese northern territory with great ease and minuteness. The persons engaged in this investigation report that the inhabitants appear to have the greatest wish to trade with the English, acting in the most friendly manner towards the persons composing the expedition. The natives were evidently in want of a variety of English and Indian goods; and, from the apparent richness of the country, they could give a variety of valuable articles in return. They are said to be generally very intelligent. The official report will, of course, not be published; but the officers and others employed give a most flattering account of the expedition, and express a confident opinion that a great field for the commerce of England may be opened on the coast and in the islands of those seas.

Cure for the Lazy Fever.—The 151 chapitre doth show of an evyl fever; the which doth combat younge persons, named the fever burden (lazy fever.) Among all the fevers, I had almost forgotten the fever burden which which many younge men, younge women, may-dens, and other younge persons be sore infected now-a-days. The course of this intirmi-tence.—The fever doth come naturally, or else by evil and slothful bringing up. If it do come by nature, then the fever is incurable; for it can never get out of the flesh that is bred in the bone. If it come by slothful bringing up, it may be helped by diligent labor. A remedy: —There is nothing for the burden, as is, un-guentum baculum: that is to say, take a stick, or wand of a yard of length and more, and let it be as great as a man's fynger, and with it annoint the back and shoulders well, morning and evening, and do this 21 days, and if this fever will not be help in that time, let them beware of wagginge on the gallowse; and whyles they do take their medicine, put on lubberwort in their pottage.—The Breviary of Health, 1557.

Soap Ley has been accidentally discovered by a soap boiler to be excellent for garden walks or houseyards. He spread in a wet state the black sulphurous residuum of the ley tubs on the alleys of his garden—which would not raise any grass or weeds afterwards, nor permit any growth within some inches of the place.—Delighted with the discovery, he had merely to put a covering of the sand over the refuse to obtain the finest walks possible—and having had occasion to repave his yard, he used the like soft refuse instead of mortar, which soon hardened and cemented the stones so well that the heaviest carriages occasioned no disadjustment.—Rev. ENCY. duap Silliman.

Paint for Houses.—Robert R. Harden. in a letter to the "Southern Planter," gives it as his decided opinion that no spirits of turpentine ought to be used with the oil employed in painting houses. He says that painters will tell you they put it in to cause the oil to dry.
But the fact, he says, is that the oil is decomposed, and its whole preservative effect destroyed. In proof of this it is stated that nothing will take grease spots out of cloth's or remove oil spots from a floor like spirits of turpentine.
This, it is affirmed, is within the knowledge of every housekeeper and washerwoman. Mr. H. says that two coats of oil and paint, if the spirits of turpentine be omitted, will cause the timber to be very lasting, while the painting will also retain for a long time its original beauty; but that otherwise the paint will soon wash off, and the decay of the timber will be very little if at all prevented. The oil of Palmi Christi is said to be equal to that of fax-seed, if not superior for preserving wood. We have frequently observed that painting, in this country, had very little permanence or preservative effect. May not the suggestions of Mr. Harden deserve the consideration of painters and builders?—Ala. State Intel.

Bread.—Indian meal improves, in the estimation of almost every one, the flavour of bread.
I first boil my meal, instead of simply pouring boiling water on it when mixed with flour.— Owing to the consolidation of water by boiling, the quantity is greatly increased. The water on moisture is not as easily driven off or evaporated in the baking. Thus made there is a saving of meal, and a greater retention of moisture.—Ontario Repository.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

April 12th, 1833.
IN the late conflagration of the Treasury building, nearly all the correspondence of the Secretary of the Treasury, from the establishment of the Department to the 31st March, 1833, was destroyed including, as well the original letters and communications addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, as the records of the letters and communications written by him. With a view to repair the loss, as far as may be practicable, all officers of the United States, are requested to cause copies to be prepared, and authenticated by them, of any letters (excepting those hereinafter alluded to, which they may at any time have written to or received from, the Secretary of the Treasury; and all those who have been in office, and other individuals throughout the United States, are invited to do the same. That this correspondence may be arranged into appropriate books, it is requested that it be copied on folio foolscap paper, with a sufficient margin on all sides to admit of binding, and that no more than one letter be contained on a leaf. It is also requested, that the copies be written in a plain and distinct or engrossing hand. Where the original letter can be spared it would be preferred. The reasonable expense incurred in copying the papers now requested, not exceeding the rate of ten cents for every hundred words, will be defrayed by the Department.

The correspondence which has been saved, and of which, therefore, no copies are desired, are the records of the letters written by the Secretary of the Treasury to Presidents and Cashiers of Banks, from the 1st October, 1816, to the 20th February, 1833; all the correspondence relating to Revolutionary claims under the act of 15th May, 1828, and to claims of Virginia officers to half pay, under the act of 5th July, 1832; and to applications for the benefits of the acts of the 2d March, 1831, and 14th July, 1832, for the relief of certain insolvent debtors of the United States. Copies of some circular letters and instructions, written by the Secretary, have also been preserved, and it is requested that, before a copy be made of any circular letter or instruction, written by the Secretary of the Treasury, the date and object of the circular be first stated to the Department, and its wishes on the subject ascertained.

LOUIS McLANE,
Secretary of the Treasury.
