SHOCCO SPRINGS

THE Subscriber respectfully informs the public, that her houses will be prepared for the reception of visitors—on the 1st June next.

I would be superfluous in me to say any thing of the benefits of the water, as those who have tried it will readily testify to its advantageous effects. The subscriber deems it only necessary to say that her buildings are all in good repair, her rooms well furnished, large and numerous; and that her Table will be supplied with the best the country affords and her bar with various kinds of Wines and Liquors of every description. The subscriber feels assured that the preparations she has made for the accommodation of her boarders cannot fail to please.
