Spring Annually Says Take Hood's

Sarsaparilia
In the spring those Pimples, Boils,
Eruptions and General Bad Feelings indicate that there are cobwebs in the system. It needs a thorough brushing, and the best brush is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which sweeps all humors before it. This great medicine eradicates Scrofula, sucdues Salt Rheum, neutralizes the acidity which causes Rheumatism—in short, purifies the blood and thoroughly renovates the whole physical system.

"Hood's Sarsaparilia has been taken in our family as a blood purifler and spring medicine with satisfactory results." LENAR RICHARDSON, 135 West William street, Bath, N. Y. Be sure to get Hood's. *****

A Story of Twins.

Lloyd Lowndes and Richard Lown-des, sons of Governor Lowndes of Maryland, are twins and look very much alike. According to a story go-ing the rounds, Richard was traveling ing the rounds, Richard was traveling through Ohio a year ago, when a man eame through the cars and slapped him on the back. "Hello, Lloyd," he said, "stop over and spend the night with me at Chillicothe." Richard said he wasn't Lloyd, but the man wouldn't believe him, so he stopped over. Among the people he met was Miss May Quinn. She liked him and he fiked her, but Richard had been married for several years. So he told his brother Lloyd about her, and in process of time Lloyd went to see her, fell ess of time Lloyd went to see her, fell in love, proposed, and was married last week. When he told his fiancee that he was not the Lloyd she first met, but that the first Lloyd was a false. Lloyd and really Richard, he had a hard time convincing her he was speaking the truth.

THE GREAT DIVINE'S ELOQUENT

the Duty of Parents and Admonishes the Children-Don't Stuff the Young People With Religion.

the Children—Don't Stuff the Young People With Religion.

Topyright 1990.]

Wardington, D. C.—This discourse of Dr. Talinage will interest young men, while it is full of advice and encouragement to parents who are trying to bring up their children anglet; lexit, Proverbs x., I. "A wise son marketh a glad father, but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother."

In this graphic way Solomon sets forth the idea that the good or evil behavior of children blesses or blights the parental heart. I know there at'n bersons who seem to have no especial interest in the welfare of their children. The father says: "My boy must take the risks I took in life. If he turns out well, all right, If he turns out well, all right lifes a happened hight just as well thrust a lamb into a den of Hous and say, "Little lamb, take care of yourself."

Nearly all the brute creation are kind shought look after their young, I was going through a woods, and I heard a shrill cry in a nest. I climbed up to the bird's nest, and I found that the old bird had left the brood to starve. But that is a very arre occurrence. Generally a bird will pick your eyes out rather than surrender her young to your keeping or your touch. A lion will rend you if you come too near the whelps. Even the barnyard fowl, with its ciumsy foot and heavy wing, will come at you if you approach its young to nearly, and God certainly intended to have fathers and mothers as kind as the brutes.

Cirist some through all our households to-day, and He says: "You take care of the contract o for heaven, is the anxiety for every, intelligent purent;

for heaven, is the anxiety for every, intelligent parent.
But for the most part the children that live sometimes get cross and plok up bad words in the street or are disposed to quarrel with brother or sister and show that they are wloked. You see them in the Sabbath-school class. They are so sunshlay and bright you would think they were always so, but the mother looking over at them remembers what an awful time she had to get them ready. Time passes on. They get considerably older, and the son comes in from the street from a puglistic encounter bearing on his appearance the marks of defeat, or the daughter practices some little deception in the household. The mother says "I can't always be scolding and fretting and finding fault, but this must be stopped." So in many a household there is the sign of sin, the sign of the truthfulness of what the Bible says when it declares, "They go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lles."

Some go to work and try 'to correct all this, and the boy is picked at and picked at and picked at. That always is ruinous. There is more help in one good thunderstorm than in five days or cold drizzle. Better the old fashioned stylo of chasticement, if that be necessary, than the frotting and the soolding which have destroyed so many.

There is also a cause of great solicitude sometimes because our young long the people are surrounded by so many temptations. A castle may not be taken by a straightforward siege, but ampose there be inside the sand an enemy, and in the night he shoves back the bolt and swings open the door. Our young folks have fose without, and they have foes within. Who does not understand it? Who is the man here who is not aware of the fact that the young Styles of temptation just suited to them.

is not aware of the fact that the young people of this day have tremendous temptations?

Oh, how many traps set for the young! Styles of temptation just suited to them. Do you suppose that a man who went clear to the depths of dissipation went down in one great plunge? Oh, no! At first it was a fashionable hotel. Marble floor. No unclean pictures behind the counter. No drunken hiccough while they drink, but the click of out glass to the elegant sentiment. You ask that young man now to go into some low restaurant and get a drink, and he would say, "Do you mean to lusuit me?" But the fashionable and the elegant hotel is not always close by, and now the young man is on the down grade. Farther and farther down until the has about struck the bottom of the depths of ruin. Now he is in the low restaurant. The eards so greasy you can hardly tell who has the best hand. Gambling for drinks. Slunfle away, shuffle away. The landlord stands in his short sleeves, with his hunds on his hips, waiting for an order to fill up the glasses.

The clock strikes twelve—the tolling of the funeral bell of a soul. The breath of eternal wee flushes in that young man's cheeks. In the jets of the gaslight the flery tongue of the worm that never dies. Two o'clock in the morning, and now they are sound asleep in their chairs. Landlord comes around and says "Wake up, wake up! Time to shut up!" "What!" says the young man. "Time to shut up?" Push them all out into the night air. Now they are going home. Going home! Let the wife crouch in the corner and the children hide under the bed. What was the history of that young man? He began his dissipations in the barroom of a Fifth avenue hotel and completed kis damnation in the lowest grogshop.

Sometimes sin even comes to the drawing room. There are leprous hearts sometimes admitted in the highest circles of

After awhile one day a messenger from the bank over the way calls in and says to the father of the household of which I am spenking, "The officers of the bank would like to have you step over a minute." The father steps over, and the bank officers says, "Is that your check?" "No," ho says, "Is that you fill you have father steps over, and the bank officer says, "Is that you fill you have have an 'H' in that way, That is not my writing. That is not my signature. That is a counterfelt, send for the police." "Stop!" says the bank officer. "Your son wrote that."

Now the father and mother are waiting for the son to come home at night. It is 12 o'clock, it is hail-past 12 o'cl

A GREAT TRUCK GARDEN.

Rexico May Supply Us with Our Early Vegetables.

From recent developments it is apparent that the Southern States will not possess the monopoly of supplying northern cities with garden products, says the Philadelphia Record. The science of refrigeration and the con-struction of refrigerator ships and re-frigerator cars has reached such a high state that it is now possible to raise fruit, it might be said, in almost any part of the world, and carry it to any other part. The fact has been for years demonstrated by the shipment of carcasses from Australia to England by the shipicad, where an enormous trade has been built up. The same principle can be applied to the transportation of fruits. A very large proportion of the product of California is now shipped eastward in refrigerator cars, and some of the finest fruits on display in the East come from that State in this way. The agriculturists in the South have recently had their attention directed to the advisability of diversifying crops by the high price paid for garden products. The market garden has of late years become a very important factor in southern agricultural economy. Enterprising capitalists, since the de-velopment of Mexico by railroads have been looking at the possibilities of cli-mate there, and have taken steps in some cases to establish plantations for the growth of fruits on a large scale, which it is their intention to ship by refrigerator processes to United States ports and then to inland points. The schemes read well, and apparently are well based. There appears to be no reason why garden truck could not be raised in Mexico and delivered safely and profitably to a great many cities and towns throughout the United and towns throughout the United States. A great many products there are four to eight weeks ahead of the South. Dairy farming has become very profitable. Milk in large cities sells at 25 cents in Mexico; butter at 36 to 48 cents a pound. Labor costs only from 12 to 25 cents a day. Sugar cane turned into brown sugar yields from $70 to $95 an acre gross. Green barley and come are resised in large quantities and corn are raised in large quantities for fodder.

Cattle raising since the Spanish war has been greatly stimulated, and the western cattlemen are now there lay ing the foundations for big ranches Wheat is cultivated on the high table-lands of Central Mexico, but it is not as good as that grown in the States. Such products as coffee, vanilla, rubber, cocoanut and cocoa are all raised certain sections and raised profita-

Lunatics often assume a superiority of intellect to others which is quite amusing. A gentleman while walking along a road not far from the side of which ran a railway, encountered a number of insane people out for ex-ercise. With a nod toward the rail-way lines, he said to one of the lunatics: "Where does this railway go to?" The lunatic looked at him scornfully for a moment and then replied: "It doesn't go anywhere. We keep it here to run trains on."—Agate.
