From the Wilmington Post: SOMETHING ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA.

The war in a great measure, about as far as the statistics and other sources of information, regarding the progress of the outside world, in arts, manufactures and the general condition of affairs, particularly in the United States.

The census of 1860, only published four years after, owing to the want of representation in our National Congress, has found its way into our hands in the South. We give with pleasure some figures showing the condition of our State then.

In manufactures we find number of establishments, 8,689

Capital invested, $9,693,703

Cost of raw material, $10,208,228

Number of hands employed, 142,217

Annual cost of labor, $2,933,441

Annual value of products, $10,373,698

We find Slaves only in the lower number of establishments, viz: 618.

New Harbors made in 1850, 855

Capital invested, $674,975

Cost of raw material, $908,476

Number of hands employed, 695

Annual cost of labor, $177,416

Annual value of products, $1,377,717

New Harbors in the largest in the value of her products in the State.

Among the articles produced and manufactured, peculiar to this section, we find the following values:

Lumber sawed and planed, $1,365,963

Crude Turpentine, 552,542

Spirits of Turpentine, 4,888,878

Timber cuttings, 121,093

Manufactured Tobacco, 1,117,999

In 1850 North Carolina produced from cotton manufactures, 985,411

1860, increase, only 6.15 per cent.

1860 woolen goods, 71,470

1860 increasing over three fold, 291,900

1860 Boots and Shoes produced, 92,199

1100 "Increasing 64 per cent., 150,956

There are many other sources of employment and investment which are too lengthy to insert in an article like this, which go to swell up the aggregate to nearly seventeen millions. It shows that with our wonderful water-power, vast mineral resources and virgin forests, that we have before us a great field in which to work—and that we may some day reach such figures as

New York's manufactures, 370,000,000

Pennsylvania, 299,000,000

Massachusetts, 250,000,000

We can, however, compare favorably with our neighboring Southern States, which are given thus—we give the round sums:

Virginia, 60,500,000

North Carolina, 17,500,000

South Carolina, 8,500,000

Georgia, 17,000,000

Florida, 2,500,000

Alabama, 10,500,000

Arkansas, 3,900,000

Kentucky, 28,000,000

Mississippi, 8,500,000

Missouri, 42,000,000

Tennessee, 18,000,000

Texas, 6,500,000

which, no comparison shows that Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee, only of our Southern States, were equal or nearly equal to our own State.

The population of North Carolina is given as 992,000, being the seventh in rank having nearly equalled in seventy years, Rome in population, was 493,751 and her rank the third State in the Union. The climate is equal to observations made at Fort Johnston. Mean temperature in Winter, 40; Spring, 54; Summer, 67; Autumn, 67; 40; year—65; 68.

The mortality of the whole State, from 1835 to 1860, was 1,500,000. Males 600,000, females

6,342, or less than one and three-eighths per cent. Among the diseases given we note the great bugbear of this low country, Intermittent and remittent fevers, only 494 in the whole State, while there died from old age 370! Typhoid fever, which does not prevail so much here as in other parts of the State, numbers its victims 1,009. Cholera and Yellow fever 16—and no part of the State has been visited by any epidemic except Widow's in 1862 and Newbern in 1864. We have never been visited by the Cholera, and we believe that the pine regions of the South and Europe have always been exempt.

The value of Real Estate and personal property in North Carolina, exclusive of slave property, in 1860 is given as $59,000,000, increasing from 1850 in ratio of 58 per cent., while the whole value in 1860 is given:

Real property, 1860	$179,950,134
Personal, 1860	370,372,614

Aggregate, $550,322,748

In 1860 there were 7 homicides, 16 murders, 2 executions, 15 suicides and 655 accidental deaths, for which our Railroads are responsible for four. Travelling is certainly safe.

The whole value of real and personal property of the United States is given thus—

Personal, 1860	$8,158,738,030
Real property, 1860	10,930,420,259

Total, $19,089,158,289

Of which North Carolina represents a fair share.

North Carolina had 389 miles of Railroad, representing seventeen millions of capital.

It is true that considerable of the capital represented in the Census of 1860 is scattered by the casualties of War and five years of exhaustion, but much of it is left. If the change in our system of labor is a loss to the persons owning it, the State is no poorer, for the labor remains.

We have fertile soil, fine climate, every thing in fact, to make a great and wealthy Commonwealth.

The same industry and energy awakened by the necessities of the last two years, expended every year, will soon make the good old North State to "blissom like the rose."

Love covereth a multitude of blemishes—let the heart be filled with love, and the little faults which now appear mountains will be swallowed up or become as molehills. A husband who is always complaining and growling and snapping and snarling and snarling, is enough to crush a heart of steel, to sour the mind of an angel. The female heart is tender, soothing, sympathetic, lovely. Husbands speak kindly to your beloved:

Speak kindly to her. Little dost thou know
What utter wretchedness, what hapless woe,
Hangs on those bitter words, that stern reply:
The cold demeanor and reproving eye.
The death steel pierces not with keener dart
Than unkind words in woman's trusting heart.
