

Platform of the Carolinian.

DEMOCRACY.—A strict construction of the Constitution; the Sovereignty of the People; the Rights of the States unimpaired; the Preservation of the General Government in its whole Constitutional vigor; a Faithful and Economical Administration of National and State Affairs; that Labor may be lightly burdened, and Agriculture, Commerce and Mechanics encouraged; the Supremacy of the Civil Law over the Military Authority; Equal and Strict Justice to all Men, Exclusive Privileges to None; the Sacred Rights of Minorities, and a Peaceful Acquiescence in the decisions of Majorities; the Diffusion of Knowledge, and Arrangement of all offices at the Bar of Public Power; Freedom of Religion; Free Speech; Freedom of the Press; Freedom of Person, under the protection of the Habeas Corpus, and speedy trial by Jury impartially selected.

Press of Matter.

The pressure of other matter on our columns excludes much of our editorial matter.

Suspension of the Wilson Ledger.

The Editor and Proprietor of the Wilson Ledger requests us to announce the suspension of the paper, and it will never appear again.

Political Editor.

We shall announce in a few days, as the political editor of this paper, the name of one of the most accomplished writers of the State, and a distinguished and active member of the Democratic party.

Gov. Vance.

We have seen a letter from ex-Governor Z. B. Vance, of North Carolina, in which he states that it is simply his intention to hold his position of Senator until he can get a vote on his petition for relief from his disabilities, and if that vote is against him, he will promptly resign.—Richmond Enquirer.

[COMMUNICATED.]

"The Only Issue."

There is to-day but one issue before the American people for them to consider of, and that one issue is consolidation and Empire, as advocated by the Radical party, or State sovereignty and Constitutional Government as taught by Democracy.

The Radical party, since their accession to power, have made rapid strides towards the destruction of the citadel of the nations liberties envied by the satraps of the most unscrupulous despot that the world has known, who stand ready at his bidding to proclaim the Empire upon the ruins of a blood-bought Republic.

The friends of true Republican institutions appreciate the danger that threatens the country, and are laboring with indefatigable zeal and fervid patriotism to avert the calamity.

The preservation of the liberties of the Republic is the noblest and grandest duty of the American citizen, and no one deserves the name freeman who will remain inactive under the goading oppression inflicted upon the South by the Washington despotism.

The pliant tools of this chief magistrate are taught to disregard the law in behalf of justice, and make it subservient only the ends of a premeditated tyranny against those who, with the hardihood of freemen, refuse to lend themselves as instruments to the unholy cause. The time has come when the party of centralization must be checked in its career, and made to respect the sacred provisions of a constitution it has too long disregarded. We tell the people that this is not an idle fear. The safety of our country is contingent upon their action.

We do not believe that the descendants of a noble ancestry will relinquish the priceless boon of liberty without a struggle, and suffer a degrading servitude under the imperial domination of an ignorant and merciless despot. We have stated frankly our honest convictions to the people. The result depends upon the course pursued by them. We reiterate in conclusion, that the first step has been taken towards the proclamation of an Empire, and we call upon all persons opposed to that iniquity to unite with us in making an effort to save our beloved, but unfortunately country from the vortex of everlasting anarchy and ruin.

A VOICE IN THE WEST.

NOON.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—W. D. Waltch, formerly editor of the "Star" newspaper is dead.

A Quebec dispatch reports the river full of ice and vessels floating up and down the harbor with ice. There are several ashore.

There was a terrible storm yesterday at River Falls.

Duke Alexis goes to West Point to-day if possible.

The interests on the called five twenty bonds being the balance of first series of issue of 1862, ceases to-day. The payments upon the new five per cents have come in with unexpected promptness. The coin needed for the payment of the six per cents is already provided. It is not anticipated, however, that a very large proportion of coin will be required for the redemption of one hundred millions of six per cents. Eight millions of gold have been paid on account of cash redemptions, which amount covers all the bonds presented for cash payment on both foreign and domestic accounts, all the most of the one hundred millions of five-twentieths called in for December first, have been taken up by American and European syndicates. These will be used in settlement for the new five, it is therefore improbable that a very large amount of additional gold will be required to close the transaction.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A Paris special dispatch to the Herald says, the government of France is very uneasy and exercises the utmost vigilance. There is a great display of troops in Paris, and all points are guarded by patrol every night. The police are stationed at every street corner. The public mind is very agitated, and the general impression is that the present status cannot last any length of time. The last words of Gen. Rossel to a republican friend were, "If you have not before long crush the army it will crush you. It has always been a pretorian and has always formed a distinct party, whereas it should be natural. The danger is pressing. Republicans have abandoned instruction. You did not like the men of the eighteenth of March; I did not like them; but it was necessary to join in order to restrain them."

A Havana special dispatch reports that the bodies of executed students have been returned to their parents. Several students have been sentenced to the chain gang. They have been working in the streets with criminals since yesterday. The father of one of the former has died from grief, and the mothers of two others have become insane.

There is considerable ice in the docks and on the river.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad took possession of the New Jersey railroad last night.
