"Gen. Grant never has been defeated, and he never will be."—HORACE GREELEY.

"While asserting the right of every Republican to his untrammelled choice of a candidate for next President until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that Gen. Grant will be far better qualified for that momentous trust in 1873 than he was in 1868."—HORACE GREELEY, speech on 5th January, 1871.

Tickets! Tickets!! Tickets!!!
We are printing and shall send out a full supply of Grant and Wilson tickets for the whole State of North Carolina.

Scarcely a Republican paper in the State has the electoral ticket correctly printed, and it will not do to vote a ticket different from the one at the head of THE ERA.

Republicans of the different counties are requested to send in their orders immediately for tickets, addressed to SAMUEL T. CARROW, Raleigh, N. C.

Brandy and Whiskey Regulations—letter from District Attorney Starbuck, Pennsylvania Election.

The Presidential Election occurs on the First Tuesday of November next.

Two weeks to the election.

We shall follow up the infamy of the gerrymander by some new facts and figures.

Remember that if Grant and Wilson are not elected "Vigilance Committees" and "Invisible Empires" are to re-establish themselves.

The voting population of North Carolina in 1870 was, white 189,535—colored 78,019; total—217,554. Estimated now at a total of 225,000, voters in the State.

A disgusted Greeleyite, sent down South to watch the movement of "reconciliation" comes to the conclusion that Negro Democrats at the South are much scarcer than Irish Republicans at the North.

QUERY:—If the voting population of North Carolina is 225,000, or only 217,554, as in 1870, and the total vote polled last summer was only 195,000, what is to become of that contested election by the Democratic party?

Read the article headed "Grant and the Fathers of the country," showing that this President is no worse abused and maligned than the country's first and purest patriots; not as much in fact, for Grant has never been assailed as WASHINGTON and JEFFERSON were by their political opponents.

History Repeats Itself.

Plutarch, in his life of Dion, says: "There was in the City one Sosis, infamous for his insolence and villany, who thought the perfection of liberty was licentiousness of speech."

The Era Daily.

From this date THE ERA is issued as a daily afternoon paper.

The Tri-Weekly and Weekly editions will be continued as heretofore.

The price of the Daily is SEVEN DOLLARS a year.

Subscribers to the Tri-Weekly can change to the Daily, paying the difference in price, and all who desire the Daily instead of the other are requested to write at once to that effect.

The Republican party of North Carolina has, for nearly two years, been without a daily paper at the Capital of the State, and now, that one is at last tendered to the party—in obedience to an almost universal demand—we call on every Republican reader of the State to encourage and sustain it, by patronizing at least one of its editions; while all, whose mail facilities justify it, are expected to subscribe to the Daily.

To gentlemen of the opposition, we would say that we shall publish a daily paper worth, as a newspaper, the price asked for it, while in politics its temper and tone shall reflect no discredit upon the people of the great State of North Carolina.

We ask at the hands of the public the patronage THE ERA shall deserve, and no more.

The Reason Why.

The New York Herald in a late article on the political situation tells us why the people do not allow the Greeley ring to be put into their noses.

It says:—"The fact appears to be that the country is not at this time prepared either for a sudden and violent change or for an experiment that may lead to a disturbance of the present financial situation, and hence has made up its mind to support General Grant rather than to turn over the government to Mr. Greeley and his singularly constituted band of supporters."

Very Amusing.

The editor of the Daily Sentinel, (Greeley) at Raleigh, N. C., is greatly amused over the fact that the Republican speakers were not permitted to speak at a Republican meeting at Greensboro a few days since. He describes the riotous proceedings of the Greeley mob as each speaker attempted to speak, and is hardly able to suppress a hearty guffaw, so exceedingly funny does this lawless proceeding appear to him. It is strange that a man who has such a relish for amusement could not enjoy the blowing up of his press. It is a part and parcel of the same disgraceful and alarming lawlessness that promises poorly for reconciliation.—Washington Chronicle.

Gives up the Game.

The New York World yields the contest in favor of Grant. From its issue of Friday the 18th inst., we extract the following:—

"THE POSSIBILITIES OF THE CANVASS.—The candor which we always aim to practise does not permit us to say that, as things now look, Mr. Greeley's chances are better than those of General Grant, or even equal to Grant's. We have therefore, suitably discriminating the meaning of words, forborne to speak of probabilities in our heading, trying to be truthful and exact by selecting the fitter term, 'possibilities.' It is still possible that Mr. Greeley may be elected, though not probable."

This is a great deal for The World to say. It is all that it can say and retain its subscription list. It unequivocally gives up the game.

Going to Revive the Ku Klux.

The temper and tone of some of the Southern Greeley papers has for some time hinted at bringing the Ku Klux influence to bear again on the "freedom of elections," as old Hickory would say, but The New York World comes square out for the Ku Klux in calling for a "Vigilance Committee."—It says, Oct. 13th: "Not only has the rule of this philocrazy become odious to the people, but so great is the indignation felt at the disregard of private rights, and the lawless usurpation of power, that among the law-abiding portions of the community a 'Vigilance Committee' has been seriously proposed and discussed."

And this is the reconciliation talked of. We are again threatened with the horrors of the "Invisible Empire," the terrors of the "Ku Klux Klan," and the indiscriminate murder and outrage of the California "Vigilance Committee."

It is well to thus unmask so early in the action. The people of the South, as well as those at the North, now understand the situation fully; and they will govern themselves accordingly.

The Presidential Election occurs on the first Tuesday of November next.

The Town Elections of Connecticut.

We must direct the attention of The Raleigh News and other Greeleyites to the facts in regard to the Town elections of Connecticut:

In their anxious search for possible crumbs of comfort for the Greeleyites have tried to cheat their readers into the belief that the Connecticut town elections showed large Democratic gains. And on this point The New Haven Palladium says:

Even were this the case, it would be a matter of the very slightest consequence, so far as the vote of next month is concerned. But the facts are very different from what they represent them to be. Official returns from the town clerks of 155 towns show that the Republicans have carried 69, the Democrats 48, and 37 have elected mixed tickets, by far the larger portion having a majority of Republican officers. Corrected returns give nine towns, which were Democratic last year, as gained by the Republicans, viz: Bethlehem, Cromwell, Ledyard, Madison, Newtown, North Haven, Sprague, Plymouth, and Vernon. Five towns, which last year were Republican or mixed, are this year Democratic, viz: Andover, Bethel, Danbury, Naugatuck, and Wilton. There is not an intelligent Democrat in the State but who knows that his party never was in a feebler or more disorganized condition, and all the bragging in the world will not persuade them to the contrary. Orders were given from the Liberal Committee to telegraph gains, with the hope of influencing the elections in the States which voted on Tuesday, but now that they have voted it is a waste of perverse ingenuity to try to keep up the deception.

The Senatorial Struggle.

There seems to be a contest going on in the camp of the enemy over the Senatorial spoils it is supposed the approaching Legislature will have the privilege and the power of dividing among some favorite one of the "faithful among the faithless found."

The struggle hitherto has apparently been between Vance and Merrimon, but the gallant Scales appears lately to be looming up into a respectable opponent, while Clingman is said to be not altogether out of the race.

Some of the friends of Judge Merrimon are disposed to suspect that there has been formed against their favorite a combination of the Ransom and Vance forces, and that every influence will be brought to bear in behalf of Vance as against Merrimon. The following from The Greensboro State is worth reproducing here:—

The Asheville Citizen has changed hands. Mr. Atkinson, who is a brother-in-law of Dr. Merrimon, retires: Mr. Furman, who is a protegee of the Ransom-Vance combination, takes charge. Thus, the only organ which Dr. Merrimon had in the State is stifled. Ransom and Vance put him up to be beaten, and they rejoiced at his defeat; and now, because they cannot force him into an unavailing contest, they buy out the only paper in the State which was prepared to advocate his claims for the Senate. Innocence and simplicity of heart, such as are characteristic of Dr. Merrimon are no match for the combination of intriguers arrayed against him.

General Scales begins to be much talked of for the Senatorship. As Dr. Merrimon permits himself, with christian forbearance and resignation, to be decently and quietly laid upon the shelf, Scales-stock rises, and he will be able to trouble Ransom and Vance more than any man who has been named. He has a military ring of his own to sound his praises and revive his war-record, which was very creditable. That was what Dr. Merrimon nged, but wanting that, and being dependent for fame simply upon his degree of doctor of laws, he falls back to his original obscurity. We greatly fear his statue will never be erected in the capitol at Raleigh.

Grant and the Fathers of the Country.

We have alluded to the malignant assaults on WASHINGTON and his administration by that class of calumniators feebly imitated by a later class of pigmy maligners who assail President Grant and his administration at the present day. We will now pass on to the successors of Washington, first taking the case of Mr. Jefferson.

INFAMOUS CHARGE AGAINST JEFFERSON.

During his Presidency, and during the canvass and election which preceded it, the whole vocabulary of abuse was exhausted by the federal press, and the charges were constantly rung upon Carter's Mountain—Mrs. Walker—Black Sally—the purchase of Louisiana—the salt mountain—mastodons and mammoths—Infidelity—the inviting Thomas Paine to return home in a government vessel—the proscription of Federalists—removals from office—ingratitude—

"And every taint of vice where strong corruption inhabits our frail blood."

Thomas Green Fessenden, an author and journalist of some note, in 1805, and thereabouts, wrote a Hudibrastic poem in two good sized duodecimo volumes, entitled "Democracy unveiled, or Tyranny stripped of the garb of patriotism." A writer says:—

The work had a large circulation, and was very popular in the federal party. The federal magazines and reviews, and the universal federal press lauded it to the skies, and canonized Thomas Green Fessenden as a federal saint of rare excellence and potency. In this scurrilous poem, at once unmusical and slanderous, may be found, scraped together, the filth and defamation which were poured out in that day, on Jefferson, on Jefferson's friends, and on the party to which he belonged. The Democratic traducers and calumniators of present times, in manufacturing the detraction and calumny with which they asperse President Grant, are only fit pupils of the calumniators who endeavored to defame and disgrace Thomas Jefferson. But they and their infamous libels are forgotten, while the name of the man they hated shines resplendent in the temple of fame with a glory that will be eternal. So will it be with Grant and his venomous detractors. From the cess-pools of deserved and retributive obscurity we drag again to light a few specimens of the scurrilous calumny which formerly, as now, was cast on merit by ignoble, envious, and disappointed hatred.

FESSENDEN'S VITUPERATIVE RHYMES.

We make room for the following brief extract from this "Democracy unveiled":—

"We offer with all veneration Due to his Highness's high station, Our services to daub and gloss over A philanthropical philosopher. The mighty chief of Carter's Mountain, Of democratic power the fountain; We would extol, his favor buying By most profound and solid lying. But shall we undertake to hire Some democratic muse, a liar, Who would, for pelf, in lays most civil, Sing hallelujahs to the Devil? Or seek in dark and dirty alley A Mr. Jefferson's Miss Sally, In our free government no matter Whether coal black, or swart mulatto? Though his High mightiness was skitsh, When menac'd by the bullying British, The Feds are wrong to make a clatter About the Carter-Mountain matter. A chief who stands not shilly shally, But is notorious for—a Sally, Might Mars defy, in war's dire tug, Or Satan to an Indian bag. Great men can never lack supporters, Who manufacture their own voters; Besides 'tis plain as yonder steeple, They will be fathers to the people; And 'tis a decent, clever, comical, New mode of being economical; For when a black is rais'd, it follows It saves a duty of ten dollars."

"The duty on imported African slaves in Mr. Jefferson's time.

THE OLD NEW YORK POST AGAINST JEFFERSON.

We now exhume some prose specimens of eloquence quite equal to the poetical garlands of Fessenden. In The New York Evening Post, for July 20, 1802, we are informed that—

"Mr. Jefferson came to the government by means which have raised thousands before him to power, and he will share the fate of every parasite of (those whom demagogues call) the people! In 1792 he took the fatal resolution of opposing to the administration of the Federal Government the farce of sophistry, calumny, and misrepresentation! He has continued the great file leader of the malcontents, the vicious, and all who favor revolutionary liberty. Mr. Jefferson may fancy himself secure in the wretched confidence of popularity; but he is deceived; that will vanish and leave him to repent, at leisure, of power ill gotten and scandalously abused."

JEFFERSON DENOUNCED AS A LIAR, &c.

On the 2nd of September, 1802, Mr. William Colman, then Editor of The New York Evening Post, thus expressed himself in his editorial columns:

"See Jefferson convicted in the face of day, of crimes the most degrading—a mean calumniator of men whose worth he knew, and whose services he has seen! A fawning hypocrite who could pretend affection while he basely traduced; a LIAR who could proclaim his respect for characters which to his intimates he described as contemptible."

The same paper for June 22, 1802, says:

"This [Jefferson] is the man who is eternally canting and whining about executive influence. Take it away, he exclaims, take it away—and his ministers say it is taken away while every law is repealed, and all existing offices abolished to get at the federal officers and sacrifice them to make room for the friends and supporters of his EXCELLENCY, plain Thomas Jefferson."

JEFFERSON DELEGATED TO HELL.

In the collection of Political Pamphlets, in the Library of Congress, Vol. 107, may be found the choice paragraph which follows, and which truly portrays the animosity felt toward Jefferson by his enemies:

"Who are the enemies of the country? Its rulers. What do they deserve? Hell. Avarant thou tyrant, If thou canst not be saved by reformation, go to Hell as thy proper abode. O, thou disturber of the peace; thou destroyer of thousands; what hast thou done? Ask Bonaparte, ask the Devil. Thy grave will not secure thy bones from burning."

JEFFERSON'S PERSON AND DRESS RIDICULED.

In The New York Evening-Post, for January 7, 1802, is the following personal paragraph, wherein Jefferson's dress is described in a manner very different from another description which will immediately succeed this one:

"We hear the mammoth cheese has been received by the President of the United States, at Washington, from the charge of Parson Leland. It is said the President stood in his door to receive it, dressed in his suit of customary black, with shoes on that close tight round his ankles, laced up with a neat leather string, and absolutely without buckles, considering them as superfluous and anti-republican, especially when a man has strings."

In the same paper for April 20, 1802,

a Washington correspondent thus displays his graphic powers:

"Jefferson is dressed in long boots with the tops pressed down about the ankles like a Virginia buck; overalls of corduroy, faded by frequent immersion in soap suds from yellow to a dull white; a red single-breasted cloth waistcoat, bearing unquestionable marks that he is in the habit of feeding without a bib; a light brown coat, with dull brass buttons, once gilt; and both coat and waistcoat seemed to be aged, at least, five years, more or less; his linen bespeaks that close attention to savings in his dealings with his washer-woman, which has been so much insisted upon by Mr. Bailey; his hair is undressed, and beard unshaven.

"Such is the figure to whom you are presented as President of the United States."
