Election—Tuesday, November 5th.

"Gen. Grant never has been defeated, and he never will be."—HORACE GREELY.

"While asserting the right of every Republican to his untrammelled choice of a candidate for next President until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that Gen. Grant will be far better qualified for that momentous trust in 1872 than he was in 1868."—HORACE GREELY, speech on 5th January, 1871.

A PRESS of other matter curtails the editorial space of this issue.

WE regret to learn that Lee M. McAfee, Esq., is prostrate in Shelby with consumption.

WE have still strength enough left to ask where is the Greeley and Brown Club of Raleigh?

THE "Democrats" and "Liberals" give up North Carolina for Grant by twenty thousand majority.

REPORTED:—That Col. Hamilton C. Jones, of Charlotte, will go off with the O'Connor and Adams supporters.

REPUBLICANS rally to the polls tomorrow week, November 5th, and roll up twenty-five thousand majority for Grant in North Carolina.

WHERE are the Greeley flags that whilom, flapped their funeral folds, suspended across the street in front of Tucker Hall and the office of The Daily News.

THERE is a party going round Raleigh with a certified check in his pocket, eager to "put up" on the State of New York going for Grant and Dix at the approaching election. NO TAKERS.

SANTA ANNA.—That irrepressible agitator, Santa Anna, who was a prominent actor in Mexican political affairs when our old men were boys, has come to the front again as candidate for the Presidency of Mexico.

THE DAILY NEWS announces a meeting at Metropolitan Hall—speaking by Judge Merrimon and others—and says: "The Raleigh Greeley and Brown Club, if alive, is respectfully invited, and earnestly entreated to be present."

WE shall now see whether the "Conservatives" papers will visit on Hon. Plato Durham, with their accustomed severity, the usual abuse bestowed on such gentlemen of that party as choose to exercise a manly independence in the expression of an honest opinion.

On account of the vast improvements to the city, the people of Chicago are now rejoicing over the fire of last year, and are getting up a benefit Ball for Mrs. O'Leary who owned the cow that kicked over the lamp that started the fire that burned the city.

"Mine Got, vot a beeples" these Americans are!

Itally in the Townships—Poll a Full Vote.

We urge the Republicans to thoroughly canvass every Township. Impress upon the Grant men the importance of voting. A full turn out will give the State to Grant by 20,000. Where is the Republican who is not going to vote? The enemy are dispirited. "We are on the home-stretch." A fierce attack along the whole line will rout the Greeleyites. Republicans, do your duty.

Canvass in the West.

T. M. Argo, Esq., of this city, left last evening on the Western train to fill his appointments for speaking at the following times and places:—

Taylorville, Alexander county, Tuesday, October 29, 1872.
Wilkesboro, Wilkes county, Wednesday, October 30.
Elkville, Wilkes county, Thursday, October 31.
Boone, Watauga county, Friday, Nov. 1.
Jefferson, Ashe county, Saturday, " 2.

We commend Mr. Argo to the people of Alexander, Wilkes, Watauga and Ashe, as a gentleman, and a speaker of ability.

Out for O'Connor and Adams.

The Cleveland Banner of Saturday the 26th instant contains the announcement of Hon. Plato Durham as Editor of that paper.

The names of O'Connor and Adams are placed at the head of the paper, and the new editor says, by way of salutation:—

"It will be observed, that we hoist the names of O'Connor and Adams as candidates for the offices of President and Vice-President. We can do nothing else consistent with our conscientious convictions of duty.

"The reform movement, which a few months ago, promised success, was throttled in its infancy, when the name of Horace Greeley was placed upon its ticket, as a candidate for President; and in taking up and ratifying this nomination at Baltimore, the National Democratic Convention sold out the honest rank and file of the party, to gratify the caprice of a few men. The result of this course is overwhelmingly apparent in almost every election which has been held since the Baltimore Convention; and especially, in the elections of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. These elections show conclusively, that Democrats refuse to be sold; that they refuse to abandon the time-honored principles of the party and of constitutional government, for the vague, undefined and uncertain promise of what some may term reform; that they refuse to surrender the field to the enemy (as the platform at Baltimore does) for the precious privilege of being allowed to do homage to the leader of that enemy, Horace Greeley; that they refuse to follow a few men, heretofore considered leaders of the Democratic party, into a movement, in which principle is wholly ignored and abandoned, and into the support of one, the intimation of the support of whom, twelve months ago, would have been sufficient to brand its author with the epithets renegade and traitor; that they refuse to be forced into the support of the arch enemy of the Democratic party, Mr. Greeley, at a sacrifice of the principles of a lifetime, upon the simple and one vague idea of reform held out by him and his friends.

"Sensible Democrats are enquiring what compensation they are to expect for the surrender and abandonment of principle, which they are called upon to make. Admitting, that there is great room for reform in many of the departments of Government, Democrats are beginning to enquire, how Mr. Greeley is to make these reforms, with two thirds of the Senate of the United States against him, and with no hope of changing it within the next four years; and with a large Radical gain (as the late elections show) in the House of Representatives.

"No.—Democrats and the world know that Mr. Greeley is and has been a fascist upon every important issue, which has come before the people of the United States during his political life. He was a dangerous agitator, fascist and extremist upon the slavery question before the war; he educated a public sentiment at the North, hostile to the institution of slavery, which finally culminated in a disastrous civil war; he supported that war against the Southern people with all the ability he possessed, and through his influence, many Southern youths, to-day lie unknown graves.

But his Anti-Slavery and war record could be excused by Democrats if his subsequent record were not so wholly obnoxious to the Democratic sentiment of the country. Through his able paper, The New York Tribune, the most influential Republican paper in the country, he clamored for reconstruction measures, and belabored Congress until they were passed; he clamored for civil rights bills; he clamored for civil and political equality; he clamored for the impeachment of Andrew Johnson; he clamored for Ku Klux Bills,—and he constantly belabored Congress until all of these objectionable and obnoxious measures were passed.

"He has said more hard things of the Democratic party and particularly of the Democracy of the South, than any other hundred men in the Nation,—and Democrats cannot forget, that this denunciation of the party and its principles, by Mr. Greeley, continued up to about six months ago,—nor can they forget his obnoxious views upon the great tariff question which has so long made the poor classes and sections of the country tributary to more wealthy classes and sections.

"To expect Democrats, who are Democrats from principle, to forget their eyes to the bitter draught, to gulp him down like a glass of seasoned wine, is too much. It would be more palatable, if Mr. Greeley now repented of his war upon Democratic sentiment and Democratic principle; but he not only does not repent, but, in his speeches throughout the North, he points to his record, as an evidence, that he is a true Republican.

"The result is, that Democrats of principle everywhere are standing aloof from the movement, seeing that overwhelming defeat stares them in the face, and that they have been surrendered to the enemy by a few ambitious, spavined leaders and place hunters, more intent upon place and power at any sacrifice, than they are upon preserving a Constitutional Republic for the American people."

Letter From Charlotte—The Fair—Amusements—Politics, &c., &c.

To the Editor of The Era:

SIR:—The "Fair of the Carolinas" closed to-day. The weather was intolerable until yesterday; but despite all drawbacks, it was quite a success. The collection of articles was large, varied and well arranged. The buildings, race track, &c., were all excellent.—Considering the weather, the number of visitors was creditable. And the general management for the convenience and benefit of the exhibitors, the pleasure of visitors, and the amusement of the curious, was capital. Besides the Fair, we have had two brilliant parties at the Mansion House, and on Thursday and Friday evenings, Miss Patterson gave two of her very popular readings. The last night she had a very large audience, and her performance was admitted by all to have been both artistic and impressive—following the rules of the stage as directed by art, but with so much nature and genuine sentiment as to both please and captivate her audience. She goes hence to Lincolnton. It would be well for all our larger towns to secure from her a visit. It is not often that Southern people have so good an opportunity of seeing one of their own accomplished daughters on the boards.

As to politics, we think all is well.—The straight out ticket has struck terror and dismay among the Greeleyites. There is a rumor here now that H. C. Jones, late Senator from this county, is in full sympathy with the movement. It is certain that he has made no Greeley speeches.

I hear a good deal of talk this week as to the election of Senator. General Seales seemed to be strong with all out of the rings. He was a good soldier, is a man of sense, has never been proscription, and has many warm army friends, who are determined to press him. Merrimon is called a "Buffalo," and Vance is regarded as a string-halter. Since Evans, of The Hillsboro Recorder, uttered the warning, "Don't send Vance any more," the less independent of the great distressed and disheartened Democracy begin to speak out. So we are likely to have a lively time in Raleigh this winter.

I may add that Col. Robt. Strange, Judge Warren, Gen. Barringer, Hon. T. S. Ashe, and Judge Manly were all talked of as compromise candidates.—The only two men who seem teetotally damned and dead, are T. L. Clingman and Josiah Turner, Jr.

Yours, &c.,
Charlotte, Oct. 26, 1872.

Shotwell and Yerkes.

To the Editor of The Era:

SIR:—The Democracy raised a perfect howl, when the Republicans of Pennsylvania used the affidavit of a pardoned convict—the Banker Yerkes—to complete the vindication of Gen. Hartranft, their candidate for Governor, from the base calumnies of his enemies. But now it is all right for the same party to resort to the statements of a Ku Klux criminal, still in the Penitentiary at Albany, to exculpate the party from the horrible charges of assassination, murder, arson, and all the outrages known to the catalogue of crimes. They publish with much satisfaction the worthless denial of R. A. Shotwell that the Ku Klux organization was conspiracy "against any class of people because of their political opinions." The stupid fellows seem to forget that Gen. Forrest, Gen. Gordon, Dr. Winnschick, of South Carolina, David Schenck, of this State, and many others, swear expressly, that the object was "political," and that it was intended and used in 1868, "to aid in securing the election of Seymour and Blair."

Alas! that the leaders of the Democratic party cannot see that their day is gone; and that every effort they make to save the sinking ship, only overwhelms them more effectually with that scorn and contempt they so justly deserve for their untold crimes against the peace and prosperity of the country.

It is to be hoped that after the reelection of Gen. Grant in November next, these gentlemen will at least see the folly of their course, and thereafter permit public affairs to settle down.—In this way many of them may ere long regain the influence they have lost by following the counsels of such men originally as Yancey, Toombs and Clingman, and latterly Yancey, Hampton, Early, and "Crazy Joe."

GUILFORD.
October 26, 1872.

Charlotte—The Fair—The Presidency—Straight-outs, &c.

To the Editor of The Era:

SIR:—Saturday closed an eventful week for the busy inhabitants of this city and surrounding region. On that day not less than four thousand strangers were present, the day was fine and the citizens turned out in large numbers. The wet weather had almost drowned out the Fair of the Carolinas previously, but notwithstanding that drawback the entertainment was an exceedingly fine one superior in many respects to the recent exposition at Raleigh. Saturday the races came off, but the track was so heavy that 3.06 was the best time made, and no premiums on that score were awarded or so far as we could learn did any money change hands. John Robinson's circus has proven a huge success here, not less than ten thousand persons attending its exhibitions.

There was a gathering of the Straight-outs to be had last Tuesday we believe. In the opinion of your correspondent this humbug has exploded. Let the Bourbons come over to Grant if they hope to be effective. If they do not have the courage to do so openly, what is the use of their trying it on in a dark lantern way and making a hocus-pocus, now you see it and now you don't record for no practical purpose whatsoever. If they have left Greeley in good faith, let them flop over, and cease their poor humbuggery and nonsensical twaddle about consistency. The sham is apparent, and the ostrich need not fancy that though his head is in the sand his body is not exposed.

Besides this there has been quite a gathering of Greeley politicians here also. Vance, Jarvis, Means, Shober, and some from other localities were confabulating constantly. There were large and small lights, all looking blue and not much candle in the rocket.

We noticed also Messrs. Argo, Jenkins, Lusk, Marsh, and other Republicans present. They were hospitably and cordially treated on all hands.

Your fellow-editor, Mr. Wm. J. Yates, is a fixture in this place, and by his exertions added much to the success of the Fair. Notwithstanding the difference in politics, it is right for the fraternity of services of its members, and personally a more genial gentleman than Mr. Y. has proved himself to be, does not live. He is a power with his party in this region.

The observations we have made are that Grant is growing in strength every day. The people of the West will give him a handsome majority, and as they now hold the balance of power no doubt of North Carolina's electoral vote need be entertained.

Your friends in this region are pleased at the change in the issue of THE ERA. A proper canvass for subscribers and advertising will sustain you. Prone to doubt this heretofore, it is a pleasure to thus record such a conversion of opinion, and wishing you abundant success we remain sincerely,

OCCASIONAL.
Charlotte, Oct. 26th, 1872.

Hard on Vance.

We believe it was Gov. Vance who first put forth the silly platform of—"Anybody to beat Grant"—and in this idea Horace Greeley was nominated.

Carl Schurz now says, that he warned the Cincinnati Convention, that if the statesmanship of that body did not rise above the level of this lower and narrower sentiment, "it were better it had never met at all!"

A CORRESPONDENT.
We hardly think the Governor was the author of this elegant set phrase—the genius and spirit of modern "Democracy."—EDITOR ERA.

The Daily Era.

The Raleigh Era, one of the staunchest Republican papers in the South, is now published daily, tri-weekly, and weekly. We remember with what ability The Era battled for the right in the late contest in North Carolina, and with what energy it is still battling for the triumph of Republican principles, and we are glad to know that its services are acknowledged and appreciated by the people of the old North State, as is evidenced by daily publication. We wish it continued prosperity and heartily commend it to Republicans everywhere as an able and reliable exponent of Republican principles.

Another Roorback Nailed to the Counter.

The following letter was received by a friend in this place on Saturday last:

JEFFERSON, N. C., Oct. 14, 1872.
Dear Sir:—On my return from Alleghany Court I found on my desk your note of the 1st inst., with a list of assistant electors, in The Raleigh News, for Greeley and Brown, in which my name appears as one. All I have to say of this is, that it was done without my knowledge or consent, and I most positively decline to accept the position. Although I admire Horace Greeley's former course, and cannot bring myself to doubt his Republicanism, yet I cannot, as matters now stand, aid in the above capacity without acting a party hostile to my own, (the great National Republican Party;) and with my present views, to give it aid would be acting as unwisely as the man who took the frozen adder into his bosom and warmed it to life, and in return received the thrust of its deadly sting. So in the present contest I shall have nothing to say except in defense of the principles of the Republican party.

Yours, &c.,
S. TRIVETT.

THE MILTON CHRONICLE.
REVISED AND ENLARGED.
Price $2 50 per annum—Cash up—No subscriber taken on credit.
The publication of this old and popular journal will be revived in November, 1872. It will be devoted to News, Politics, Agriculture, Art, Wit and Humor. The Markets will receive special and careful attention, and no effort will be spared to make the paper entertaining and instructive.

In politics The Chronicle will know no master in the shape of man, party or "ring." It will oppose and excoriate corruption and rascality, come from what quarter they may. Though pledged to no party's arbitrary sway, this paper will oppose Radicalism to the bitter end and uphold and push onward the great Liberal Republican movement—the platform on which we have stood ever since Virginia inaugurated it.

The Chronicle will be a live Newspaper, wide awake and always up to the times—such a paper as every body will delight to read. Though dealing in politics its eyes will not be closed to the faults of political friends; and kept open only to misdeeds of opponents—it will censure where censure is due and "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's"—it will be "Liberal" while rascality will be handled with gloves off and sleeves rolled up.

Bitter experience admonishes against the custom of crediting subscriptions—it often costs more to collect than the amount involved is worth and in too many cases the whole amount is lost. No paper therefore will be sent to subscriber until it is paid for or the payment guaranteed.

"Jesse Homes, the Fool Killer," will occasionally contribute a letter by way of fun and shooting at the folly and villainy of the age.
