THE DAILY ERA.

MONDAY, JAN. 6th, 1873.

Cotton Market.

Up to 4 P. M., to-day there had been 25 bales of cotton brought to this city. U S Assessor, 4TH DISTRICT-Wiley Price 181. Price in New York 204. Gold at 118.

For License.

Twenty-six young gentlemen were under examination to-day for license to practice law by the five Judges of the Supreme Court. Their examination lasted from ten this morning to one p. m. and will be concluded to-morrow morning.

A Citizen Paralyzed.

William Henry Jones, well known commission merchant of this city, was taken speechiess with paralysis this morning about 6 o'clock, and without the use of his right side. At this writing, 4 p. m., he can talk a little and has some use of his right side.

The Insane Asylum.

Mr. Potts from Orange county came down to-day as Ward Master at the insane asylum. We learn that Professor Wynn of Davidson College, who was very crazy and had to be put in "a box o' restraints," a muff and gloves, to keep from tearing himself and clothes, is now convalescent and improving rapidly. Is able to walk about the grounds.

Judge Watts.

By order of the Governor Judge Watts was holding a special in Newbern to-day and there was no court in the city. But by a subsequent act of the Legislature which makes one of his terms in Wake county fall on this day the Judge will have to adjourn over his | the door, lo and behold what a sight court in Newbern for two weeks and is expected in this city to-morrow.

Stung by an Oak Worm.

Dilsy Cross, a mulatto girl, as she went to the well, on the farm of Dr. William Strudwick in Orange, was stung by one of these long green Oak worms, as it dropped from the tree and stung her on the neck, just beyond her left ear. It made her deathly sick at anything else you can think of in that the time, and though it was last October, | line. there is a large knot on her neck yet .-And very recently it has broken out in her blood and there are boils and sores all over her. The left arm she can't use at all. Dr. William Strudwick is attending her. He says if she had stepped on the worm and been stung in the foot, it would have killed her.

Hillsboro--Hop--Hotel.

Hayes of Salisbury, who moved there from Hillsboro some years since, was married there the other day and the bride and groom were given a reception at Hayes in Hillsboro Thursday night. The hop Friday night was nice. Six couples on the floor whose hearts were already yoked and only waiting to be bridaled,-Doctor Thomas of Wilmington is visiting in Hillsboro .- Mr. Hassel and lady from Plymouth have taken charge of the Orange Hotel. We can assure the public that it is now one of School Committee, A G Jones, B G Sears, the best kept houses in the South. The table is extravagantly fed, and Mr. Hassel with that lavish that characterized him as a hotelist in Plymouth, is fitting up the interior of the house in fine style.

An Obstinate Conductor-The Public "Go For Him." As the train on the Western Road reached Hickory Tavern last Saturday -it stops at that station five minutestwo young law students en route for this city to be examined to-day for license, got off and went into a house near by, and hadn't been in there more | sar.' than two minutes when the whistle sounded and off went the cars. The young men ran out and waved their handkerchiefs, and the passengers on the train interfered and begged the conductor (Patton) to go back for them as they were not more than four hundred yards off. But the conductor obstinately refused to do so, and the train went speeding on. The young men were bound to be in Raleigh to-day, else lose their examination, so they started off afoot for Statesville, thirty miles, and when they reached that place, one of them fainted from sheer fatigue. They then hired a horse and buggy and rode to Salisbury so as to take the North Carolina Road Sunday night, and they reached this city this morning. The conductor it is said could easily have gone back after them as there would have been no delay of either passengers or mail, both laying over at Salisbury some seven hours. We give this statement as it was given us, remarking that it's on the fly about these streets, and if the young man's ears don't burn, it isn't because he isn't talked about.

Musical and Theatrical.

Baltimore shouted her throat sore at Joe Jefferson the other night at Ford's. We don't know what it was, but they have "played" something at the Newbern theater. The Liberal says: We haven't space to go into details, but must say that the Bride played her part with the chest excellently and gracefully. Ah! and that dancing! It brought the light of other days around us, and made us wish, "Oh, that I were a boy again." Mr. R. played the young and the old man equally well, and his performance was highly creditable.

In his hotel in St. Louis there was a colored barber who always shaved Mr Forrest, and was an intense admirer of the great tragedian. While performing his functions one morning, the following conversation ensued:

"We's going to play Othello to-night, Massa Forrest.

"We? Who do you mean?" "Me, sar, and de oder colorde gemmen. I wish you'd come and see us,

"Well, perhaps I would if I had time. Where do you play?" "Down in de servants' hall, sar. We'se got a good company."

"Oh! indeed. Good company, eh?-Are your actresses good?" "Well, Massa Forrest, dat's just whar the trouble is. We ain't got no actres-

"No actresses!". "Well, sar, we can't get no colored ladies to play on top of the stage." "Why not?"

Farm-Yard Scraps.

For kitchen fuel it is superior to wood, except hickory, and cheaper than that. It makes a very hot fire with a great deal of blaze. We judge that three tons of coal are equal to the heat of one ton of hard coal, while in economy of its use it is equal to one and a half tons of

They are burning corn in Iowa and find it an admirable substitute for wood and coal. The Council Bluffs Nonpareil says: A ton of corn, 33 bushels, at 17 cts per bushel, is $5.60. We consider this equal to a cord of hard wood, as supplied and measured in our market at $7; the cutting of this cord, $1.50total, $8.50. Thus making a saving of nearly $3 a cord.

The stinging nettle of Australia, Ur tica gigas, often attains a height of forty feet, with a stem over two in diameter. It passes, for a tree, so formidable are its proportions. Armed at every point with needle-like stings, it is extremely difficult to approach even cautiously without being wounded. No irritation will compare with one of those nettle stings. It is not only painful to torture, but a paralysis sometimes follows a puncture from one of these minute thorns. Horses suffer terribly from them, the skin instantly rising up in wales above the common level, succeeded by fiery blisters.

Personal Intelligence.

Hon. Chief Justice Pearson is in this
