

THE DAILY ERA.

THURSDAY, JAN. 23, 1873.

Cotton and News Department.

Cotton Market. Up to 4 P. M., to-day there had been 125 bales of cotton brought to this city.

For Sale. A comfortable house with six rooms on Hargett street.

Masonic.

There will be a called meeting of W. N. G. Hill Lodge No. 218, Friday night, for work in the third degree.

Hogs Dying.

Mr. William Yearby, butcher in this city, informs us that he has lost within the last three or four days about thirty hogs.

She Wouldn't Have Him.

It certainly came off and that right recently in a certain town in this State not a thousand miles off. A charming young lady was just on the eve of marrying a dashing young New York drummer.

Auditor Reilly.

This clever gentleman, our newly elected Auditor, was Mayor of Fayetteville at the time, and since having resigned that position he has received the following letter from the board of commissioners.

A Few Thoughts.

It is not so much what school he went to, or how many slaves his family used to own, or with what patronymic neatness he has always kept his collar standing, his boots well shined.

Our State.

The Piedmont Springs are to be sold in a few days. A WIND storm in Wilmington last Tuesday had the window shutters on the fly.

Mr. Airy, Jan. 18th. The Visitor says: Snow is falling to-day in abundance, and from indications we will, in all probability, have quite a deep snow.

COULDN'T cross the mountain for the ice. The Messenger, Ashe county, says: Several wagons loaded for the A. M. & O. Railroad depot at Marion, Va., left this place one day last week.

A GERMAN family settled in Greensboro. The Patriot says: Last Friday we saw on our streets a German family, consisting of father, mother and six fine-looking girls and boys.

TUT, TUT, we knew a man who wasn't able to take his seat comfortably for a month from carrying them there. The Newbern Times says: When one sees a man bending, in his shirt sleeves over a billiard table, and exposing the butt of his revolver in his rear pocket.

THE Era published some six weeks since that Gen. Lane was expected to take charge of the Hillsboro Barracks. The Richmond papers flatly contradicted it, and the State papers danced the contradiction all over the State.

Personal Intelligence.

Capt. O. H. Bloeker, of Fayetteville, is at the National. Hon. Wm. A. Smith of Johnston, you all remember that "horn" last summer, is at the Yarbore.

Farm-Yard Scrap.

At Peoria, Illinois, a cow broke into the parlor of a house during the absence of the human occupants, who found, upon their return, old bridle standing in front of a mirror, chewing her end and dusting the piano with her tail at short intervals.

Here's an honest miller. Mr. Simpson, a Catawba farmer, writes to the Hickory Press: Two weeks ago I sent five bushels of Baltimore White Wheat to Mr. Daniel P. Johnson's Mill; from which Mr. Aleck Lael, after taking out the Toll, returned me 240 pounds of choice flour.

Our City.

It is so wet and muddy that our city is by the stove keeping dry. There are three blind colored men in Raleigh who can go to any part of the city without a leader.

Raleigh has nearly doubled her population in the last five years and real estate has advanced fifty per cent. We were glad to see Monsieur Besson, the fashionable city tailor, on our streets to-day.

The Governor has received a letter from the Governor of Missouri in regard to the man John Cousins now in jail at Morganton for an alleged murder that he committed in Kansas City in 1869.

Twigs. Good as a splendid dinner to the sight of a hungry man is the opening of the Washington Evening Star to the desires of a newspaper man thirsting for a newspaper.

Mr. Rogers introduced a bill in Congress on Monday to relieve the disabilities of Wm. A. Graham and Sam'l T. Ashe, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

A young lady called at the office of the Clyde Times, the other day, and called for "papers for a week back." The idea suggested was that she wanted them for a pannel, though the editor held his peace.

From an official statement prepared at the Internal Revenue Office it appears that the whole number of cigar manufacturers in the United States is 12,294, employing 71,491 men, and for whom the whole amount of bonds given is $14,016,000.

A bill passed the House of Representatives, in the Congress of the United States, on yesterday, repealing the Bankrupt Law. It will be engrossed and sent to the Senate; if it passes that body it will become a law.

Another New York murder. This time one printer kills another. Miss Brown was the cause. They all boarded at the same boarding house.

The Washington Star of Monday says: The Ways and Means Committee, a few days since, fixed to-morrow as the time to consider the bill refunding the cotton tax, but as several prominent bankers are here to be heard on the syndicate question, the cotton bill will be laid aside for the present.

The Detroit Free Press serves up another boy, "Got any medicine?" asked a boy, entering a Woodward avenue drug store yesterday. "Yes, lots of it—what do you want?" inquired the clerk.

Washington Star says: The Georgia minstrels, slave troupe, will illustrate plantation life and manners, singing the songs and dancing the dances of the times before the war, at Lincoln Hall, commencing Thursday evening.

Edwin Booth has appeared on the New York stage for the first time in six years. The Herald says of him: His acting last night fixes his position as the greatest of living tragedians, and now that we no longer have Forrest, we may rejoice that we are still left the very great power of Booth.

Mtilda Heron, the well known actress, went insane at the New York hotel last Sunday and was removed to the Park hospital. This woman in the summer of 1869 on a Cairo boat when a desperado had shot the clerk down dead and with pistol in hand was running over the hurricane deck and down the after guard pursued by several gentlemen crying "Stop him," she sprang upon him and throwing him down held him until the gentlemen came up and took him in charge.

Fists.

Of the bankrupt bill in Congress the Philadelphia Inquirer says:—In the House yesterday, Mr. Bingham, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill amending the Bankrupt act so as to equalize the exemptions allowed in the various States, a substitute for which, repealing the Bankruptcy law entirely, was finally passed under a suspension of the rules.

The Chinese in Montana sell their women in slavery. The following is an advertisement as it appears in the Virginia City Montanian, with the remarks of the editor as given below the advertisement: "Wang Gou owes Dr. Yee Cheung Five Hundred and Fifty Dollars. He cannot pay it.

We have known many other instances of like kind, transpiring in different parts of the Territory, and presume that, to most of our people, a knowledge of this "nefarious traffic in human souls" is nothing new.

Supreme Court.

The following cases to day before this Tribunal: James L Borland vs Rufus W McCulloch, Caswell, set for end of District.—John M Jordan vs Lewis Luterloh, Randolph, decreed to be filed.—William F Smith vs James A G Hunt, Caswell, papers handed up for consideration.—Eli C Keerans et al vs R W Glenn, Guilford, argued.—Joseph C Pinnix vs C N McAdoe and Mark Wilty, Rockingham, argued.—Joseph H Caldwell vs William Mebane, Rockingham, argued.

Dull.

The general complaint among our grocery men is dull times. All right. We've known many a man to stand in his store door and whine the same thing, with a printing office in ten steps of him.

An Act

To Change the Time for holding the Spring Term of the Superior Court of Cabarrus County.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact: That after the first day of January, 1873, the Spring Term of the Superior Court for the County of Cabarrus shall be held on the first Monday of July of each year and continue for two weeks unless the business be sooner disposed of.

SECTION 2. That all processes, recognizances, and other legal proceedings in civil and criminal actions which have already been issued, or may hereafter be issued, and returnable to the Spring Term as now established by law, the same shall be deemed and held returnable to the Term of said Court as now fixed by this act.

SECTION 3. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cabarrus County to advertise at two or more public places in each township in said county on or before the first day of April, 1873, notifying suitors and witnesses of the change of the Spring Term of the Superior Court as prescribed in this act.

SECTION 4. This act shall be in force from and after its ratification. In General Assembly read three times and ratified this 18th day of December, A. D. 1872.

J. L. ROBINSON, Speaker of the House. J. T. MOREHEAD, JR., President of the Senate.

OFFICE SECRETARY OF STATE, Raleigh, Jan. 10, 1873. I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the original act on file in this office.

WM. H. HOWERTON, Secretary State, 123—law4t.

Meeting of the Trustees of the University. THERE WILL BE A MEETING OF THE Trustees of the University in the Executive office on Wednesday the 29th instant, at 3 o'clock P. M.

TOD R. CALDWELL, Governor and President of the Board of Trustees, Jan. 9, 1873.

BY TELEGRAPH. FOUR O'CLOCK. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Ways and Means Committee will not take up the Cotton tax until Beck's bill is printed.

From Washington. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—It is snowing heavily here. Solomon Robinson, an eminent Commander of the Georgia Knights Templars, is dead.

Reported Collision at Sea. LONDON, Jan. 23.—It is reported that the emigrant ship—Northfleet—bound here to Australia, with four hundred and twelve passengers, exclusive of the crew, collided with an unknown steamer.

Judgment in the Foster Case. NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The judgment of the Court of Appeals in the case of Foster, car-hook murderer, concludes as follows:

From Nevada. VIRGINIA CITY, Jan. 23.—U. S. Senator Jones in a speech says he spent money freely but not corruptly for campaign purposes. He favors government control over rail-roads built entirely or partially by government subsidy.

Editorial Note. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Mr. Cassidy, Editor of the Albany Argus, is dead.
