An Old-Time Tragedy.

A Mustery of Sixteen Years Cleared Up-Murder Will Out. From the Buffalo Courier.

The people of Tonawanda and of Grand Island are at present much interested in revelations said to have been made in regard to the commission of a fearful tragedy which horrified the community sixteen years ago. There may be those of our readers who will call the circumstances to mind, but doubtless they are few. In the year 1855, in a little settlement known as Burgholtz, in the town of Wheatfield, about six miles from Tonawanda, dwelt a Prussian physician known as Dr. Stanger, a man of some means and quite generally known. One morning, about Thanksgiving time, in the fall of the year named, a visitor to the house of the doctor found no one to answer his call, and entering found the woman who had been employed as housekeeper lying dead upon the floor, and upon a bed the corpse of her daughter, twelve years of age, both bearing ghastly wounds which produced their deaths. The discoverer of this scene of slaughter immediately alarmed the neighborhood, and search was instituted for the doctor. At length his dead body was found by the roadside more than a mile from his house, indicating that he had either been enticed in that direction, or that fleeing from the murderers he had at length been overtaken and disposed of. Some purpose other than robbery must have influenced the assassins, for none of the property in the victim's house was disturbed, even his gold watch remaining in its accustomed place upon the wall. A great excitement was created in the neighborhood, and strenuous efforts were made to bring the guilty persons to justice, but all availed nothing, for, although different parties toward whom suspicion pointed were taken into custody, nothing could be proved against them and they were A becoming an old-time story, and it seemed that the mystery which en-shrouded it was never to be cleared Day of Public Thanksgiving, away. But at last, as we are told, revelations have been made tending in this case to verify the saying that murder will out.

The facts in our possession are as related to our reporter, who, in company for the many privileges and blessings vouchest to those who reside in and near the same: vicinity where the Stanger murder was committed. We cannot vouch for the we now have to make, but only present them are there are related. On Grand entire truthfulness of the statements them as they are related. On Grand Island, at and after the time of the murder resided with his family one invite the clergy of all denominations in the State to open their respective, houses of Christian Forbeck, a man of rather ill the State to open their respective houses of worship on said day and to call upon their worship on said day and to call upon their repute, but against whom no suspicion as to his complicity in the crime was directed. Later his business affairs did | Him praises which are justly due, and to not prosper, and at length, perhaps eight or nine years ago, he removed to a western State. Also near La Sallie Done at the City of Raleigh, on this the lived a man by the name of Wagner. Of his reputation we have learned but little. He, too, removed to the West some years ago.

The present report, and which has renewed the interest in this affair of the past, is that within the past few weeks Christian Forbeck has expired, and that upon his dying bed he made full confession that he it was, with the complicity of Wagner, who committed the triple murder. Wagner, shortly after he went away from this state, made his way to Michigan and there ended his career by performing the one of the loffice of the hangman for himself. If of Iredell; all this be true, it adds a thrilling final act to the tragedy which sixteen years ago was so terribly commenced. There are now many who can remember suspicious circumstances against Forbeck, which never before appeared to them in the same light. One of these is related to us by John Hupman, who now keeps a grocery at the corner of Penn-sylvania and Fifth streets. Four years after the murder Mr. Hupman, who L. s. the independence of the United States then lived in Tonawanda, as then did the ninety-sixth. also Forbeck, one evening conversed with him upon subjects of criminal By the Governor: acts, in the course of which Forbeck significantly said "if all I have done were known, I would have been upon the gallows years ago." Perhaps more about the murder and its perpetrators will yet be brought before the world, By his Excellency the Governor of North Carolina. and if Forbeck is dead, and has left such a confession as described, it may be publish in full detail.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1871.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

A PROCLAMATION.

The process of the seasons have again enabled the husbandman to garner the fruits of successful toil. Industry has been generally well rewarded. We are at peace with all nations, and tranquillity, with few exceptions, prevails at home. -Within the past year we have in the main been free from ills which elsewhere have affected our kind. If some of us have had calamities, this should be an occasion for sympathy with the sufferers, of resignation on their part to the will of the Most High, and of rejoicing to the many who have been more favored. I, therefore, recommend that on Thursday, the 30th day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, and there make the usual annual acknowledgements to Almighty God for the blessings He has conferred upon them for their merciful exemption from evils, and invoke His protection and kindness for their less fortunate brethren, whom, in His wisdom. THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CON-SUMPTION .- The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to rulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these orso that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and rouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secre-

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lacteals are weak, and requi ing strength and support. It is in condition like this that Schenck's full directions how to obtain Patents, free. It is alkaline, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will | Patents, mailed on receipt of 25 cents. give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is

The essential thing to be done in curing-Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs,—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things,-a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is en-tirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope. I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be. It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp wether; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sun-

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a reand it is precisely the same in regard to Confectly healed, just so long is there immi- for particulars. nent danger of a full return of the disease. Confirmed Consumptives' lung, are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand seinstead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

mailing: Money should never be enclosed in an or-dinary letter. Valuable letters should be carried to the Post Office and registered. If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If from points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be registered. Direct letters plainly to the street and number, as well as the post office, county and State. By inserting upon letters the county in which the office is located, many errors in superscription might be detected, and mis-takes in mailing avoided. Head letters with the name of the writer's post office and State, street and number. Sign them with full name and request that answers be directed accordingly. All drop letters, or letters to be delivered within the city, must be prepaid by postage stamps, at the rate of 1 per cent is ounce or under. Prepayment by stamps required on all letters to places within the United States, at the rate of 3 cents per 1 ounce or under. Full prepayment by stamps required on all transient printed matter, foreign and domestic. All letters not prepaid by stamps, all such as are re-ceived in the office with stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or with such postage stamps as were in use prior to 1861, or with revenue stamps on them, are treated as "unmailable," and are sent to the dead letter office. Packages containing poisons, oils, explosive chemicals, liquids, or anything calculated to injure or endanger the safety of the mails, will not be received. Valuable letters should be in all cases registered; and when money is designed to be transmitted, postal money orders, to secure safety in transmission, should, when practicable, be obtained. Letter postage is to be charged on all hand bills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever. A letter once delivered to any one authorized to receive it, cannot be forwarded without additional postage. All letters or circulars concerning lotteries, so-called gift concerts, or other similar enterprises offering prizes of any kind on any pretext whatever, de-posited in this office to be sent by mail, will be treated as unmailable, and sent to the dead letter office. Manuscipt for publication in newspapers, magazines, or periodicals transmitted by mail must be prepaid at letter rates of postage. None but Book MSS. can pass at rates prescribed for transient printed matter.

Postal Rates.—The single letter rates of postage is three cents, throughout the United States, for 1 ounce or under.
