Drinking the Cup. The appointment by the Governor of a Court to try the murderer of Capt. Nimrod Jarratt, of Macon county, recalls the fact that his wife was the first to discover his dead body. Riding along the road she suddenly 'spied the aurdered corpse of her husband, who had left her a few hours before in full health and vigor. Her feelings can better be imagined than described; but trying as was this heart-rending sight, she had already passed through one equally if not more trying. Some years ago she was the agonized witness of the Propositions and Grievances, retracted mother, but beyond all hopes of succor, stood her lovely boy, pleading, beseeching, and screaming for help, as the flames roared and hissed about him. But all in vain. Truly has this lovely christian lady drank the cup to its very be amended by striking out the tion. dregs. Yet who doubts that her crown will be the brighter On High.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 -The Tribune The melancholy death of the Editor and founder of The Tribune, though for a few days it had been expected by his family and intimate friends, falls upon us with all the shock of a sudden calamity. He had reached, indeed, a it in the very best light for the "Demo- ripe old age, but time had not laid its withering touch upon him. His splendid constitution easily bore the strain of enormous labor. His mind was as fresh and as strong and as suggestive as in the prime of life. His generous im pulses were unchilled by disheartening experiences through the campaign which has just closed. His physical vigor, his tact, his intellectual activity, surprised even those who knew him best, and seemed to promise many years of usefulness. "It is certain that no history in our Nation's life can be written in which Horace Greeley shall not be a conspicuous figure; but the noblest career in his eyes is that which is given up to others' wants. The successful life was that which was worn out in conflict with wrong and woe. The only ambition worth following was the ambition to alleviate human misery, and leave the world a little better than he found it .tor representing a population of 1,472 That he had done this was the consolation that brightened his last days, and assured him that he had not lived in

Mr. Groeley's Last Hours,

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. The accounts published of Mr. Greeley's last moments represent him to have been conscious during the day as is usual in cases of inflamation of the brain. His physical suffering was extremely slight; but the increased and morbid action of his mind has evident from extenor manifestations. He was asked-"Do you know that you are dying without tremor or motion?" He answered-"yes."

Again, when asked if he recognized Mr. Reid, he looked up with an immediate recognition, and lifting his hand er well known remedies, as in these grasped Mr. Reid's feebly, and said Tablets, and all parties are cantioned distinctly-"yes."

His last words were -" It is done." The face hardly changed; only setting a little into a look of perfect peace.
