

It poeities - The Democrats for Civil Rights.

At about the time of the Cincinnati Convention in May, 1872, which nominated Horace Greeley, the Democrats of North Carolina assembled in convention at Greensboro...

The present condition of our country demands an union of all parties by whatever name heretofore designated, to avert a crisis greater than any with which our Government has been menaced since its organization.

The Greensboro Democratic convention also adopted the following resolutions: "Resolved, That education and enlightened public virtue are indispensably essential in a government of and for the people...

Resolved, That while we accept and faithfully abide by the Constitution of the United States as it is, with all its amendments, including amendments and equality before the law, thus conferring equal civil and political rights upon all who are citizens of this federal republic...

As the Democratic leaders at Greensboro had anticipated, Horace Greeley was nominated by the national Democratic party at Baltimore; and the man with all his notions of civil rights and mixed schools, was thus endorsed.

Don't Like It.

The New York Tribune, which for the past few years has been constantly criticizing the Republican party, and practically urging its readers to try Democratic rule to secure "reform," confesses that this experiment in Connecticut and New Hampshire is too much.

In New Hampshire these gentlemen are showing their appreciation of the trust reposed in them by engaging in a wild and drunken scramble for place and plunder.

Thus fully committed by the resolutions of their convention, and by the utterances of the man whom they had chosen to follow, the Democrats of North Carolina were placed in an attitude totally opposite to that which they occupied in 1868, and became the ADVOCATES OF CIVIL RIGHTS AND MIXED SCHOOLS.

They were ready to do anything for the sake of office. In this mood they entered the contest, and were again defeated in 1868. The people realized the hypocrisy of their pretensions, and refused to support their candidates at the polls.

Another election is pending, and the Democrats have again chosen to shift their position. They have abandoned the liberal ideas advocated by them in 1872, and now seek to draw the line of distinction between themselves and the Republicans at the point where they were then "in favor of the education of all classes of the people, WITHOUT DISTINCTION OF RACE AND COLOR."

It is not about time for the reliable thinking men of the country to abandon a party so utterly devoid of consistency. Is it not apparent to everybody that their pretended "principles" are a delusion and a snare, and that they will press anything for the sake of office?

Social Equality.

We had supposed that the silly nonsense about "social equality" had ended years ago. It was introduced as a bugbear in 1868 to fright the timid women and children, and it was positively asserted by Democratic speakers that the evil was certain to follow in the event of the enfranchisement of the colored man; Republicans denied it at that time, and the result proved the truth of their denial.

White men of North Carolina, if you vote with the Republican party, in the coming election, you vote for Social Equality of the black with the white race - you vote to degrade the white men and white women of the State, and for the destruction of our civilization.

Was it the white man's party which elected a colored Democrat Doorkeeper of one of the Houses of the General Assembly in 1870, when a one-legged ex-Confederate soldier was a candidate for the place? They did not take much stock in the white man's party then, but were running it on the colored line altogether. Let us have peace.

After closing her school last Friday afternoon, she set out to visit a friend living a mile distant, her course being over a lonely road partially through the woods. She was missed by her friends on Saturday evening, and search was made, or body was found on Sunday morning at one o'clock. It had been conveyed about forty rods into the woods, leaving traces of blood on the way.

The negotiations for the balance of the five per cent. funded loan were concluded by the Secretary of the Treasury on the 28th inst., with Messrs. August Belmont & Co., in behalf of Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons, of London, and their associates, and J. W. Seligman & Co., on behalf of themselves and their associates.

These parties made an absolute subscription for forty-five millions of dollars, coupled with the option of taking the remainder of the loan at any time within six months. The loan is taken up to be paid for in coin or five-twenty bonds, the parties to receive one-quarter of one per cent. commission and to defray all expenses of the transaction, including delivery of the bonds.

From the well-known reputation of these bankers no doubt exists at the Treasury Department as to their ability to place the entire loan.
