LOCAL BRIEFS.

-The Legislature assembles to day.

-The streets wear a lively look again.

-Policeman Ferrell gave the alarm of fire yesterday morning.

-- Pork is abundant in market, seiling at five cents per pound.

---- The Magistrates held no meeting yesterday, no quorum being present.

---- The cold smap is said to be the longest and hardest of any since 1857.

-The back of the cold snap is broken, and the weather has lost its chill

-An important advertisement of Mr. J. R. H. Carmer will appear to-mor-TOW.

---- The city seems to be passing through a regular epidemic of fires just now.

-There is a regular crush at the hotels, while the boarding houses are fast filling.

-Messrs. Mordecai & Devereux, Trustees, advertise valuable property for sale. Read notice.

-One thing noticeable about the members of the Legisla ure present is the number of strange faces.

-A good deal of lobbying was carried on yesterday, and the candidate was seen everywhere.

--- The latest sensation is moonlight skating parties, aud these are held n ghily ou ti e ponds near the city.

-Attention is called to the notice of Mr. F. Grundler, the proprietor of the Raleigh Favorite Cigar Factory.

---- A package is held at the post office, addressed to Mrs. Dr. F. A. Osborn. Lawrenceville, Va., as it is unstamped.

--Elsewhere will be seen an advertrausacted. tisement for proposals for building five large cisterns for protection against fire.

A large meeting of the Executive committee of the State Agricultural Society was held at the Yarboro last evening. Several business matters received attention. Capt. C. B. Denson, so valued and efficient as Secretary, was elected for another year. It was also decided to hold a fair beginning on the 15th of October, continuing for a week.

A Work of Improvement.

The ruins of the houses on Fayetteville street, belonging to the estate of the late B. F. Moore, which were burned not long since, were yesterday torn down. It is stated that Major Gatling will erect in their place a couple of substantial business houses, which will be an ornament to the street. This is certainly a step forward, and one long needed.

-- The mail train on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad was delayed last night, owing to the breaking of a tyre on one of the drivers at Weldon.

-The Rescue steamer went no further than the capitol cistern yesterday. There was no need of going further, as the water supply was not at hand.

-The work of gathering ice is conducted vigorously still, but the houses are nearly all tilled. No such crop of it has been taken here in many taxes for 1879. The Clerk of the years.

injured by the fire yesterday, was carried ascertaining who paid taxes before said horCo, and at last accounts his condition showed some improvement. Hopes in are entertained of his recovery.

-The night police request store keepers to always have a light in the rear portion of their stores, and not the front part, as they will thus be much better able to see the interiors.

-Some one suggests that the bells of any factories etc., in a part of the city close by a fire be rung at such times, as the city bell fails to awaken the people at a distance.

-The News earnestly pointed out the pressing need of a cistern at a point near the railroad bridge on Hills. | accepted, boro Avenue. The late fire proved the correctness of its judgment.

---- The regular semi-monthly meets ing of St. John's Guild will be held in the reading room at 8 o'clock this p. m. A fuil attendance is desired as business of importance will be considered.

-A prominent city official says that a cistern should at once be built at a point where Blount and Jones streets intersect, as a great deal of valuable property in that part of the city is in hourly danger from fire, with no protection whatever.

-Perhaps the sad lessons the late disastrous fires have taught will not be thrown away on the Board of Aldermen. The public wish to know whether their property is to recaive protection or not. The city fathers should bear this in mind.
