

THE RALEIGH NEWS

VOL. XIV--NO. 444 State Library

RALEIGH, N. C. SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1879.

$5.00 PER ANNUM

What the East Wants.

1. We want no gas.
2. We want an honest adjustment of the debt.
3. We want a general obligatory license law.
4. We want a dog law.

Appointment of Magistrates.

The appointment of magistrates by the Legislature, now in session, is of great importance to the people and should be looked after by them. The last Legislature made some mistakes in this matter and caused a good deal of complaint.

Exactly So.

Whenever any newspaper editor has the honor and business to warn the public against the hypocrisy of the man, or against the extravagance of State or City Governments, he is sure to be abused by those who fatten on the spoils of office, and who want to live off the money paid by tax-payers.

What the "News" has Done.

The Raleigh News, has raised the cry of retrenchment, and proposes a reduction of salaries to save the people from grinding taxation. And it commendably proposes to make an education of one-half, should the Legislature accord it the public printing, in consonance with its views. There has been no fault, we believe, with its former work.

Public Printing.

The Raleigh News is a candidate for the State printing. It has issued a circular addressed to the Legislature offering to do the work for half the old rates. The News is one of the best dailies in the State. Has always stood up for, and advocated the success of the Democratic party, with a determination and force that should not be overlooked by the party.

"The Boys" in the Legislature.

The Legislature will no doubt elect Vance United States Senator. There is the exuberance of boys on the playground in the assembling of Legislators. They are more inclined to throw their hats than to scratch the inside of their heads. Two-thirds of them go to Raleigh inspired with Vance and a single joke of his cracked at a single member may throw the whole body into a laughing delirium.

"No Fence."

Elizabeth City Economist.
In the county of Mecklenburg, N. C., it has been adopted, and is now preferred by all classes. Its advantages are very great. It does away, at once, with a vast amount of hard and unproductive labor. It adds to the area of cultivated land. It saves timber. It saves ditching. It improves the quality of stock. It saves time in hunting up vagrant stock running at large in the range. It cuts up a fruitful source of litigation and neighborhood strife. It keeps up the symmetry and appearance of farms. It promotes good fellowship. It puts an end to neighborhood slip-gaps. Fence up the stock and turn out the fields.

Howan Solid for Vance.

Salisbury Watchman.
We have heard it reported on the streets that both our representatives in the lower branch of the General Assembly, Messrs. Barringer and Best, would oppose the election of Gov. Vance to the United States Senate. We think this cannot be true, and therefore we do not believe it is a mistake. Mr. Barringer cannot vote against Gov. Vance in the caucus with out misrepresenting a large majority of his Democratic constituents who prefer him to all other men in the State. The report must be untrue as to Mr. Best for the reason that he told many of his constituents that he was a Vance man.

Who will get the Public Printing?

Salisbury Watchman.
We have asked several gentlemen this question, and the invariably answer has been "The Observer." Will the Observer take the job at the rates proposed by the News?—has been our next question. "No," was the answer. If the News comes forward with an ample bond for the faithful performance of the work, what then? The people are demanding retrenchment in public expenses. Salaries are to be cut down and in every way possible expenses reduced.

Nat Atkinson's Rigid Face.

Salisbury Watchman.
We had a call from Nat. Atkinson Saturday, on his way to the General Assembly. He has got his face set towards a rigid retrenchment of public expenses. His constituents demand it. Aye, and the people of all parts of the State make the same demand. With cotton, corn, tobacco and all other farm products going at nothing, and taxes as high as ever, it is no time to reward partisans, and those who think of it will find few members of the Legislature prepared to do so.

Stalwart Party Men.

Tarboro Southerner.
Our town was distinguished on Monday last by the arrival of the following Senators and Representatives in transit to the Capital; Lieut. Gov. Jarvis, of Pitt; Senators J. T. Respass, of Beaufort and J. T. Wald, of Martin. Representatives Henry D. R. Benson, of Martin, S. F. Osborne, of Beaufort, Germain Bernard and D. G. Moore, of Pitt. We are glad to say these gentlemen are emphatic in their determination to support Gov. Z. B. Vance for U. S. Senator—first, last, and all the time.

The Cause of Distress.

Tarboro Southerner.
What is the cause of our distress and the general cry of hard times? Heavy taxation. Before the war 18 cents was high for State and county taxes combined. Now we pay 60-75 cents, i. e., from four to seven times as much. Then we paid $150,000 State taxes, now $500,000 State and $750,000 county taxes, an increase of $700,000 to $900,000 per annum, with less ability to pay.

Public Printing.

Wadeboro Herald.
In a few days the General Assembly will elect a State Printer for the ensuing two years. The last Assembly awarded it to the Raleigh News, and gave that paper eighty cents per thousand. The News is now offering to do the work for forty cents per thousand; and we see no reason why the contract should not be given to that paper, unless other responsible parties will take it for less money. It stands our representatives in hand to get the public work done at the lowest figures. Times are hard, money is scarce, and the public eye is now turned towards the acts of her servants.

Why Vance Should be Elected.

Wadeboro Herald.
Why should Vance be elected United States Senator? Because the majority of the Democratic voters of North Carolina demand it. Because it is due to him by the party, as no other man could have brought the Old North State from under Radical rule. Because he has been an open, fearless worker, a true organizer, and a thorough Democrat. If he is not elected, our leaders will be upon the shelf, for the people will not be governed by men who cry out to be supported by the true man, or will place you with the Radicals—when they do not support the true man, Z. B. Vance.

Watchword of the People.

Goldboro Mail.
Our Legislature should dispense with every possible expense, every public expenditure should be reduced to the lowest possible rates, our Asylums should be run on less out-let to the State, our State Prison expenses can and should be reduced, when meat can be bought at less than half the price paid for it two years ago, and all classes of merchandise have been reduced in price from fifty to three hundred per cent. We can see no good reason why the pay of the employees of these State Institutions should not be reduced in proportion to the shrinkage of values generally. The administration of the State government should be put upon the most economical footing possible every department. The necessity of one people demand it.

Public Expenditures.

Charlotte Democrat.
From a business letter to us from a prominent Democrat in this State, we make this extract:
"Allow me to express my gratification at the stand your influential paper has taken in favor of the tax-payers. The tendency now, even in our own party, is to run the Governments—State, County, City and National—in the interest of tax-payers, and as mines of inexhaustible wealth to be worked for their benefit."
We have done our duty in demanding economy in spending, tax-payers' money, and for so doing we have received very little thanks and a great deal of abuse—but we know we have done right. The offices of all sorts in this State (especially the political ones) have generally been held by men who pay little or no tax. It is about time for tax-payers to take hold of some of the offices.

The Governor's Message.

The omission in this able and exhaustive State paper to discuss the great and absorbing question of economic reform now agitating the public mind and giving our law makers deep and anxious concern, is supplied by the data furnished by a News correspondent this morning.

Married.

On the 2nd of January, 1879, at the residence of William Martin, by Jos. Baker, Esq., Mr. Junius Mooneyham to Miss Lizzie Martin, all of Wake county.

An Excursion to Raleigh and other Points Suggested.

Correspondence of the News.
Asheville, N. C., Jan. 8th.
Asheville is to be represented at the Northern Convention to be held at Charlotte on the 15th. I suggest to the railroad that it would be the means of inducing immigration to Wake county by inducing it to take trips over the various roads, and to visit Raleigh and other localities. These people are only an advance corps of a body of people, whose representation would induce a large influx of the people.

A Horrible Deed—A Man Killed.

By Telegraph to the News.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—An Illinois dispatch says: Tuesday night three men named McFarland, Patterson and Malloy entered the house of an old Negro named Nevi, near Peatonie, dragged him to a tree, tied him and then pounded him until he was stunned and bleeding. They then assaulted and outraged Mrs. Nevi, aged 70, and her daughter, aged 20. They were all arrested.

Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10th.—A fire in progress on Main street, below Fourth, P. Wilson & Sons, an extensive carriage and furniture establishment, was entirely destroyed, also Works, an unoccupied building adjoining. Loss on former one, forty thousand dollars, but almost entirely covered by insurance. On the latter the estimated loss is forty thousand. Wayne & Sons stock of cutlery, next above was badly damaged by water. The thermometer is at zero, and it was with great difficulty in handling the hose. It is thought the fire is now under control.

Assignment of Smith & Forbes, of Charlotte.

By Telegraph to the News.
BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Smith & Forbes, book and stationery dealers of Charlotte, N. C., and Boston have made an assignment. Northing definite is known in regard to the condition of the firm, but it is reported the liabilities are $125,000 and the assets $100,000. Most of the indebtedness is to houses in Boston and vicinity.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if we party discipline in holding the honor we would secure in the State and in the country. Our success as a party depends upon this, and we should throw down every tendency to disorganization whenever we find it. It is for the sake of proper party faith that our noble Vance was defeated at the United States Senator by the Legislature in 1872, and I am glad to know that that act was signally rebuked by the people in 1876, when they elected him to the highest majority. Vance had done too much faithful service to his country and his party to deserve such treatment and the people knew it. He ought long since to have been seated in the United States Senate, and think the people are not to be taken pleasure in conducting that honor upon them, and thereby carry out what is believed to be the best interests of a Democratic party, and the wishes of the vast majority of the voters of the State.

What the News is Doing for the Party.

Correspondence of the News.
LEXINGTON, N. C., Jan. 8, 1879.
I am truly glad to see that you are doing such a noble service for the success of the Democratic party, and trust that your efforts will be abundantly rewarded. We must do our duty, if