day at 10 o'clock. Bishop Atkinson's Lecture.

The lecture of Bishop Atkinson at Tucker Hail last evening was as usual interesting and scholarly. The theme was benevolent institutions, and he spoke particularly of Guilds, as associations which accomplish great good. In the course of his remarks he spoke of the growth of St. John's Guild, and said that though yet in its infancy it had won its way to success. Now a free Hospital has been established which it is proposed to make an institution of the city. He said that this was a practical way of impressing christianity upon those not christians, as kindness is a thing whose meaning and whose value are at once grasped by all. Closing, he impressively said that it was the prayer of all that this Guild and its Hospital might continue to prosper and be a great blessing.
