Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 18. - House. -Young, of Ohio, referring to the appointment of a select committee to investigate the election of his colleague Butterworth, he, himself sent to the clerk's desk and had read an extract from the report of the grand jury (which had just examined the matter) the effect that the grand jury after examining of 50 witnesses had found no ground to take further proceedings in og rd to it. He explained that his cuject was to prove to the members of the House that his colleague and himself were not considered in the county of Hamilton as very bad persons. The House then at 10 o'clock went into committee of whole on the army appro-

In the discussion which followed some sharp remarks were interchanged between Sparks, of Illinois and Conger. of M chigan, as to services rendered by them respectively during the late war. Sparks stating that, like the gentleman Boston Filst. from Michigan, he had been a little too cowardly to fight on either side.

Conger replied that he had served as a member of the State Military Braid of Michigan.

After the debate, an amendment to strike cut was defeated, the consideration of the bill baving been concluded, with the exception of section 6, repeal ing statutes allowing the military to preserve peace at the polls. That section was read. Upon this there commenced a long and interesting debate, the Republicans insisting that the section changed existing laws, and did not retrench expenditures. The Democrats contended, as one of their members argued, that the power to make rules and regulations for the army and power questioned.
