

WASHINGTON.

PROCEEDINGS ANHANCED BY TELEGRAPH.

Sen. speaks in the Senate—The South, anxious to do its part—Good effects of Democratic Rule.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—SENATE.—The Senate considered the resolution relative to the removal and appointment of officers of the Senate, but without final action went over, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the army bill.

Williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he said that the people of the North had been animated by some very policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be represented by the Congress.

Williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he said that the people of the North had been animated by some very policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be represented by the Congress.

Williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he said that the people of the North had been animated by some very policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be represented by the Congress.

Williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he said that the people of the North had been animated by some very policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be represented by the Congress.

Williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he said that the people of the North had been animated by some very policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be represented by the Congress.

NEW YORK.

A Mixture of News from Gotham.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The singular conduct of young Mrs. Hylsted, who yesterday ran off from her husband, accompanied by her father, and a number of friends, is still the all-absorbing topic of conversation among the people up and down town.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

RICHMOND.

THE EXCURSION OF THE NORTH CAROLINA MERCHANTS.

A letter from the Chairman—Leading Point on the James—Special Correspondence of the News.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—That the readers of the News might fully understand the object of the proposed excursion of the Merchants to Richmond, I called on the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, and was furnished the following letter, which is published for the information of all whom it may concern:

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

NEW YORK.

A Mixture of News from Gotham.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The singular conduct of young Mrs. Hylsted, who yesterday ran off from her husband, accompanied by her father, and a number of friends, is still the all-absorbing topic of conversation among the people up and down town.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

A lady runs off from her husband—The coachman and his bride—Talmage trial still going on.

RICHMOND.

THE EXCURSION OF THE NORTH CAROLINA MERCHANTS.

A letter from the Chairman—Leading Point on the James—Special Correspondence of the News.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22.—That the readers of the News might fully understand the object of the proposed excursion of the Merchants to Richmond, I called on the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, and was furnished the following letter, which is published for the information of all whom it may concern:

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

RICHMOND, Va., April 22, 1879. DEAR SIR: Without presuming to write you a letter for publication, I can give you a very correct idea of the intended excursion of the Merchants of this city to the Merchants of North Carolina, who are located on the lines of Railroads connecting with Richmond from Oldton to Raleigh, Weidon to Goldsboro, and Newbern to Weidon.

A WHALE.

THE LARGEST EVER KILLED ON THE NORTH CAROLINA COAST.

Its Dimensions—River of Oil—Nearly a ton of Whalebone—At $1.10 a Pound—Correspondence of the News.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

A WHALE.

THE LARGEST EVER KILLED ON THE NORTH CAROLINA COAST.

Its Dimensions—River of Oil—Nearly a ton of Whalebone—At $1.10 a Pound—Correspondence of the News.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.

MORHEAD CITY, April 22.—The largest whale ever killed on the North Carolina coast was killed on the 14th instant near Morhead City, by Messrs. Willis & Gurrie. She was sixty feet long, the bone was eight feet three inches long. The blubber was from eighteen to twenty-three inches thick. They saved three thousand six hundred and seventy-eight and a half gallons of oil and one thousand five hundred and fifty-two pounds of the whale-bone, which were sold to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Newbern, at thirty cents per gallon for the oil, and one dollar per pound for the bone, making a total of $2,484.65.