he Convention of 1835 to amend the e Constitution found in 1776. This an admirable school for a young m n, just then twenty-four years old, taking his first lessons in political knowledge; for the master minds of State, as Macon, Gaston, Branch, Daniel Outlaw, Carson, Spright, Gilliam, Fisher, Morehead, Meares, Rayner, and thers were members of this illustrious issly. How well Mr. Biggs improved this golden opportunity, his subsequent success in political life, fully demonstrated. In 1540 came "the Log Cabin Campaign;" when overwhelming adversity befel the democratic party, to which Mr. Biggs early attached his faith and from which he never wavered. Yet ie was elected to the Legislature.

" Barendales in casto guegate," and here he evinced such sugarity and statesmanlike qualities that gave him prominence and influence. The proposed adverse to the views of many of his English and American Chow-Chow, party, a system of Internal Improvemenus-the chief feature of which was the construction of a Railroad from the Sauces Mountains to Beaufort harbor, at the expense of the State; with colateral branches to be made by individual tuterprise. He was reselected in 1842, and in 1844 was elected to the State Senate. In 1845 he was elected a member of (XXXIX) Congress, succeeding the Hou, Kennetl Rayner, who declined a re-election, and defeating the Hon, David Outlaw, who n turn defeated hun in the next XXX ougress 1547- Ht. He was appointed with B. F. Moore nd R. M. Saunders, to revise the laws of North Carolina, which work is a monument to all time, of his ability, attence, labor and learning.

In 1854 he was elected a member of he Senate from Martin county. He opposed the measures advocated by nov, Oraham and others to call a concention (Constitutional), by a simple muonity of the Legislature; and alhough the measure was advocated by he prestige and power of the ablest of the whig party, it was defeated. He was the acknowledged leader of the Democratic party in this body, and by this Legislature was cleeted a member of the Senate of the United States Congress, in the place of Hon, George E Badger.

Here in this body of the Patres Conright of the nation, Mr. Baggs earned the reputation of being a useful, laboriors member, always at his post of duty. chable and consistant. This elevated assition he resigned in 1858 to accept the south by the lots of Mrs. M. -The city is pretty quiet. The Mayor tried the cases of a dozen disorderlies, whose observance of the holy Asblath day had been just the reverse of the kind the Biblical injunction prescribes. When Saidbath breakers trans gress they may be sure of feeling the neavy hand of the law, which is properly placed upon them.

The Raleigh Light Intantry attracted special attention vesterilay, by reason of its fine drill and bearing. Infinite credit is due the officers and mer. of this crack 'corps for their soldierly manner, and they may always feel sure of a high place in the estimation of our people of this city.

---- The interest in the great revivals continues unabated, and the churches are nightly crowded. The services at both the Methodist churches last Sabbath were specially interesting, and the ordinance of baptism was administered to twenty and persons, who then joined the Edenton street church. Mrs. Moon and Miss Painter will not leave the city until their good work is closed.

ie was pure and patriotic. "All the ends he armed at was his ountry s, his God, and truth. As an orator he did not aspire to rack with the Clays, Calhouns or Websters, of the Senate, but his speechas were replete with sound sense and practical wisdom; and listened to with respecand attention. Whatever position he accuraced, he tilled the measure of it reponsibility, always equal to, neve above or below his duty. As a gentle man, he was always attable. While he espected the rights and feelings of others, he was ten icious and jealous a us own, and resented with "that chas lity of honor" the slightest imputation on his character. As a parent and husand he was affectionate and provident. and as a Christian, he was for years : consistent and devout member of the Baptist Primitive church and died in that fuith.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends tar and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache. it may be truly said, to have no equal, Dyspepties find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S.
