A Blast of Powder.

John T. Ross, employed by the city, and another man, under the charge of Mr. Best, were out at the city rock quarry yesterday, blasting rock for the streets of this city. A blast was made that did not prove satisfactory and Ross said he would load the hole again and "fotch her this time." He swabbed it out and then poured in a pound of powder. The tamping was ready and laid over the powder. Ross raised his iron crow-bar and let it fall to pack the ciay wadding around nicely. A loud and awful boom and a cloud of black smoke was the result. Mr. Best was shocked by the concussion, but did not lose his presence of mind. Rushing to the side of the man he found him black with powder and terribly burnt. He was taken to his home. His eyes and face are in a terrible condition, but it is thought he will recover.

so much spirit in him. He had been modeled according to well-defined rules, laid down in all works on equine architecture, and there was nothing in the line of superabundant flesh or padding of any sort to mar the picturesqueness of his builds; his ribs formed Tudor arches, and his spine represented Hogarth's "line of And then his spirit! It was beauty. well for the establishment that no weak-armed woman was acting as engineer. He had been standing at the corner of Wilmington and Martin streets, the occupants of the wood chariot being engaged in conversation as to their relative capaci y as a whisky reservoir, when Rozinante pricked up his ears as though he smelled the battle from afar off, and recklessly dashed down Martin street at the rate of a mile an hour. The charioteer grasped the reins and cried "Whoa!" The other man tried to pray-at least that is the charitable view to take of it. The harness commenced an action of divorce; the animal's heels adopted the motto of "Excelsior," and there is no knowing how the affair would have terminated if the beast had not fortunately conquered his insane impulse. He resconquered his fore feet in the cen-ter of the road, thus informing the hinder portion that if it wanted to go on it would have to do so on its own responsibility; ready hands went to the rescue, and the dire danger was

"The Good Old North State."

Rev. Bennett Smedes, Principal of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, writes of "Moore's School History of North Carolina" as follows: "The author of this work is a native of North Carolina, and has not only given us a history admirably adapted for use as a text-book in schools, but has written with such evident filial devotion to his subject that as we read the sentences, simple yet glowing, our hearts too swell with pride for the good old North State," Published by Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh, N. The Celbrated Seven Springs Iron Alum Mass. This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspepties find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills: and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospe!, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific troublesome diseases. Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. The Rich California Banker.

When it had become known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific Coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much wider and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence Co., Bank-ers, N. Y., unite orders thousands of customers, in different sums, into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro ra'a among shareholders every 30 days. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,-000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay $100 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 per cent. on the stock during the month. Messrs. Lawrence & Co,'s new circular (mailed free) gives "two unerring rules for success," and full particulars, that any one can operate in stocks, and make money. Stocks and bonds wanted. Cotton and Commission Merchant,

J. J. THOMAS,

No. 8 Martin Street, RALEIGH. N. Oatmeal & Dyspepsia.

In the last five years the consumption of Oatmeal in this country has probably increased twenty-fold. People differ so much in their likes and dislikes that we do not insist on anybody eating oatmeal because somebody else does, but the great growth of its popularity as an anti-dyspeptic is beyond doubt. denerally the Irish and Scotch Meals are considered best, but they sell comparatively nigh, and persons who have used both say that the Canadian and American Meals are just as good; these latter retail for 614c. per b. against loc. for former. Oatmeal should be well cooked. As it is usually made

A BREAKFAST DISH. it may be soaked over night, and then boiled like mush for, say half an hour. No doubt it is most wholesome eaten plain, but the temptation to use various dressings-generally sugar or cream-is too strong for any but very firm seekers, but where these are taken it should be as the Friends say, in 'moderation.
