-Mumble-the-peg is a time-honored game. Everybody in heathenland and Christendom has played it. (You might as well believe it as bunt for opposing evidence. It is a classical game-it attained to a high distinction in the Corinthian sports of ancient Greece. And with such eminent examles it was no wonder that at the Presbyterian picnic yesterday some of the aprightly youth of this locality indulged in this all-absorbing and soulstirring game. There was Mr. Jesse. Brown, who, with his eighty years of practice, stood proudly at the "top of the heap: Mr. Julius Lewis was opposed to such reckless gambling, but on being reminded that this noble pustime was invented by the Lace-diemonii or diemonicusses-you pays your money and takes your choice; for the higher physical development of boys, he laid his scruples and his hat aside and entered for the centus, anglice belt. with ardor; E. R. Stamps, Esq., who stands six feet in his profession : not in his boots, though , was performing wonders in this line, and Mr. Cooper who is of sufficient altitude to take his lunch from the top of Mr. Stamps' head was doing his level best, and succeeded, for to him was awarded the proud honor of extracting the peg from Mother Earth with his incisors, while Major Starke, who was already out of the game, stood ready to forward the glorious tidings to the Nation's Capital. Then these sportise lads sung with tuneful voices.

" "I would I were a boy again," and went home lamenting the degeneracy of the age with its new-fargied

The Presbyterian Picule.

The teachers and scholars of the First Presbyterian Sunday School and their friends and fellow citizens went out to Colonel Faison & country residence on Marsh Creek vesterday on a pic nic. A larger number than ever attended before were promptly at the old depot at scoto clock and boarded the waiting train and were harmlessly landed at a point just six miles north of Raleigh and was vards diagonally southwest of the picnic grounds. Mr. W. L. Primrose, the superintendent of the school, and master of ceremonies on this occasion had prearranged everything with Mr. W. C. Stronach who has no equal for conducting such matters, and the best of order and decorum was preserved particularly by the children. The growd soon reached the delight ful spot, in a very little while the large yard was a regular flower garden of girls! Croquet, tag, mumble the peg, swinging and other innocent aports were entered into and enjoyed throughout the whole day. Mr. Seymour Whiting, Professor C. B. Fairchild and Mr. Shaw were the committee of arrangements, and recessed a vote of thanks for the faithful performance of their duty. There were only two pronouncedly sentimental couples. One strolled away to the brook under the shade of the stately elms; the other, more dashing and aunty, discussed the beauties of nature which passed before them like a panorama as their dashing steed swiftly whirled them on.

The heavy men from the banking courses of the city were there, but they doin't enjoy it much. It was a good thing for the "little children, but really t was very tiresome work." It was well enough to take a breath of fresh country sir, though, and they managed o drag through. Everybody else was 'perfectly delighted," and it was the best pichic ever given by the school. The attendance was nearly two hundred and fifty, and the whole entertainment was a succession of pleasant surprises. The Raleigh Silver Cornet Band furnished the music for the occasion and added as much as anything else to the enjoyment.

The Tilden Arrest Story

New York Star. Ex-Secretary Robeson rises to a personal denial of the story, complete in one number, which Mr. Munchausen recently had published. The heavy villain of this story is free-lunching in bina, the chief accomplice is in Europe, and the alleged intended victim was and is only remarkable for his phenomenal lack of all qualities which would commend him to the good graces of so facile a romancer as Senator Conkling a ex-editor. A far better refutation of the story than that of Mr. Robeson, however, is found in the story

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadows of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and restore their shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA .- Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county. Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the 'Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.-WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi-Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the 'Liver case' which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me, The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back. breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass," I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WAD-DILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News. For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C., and Druggists generally.
