

ALL THE NEWS.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE.

The travelling of the Thomas Steamer in Washington—Other Late Telegrams.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The society of the Army of the Cumberland, after holding a secret session, adjourned to meet on board the steamer Jane Moseley, on which steamer the society was invited to visit Mount Vernon.

Having arrived, the meeting was resumed, during which, on motion of General Field, a vote of thanks was tendered to the three Virginia and the two Maryland companies who, forgetting party differences, had joined the Army of the Cumberland in paying respect to the memory of General Thomas.

When Mount Vernon was reached the wind was so strong that a landing could not be effected, and the steamer started on its return to this city.

The business meeting was resumed. A gentleman who had been an interested spectator of the proceedings stood upon a chair and stated that, as a soldier who had fought against General Thomas and who carried Federal bullets in his bosom, he wished to raise his voice in honor of the memory of General Thomas and General Lee.

General Field said that Mr. Watkins' voice was one of the best that would come from all the States and that the Union in honor of General Thomas, the Army of the Cumberland gave its name to Mr. Watkins, and that there was a million Watkinses. Such names as his Army of the Cumberland would always grasp in fraternal welcome and love.

Foreign Items. LONDON, Nov. 20.—Showing here, the steamer Pallas from Copenhagen for Amsterdam is believed to be foundered off Helsingor. Thirty persons are supposed to have perished.

The following paragraph has been posted in several places in the city of May: "To the people of May: Fellow countrymen, the time has come when you must either rise and defend your rights, or you will be crushed by the hands of the oppressor."

A Supposed Lost Crew Found. HALIFAX, Nov. 20.—An empty boat, with a broken oar and sails, was found last Sunday morning near Advocate bridge. It is thought to be the one in which six persons left Scott's Bay in an attempt to reach the mainland to the severe gale of last Saturday.

The Industrial Fair. It is our wish, our real intention and our determination to give our citizens justice and good notices in the different departments.

HORTICULTURAL HALL. The display in this department is small but what is there, is very creditable.

Mr. P. Baarden, of Charlotte exhibits a Kip and saddle, very good piece of workmanship.

Handy Lockett, of Raleigh, exhibits a coat and undertaker's work generally. His display is good and his work excellent.

John Yarborough exhibits a pretty cow and calf.

Henry C. Jones, of Raleigh, exhibits a fine cow, he enters her for the best cow of her family use. The reporter knows something of this cow and can confidently say—"she's a good one."

appointments, and reflects great credit on the association.

Thomas Hall exhibited a "shell house," which was splendid—the best thing of the kind ever seen.

A well displayed lot of crocheting, tidies in white and blue, and knit thread work well done; and very clean, neat, nice white wash.

A very good painting of fruits and flowers was next in order of arrangement, followed by a long array of knives, beautiful white pillow slips, and a beautifully embroidered baby dress.

The walls were hung with a profusion of nice covers, made by the little daughter of the only lady of the city.

A great deal of crocheted work of pretty design and worsted work was displayed.

The Declaration of Independence, copied in a large round "flat," attracted the attention of "many" Anti-Slavery visitors.

A fine programme is announced.

LATE NEWS NOTES. In the library of General Grant's residence at Galena "the coat-of-arms of the Grant family" hangs conspicuously on the wall.

Senator Bayard's candidacy is advocated by the four German daily newspapers of the city.

Miss Josephine Meeker, daughter of the late agent who was killed by the steamer Interior, Department by Secretary Schurz.

The Duke of Edinburgh's appointment as "Admiral Superintendent of the Naval Reserves," at $30,000 a year, is said to be a "snub" to England.

Yazoo county, Miss., where Dixon was killed, has elected a colored Democrat to the next legislature, and several other counties have done likewise.

The increased value of the Southern cotton, tobacco and sugar crops this year over last is estimated at $50,000,000. This increase is due to better prices, as well as to a larger yield.

Colonel Thomas A. Scott, President of the "Pen and Pencil Club," in Cleveland, Ohio, on Sunday last, the Herald of that city, says he is not near so hale and hearty as he was only a few years ago.

The famous Seventh regiment of New York furnished over six hundred of the Union army during the war, of whom nearly one-third fell in battle.

The astronomical Professor Proctor is now 50,000 years old, and in 2,000 years will be in the extreme old age.

Phthisis, which for several years has made great ravages in Russia, seems now to be gaining momentum.

TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE.

DESERADORS AT WORK NEAR JAMES TOWN.

One Man Killed Overtaken and Another Severely Clabbed—Arrest and Release of One of the Party.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 20.—A special dispatch from Morristown, Tenn., says that two men named Dawns and Anderson, a day or two since went armed with rifles to the house of Miss Josephine Williams, near James town, and insulted the lady mentioned, at the same time threatening to shoot a man named Steinhoffer, if he did not leave, whereupon the last named snatched a rifle from one of the attacking party.

Dawns and shoots him dead on the spot, when he turned upon Anderson and clubbed him nearly to death. Steinhoffer was arrested, but no one appearing against him he was subsequently released.

Improvement of the Quality of Cotton. New Orleans Times. The South's cotton production is now assuming proportions which few dreamed of a few years ago.

The South's cotton production is now assuming proportions which few dreamed of a few years ago. The quality is also improving.

When it comes to extra staple, careful handling is absolutely essential. It is also vital importance that the seed be of the best quality.

Reducing the Rents in Ireland. DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—The agitation respecting the land question continues, and many of the tenants are being evicted.

Case of Childish Fright. A little girl recently died in San Francisco whose death resulted from a fall from a high chair.

The Sickles Elopement Rumor. The New York Tribune says George Sickles, a notable figure in the Civil War, is reported to have fled with his wife.

A Lucky Case of Eremism. Three of the members of the English Congregation in Paris are reported to have been cured of their spiritual ailments.

Lotteries and the Mail. Postmaster General Key has finally decided that he will not issue a license to sell lottery tickets.

The Scientific Recognition of God. Selections from Professor Tyndal's Recent Articles in the Fortnightly Review.

General Grant's coat-of-arms, a shield emblazoned with three crowns, suggests a third tier.

FIGHTING JOE HOOKER. How He Averaged an Insult From General A. S. Stanley.

It was during the cold winter of 1863-64, succeeding the battles of Chattanooga, in which General Hooker did not participate, and Mission Ridge, that his two Potomac Army Corps, the Eleventh and Twelfth, were in camp on Moccasin Point, at the foot of Lookout Mountain.

The Birth Place of Yellow Fever. An intelligent resident of Havana says that Cuba is the grave-yard of the yellow fever.

TRAPPING A FORGER.

HOW LIVINGSTON, ALIAS WALKER, WAS VICTIMIZED BY BUSINESS MEN.

He Buys a Blank Check Book and Draws $900 on Forged Signatures—He Tries $1,800 More.

Cashier Edwards of the Bank of the State of New York succeeded yesterday in trapping a daring young forger in the office of that institution, at No. 35 William street.

When it was ascertained by a reference to the books that no money or check had been given to "Samuel Ogden," by advice of Cashier Edwards the unpleasant discovery was kept a secret.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

TRAPPING A FORGER.

HOW LIVINGSTON, ALIAS WALKER, WAS VICTIMIZED BY BUSINESS MEN.

He Buys a Blank Check Book and Draws $900 on Forged Signatures—He Tries $1,800 More.

Cashier Edwards of the Bank of the State of New York succeeded yesterday in trapping a daring young forger in the office of that institution, at No. 35 William street.

When it was ascertained by a reference to the books that no money or check had been given to "Samuel Ogden," by advice of Cashier Edwards the unpleasant discovery was kept a secret.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

TRAPPING A FORGER.

HOW LIVINGSTON, ALIAS WALKER, WAS VICTIMIZED BY BUSINESS MEN.

He Buys a Blank Check Book and Draws $900 on Forged Signatures—He Tries $1,800 More.

Cashier Edwards of the Bank of the State of New York succeeded yesterday in trapping a daring young forger in the office of that institution, at No. 35 William street.

When it was ascertained by a reference to the books that no money or check had been given to "Samuel Ogden," by advice of Cashier Edwards the unpleasant discovery was kept a secret.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

When the detective was sent for, he found the forger in the act of signing a check for $1,800.

GOVERNMENT EXPENSES.

ESTIMATES FOR RUNNING THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Mr. Hayes' Message to the Next Congress—Figures for the People to Ponder On.

A book of estimates for the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, has been completed, and will accompany the message of Mr. Hayes to Congress as an appendix.

The President in New York. Opening the Fair in the New Army of the Seventh Regiment.

New York, Nov. 17.—President Hayes, accompanied by his son, Veltch Hayes, and Secretary of State Evarts, arrived in New York Monday morning from Washington by the 7 o'clock train.

The President was met at the depot by the Lieutenant Colonel of the Seventh Regiment, Gen. N. S. Slocum, and was escorted to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where apartments on the first floor were assigned to them.

Why Are Pews Empty? Philadelphia Free American. An animated discussion is going on just now in church circles upon the lamentable falling off in church attendance.

Case of Childish Fright. A little girl recently died in San Francisco whose death resulted from a fall from a high chair.

The Sickles Elopement Rumor. The New York Tribune says George Sickles, a notable figure in the Civil War, is reported to have fled with his wife.

A Lucky Case of Eremism. Three of the members of the English Congregation in Paris are reported to have been cured of their spiritual ailments.

Lotteries and the Mail. Postmaster General Key has finally decided that he will not issue a license to sell lottery tickets.

The Scientific Recognition of God. Selections from Professor Tyndal's Recent Articles in the Fortnightly Review.

General Grant's coat-of-arms, a shield emblazoned with three crowns, suggests a third tier.

FIGHTING JOE HOOKER. How He Averaged an Insult From General A. S. Stanley.

It was during the cold winter of 1863-64, succeeding the battles of Chattanooga, in which General Hooker did not participate, and Mission Ridge, that his two Potomac Army Corps, the Eleventh and Twelfth, were in camp on Moccasin Point, at the foot of Lookout Mountain.

The Birth Place of Yellow Fever. An intelligent resident of Havana says that Cuba is the grave-yard of the yellow fever.

Trapping a Forger. How Livingston, alias Walker, was victimized by business men.

Trapping a Forger. How Livingston, alias Walker, was victimized by business men.