

UNDER WHIP AND SPUR

THE HOUSE "ADJOURNS WHEN IT DO ADJURN" TO THE MEMORY OF WASHINGTON.

TARDY RECOGNITION OF HIM.

Lusk and Turner Refuses to Lap a Minute From the Schedule Time of the Session--An Even-Even Race Between Fred and George--Passage of the Ant-Scalper Bill--Dull Day in the Senate and House--Private Bills Passed--A Small Attendance in Both Houses.

The House met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, prayer by Rev. L. L. Smith, representative from Cleveland.

Petitions and Memorials.

From citizens of Davidson county to prohibit sale of liquor within one mile of Lineburg.

Resolutions and Bills.

Lusk, resolution in commemoration of George Washington.

Resolved that when this House adjourn to-day it adjourn in respect to the birthday of the founder of the Republic.

Turner, to defray expenses of subcommittee to visit State farms $27.00; Alexander, of Tyrell, Robert W. Garrison on roll as first-class pensioner; Bean, to prohibit the sale of liquor within two miles of Bethany Church, in Randolph county; Lusk, to enforce lien of sub-contractors and others; to amend section 1285 of the Code, to add another clause for divorce; to amend chapter 147, Laws, to provide for registering of unregistered deeds; Smith, of Caswell, to incorporate Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church in Cleveland county; to incorporate Sharon M. E. Church in Cleveland county; Peace, to amend 461, Laws 1893, making officers responsible for persons lynched therein.

Winnborne to see fair and honest settlement of loss under insurance policies; Turner, of Mitchell, to invalidate an election held in Mitchell in 1884, as to the Lenoir and Catawba Railroad; to amend chapter 270, Laws 1889; Speas, (by request) to regulate the collection of taxes in Forsyth; to prohibit the sale of liquor within two miles of churches in Forsyth county; Whitener, to incorporate the town of Brynnyr, in Catawba county; Julian, to prohibit the sale of liquor within one and a half miles of Faith Academy, in Rowan county; Harrison, to prohibit the sale of liquor within two miles of Chadburn, in Columbus county; Linney, relative to catching fish in Catawba river; Lineburg, (by request) to establish County Boards of Medical Examiners; Speaker, to modify laws as to the sale of spirituous liquors near certain churches in Davidson county; for the relief of C. M. Griffith, County Sheriff of Davidson county.

Mr. Lusk rose to personal privilege, and said that he was reported as having gone to the Newbern Fair, and he thought the gentleman who reported it would correct the mistake; he was still here. Mr. Winnborne spoke similarly.

Mr. Smith, of Gates, sent up a substitute for the resolution of Mr. Lusk in regard to Washington's birthday to the effect that the House "should now adjourn."

Mr. Lusk thought the best service he could do that day was to stay here and work, and hoped Smith would withdraw his substitute and let us go on with our work simply adjourning when we do adjourn in commemoration of the father of our country.

Mr. Smith thought it was certainly fitting that we show this mark of respect to the memory of the father of his country that there were times for all things and of the appropriate action now there should be but one opinion.

Mr. Turner said it was apparent that there was no little work to do, and little time to do it in, and it did seem to him the best substitute they could give to the memory of Washington would be to stay here and work.

Mr. Winnborne sent up a substitute during Turner's remarks, but Turner said he would yield for a question only.

Winnborne's amendment to the substitute of Smith to the resolution of Lusk was put. Lusk accepted Winnborne's amendment. Peebles called the yeas and noes (not sufficient number up).

During the discussion, the Speaker announced the special order which on motion of Alexander, of Tyrell, was postponed until 12 o'clock to day.

Lusk felt compelled now to withdraw the resolution offered by Smith as so much discussion had developed. Winnborne's amendment was put and lost. Yeas and noes called by Peebles, not a sufficient number up. The substitute of Smith was put and lost. Then the motion of Lusk was put and carried.

After the passage of some unimportant bills, the bill to give salaries to school officers instead of fees, on motion of Mr. Turner, was made a special order for Wednesday evening next at 7:30; to prevent hunting on the land of another in Clay county, passed 2d and 3d readings; to provide for election of a tax collector in Buncombe by the people, passed 2d and 3d readings; to leave the question of selling or not selling of liquor to the people of the county of Buncombe, passed 2d and 3d readings; to amend chapter 327, Laws of 1891, passed 2d and 3d readings; to confine the right of suing for the wrong issuing of license to the person standing in loco parentis, passed 2d and 3d readings; to repeal chapter 565, Laws of 1891, as to the catching of fish in Columbus county, passed 2d and 3d readings; to allow James E. Henderson, of Charlotte, to act as guardian of Margaret E. Henderson without giving bond, passed 2d and 3d readings; to incorporate Lenior College in Catawba county against the sale of spirituous liquors, passed second and third readings; to change the name of the French Broad Bank and Trust Co., (referred to finance); to repeal chapter 372, Laws of 1893, to require teachers to be examined before they can teach in the public schools; passed 2d and 3d readings; for relief of Lawson Reynolds, a disabled Confederate soldier, passed 2d and 3d readings; to make nominations to fill vacancies in the Board of Agriculture (passed over informally); to repeal law allowing dead bodies of convicts to be shipped as freight, passed 2d and 3d readings; for relief of James M. Morrow, clerk of the court of Mecklenburg leave of absence in July and August probably to get married, Lusk asked did he want relief (laughter) McCall said his reference of marriage was only "parental" (laughter) that the gentleman needed the trip for his health and if he wants to get married it will be convenient, passed 2d and 3d readings; to fix the corporate limits of Aboskie, in Hertford county, passed 2d and 3d readings; to regulate the sale of liquor in Graham county to prevent sale within 1 1/2 miles of any church in the county, passed 2d and 3d readings; to change the name of the Carolina Savings Banks, passed 2d and 3d readings; to amend charter of Charlotte Gas Co., passed 2d and 3d readings; to authorize the commissioners of Randolph to sell a part of their county homelands, passed 2d and 3d readings; to restore the June term of Superior Court, Buncombe county, passed second and third readings; regulating the holding of the courts in Cumberland county, amended by Taylor so as not to be effective until after July 1st, passed second and third readings; to pay J. W. Sparks for the blackboard, ($530) passed second and third readings; to change the name of a colored school in Kittrell, passed second and third readings; to prevent hunting possums from February 1st to October 1st, each year, passed second and third readings.

To require railroads to redeem unused tickets, passed second reading. The bill provides that 50 per cent. of the tickets shall have been used and provided it be presented within 60 days--the only difference between this bill and the Law of 1891 is that mileage books have been added.

Hileman said it was for the purpose of getting rid of scalpers and favored the bill strongly; Mr. Lusk said a scalper had a right to buy a ticket and sell it to whom he pleased, and the railroad was bound by the contract on the ticket. Messrs. Julian and Smith, of Gates, favored the bill, the latter suggesting only that it might be well to make it stronger in its provisions against scalpers. Turner, of Polk, moved to refer. Lusk Mr. McCall at first not understanding the bill objected to the discrimination against Railroads which seem to be in it, but later, on hearing the explanation of Mr. Hileman, he withdrew all objections. Mr. Lusk said he wanted to be fair to the Railroads, but to the citizens also, he did not see why a man should get 50 per cent. of the amount paid. Mr. Hileman cited the low rate of the ticket, but Mr. Lusk said he could see no objection to a man's selling his ticket to another man.

Mr. Hileman referred to a case of a lady who, having bought a bogus ticket was forced to pay again. Lusk said she ought to have sued the party for getting money under false pretences. Passed third reading.

Bill for relief of two disabled Confederate soldiers in Tyrell county passed third reading. To establish a system of public roads in Madison county passed second and third readings.

At 1:51 the House adjourned to meet this morning at 10 o'clock.

ATHLETICS AT OAK RIDGE.

Prof. Alderman Lectures to a Large Audience.

Special to the News and Observer. OAK RIDGE, N. C., Feb. 22. The next lecture in this year's course at Oak Ridge Institute was delivered in the chapel to-night by Prof. Edward A. Alderman of the University. The lecture was a rare intellectual treat and was listened to by a large and appreciative audience. The music of the occasion was furnished by the Oak Ridge cornet band, a young, but brilliant and talented musical organization composed of students, and under the tutorage of Prof. Kirkman, the teacher of music in the Institute.

Athletics have been showed under for a month; that is to say, outdoor athletics. The gymnasium has been in full swing, both with regular classes and with the candidates for positions in the baseball team. The outlook for the team is fine, and Wake Forest, Chapel Hill, A. & M. College, Trinity and Guilford may look to their laurels.

The Institute has about 140 boarding students, and the year's enrollment has already passed the 200 mark. Graduating class contains twenty young men.

Effect of Six Per Cent Debt.

LENOIR, N. C., Feb. 21.

To the Editor of the News and Observer: The passage of the six per cent interest law by the Legislature is having its baneful effect already and will paralyze the building up of every town in North Carolina, that has been so greatly benefited by the Building and Loan Association. Seven years since the citizens of Lenoir, organized the "Citizen's Building and Loan Association, of Lenoir." It is managed by a board of twelve directors, and the Secretary and Treasurer are the only paid officers of the organization. Stockholders only could borrow money. One hundred dollars on each share; each share paying into the association twenty five cents a week, and if money had been borrowed, interest at the rate of eight per cent, each week. The borrower paid his eight per cent interest each week, but realized his share of that interest amounting each week to 3 1/2 per cent, so that his money cost him only 4 1/2 per cent per annum. The board of directors had a meeting yesterday afternoon, and after granting thousands of dollars of withdrawals, decided that the treasurer make no new contracts for loans for the present or pay out any money except on contracts already made, and withdrawals. It is probable that a meeting of the stockholders will be held and arrangements made to settle up the Association as soon as it can be done. I represent Nelson's amendment it had been adopted the poor man would have received his money at 4 1/2 per cent and the community have been greatly benefited.

The Keystone of the Arch.

In the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy, but an active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile of the bowels, the circulation of the blood. Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renowned tonic and regulator, Ho-tetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenor of life is being strengthened—that one is laying up a store of vitality against the unavoidable draughts which old age makes upon the system. The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitute it a reliable safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble. Appetite and sleep improve through its use and it protect the system from the effects of cold and damp.

A "CUE" FOR THE PUBLIC.

Helen Barry, the Actress, Finds a Splendid Tonic in Paine's Celery Compound.

The play is done, the curtain drops. Slow falling to the prompter's bell: A moment yet the actress stops and looks around to say farewell. It is an irksome word and task.

And when she's laughed and said her say, She shows she removes her mask a face that's anything but gay. Acting is not all gait, lights, and applause.

There is a deal of drudgery, vexation, and heartache that the people in the front of the house little imagine. Mary Anderson used to advise young stage struck girls to keep off the stage. The feverish excitement, the late hours, the drudgery of rehearsals, the unnatural stimulus from new audiences, rivalry and applause, make the life full of perils to health of mind and body. The careless theater-going public have no notion of the strain on the nerves that is inseparable from a dramatic career.

But members of "the profession" know what it is, and they have, as a body, learned how best to keep their nervous systems strong and capable of doing the hard work demanded of them. That is why Paine's celery compound is so popular on the stage.

Helen Barry, the well known actress, writes to a physician friend, from Tea Box Cottage, Belfort: "It is with great pleasure I write to tell you that I find Paine's celery compound a splendid tonic. I should like you to procure me a few more bottles." Della Fox, when "run down" from overwork, by the advice of the wife of a

T. S. Senator in Washington, tried Paine's celery compound. She says: 'My spirits picked up, and at the end of two weeks the same old exuberant health with which nature blessed me had returned.'

"Late as I slept as I had not done since I was a child, and I have never known since then an hour incoherence from nervous prostration. 'The medicine to which I owe so much is Paine's celery compound, and I have recommended it to all of my stage acquaintances who have overtaxed their brains by too close attention to study, and all have experienced the same happy results as myself.'

Marie Tempest also, and a host more of the most eminent artists who appear before the public, have recently testified to the wonderful reinvigorating power of Paine's celery compound. Their testimony is noteworthy because no class of women work harder or are under greater nervous strain.

Women in every walk of life have reason to be grateful to Prof. Phelps Dartmouth, who discovered Paine's celery compound. He understood the peculiar weakness of the sex. He knew that the headache, insititude, sleeplessness, and loss of appetite all mean that the supply of nervous force is low and inadequate to the demands upon it. The experience of thousands has taught the women of the country that only Paine's celery compound will give health to the nerves, and, through them, to the entire body.
