

HE GOES FOR GROVER

SENATOR STEWART WRITES A THIRD OPEN LETTER TO MR. CLEVELAND.

LETTER TO GOV. STONE THE TEXT.

Senator Stewart Tells the President that Republican Leaders had no Faith in Their Gold Monopoly Scheme Until he E-sponsored their Cause--Declares that the Hereditary Rights of the Descendants of Shylock are Safe in Mr. Cleveland's Hands.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9. Senator Stewart, of Nevada has written a third "open letter" to President Cleveland, taking as his text the President's recent letter to Gov. Stone, of Mississippi. Among other things, Mr. Stewart says:

"The honor and advantages of gold monometalism exclusively belonged to the Republican party under the leadership of Wall and Lombard Streets until you led the scattered forces of Democracy out of the wilderness of financial absurdities taught by Jefferson and his deluded associates."

Senator Stewart tells the President substantially that the Republican leaders mentioning "the Shermans, Harrison, and Reeds, had no faith that their zeal in securing legislation and action for their gold monopoly was shared by the people at large"; that they shrank from public declaration in favor of "the sacred gold standard, which absorbed their private devotion," and concludes by saying:

"Fear not. The Harrisons, the Shermans, the Reeds, and the McKineys will never be able to rally the gold forces of the Republican side to meet the gold forces commanded by you in the contest you have inaugurated for the honor and emoluments of sound money, safe currency, and civil service reform. Their indirect methods served well in the past, while secrecy was the road to success, but will fail in the conflict now raging, while the mighty gold forces give battle in view of all men, where the timid time-servers never appear. The hereditary rights of the descendants of Shylock are safe in your hands. Your decree of low prices and less wages for those who produce, and more gain and less sacrifice for those who absorb, will be executed by the power you command, while the trimmers and dodgers of the Republican fold are confounded and paralyzed by your boldness and dash."

Justice Jackson and the Income Tax.

The fact that Justice Jackson is to be the umpire to shortly settle the income tax case makes his antecedents extremely interesting. A Federal official here said to the Star yesterday that Justice Jackson's legal tendencies caused him to expect that he will take the same ground laid down in Justice Field's dissenting decision. If so, good bye income tax! There is a history about the confirmation of Justice Jackson. He is a Democrat and was appointed by President Harrison. Some Republican Senator at first opposed his confirmation. Senator Hoar, who had recommended him, told his Republican colleagues that he "knew" Judge Jackson—that he was "right" on all the Constitutional amendments and all the war issues, that, in fact, the Republican party, if any question should come up in the United States Supreme Court which might involve the controverted questions of the war, might confidently rely upon Justice Jackson, although a Southern man, to decide in accordance with the Northern view of the constitutional amendments and all vital questions which result from the war.

The Gold Reserve Increasing.

The treasury officials are satisfied with the compliance on the part of the bond syndicate with the contract, at the close of the first three months. On February 8th, the date of the contract, the gold reserve was $42,783,000, which has since been increased to $92,591,579. The treasury officials say that they have no information as to whether the syndicate is buying gold in the West or not, but they are unable to see how the syndicate could meet its contract obligations without buying gold whenever and wherever it could. Not the least important feature of their contract with the government was its agreement to protect the treasury, so far as it was able, from gold withdrawals for export, and at this time, with sterling exchange at its present high rate, this is no light obligation, and it is more than probable that the syndicate has been compelled to make heavy purchases of gold in the West, possibly at a slight premium, in order to cover its foreign bills.

Contest for the Collectorship.

Mr. Charles N. Vance, son of the late Senator Vance, is expected here to-day to file his application for Collector of the Internal Revenue. He is in the contest in earnest and expects to have the backing of some of the most influential men in the State. Mr. Vance is still secretary of the committee of which Senator Jarvis was chairman.

Hon. John S. Henderson is here and is believed by most North Carolinians to be in the lead for Collector of Internal Revenue. The Washington Post of to-day, speaking of his candidacy, says:

When John S. Henderson, of Salisbury, N. C., left Washington last March he departed as a simple ex-member of Congress who had gone down in defeat at the hands of the fusion strength of the Republicans and Populists of the Seventh district, which he had represented continuously since the beginning of the forty-ninth Congress. He returned to Washington yesterday as an applicant for the vacant collectorship of Internal Revenue for the Fifth district, which comprises the Eastern part of North Carolina, a collection district made famous by the contest carried on between the late Senator Vance and Senator Ransom, the bone of their contention being the appointment, at the solicitation of Vance, of Kope Elias for the collectorship.

If there is anything in the recent published statements to the effect that the administration is just now appointing to office only those who are "sound" on the financial question, Mr. Henderson and his friends will, it would seem, have some difficulty in explaining away the several votes cast by Mr. Henderson when, as a member of the Fifty-third Congress he was asked to come to the support of the administration.

Mr. Henderson was one of those who voted for the passage of the so-called seigniorage bill over the Presidential veto, and on the 7th of February, when Mr. Wilson called up the resolution authorizing the issue of bonds to maintain the gold reserve. Mr. Henderson recorded his vote in the negative. A week later, when the proposition was pending to issue gold bonds, and thereby save the government the sum of something like $16,000,000, Mr. Henderson was one of the two men who simply answered "present" on the roll-call, and declined to vote either for or against the resolution. He was associated in this vote with Mr. Buckley Kilgore, since appointed to one of the Indian Territory judgeships.

Mr. W. N. Brockwell, formerly of Raleigh, was one of the speakers at a meeting of the Typographical Union, to protest against giving out the printing of the Patent Office Gazette to private parties, as the Commissioner proposes to do. They hold that the law requires it to be done by the Public Printer.

SAXONIAN ENCAMPMENT.

To Be Organized in Raleigh—Object of the Society of Saxonians—Mr. Ennis Tells of Something Entirely New Under the Sun.

Having heard that a Saxonian Encampment was to be organized in this city, a NEWS AND OBSERVER reporter called yesterday on Mr. P. C. Ennis, the authorized agent of the Society of the Saxonians.

"What new thing is this, Mr. Ennis?" "Saxonianism," replied Mr. Ennis, "is the promulgation of the historical facts and claims, that the great Teutonic race, are the 'lost' ten tribes of Israel; that the Kingdom of Great Britain and the United States of America, are in fact, the Kingdom of Israel proper, according to the Providences of God, that was in the birthright given by Israel to Joseph, and divided between his two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh. Ephraim in this day being found in the monarchy of Great Britain, and Manasseh in the popular government of the United States. It also recognizes the continental Teutons of Europe, as Israelites living outside of the Kingdom of Israel; that Ephraim stands for monarchy of centralized government; in the last days of prophecy, and Manasseh for constitutional government in the same 'last days' of prophecy in the birthright."

"When do you propose to organize the encampment, and how many members will you begin with?" "The Encampment will be organized at once," he said, "there are at least twenty-five or thirty persons in this community already who are converts from 'gentileism' to the belief that the Anglo-Saxons are the ten lost tribes of Israel."

"In addition to the encampment's diffusing knowledge on this great subject, it will be devoted to the moral and civil interests of the community. All subjects which are exciting issues in theology, and party politics, will be excluded. It shall be the aim of the Encampment to make it one of the important institutions of the city, by making its beneficial effects felt by every one."

"It will be the duty also of the Encampment to look after the poor and sick, and render intelligent aid to the needy, thus becoming the acknowledged distributing agency for the community."

"The Encampment will be controlled by regularly elected officers, will meet weekly, like other lodges, give lectures and have a library of Saxonian literature. There are five degrees, all leading up to final fulfillment of God's covenants and promises to Israel, and the literal fulfillment of the same as prophesied. The imparting of scriptural knowledge, and the consummation of the providences of God in His chosen people Israel, are the main objects of the society."

"Invitations will be extended from time to time, to all to visit the encampment so that the aim and object of the institution may be fully presented in the community."

Edison's North Carolina Gold Mine.

The purchase of a gold mine in North Carolina by Mr. Edison suggests the possibility of great development in the gold mining industry. More than forty million dollars in gold have been dug out of the ground in North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, and if Mr. Edison's invention to extract clearly and profitably the gold in refractory ores, notably was sulphurets, North Carolina will have a gold fever like that of California in 1866. Professor Overman was one of the earliest investigators of the gold belt in the Piedmont region of Virginia and the Carolinas. He advanced a theory which subsequent developments have sustained.

"It may be asserted as a fact," said Professor Overman, "that all native sulphurets, particularly the sulphurets of iron, contain gold. As sulphurets cannot possibly penetrate any rock but from below, we may naturally conclude that the heaviest body of such a kind of ore must necessarily lie deep in the earth. This conclusion is supported and confirmed by practice, for all pyritic ores have invariably been found to improve in quality and quantity with depth. This circumstance speaks very favorably for the gold formation of the Southern States. We have here a depth of gold ores of unparalleled extent, immense width and undoubtedly reaching to the primitive rock, which on an average cannot be less than 2,000 feet deep. Here is a mass of precious metals inclosed in a rock, which cannot be exhausted for ages, and in this respect the region in question—Virginia and North Carolina—is the most important of all known gold deposits, California not excepted."

ON NORTH CAROLINA SOIL.

The Game Between U. N. C. and U. Virginia on the Eighteenth.

What the annual athletic contests between Yale and Princeton are to Northern colleges and Northern lovers of collegiate sport are the games, football and baseball, between the University of North Carolina and Virginia teams.

These two colleges were born rivals and the rivalry between them has caused both to reach a degree of athletic excellence that has been attained by no other colleges of the South. At these two institutions the spirit of collegiate athletics sprung up at about the same time. They were the pioneers of Southern athletics and, though other and numerous colleges also took up the love of sport, they have maintained their supremacy, with one or two notable exceptions over all other colleges. Every year for some seven seasons they have fought out the question of which is entitled to the palm of champion between themselves, either on the gridiron or on the diamond; and the teams, though sometimes unevenly matched, have never failed to put up an interesting, hardly won fight.

Of the games the University of Virginia has won the greater number. But probably this is due to the fact that all previous games have been played on Virginia soil. No game cock is at his best off his own barnyard. The reason for this is that North Carolinians do not support the games. The crowds are not large enough.

But this year at Greensboro, on the 18th of May, the two teams of these institutions, pure "college men" with no taint of professionalism, will play a game of ball that should attract attention everywhere. On her native soil, backed by a splendid team, a "corking" battery, North Carolina should win. Everybody will have a chance to go. Special trains are to be run from Raleigh and from other points. "Our boys" should be encouraged.

Memorial Day at Kittrell.

KITTRELL, N. C., May 8th, 1895.

To the Editor of the News and Observer: On Saturday, May 11th at 5 p. m., the people of this place propose to decorate the graves of the Confederate soldiers who found their last home in our midst.

After Gettysburg, when the South was so sorely encumbered with her dead and her wounded, the old Kittrell Springs hotel—widely famous as a resort in its day, and for a while in 1862, when it was believed that McClellan held Richmond in his grasp, and the home of the Confederate President's family was taken by the government for a hospital, hither were brought many of the wounded from the battlefields of Virginia.

The war ended and among the other sad mementoes it left us was the cluster of graves at the hospital. The good women of Oxford, had the remains moved to a knoll near the station, where a little cemetery hedged with cedar shrubs—now grown into trees—was formed.

It is on these graves that we will lay flowers on the 11th. Capt. B. A. Capehart, is expected to deliver an address. All the ministers of the place have been invited to participate in the simple ceremonies.

All who yet bear in tender but proud remembrance those great days and the men who made them great, are invited to come and bring flowers, or to send them to the Rev. J. B. Averett, or to me. O. W. BLACKNALL.

A Bad Condition.

We have before called attention to a great calamity threatening the people of the South. There is ground for this fear. In no section of the country is there greater need for Liver medicines than in the South, and this has encouraged unscrupulous persons to take advantage of people's misery and offer them all sorts of stuff as a cure-all for Liver troubles. Their crime is greater because they must have accomplices to help them in their nefarious work. Their preparations are sold to the druggists at a low price. And the big profit to the druggist is the road by which they reach the public. Druggists of high honor will not be a party to such an outrage. Beware of any dealer who tells you that any Liver Medicine is just the same, or as good as Simmons Liver Regulator, put up by J. H. Zeilin & Co. You know it by the Red Z on the package. The preparations are not the same, nor as good. Stick to the Old Friend. Your health and life should be worth something to you
