WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS TO ROOM THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

THE BOYS STRIKE IT RICH!

They Will Have the Best of the Country Affords For a Week--A Great Scheme For the Exposition and the Reporters--North Carolina Personal--Washington to be Represented at the University Commencement--The North Carolina Geological Display.

Special to the News and Observer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.

The Washington correspondents of the various prominent papers of the country will leave on Monday for a trip through the South. They will be gone just one week but will see the most prominent cities, visiting Atlanta, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Asheville. In each city these men are given the best which the cities can afford. The Southern Railway has been very generous in offering their road and the Pullman Company has offered the best sleepers and library cars which they own. The Arragon and Kimball Hotels of Atlanta, the Lookout Inn of Chattanooga, the Battery Park of Asheville and the Hickory Inn of Hickory, which are noted as the finest hotels in the South will entertain the party and the citizens of each city have furnished carriages and everything that can add to the pleasure and comfort of its guests. The party will be in North Carolina Friday and Saturday, visiting Asheville and having a daylight ride through the mountains of the State. In Asheville, where they are the guests of the Battery Park Hotel, the party will be given a banquet on Friday night by the enterprising citizens of that place, and on Saturday will be driven over the city and to Biltmore, the home of Van derbilt. The entertaining of these men will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the "City in the Mountains", which is already so popular with the people of the North who seek rest and pleasure at the same time. As the party returns they will stop at Hickory for supper, as the guests of the Hickory Inn, and will be royally entertained by its enterprising manager.

Mr. E. P. McKissick, the manager of the Battery Park Hotel, has done everything in his power to make the best of arrangements for the party. The News and Observer and probably the Charlotte Observer will be represented on the trip. The chief object of the visit to Atlanta is to advertise the Exposition throughout the North and Northwest by letting the men give their papers the accounts of the facilities of the Southern city.

In Atlanta Mrs. Joseph Thompson, the president of the Board of Lady Managers, will give a lawn party, and the Capital City Club will give a reception on Tuesday, while on Wednesday the correspondents and their lady friends will accompany them on the trip which will show over the Exposition grounds and given a genuine Southern barbecue, something which many of these Northern men have never learned the better part of. Many of them have never seen growing cotton and some never saw corn growing.

State Geologist Holmes, of North Carolina, who was here yesterday, called on Dr. Day, of the Geological Survey, in regard to the exhibit which will be made for North Carolina by the small appropriation made by Congress, allotting a certain amount to each State. It is probable that the exhibit from the Geological Survey of the United States will have a better exhibit from North Carolina than any other State, as everything possible will be done to place the greatest amount in the little space allowed. Several Geologists are in Atlanta at present, and will show the plans to the correspondents for the exhibit of the Survey. Each Department here will have an exhibit, and the correspondents had been shown these before the packing for shipping had begun.

Mr. Alfred A. Thompson, ex-Mayor of Raleigh, passed through here to-day for New York, from which city he sailed to-day on the steamer Euryma for a trip through Europe, making the greater part of his stay in England. His trip is mainly on business, but he will combine pleasure with it.

Several of the University Alumni leave next week for the State where they will attend the University Centennial. Several young ladies of this city will attend the commencement exercises among them being Misses Lucy Young and Ethel Bagley formerly of Raleigh; Miss Laura Payne, formerly of Chapel Hill; and Miss Bessie Robertson of Charlotte who has been here attending the Gunston Institute in Georgetown for the past session. Miss Robertson will make a visit to Raleigh during the summer.

Miss Lucy London of Pittsboro, who has been attending Gunston Institute, here will make a visit to Rockville to the family of Judge Eadie of Maryland, before returning to her home. Miss London will graduate in instrumental music and has taken high honors in vocal music and French.

Mr. W. R. Tucker was here on his way to New York where I understand he will sail for Europe. He saw the manager and trainer of his little two-year-old horse Jeneola, who quartered at the Alexandria land race track. Jeneola is quite a favorite with the talent, and only last week won the two-year-old mile race from Bob the 14 favorite. She is well worth owning and may be looked out for to do some noble work on the running turf. Her half mile record is 49.34.

Mrs. W. H. Bagley and family will return to Raleigh, their former home, on June 1st. Mrs. Bagley and Miss Belle will remain in Washington for a few weeks and will attend the graduation exercises at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. Cadet Worth Bagley, who was thought, had an enlargement of the muscles of the heart, but who was passed by the Surgeon General, will have six weeks' leave before reporting for duty on the Montgomery, which is at

A DOUBLE LYNCHING

TWO YOUNG MEN HANGED FOR BRUTALLY ASSAULTING A YOUNG LADY.

MOB LED BY THE GIRL'S FATHER.

Judge, Sheriff and Citizens Begged the Mob to Disperse, But All Appeals Were in Vain--They Declared That They Feared Gov. Altgeld Would Pardon the Brutes as he Had Done in Several Other Instances--Hanged Near the Scene of Their Crime.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 25.--Early this morning a mob which had been in possession of Vermillion county's jail for several hours, succeeded in locating John Hanks Jr., and Wm. Boyce in their cells, took them aside and handed them for assaulting Miss Laura Barnett.

From mid-night, when the crowd first made its appearance at the jail, until the victims were reached, it was a determined, desperate struggle of a frenzied mob to meet unyielding justice, battling against heavy oak doors and iron bars and occasionally halted by the grim stand of a little band of defenders of law and order under the command of Sheriff Thompson.

After repeated efforts to break down the outer jail door with a telephone pole the crowd for a moment desisted in their efforts to break into the jail. Ed. McCusker stood on the jail steps and addressed the mob, begging them to desist. They laughed him down. Sheriff Thompson, his wife and deputy sheriff James Sloan also besought the mob to disperse. F. V. Barnett, the father of the injured girl, said to Mrs. Thompson: "Madam, you never had a daughter assaulted and her blood demands vengeance." His reply was wildly applauded.

At two o'clock Sheriff Thompson sent for Judge Bookwalter, of the Circuit Court, who addressed the crowd from the jail corridor. He made an earnest plea to let the law take its course. He assured the men that Hanks and Boyce would receive a severe punishment if found guilty; that the trial jury would do its duty. But the leaders, who were among the most prominent men in the county, replied:

"Yes, we know the jury will convict them and give them a severe sentence, but Governor Altgeld will pardon them out. He recently pardoned three inmates you sent up from Champagne county for the same crime, and he will pardon these men. If any other man than Altgeld was Governor we would not lynch these men. But we are determined he will never have a chance to turn them loose."

With these words they again commenced at 3:30 o'clock.

Sheriff Thompson, finding himself powerless to control the mob telegraphed the Governor asking that the militia be sent to his aid.

At 8:15 the mob seized both of the prisoners and started toward the bridge which was hanged almost upon the scene of the crime.

AN AGED FIEND SUICIDES.

A Sixty Year-Old Man Assaults an Eleven Year-Old Girl.

LAKE VIEW, Mich., May 25.--George Reed, aged sixty, last night committed a criminal assault on the eleven year old daughter of Rev. Clarence Welch, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Reed was arrested.

He asked Sheriff King, of Stanton, the privilege of getting a drink of water. The sheriff granted the request and then proceeded to the hotel with his prisoner. Reed soon showed signs of sickness and in fifteen minutes after reaching the hotel he was dead.

Reed, who was a carriage manufacturer, leaves a widow. The crime was committed at his residence in his wife's absence. Five capsules of cyanide of potassium were found in the vest pocket of the dead man.

Reed was a prominent member of the church of which Mr. Welch is pastor. The child is in a precarious condition.

CARLISLE AGAIN HEARD

ADDRESSES THE PEOPLE OF BOWLING GREEN ON THE MONEY QUESTION.

AND HE STILL OPPOSES SILVER.

The Secretary Says it is Not His Object to Defend the Administration or Congress But that He Wants the Poor Man's Money to Be Just as Good as the Rich Man's Money--Repeated the Arguments Made in His Speeches at Memphis and Covington.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., May 25.--Secretary Carlisle spoke here to-day. His coming had been looked forward to with great pleasure, and Potter's opera house was packed with men soon after noon to-day. Every man in the audience was a voter. That silver has warm devotees in this section of the country is evidence on every side.

The "outs" are almost to the man in favor of free coinage. The administration men here are with President Cleveland. So intense is the feeling that even boys are interested.

At 1 o'clock Clarence Underwood McElroy, defeated candidate for Congress, introduced the Secretary. Mr. Carlisle told the audience that he first came to Bowling Green as a Democrat, preaching Democratic doctrines. He came now as a Democrat still, and in strict adherence with the principles of the party.

"I am not here to defend the administration," said he, "for it needs to be defended by the late Congress. It has done much good. If it had never done anything but repeal the Federal Election law and emancipated the voters of this country, it has done enough to make its session one to be remembered." Then Mr. Carlisle plunged into the currency subject using in their proper places the arguments advanced in Memphis and Covington. In this connection the Secretary remarked: "But little that has not been said on this subject can be said." Then he went into the subject with vim and after arguing for a time he had a point where he became eloquent.

"They say silver," he exclaimed, "is the poor man's money. If it is I want the poor man's money to be as good as the rich man's money. I mean to maintain that doctrine in spite of vituperation and abuse and charges of inconsistency, whatever may be the effect on me, either personally or politically." The Secretary then went on with an outburst of eloquence favoring the poor man and the farmer, and showing them how much poorer they would be with a silver standard. He drew a harrowing picture of the condition of the country under free coinage law. "You know that this late Congress could have passed such a measure," said he, "but it would never have become a law."

At a later period in the speech he said: "It is said that no one but a banker or a rich man is interested in defeating the silver standard. Gentlemen, they are the ones who would profit by a silver standard. They have money and their gold would double in value in case silver was freely coined. He called attention to Thomas Jefferson's order of 1806, stopping the free coinage of silver and sarcastically remarked "and I believe that Thomas Jefferson is still regarded as having been a good Democrat."

Mr. Carlisle and party left for Louisville at 3 p. m. where he will remain until Wednesday, when he will deliver the fourth and last speech.

WANT ANOTHER CONVENTION.

The Atlanta Delegation to Memphis Disatisfied.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 25.--The Atlanta delegation to the Memphis Currency Convention returned home this afternoon and with their arrival the announcement is made that another convention will be called in the fall which will permit a discussion of the financial question.

The Atlanta delegates were supporters of the financial plan of the administration and the announcement of dissatisfaction at the Memphis convention was received with surprise here. It seems that the delegates complain that the entire affair was cut and dried and that nobody had any show to advance any argument that conflicted with the pre-arranged programme. Among the prominent members of the Atlanta delegation were Mr. T. B. Neal, R. T. Maddox and C. A. Collier, bankers; and A. H. Cox and H. T. Imann, of the bar.

The Georgia delegation in caucus before the convention decided to offer a resolution suggesting the unconditional repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on State banks. It seems that they were cut off by the resolution adopted immediately on the assembling of the convention, that all resolutions should be referred to the committee on platform, without debate. Such resolutions as were presented by the Georgia delegates were never heard from again.

The dissatisfaction of the Georgia delegation is expressed in the movement begun on the return trip to Atlanta to call another convention which would permit a full discussion of the financial question and which would be dominated by business men instead of politicians. It is claimed by the members of the Atlanta delegation that not a business man was permitted to open his mouth, the only speeches made being those of Congressman Josiah Patterson, of Tennessee, Richard Clark, of Alabama, and Catchings, of Mississippi.

Nothing has yet been done towards the calling of the new convention further than the announcement that it will be held and that it will be a business men's convention. Members of the Atlanta delegation in interviews on the subject admit that the movement is under way and that they call for another convention has been decided on. This step was agreed upon in conference with delegates from other States, who discussed the matter on the return trip.

Mr. R. M. Moore, vice president of the At-

SEABOARD'S DEFIANCE

THE "BOYCOTTED LINE" DECLARES A RATE WAR ON COMPETITORS.

WILL GO ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

The Road Will Attempt to Extend Its Business Into Europe--Tickets by the Thousand Puts into the Hands of the Scalpers on Broadway--Will the Southern Checkmate the Move--It is a Retaliatory Move and no Scheme to Make Money.

NEW YORK, May 25.--A block of one hundred thousand tickets have been printed, and it is said will shortly be floated on the market by the Seaboard Air Line, unless the Southern Railway can checkmate the move. Following on the heels of the recent boycott of the Seaboard Air Line by the Association, this deal is the most stupendous in years.

A short history of the boycott will make matters plainer. On March 1st last the Southern Railway and Steamship Association ordered a boycott of the Seaboard Air Line by the Association.

Retaliation followed, and the Seaboard Air Line cut passenger rates. Then the Pennsylvania railroad, which was the New York city terminal of the Seaboard, refused to sell its tickets.

Then the Seaboard secured a decision from the United States Circuit Court in Georgia, declaring the boycott unenforceable pending the hearing of the matter.

On May 25 things were not allowed to rest there, however. The Texas facilities of the line and its cheap rate to Atlanta and the South gave the authorities a chance for a big coup, and they decided to take it.

Vice-President St. John then ordered the tickets printed. Then came the problem of floating them.

To this end plans are on foot to establish a line of Seaboard Air Line ticket offices all along Broadway. The scalpers, too, will come in for a big share of the batch, at rates, of course, exceedingly attractive.

But the Seaboard Air Line officers did not rest there. An agent was recently sent to Europe to catch the emigrant business. Offices will be established all over the continent at centers of emigration, from Italy to Norway, and they will offer tickets from any point in Europe to places in the United States as far West as San Francisco.

The Thriftville Line is said to have joined the Seaboard in its plan, and other trans-Atlantic lines are also mentioned.

Connections with these lines will include points in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. This, in brief, is the scheme, and all the competing lines in the Southern Railway and Steamship Association will have to face the music.

Whether this big coup will succeed or not is another question. Railroad men who were asked about it yesterday were doubtful. All recognized that the scheme was not devised because the road needs money, but to beat out its competitors, who have declared the recent boycott.

"There is nothing illegitimate in this issue of tickets," said the general Eastern agent of the Seaboard yesterday, "and you can get from 50 to 100,000 if you want them. We have them in stock."

Mr. Strauss had not much to say about the report. He said that he had no tickets to place, save those in the regular course of business.

PENELOPE A SURPRISE.

She Was Not Reckoned in the Betting But She Won as She Pleas-

BALTIMORE, Md., May 25.--Penelope was the surprise at the closing day of the Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York Spring circuit meeting at Pimlico to-day. National was the tip for the 2:20 trot and sold for $20 in pools of $53. Penelope was not reckoned in the betting, but proved to be the winner in faultless style and won as she pleased.

Prairie Lily was a 5 to 3 favorite over the field for the pace and after finishing a bad fourth in the first heat, clearly outfooted the field in the three succeeding miles.
