GOLD BUGS A-BUZZING

THEY ARE CLAIMING THE VICTORY IN THE KENTUCKY CONVENTION.

IT WILL BE A COMPROMISE.

HARDIN IS GAINING STRENGTH AMONG UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES.

SILVER CANDIDATE LIKELY TO WIN.

The Clay Men Were Beaten in the Selection of a Temporary Chairman, Though the Choice of Both Sides Was a Gold Man--A Majority of the Committee on Resolutions are Opposed to Silver--The Chicago Platform of 1892 Will be Adopted.

CONVENTION HALL, LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 25.—At noon to-day John D. Carroll, Chairman of the State Central Committee called to order what will probably prove the most interesting Democratic Convention ever held in Kentucky. There is a big free silver contingent in the State led by Senator Blackburn, but in this convention the gold advocates are largely in the majority and the platform will undoubtedly endorse that adopted by the National Convention in Chicago in 1892.

This is not, strictly speaking, a gold platform, but it is unequivocally against the free coinage of 16 to 1, and the silver men of Kentucky will not be satisfied with less than this.

The Clay men this morning are claiming increased strength during the night and the Hardin men are not so sanguine, but it is still far from settled who will be the gubernatorial nominee. Besides a Governor this convention will select a Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Attorney-General, Auditor of Land Deeds and Commissioner of Agriculture. It will take at least two days to finish the work and probably three or four. The organization of the committee on resolutions which is composed of one man from each of the eleven districts and two at large to be appointed by the chairman, shows a majority of gold men in the committee. Of the eleven already chosen, seven are gold advocates and four for free silver. As the chairman will appoint the other two and as they are almost sure to be gold men, the committee will then stand nine for gold and four for silver. The committee is as follows:

First, Gus Coulter, silver; second, W. T. Ellis, silver; third, John Rhea, silver; fourth, Ed. Walker, silver; fifth, J. M. Atherton, gold; sixth, R. H. Elliston, gold; seventh, Arthur Yeager, gold; eighth, James B. McCreary, gold; ninth, John F. Hager, gold; tenth, John Salyer, gold; eleventh, George Stone, gold; Joe U. S. Blackburn was beaten by 20 votes in the Seventh district by Arthur Yeager, a gold man.

Breckner Chosen Chairman.
Nominations being next in order, Judge Wm. Breckner, and ex-Congressman W. J. Stone, of Lyons county were nominated for temporary chairman. The voting was watched with much interest as the vote was a test vote, Breckner being the Hardin man and Stone, the choice of the Clay men.

Judge Breckner received 448 1-2 votes on the first ballot against 320 1-2 received by Stone. In taking his place as chairman he said:

"I do not take the result of this ballot as a complaint to myself. The gentleman I have seen fit to represent in this convention has won the fight. We have met here at a time when the return of prosperity is vindicating the Democratic party. Everything is happening just as the Democrats said it would. Let us act in harmony. I heard a man say once:

"Why cannot the Democrats act in harmony as the Republicans do? We're not built that way. The Republican convention was dictated by a boss. We have no collars about our necks. We are not afraid to face our record."

J. K. Schrader, William Cromwell and James E. Stone were elected secretaries of the convention. The list of committees was then sent to the clerk's desk, after which the chairman announced the members at large of the Committee on Resolutions as Judge William Lindsay and K. D. Clardy. Mr. Lindsay is a strong gold advocate, while Mr. Clardy is a free silver admirer, but has not yet determined whether he wants a 16 to 1 ratio. The convention then took a recess until 8 o'clock to night.

Blackburn Criticized.

Senator Joe Blackburn is being somewhat criticized for trying to get in on the committee on resolutions after he had been beaten for the place in his own district—the seventh. When the clerk called out the second district, the chairman announced the Blackburn had received the proxy of W. T. Ellis, who was regularly chosen by the delegation. The second is a free silver district and readily consented to the arrangement that the eloquent Senator might have a chance to use his oratory to some advantage in championing the cause of the white metal. Chairman Breckner did not see it that way, however, and sent word that he could not for a moment entertain such a proposition as Blackburn was not a resident of the Second district.

The Evening Session.
Music Hall was packed to overflowing when Chairman Breckner called the convention to order this evening. A brilliant assemblage filled the boxes and a greater part of the stage, many of the ladies present wearing evening dress. The convention began in a hubbub over a resolution offered by Arthur Wallace, of Louisville, declaring it un-American to discriminate against any man or woman because of their religious preference. The chair referred the resolution to the committee on resolutions. Several of the anti A. P. A. delegates insisted on having the resolution put to the convention, but instead one was put and passed that all resolutions go to the committee for consideration.

A dozen delegates were on their feet at once shouting for recognition, and each wished to push a different motion. For a while the chairman lost all control of the assemblage, and for an hour it seemed that it would be impossible to maintain order. J. P. Helm, chairman of the committee on permanent organization, recommended as permanent chairman Congressman J. S. Berry, James E. Stone for permanent Secretary, and Edward McGrath for Sergeant-at-Arms. These officers were chosen.

In assuming the chairmanship Mr. Berry said:
"The Republicans have been endeavoring to persuade the people that all the bad times were caused by the Democratic party, when, in fact, they were caused by their own iniquities. We have some differences about the currency, but let us make a united front and down the Republicans. Let us move shoulder to shoulder to a triumph in November such as shall teach them a lesson."

A motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow was made by the Clay men. The clerk was an hour calling the roll owing to the tremendous confusion. It was an hour more before quiet could be sufficiently restored for the chairman to announce the result—661 noes to 217 ayes.

After the announcement the disorder increased. A hundred motions were made but the chairman recognized nobody.

Word was sent to the chair that the committee on credentials would not be ready to report until mid-night, and it was announced by the chairman that no business could be properly transacted until the members were properly seated. There were several contested delegations one of them being from Louisville. Notwithstanding the fact that no business could be transacted, even if the noise would permit, the convention persistently refused to adjourn and kept up a constant rattling interspersed with cat calls and cries of "Mr. Chairman."

They might have as well appealed to a post. The chairman in the belief that it would be impossible to go ahead listened to nobody and sat at the table writing a letter. A more extraordinary scene has seldom been seen in a State convention. Gen. Wm Lindsay, of Frankfort, was elected chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Confusion Ends All Business.
At a late hour it looks as though business had come to an end for the night in the Democratic convention. For hours there has been nothing but noise and confusion on the part of the vast assemblage, which completely fills Music Hall. Every effort of the chairman up to 10:30 o'clock to restore order has been ineffectual. Hundreds of motions have been made and none put to a vote and the entire session has been one continuous pandemonium.

At the day session the gold advocates claim they have achieved a decided victory in the election of Judge Breckner, an admirer of the yellow currency, to the temporary chairmanship. The vote was 448 1-2 for Breckner to 419 1-2 for W. J. Stone. Had Stone been elected the victory could have been claimed with equal confidence, for he also was an opponent of free silver. The vote, it is claimed, was a test of the respective strength of the Clay and Hardin factions. The Hardin men believe that their candidate showed strength to win, but the Clay men say there will be some changes when a ballot for Governor is taken.

Three Reports on Platform.

The committee on resolutions will make three reports. One of them signed by John S. Rhea and W. T. Ellis, declares in favor of free coinage; the second, signed by J. D. Clardy and E. D. Walker, re-affirms the Chicago platform of 1892, which is a conservative endorsement of a gold standard, and a third to which is affixed the names of other members, endorses the administration and mentions especially the names of Carlisle and Cleveland. The report signed by Clardy and Walker also endorses the administration, but mentions no names. The committee so far has not been a harmonious one. With two factions, each of nearly equal strength, to contest every point raised, it could hardly be an entirely harmonious assemblage. There is more at stake than has ever been before and the Democrats of the State feel that they must go slowly. That is just what they are doing, but quietly.

The city is full of Republicans who are waiting anxiously to see who is nominated. Among these is W. O. Brady, the Republican nominee for Governor and George Denny, Jr., who recently beat W. C. Owens in the race for Congress in the Ashland district. Almost to a man the Republicans would like to see Hardin nominated because he will present the somewhat singular spectacle of a free silver man running on a platform which has a plank for gold and endorses the administration. Hardin it is claimed, asked the committee on resolutions to give him a silver plank to stand on for the benefit of the party, but the gold standard men would not agree to sacrifice their principles and the minority report was the result.

GERMANY AND SILVER

THAT COUNTRY NOT LIKELY TO CALL AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.

BARON VON THIELMAN'S VIEWS.

The Farming Element of Germany are Bimetallists and Believe There is Need of More Money--Price of Farm Products Have Decreased and They Think Relief can only Come Through Increased Use of Silver--But a Majority of the States are Opposed to It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The German Ambassador, Baron Von Thielman, was asked this morning what action Germany will take with reference to the calling of an international monetary conference. Baron Von Thielman replied:

"Speaking strictly for myself and in not in an official capacity, I do not believe that Germany will take the initiative. A large and influential element of our population are demanding an inflation of our national finances. This element believe that we need more silver. They are bi-metallists. They include very generally the agrarian population of the North and East. The conditions with them are not dissimilar to those among the so-called Granger element in the United States, particularly in the South and West. In both countries the price of farm products has materially decreased, and a change for the better, in their opinion, can only come through a redundancy of the circulating medium."

"Are you favorable to an increased coinage of silver?"
"I am not. I am a gold man. And yet," continued the Ambassador, "the party to which I belong—the Conservative party—is mainly favorable to the free silver policy."

"Do the Conservatives represent the majority of the German people?"
"No; I should say that one-third of our people are Conservatives, one-third are Liberals and the remainder make up the Central or Catholic party."

"The Catholic party does not stand for any material interest, and its vote, therefore, is given, sometimes to the Conservatives and at other times to the Liberals. They are, politically, an uncertain quantity. The Liberals are mainly gold men, but not wholly so; no more so, in fact, than all the Conservatives are advocates of free silver."

"What are the material differences between the Conservatives and the Liberals?"
"Before answering that question," replied the Ambassador, with a quiet smile, "let me ask you a question. What are the differences between the Republican and Democratic parties in the United States? The Eastern Republican, as I understand it, is a high protectionist. The Western Republican, not infrequently demands a revision of the tariff and free trade relations with the rest of the world. The Western and Southern Democrats are radical tariff reformers, but many Eastern Democrats are protectionists. Now, can you tell me just what the actual difference between the two parties is? No! Well, that will explain the situation in Germany, so far as our two great political parties is concerned. Speaking generally, the Conservatives are protectionists and the Liberals are not."

"Will not the agrarian element be sufficiently powerful to force the government to issue invitations to an international money conference?"
"Speaking strictly for myself, I should say not. The majority of our States—we have twenty-five in all—oppose the proposition. I am certain that the imperial government will take no step in the matter until the Reichstag assembles in November. Much will depend upon their action."

FEARFUL RAVAGES OF FEVER

Men Dying by the Scores of Yellow Fever in Santos.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—The American barkentine Priscilla, Captain Klages, arrived here to-day from Rio and Santos, with a cargo of 14,254 bags of coffee.

Capt. Klages reports that when the Priscilla left Santos, May 12th, yellow fever was raging on every side, and the scenes in the city and harbor were harrowing.

Men were dropping dead in the streets, dying by scores in the city and on the vessels in port. Some of the vessels had their flags at half mast day after day for weeks, as man after man of their crews succumbed to the scourge. The death-bell was being rowed about the harbor day and night from vessels collecting the dead and taking them ashore for burial. Some vessels had only one or two men left of their entire crews, and many of them were unable to get away from the pest-hole of fever owing to lack of men.

Seamen were scarce and when vessels lost their crews it was with the greatest difficulty men were secured to take their places. Captains of vessels had to exercise the greatest caution to prevent their crews deserting or being lured ashore by the boarding house masters.

Gladstone Retires From Public Life.

LONDON, June 25.—Hon. Herbert Gladstone this morning, definitely stated that his father would take no further part in public life.

SILVER MEETING AT HICKORY.

Butler, Tillman and Sibley are Expected to be Present at the Meeting.

Special to the News and Observer.

HICKORY, June 25.
A call has been issued requesting all the friends of silver in this section to assemble in Hickory, July 12th.

Senators Butler and Tillman and Hon. Joseph Sibley are expected. The free coinage sentiment is very strong among the Democrats of Catawba county, but it is hardly probable that they will participate actively in the proposed meeting.

The Democrats cannot take kindly to a meeting engineered by the great co-operationist and the avowed presidential candidate of the embryonic silver party.

Mr. L. L. Witherspoon, of Newton, who has recently declared his probable affiliation with the Republican party, seems to occupy a peculiar position. At the last Democratic Judicial Convention for this district, he received the solid support of the Catawba delegation. Some doubts having been expressed concerning Mr. Witherspoon's political position, he took occasion, in an address delivered before the Democratic Club of Hickory last fall, to bitterly deny the aspersions, defend the Democratic President and Congress, and declare that he "had never been anything but a Democrat." He has waited until a late day before expressing his conversion.

A good deal of building is going on here, Messrs. T. E. Fields, E. B. Oline and J. H. Aiken are erecting handsome residences. Dr. B. F. Whiteside has recently completed extensive additions to his house.

Rev. Thos. Hume D. D., is spending a few days at the home of E. B. Oline, Esq.

Mr. Smith, representative from Stanly county in the last Legislature, paid a short visit to Hickory this week.

Cadet C. G. Hall, of West Point, is spending his furlough with his father Mr. P. C. Hall, of this city.

CHARLOTTE NAVAL RESERVES.

They Fail to Turn Out at Inspection of the State Guard.

Special to the News and Observer.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 25.

The Naval Reserves failed to turn out yesterday at inspection, and Col. A. L. Smith, Inspector General, says under a law of the recent Legislature incorporating them in the State Guard, this means disbandment and a surrender of guns and accoutrements to the State. Swift Davis, acting Captain, pending court-martial proceedings against Capt. Wilkes, says the failure to turn out was on personal grounds, in connection with the court-martial, as well as in connection with Officer Winslow, who is said to be unpopular with the boys.

A true bill for larceny was to-day found against Humphries, the Atlanta man charged a month ago with entering the room of Assistant District Attorney Covington at the Central Hotel and stealing money. Humphries is said to belong to one of the most respectable families in Georgia and to have stood high.

The funeral of young Ross Robertson was largely attended, the Hornets' Nest Rifles being in uniform. Among those from a distance were Mrs. A. B. Andrews and A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh.

DEATH OF MR. GEO. F. BISSELL.

He Was One of the Best Known Insurance Men in the Country.

Special to the News and Observer.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 25.

Geo. F. Bissell, of Chicago, Superintendent for the Hartford Insurance Company in the Southern and Western States, died at here yesterday of consumption.

Mr. Bissell was one of the best known insurance men in the country, having been manager for thirty years of the Hartford, with territory extending from Pennsylvania to the Rocky Mountains. He was Vice President of the American Exchange Bank, President of the Illinois Chapter of the Society of Sons of the Revolution, and ex-President of the Union League Club. He was sixty-seven years old. The remains will be taken to Chicago to-morrow.

Ed. Knight, living west of this city, took an axe and crushed a railroad torpedo. A piece of the shell struck a vein in Knight's neck, and it is thought he cannot recover.

GOLD MEN WIN IN OHIO.

Anti-Free Silver Men Fix the Date of the State Convention.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 25.—Senator Brice and the anti-free silver Democrats easily controlled the State Central Committee in its meeting to-day to fix the date of the State convention and provide a temporary organization.

The demand of Allen W. Thurman and the free silver Democrats for an early convention was ignored.

The convention, it was decided, will be held in Springfield on August 20 and 21st.

Senator Brice, by a vote of 19 to 2, was chosen temporary chairman, and so will make the key-note speech of the campaign. It will, of course, be for "Sound Money."

His election will subsequently be made unanimous.

H. W. Lewis, of Dayton, was chosen secretary, and George Foster, of Upper Sandusky, sergeant-at-arms.

The Behring Sea fisheries bill passed its third reading in the House of Lords yesterday, after which Lord Rosebery moved that the House adjourn.

NEW CABINET FORMED

LORD SALISBURY FORMALLY ACCEPTS THE APPOINTMENT AS PREMIER.

MEMBERS OF THE NEW MINISTRY.

Besides Becoming Prime Minister Lord Salisbury Will Take the Foreign Portfolio Temporarily--The Duke of Devonshire Lord President of the Council and Mr. Balfour First Lord of the Treasury--Mr. Gladstone Thinks the Resignation a Mistake.

LONDON, June 25.—An official dispatch from Windsor announces that Lord Salisbury has accepted the commission to form a Ministry and kissed the hand of Her Majesty upon being formally appointed Premier.

The Unionist leaders held a conference at Lord Salisbury's residence at 11 o'clock this morning. The Duke of Devonshire, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Gosch and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach were present.

Lord Salisbury went to Windsor again this afternoon. The Central News is authority for the statement that Lord Salisbury, during his interview with the Queen informed Her Majesty that he was ready to form a Ministry and submitted for her approval a list of the names of the members of the proposed new cabinet.

The members of the new Ministry, so far as they have been selected are officially announced as follows:

Prime Minister and Secretary of State for foreign affairs the Marquis of Salisbury; Lord President of the Council, the Duke of Devonshire; First Lord of the Treasury, Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour; Secretary of State for the Colonies, Right Hon. Jos. Chamberlain; Chancellor of the Exchequer, Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach; First Lord of the Admiralty, Right Hon. George Joachim Goschen. The other places in the Ministry have not as yet been definitely allotted.

The United Press learns that Lord Salisbury, besides becoming Prime Minister, will take the foreign portfolio temporarily. He has made overtures to the Marquis of Dufferin to resign his present office of British Ambassador to France and become Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

The Westminster Gazette says that Lord Rosebery has not received any communication from Lord Salisbury in regard to the conditions of the latter's accepting the office, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that Mr. Gladstone at his conference with Lord Rosebery last night seriously questioned the wisdom of the resignation of the ministry.

Certain liberals believe that Mr. Gladstone, having been physically fortified by his cruise in the North sea, will throw the weight of his influence and eloquence upon the side of his old colleagues, but the ex-Premier's personal friends are strongly opposed to his taking any such course, fearing that the excitement and exertion might cause a physical reaction.

The House of Commons met at 3 o'clock this afternoon and after the transaction of minor business occupying 40 minutes adjourned until noon to-morrow.

Sir. William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he had hoped to be able to give definite information at this time about the course affairs would take but it was impossible for him to do so as such information was not in his possession. Therefore it was better that the House should adjourn.

The National Liberal Federation has in course of preparation a manifesto dealing with the coming general elections.

John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, will open the campaign on July 4th at Manchester, where he will address a mass meeting of the party.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Prince Emanuel, Duke of Aosta, was married in St. Raphael's Catholic Church, at Kingston, on the Thames, at 10:30 o'clock, yesterday morning, to Princess Helene of Orleans, second daughter of the late Count of Paris.

Senators Jones, of Arkansas; Turpie, of Indiana, and Harris, of Tennessee, yesterday issued a call inviting silver Democrats to meet in Washington, D. C., on the 14th of August to formulate plans for the organization of a National Democratic Bimetallic League.

At Point Clear, Baldwin county, Ala., Tom Brown, a negro, was arrested by two men on a charge of burglary. The negro was taken in the direction of the jail, but was found hanging to a tree in a terribly mutilated condition. He revived when cut down but cannot live.

Rates to the Cotton State and International Exposition were promulgated yesterday by Commissioner Finley of the Southern Passenger Association. The basis is approximately one cent a mile on distances of two hundred miles and over and is the lowest rate ever given an exposition, being a little more than half those made for the World's Fair at the outset.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—A convention of the voters of Maryland who are in favor of the free coinage of silver, upon the ratio of 16 to 1, has been called to meet in Washington, D. C., on Friday, July 12. The call is addressed to "all who have intelligence enough to act independently and independence enough to act intelligently."

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—A special from Hampton, S. C., says: News has just reached here of a lynching that took place on Saturday night in Colleton county at a small place called Raysors. The victim was Bill Stokes, colored, who made an assault on a white woman, but did not accomplish his purpose. After his body had been raised in the air it was riddled with bullets.

THE TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

The Second Week of the Session Opens Auspiciously.

Special to the News and Observer.

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 25.
The second week of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly opens more auspiciously than was expected, many prominent educators having arrived by tonight's train to take part in the week's programme.

The exercises this morning consisted of practical talks on the current needs of public education by Dr. Chas. D. McIver, President of the State Normal and Industrial School at Greensboro, and Hon. John C. Scarborough, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Both of these learned gentlemen and apostles of public education were listened to with great interest by a large audience.

This evening the inimitable Polk Miller, of negro dialect renown, entertained a large and cultured audience, as only Polk Miller can, in his own peculiar, matchless and indescribable style. He has the negro dialect down "pat," and tells incidents from real life among the Southern darkeys with a humor, pathos and reality that stamp him a genius. His banjo, too, in the manipulation of which he excels, makes a happy compliment to his lectures. One of the most pleasant and generally enjoyed incidents of the season at the "Atlantic" was a regular old fashioned "Virginia Reel" in the ball room this morning, gotten up on the spur of the moment, and the music for which was rendered by Polk on his banjo.

The first regulation german of the season came off last night and when the thrilling music of the superb band "arose with its voluptuous swell" and the brilliant courtesies of "fair women and brave men" peopled the spacious floor, adorning it with the grace of form and the poetry of motion the scene was truly entrancing.

The following couples took part in the german, which was gracefully led by Milan R. Howard, of Newbern, with Mrs. D. H. Matron, of Roanoke, Va.; Miss Mamie Meyers, of Washington, N. C., with J. K. Morrissy, of Winston; Miss Marie Broadfoot, of Fayetteville, with Tom Rollins, of Asheville; Miss Sue Borden, of Goldsboro, with Thos. C. Denson, of Raleigh; Miss Mary Miller, of Goldsboro, with F. M. London, of Pittsboro; Miss Ethel Roberts, of Durham, with Hon. Thos. Settle, of Reidsville. Miss Dorothy Carr, Castoria, with Dr. Chas. S. Jordan, Asheville; Miss Lucile Taylor, Catharine Lake, with Robert S. Collins, Jacksonville; Miss Nellie Norment, Lumberton, with D. Boyd Kimball, Middleburg; Miss Sophia Martin, Avoca, with Geo. G. Moseley, Raleigh; Miss Bessie Cline, Newton, with J. E. Matlocks, Chapel Hill; Miss Jennie Rowland, Middleboro, with Tom Pace, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. L. Hollister, Newbern, with Willis Collins, Asheville; Mrs. J. E. Tayloe, Washington, with Clarence W. Murphy, Asheville.

Stags: A. H. London, Pittsboro; Fred. Carr, Castoria; John Arrington, Rocky Mount.

Wife and Husband Commit Suicide.

PARIS, June 25.—A sensation has been created here by the suicide of M. Fabrice Carre, a noted barrister and dramatic author, and his wife by shooting themselves with a revolver. M. Carre was well known in political and literary circles. Madame Carre was recently divorced from her former husband, M. Pazzis.
