

BUILDINGS GOING UP

WORK ON THE BAPTIST FEMALE UNIVERSITY PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.

OVER $14,000 ALREADY RAISED.

Raleigh Has Already Contributed Liberally But it Will Do Still More to Push the Handsome Buildings to an Early Completion--The Financial Agent Meeting With Encouragement in the Work of Getting Subscriptions --To be Opened in September, 1896.

Work is rapidly progressing on the principal building of the Baptist Female University at the corner of Edenton and Blount streets. Carpenters, brick-layers, stone-workers and laborers are busy, the foundations have all been completed and the walls are rising rapidly. Even now enough of the general plan of the building can be seen to show that it will be a very large and handsome structure.

The principal building is 190 feet long, containing nine large recitation rooms, two art rooms, a hall that will seat 500, a dining hall that will seat 325, 6 music rooms, 38 bed rooms, 3 rooms for the president, a large double parlor, with all the modern comforts and conveniences.

Much of the success which the movement for the establishment of this institution has attained and the bright prospects for the future which now confronts it, is due to the untiring efforts of Rev. O. L. Stringfield, Secretary of the board of trustees and financial agent of the college, as well as to the generous and broad-minded Baptists of the State.

Mr. Stringfield is a "hustler" and was never still a minute in his life, except when he was asleep. Tall and lithe in figure, his industry is only equalled by his perseverance. During the last two years he has spent time, money and energy in the prosecution of his work in behalf of the University. Himself a self-made man and educated at Wake Forest by his own unaided efforts, he realizes the value of education and wishes to do all in his power to put it in the easy reach of every boy and girl in the land.

Mr. Stringfield is just back from a trip in the mountains in the interest of this college, and will spend the week in Raleigh soliciting subscriptions. When seen by a reporter yesterday he was in the best of spirits.

"Yes," said he in reply to a question, "I have just been spending a week in the mountains, but I didn't go there for rest, or rather I didn't rest while I was there. Times are too hard and money too scarce these days to rest. I visited Hickory, Morganton, Salisbury, Gastonia and other places in the Piedmont section in the interest of the Baptist Female University, and I found the people most generous and warm-hearted. In subscriptions I had remarkable success, raising over two thousand dollars during the week, and under very adverse circumstances."

"I tell you the people are more enthusiastic over the establishment of this school than I have ever known them to be over any similar enterprise. You have no idea how popular it is. I get handsome donations from members of all denominations and also from people of no denomination at all. But of course the Baptists are naturally more interested in the college than are other people, and they propose to make it for the girls what Wake Forest is for the boys of the State."

"We want to have the buildings completed by September, 1896, and we expect to have at least $200,000 in subscriptions by that time, so that we may offer the womanhood of the State such advantages as can come only from an endowed institution of high grade."

"I have no hesitancy in saying that with this fund secured, we can well have at least 300 young women in attendance the first scholastic year. I have the best of reasons for making this prediction."

"Not only the classics and higher mathematics and all the branches usually taught in female colleges will form a part of the curriculum, but there will be a regular business course and the girls will be instructed in such practical studies as will enable them to win for themselves a support in this busy world."

"Unlike what we call business men, we began the erection of the building now being constructed with very little money in the treasury, relying upon the Lord through his servants to furnish the money with which to carry on the work to completion."

"The trustees have it in mind never to stop putting forth earnest efforts until all the buildings are completed, and an endowment and a loan fund is secured. The amount to be secured is fixed in the minds of many at $200,000, $75,000, in buildings and equipments, $25,000, as a loan fund, and $100,000, as an endowment fund. With this we can offer advantages to our young women that will be very large number can and will accept. Under most discouraging circumstances the people of Raleigh have not failed to show a just appreciation of such an institution, and are to be relied upon to continue to make sacrifices for its establishment. We have the site paid for, and about $14,000 in subscriptions. "Very soon we are to pay our contractor $6,000, and urge our friends to do what they can to tide us over the summer with the work. Rev. J. Hartwell Edwards, well known in the State, has been secured to aid us in securing funds for the great work. He is now in the Eastern part of the State. This is his first week's work in the interest of the college."

IN HONOR OF COL. HARRELL.
Resolutions by the Teachers' Assembly on His Retirement as Secretary. Special to the News and Observer.

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., July 3.
On the last day of the meeting of the Teachers' Assembly, June 28, the following officers were elected:
President, Prof. J. Y. Joyner, Greensboro.
Vice-Presidents—Prof. W. L. Potrat, Wake Forest; Col. E. G. Harrell, Raleigh; W. M. Hinton, Elizabeth City; Prof. J. I. Foust, Goldsboro; Prof. M. H. Holt, Oak Ridge; Miss Susie Dinwiddie, Raleigh; Prof. W. L. Foushee, Goldsboro; Miss Mary Cline; Miss Minnie Halliburton, Asheville.
Secretary and Treasurer, C. J. Parker, Raleigh.

Maj. Harrell early in the session indicated his intention of not serving longer as Secretary, and Mr. Parker was elected. Quite a number of reports and resolutions were submitted, among them was the appointment of a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the Assembly of its profound obligations to retiring Secretary Harrell. Following is the report of the committee:

"WHEREAS Col. Eugene G. Harrell was the founder of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, and its faithful and efficient secretary throughout its existence to the present time, and
"WHEREAS this Assembly desires to place on record some expression of its appreciation of his extraordinary service to the cause of education and the welfare of North Carolina, be it, Resolved, That for the first successful organization of teachers and their friends, his skillful management of the same, and thus, indirectly, for the beneficial institution that have been established, or are contemplated in the educative system of the State, for the delightful annual reunion of the profession, and the many privileges enjoyed of hearing distinguished teachers and lecturers from every section of the country; for the conception and execution of the plan for the erection of a commodious building for the accommodation of the teachers at their annual gathering; for the publication of the results of experience in the school-room through the North Carolina Teacher, and for the kindness of the impulse which fired the hearts of the young with the ambition to excel in music and oratory, and has stimulated our highest intentions to renewed efforts for the greatest excellency, no one has contributed so much as Eugene G. Harrell.

"Resolved, That Col. Harrell is richly entitled to and is hereby tendered the profound gratitude of this Assembly for his brilliant services, and for innumerable acts of thoughtful courtesy and kindly self-sacrifice in behalf of the comfort and well-being of its members.
"Resolved, That upon the severance of the official relations that have existed for twelve years past, we bespeak for him happiness and prosperity, and our hearty wishes for his enjoyment of a well earned rest from arduous labors, and for his future success.
"Resolved, That the executive committee is hereby requested to forward these resolutions, properly engrossed and suitably framed, to Col. Harrell as a further mark of our esteem and of the appreciation due his memorable services in the advancement of education, and to the interests of North Carolina.
"Resolved, That a life membership in the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly be issued to him as a further inadequate token of our appreciation."
