Martians" .- The "Trilby" Craze. LONDON, Nov. 23 .- The sudden fit of energy which urged the Sultan of Turkey into doing something towards suppressing anarchy in Asia Minor, a result of the Marquis of Salisbury's mansion house speech, seems to have spent its force and Abdul Hamid is said to have relapsed into his usual lethargic state. Reports of fresh massacres have reached here from many parts of the disturbed empire and in brief, the eastern question, does not appear to be as near solution as it has during the early part of the week. There has been little chance in the nature of the problem before the powers however. Their mutual suspi-cions are actizg as drags upon them and delay decided action upon their part, though the belief still prevails that nothing short of drastic meas-ures will bring the Sultan to terms for any length of time. This step, how-ever, will not be adopted until all hope of a loyal enforcement of the reforms which Abdul Hamid solemnly promised to adopt is gone. A story is published to-day taken from a private letter from Constanti-nople according to which a diver, while recently engaged in assisting the work of driving pnes for a new pier at the Goiden Horn, on reaching the sea bottom was horrified to find himself surrounded by the bodies of a number of men apparently standing upright a-round him. Upon investigation the diver discovered that they were the corpses of students, many of whom were known to him personally, who were recently arrested by the Turkish police and afterwards taken out in boats and drowned in the Bosphorus for taking part in the recent disturbances at Stamboul. All the bodies had leaden weights attached to the feet, which kept them erect. The diver said there were from forty to fifty bodies in that spot alone. THE YALE-PRINCETON GAME. Yale Won in a Great Game by a Score of 20 to 10.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23,-One of the greatest foot-ball games ever played on any field took place to-day between the elevens' of Yale and Princeton. Fully 25,000 people witnessed the contest and the enthusiasm increased from the time the ball was first kicked off, until time was called at the end of the second half, when the score stood 20 to 10 in Yale's fovor. The day dawned bright and clear and was such a one as to delight the heart of any man who had ever seen a contest on the gridiron field.

By the time the game was started not a vacant seat remained in any of the grand stands and hardly any standing room.

The preliminary practice was short and spirited for both sides and at 2:10 o'clock a coin was flipped which de-termined which of the Captains should have the choice of ball or goal. Captain Thorn won the toss and chose the eastern goal, giving his rival the ball. A momentary hush prevailed as Captain Lea placed the ball at the centre of the gridiron for the kick off, and as the leather sailed away over the heads of the Yale players it became the point on which all eyes were forced.

The great star player in to-day's struggle was the light haired Captain of the Yale team, and he covered himself with glory and won for himself a name which will be repeated with awe by future generations of football cranks. The manner in which he bucked the tiger line was phenominal, as was his long runs around the end. Time and again he received the pig skin from Baird's punts and advanced the ball for long gains, and once he started from the Princeton thirty-five yard line and carried the ball to a touch down through the entire Princeton contingent, with practically no interference, Fincke was also a good ground gainer for Yale and played a steady game at the quarter back position. Notwithstanding his lightness he often succeeded in advancing the ball with several tiger players hang-ing upon him. Bass broke through the petition line and secured the leather on fumble by Lea and made one of the most brilliant and effective plays of the game, for he was able to run away from his pursuers and made a touchdown after covering fifty yards. Chadwick did some remarkable blocking as did Rogers and Jerrems also. Dewitt was not used to the full extent of his ability to-day but he did good work for the son's of Eli when he was tried and gained many a good yard for his side. Langdon Lea, the captain of the Tiger team, put up a plucky fight at left end during the first half, but was largely handicapped by his weak shoulder and was forced to give place to Thompson soon after the second half opened. Rosengarten made a pretty run of twenty yards after hav-ing received the ball from a paint and

ANOTHER LYNCHING LIKELY. CHARGED WITH FRATRACIDE.

A White Woman Killed by Negrois and Burned in a House.

GREENWOOD, S. C., Nov. 23 .- An untenanted house on W. P. Shirley' plantation, four miles north of this place, was burned Thursday night, with nine hundred bundles of fodder. Yesterday morning Mr. Shirley found among the ashes of the building what he supposed to be the charred body of a human being and imme-diately summoned Dr. C. W. Cason, who, on examination, pronounced the remains to be that of a woman. The head, arms and lower limbs were en-tirely consumed by the fire, but sufficient evidence remained to satisfy any one that the victim was a woman and that no decomposition had set in when the fire occurred. Subsequent inquiry developed the fact that a white woman in the neighborhood was missing. Her name is Narcissa Bagwell.

John Mitchell and Wash Ware, both colored, were suspected and arrested for killing the woman. Ware has made a statement in which he says that John Mitchell killed her, put her in the house and set fire to it to cover up his crime. He also stated that they would find a satchel belonging to the dead woman on Mitchell's premises On making search, the satchel was found, together with a gold beastpin, both of which were identified as the property of the dead woman.

The woman is known to have had $30 in money on her person when last seen. The negro Mitchell was arrested this morning. He denies any connec tion with the crime. The prisoners were sent to jail at Abbeville this afternoon. An immense crowd is in town and threats of lynching are heard on every hand, but no effort was made to take the prisoners from the officers.

Clarence Parks Arrested for Killing His Brother in Wilkes County. WINSTON, N. C., Nov. 23.-(Special). Clarence Parks, colored, brother of Frank Parks, who was run over by the passenger train near Roaring river Thursday evening, was arrested and jailed to-day on a charge of murdering and placing his brother on the railroad track. The evidence against Clarence is said to be damaging. While two young men were out hunting near Roaring river, Wilkes county to-day, one of the hunters' gun fired accidentally, killing Alexander

Wright, one of the young men, in stantly. Deceased was 22 years old and highly respected. The other young man is almost frantic with grief. It is stated to-day that if the C. F. &

Y. V. Road is sold by sections, the Southern will buy several sections. and in this event the company would not operate that part of its road from Stokesdale to Rural Hall, but will run a train from Mount Airy to Winston, connecting with the Greensboro train here and the Wilmington train at Greensboro.

Rev. W. A. Bunch is the new president of the North Carolina Methodist Protestant Conference. Thomas Mabe and two sons, who vere badly burned in a still-house near Danbury, are still alive, but they cannot live. One of the sons is blind, and the skin is burned off the other one from the waist down. A telegram received here to-day announces the death in Goldsboro last night of James G. Smith, aged 75 years. The deceased was well known. Winston shipped over two hundred thousand pounds of manufactured tobacco this week.

A receiver was appointed to-day for the Elliott Furniture Company, of the Charlotte. The firm's liabilities are placed at $20,000.

DYNAMITE HIS WEAPON THE CRIMSON DEFEATED AGAIN

Harvard Goes Down Before Pennsylvania by a Score of 17 to 14.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 23.—In one of the grandest and most stubbornly fought football games ever witnessed, the plucky Harvard eleven went down before the sturdy Pennsyl-vanians on Soldier's Field this afternoon, fighting desperately and gamely to the last. The score was 17 to 14. Pennsylvania won on the splendid kicking of full-back Brooke which the stiff breeze rendered all too effective in the second half. Harvard lost pri-marily through Brower's two bad bad misses of easy kicks for goal, which deprived the crimson of the four points lacking for victory. But the Harvard eleven with bitter defeat staring them in the face, played fiercely until th very last and even with the wind a gainst them in the second half they rallied and made one of the most magnificent spurts ever seen on the gridiron, before which the gritty men from Philadelphia went like paper.But Pennsylvania won and won gallantly and Harvard must again bear the sorrows of defeat.

The crowd was tremendous and the game was so replete with dramatic incidents that it kept them alternating between intense silence and a frenzy of cheering from the first play till the last.

Long before the game began, the crowd began to swarm through the gates, and when Captain Williams and his sturdy Quaker Eleven ran on the field there were fully 12,000 people sur rounding the gridiron. Pennsylvania did not lack for cheering, for nearly 1,200 enthusiastic "rooters" were of hand to cheer their favorites, and they kept up their sharp, quick "Penn-sy va-ni-a,' ringing uncomfortably Harvard's ears from start to finish.

The stands were alive with colo The west stand was packed solid with one living mass of humanity, who yelled like demons when Harvard made headway. On the eastern side the crimson of Harvard was intermin gled with the red and blue of Pennsyl vania, and the cheers of each college vied with the other continuously.

The day was fine. The threatenin clouds of early morning slowly dis persed, and at noon came the welcome rays of the sun. The day was cool-perhaps a trifle mild. The ground were fairly soft, but, owing to the splendid care taken by the workers of the gridiron, were not soggy enough to prevent a good foothold.

Without detracting from the vic tory which was well earned, the Uar vard team held their own at every stage and outplayed the Quakers int the time, with the one exception of the kicking department, in this Brooky easily excelled.

Brooke made the first five points for his team on a pretty goal from the field, and his kicking time and again put flarvard far back to the other end of the gridiron.

The much heralded strength of the red and blue did not come up dictions or else the Harvard eleven exceeded expectations and perhaps in was a little of both. Harvard was strong to desparation on the defense She held Pennsylvania's advance splen didly and never allowed the visitors to make steady gains. The centre was strong and gave the Quakers all they wanted. On the ends, too, Harvard had the best of it, but at the tackle Wagonhurst and Farrar were more than a match for Rice and Gould. Pennsylvania did not develop any re markable interference, though they tried complicated mass plays on tackle. The backs were not so sure nor did they play as cleanly as did Harvard's, but evidently they were the stronger and heavier set. It was a splendid, a fast game, with little attempt at slugging and dirty plays. The Pennsylvania centre wa continually stopping Harvard from putting the ball into play and several times Referee Pratt gave Harvard ground for this offense. But it was deserved and if anything, the officials were too lenient.

THE CAPTURE OF FORT PELAYO BY GENERAL MAXIMO GOMEZ.

HIS ADVANCE STILL UNCHECKED

He is now in the Vicinity of Santa Spiritus w th a Considerable Force and the Spanish Troops are Unable to Check his Advance -- The Garrison At the Fort taken Prisoners and Deprived of their Arms -- A Bloody Fight in Santa Clara District.

HAVANA, Nov. 23.—Details have been recieved here from Santa Clara of the capture of Fort Pelayo, by Maximo Gomez. Gomez may or may not have been driven across the Zaza river, as officially stated here. He is undoubtedly now in the vicinity of Santa Spiritus with a considerable force of men, and seems to be able to elude the Spanish columns of troops, that were said to be pursuing him out of that province and into Puero Principe. Like Roloff and other insurgent leaders, Gomez has been finding dynamite a very successful weapon in his warfare, and it was by its use Fort Pelayo was capured.

The Fort, however, is only a small, wooden affair, garrisoned by forty soldiers and designed to protect the passage of the river at Pelayo. The place was surrounded by insurgents and the garrison was summoned to surrender; but it refused to do so. The insurgents then retired and soon afterwards, a dynamite bomb was hurled into the Fort and exploded with a loud report, which so alarmed the soldiers, that they surrendered. The amount of damage done by the bomb is not known, and it is understood that nobody was killed.

The soldiers who formed part of the garrison, have arrived at Santa Spiritus after having been deprived by the insurgents of their arms and ammuni-tion. The whereabouts of the remainder of the garrison is not known. There is a report current, that the garrison surrendered before the bomb was thrown, simply when Gomez threatened to have dynamite thrown into the Fort. In official circles, this second version of the affair is not believed, but it is understood that if the officer who commanded for Pelayo reaches Santa Spiritus in safety he will be promptly tried by Court Martial, in which case, it is believed, he will be . made an example of.

The Battalion of Gen. Galio fought in the district of Santa Clara, a number of bands of insurgents. The insurg-ents left dead on the field their chief. More of the insurgents were killed.

THE GREAT WAR GOVERNOR.

Dr. Battle Talks to University Stadents About Vance. APEL HILL, N. C., Nov (Specia.l)-All tastes have been saited in the happenings of the weeek, such have been their variety. Last night, on invitation to give a popular lecture" on Vance, Dr. K. P. Battle out shone himself in an offhand address. The appreciative andience was highly pleased with his pictures of the life of this great Carolinian. The different periods of the "war governors," statesnum service were aptly illustrated by anecdotes and reminiscences. The proceeds are devoted to the Vance monument fund. Rev. John M. Rose, D. D., of Morganton, arrived on the noon train and will on invitation of the Young Men's Christian Association preach the monthly union sermon. The first annual statement of the Co-operative Society is gratifying. It was organized a year ago by the students to save money in the purchase of books and athietic goods. The total business has amounted to $5,280.76; of this $2,100.00 was for dry goods, stationery, etc.; $3,186.85 being the amount for books sold to the students. The total profits have been $341.87.The net profits paying clerk hire (one student who gave small part of his time to it) are $223.53. The society sell's strictly for each to all alike. It has fourteen members and at its anual meeting next Tuesday a dividend of $76.50 will be declared. Students here bought books and goods at a closer figure and the price of books have been reduced fully 5 per cent Richard the III. was the topic at the Shakespeare club, Dr. Thos. Hume pret siding. Thoughtful papers were read by Messrs. Allsbrook, Webb, Jenkins siding. and Carr. Mr. Canada's paper was read by the president. These papers and discussions are special literary treats to students and villagers alike. The more scientific inclined were found at the Elisha Mitchell Society, where Prof. Nitze read a paper on the "Gold Production of North Carolina," and Dr. Whitehead gave a paper on "Internal Secretions, the function of the Pancreas," etc. It is gratifying that gynausum practice and track athletics are receiving more and more attention. A track is being surveyed and will* soon be graded for walking and running contests. It will be a gift by fone of the stadents.

BROOKLYN DAY IN ATLANTA.

Over Twenty Thousand People Visit the Expesition.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 23 .- The dis tinguished delegation from the "City of Churches," which reached Atlanta by special train yesterday, aided by their fellow invaders from Gotham, and twenty thousand enthusiastic citi zens united to make Brooklny Day at the Exposition one of the most conspi cuously successful of the fair. /

The visitors were welcomed by the mayor of Atlanta, Hon. Porter King, to whose adderss Mayor Schieren, of Brooklyn, responded,

President Collier extended a salutation in behalf of the Exposition Company, and Mayor-elect Wurster, of Brooklyn, responded thereto. A poem by Will Carlton was read by Mr. Berr, after which came the oration of the day by Hon. St. Clair McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle. Murat Hal-sted, of the Standard-Union, and William Cullen Bryant, of the Times.

The Brooklyn party arrived at the Exposition soon after 11 o'clock, the mayor being escorted by troop A, magnificently mounted on their own horses. It was a beautiful sight as the troop drew up on the plaza in front of the auditorium and sat with sabres presented, while the mayor and his party drove up and alighted from their cariagesr.

The guests were escorted to the stage Mayor King, of Atlanta, President Collier and Vice-President Buller, of the Exposition Company, and the visitors were greeted with a national air from Sousa's band as they entered the auditorium.

bucking the Yale line. When Armstrong was forced to re tire and Kelly took his place, the spec-tators were treated to a beautiful series of plays by that comparatively inexperienced player, for it was large ly due to his efforts that Princeton was able to score the touch-down which was made by Baird. Rosengar-

Armstrong did some good work in ten had been disqualified for slugging Louis Hinkey and Bannard were put on the field to take his place. This player ably supported Kelly, and must receive part of the credit which Princeton received for the part they took in rushing the ball from the Yale thirty-five-yard line to the touch-down jus mentioned. Thompson, a substitute. did the best tackleing of the game fo he got down the field on every kiel and often tackled the receiver of the ball before he had moved.

The game was remarkably free from trick plays. The Tigers did try a dou-ble pass or two with little avail and made several short gains of fake kicks but aside from this the playing was straight forward, old fashioned foot ball with a deal of kicking on the part of both teams. Baird made numerous well played punts for Princeton and Torne and Jerrems lifted the ball for Yale with never-failing accuracy. Once during the game Thorne at-tempted to kick a goal from the field but his attempt failed and the effort was never repeated.

The game was considerably delayed by frequent trivial injuries, but it is to be remarked that the contest was remarkably free from the ugly features which characterized much of the playing of last year. Not a Yale man left the field from beginning to finish, and no serious injuries were received by the Princeton men who were forced to retire.

Without doubt to-day's contest, weighed from the spirit of manly sport, will give an impetus to foot-ball's interests and next year ought to develop some wonderful things for the science of the game on the gridiron of the club.

PLAYED IN MUD AND SNOW.

Michigan and Minnesota Universities Meet on the Gridiron.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 23,-Michi gan University won a signal triumph over the University of Minnesota on the gridiron to-day. While Minnesota at no time had a chance for winning out, still the Michigan team had to play for every point they got. The core was twenty to nothing. The weather was wet and cold, with just enough wet snow on the field to make it slushy and slippery. The usu-al big "push" of students from the University at Ann Arbor were on hand displaying the orange and blue and fil-ling the air with their favorite yells, and there was no lack of opportunities for cheering their team.

THE FAILING GOLD RESERVE.

Uncle Sam Offers to Pay the Freight Both Ways.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 .- The Treasury Department to-day, in order to recoup in part its failing gold reserve, to-day took the unusual course of a greeing to pay express charges both ways to persons and corporations forwarding gold in exchange for other currency. Secretary Carlisle, in a circular letter sent to United States sub-treasurers during the afternoon, instructed them here to receive gold coins in sums of $500, and multiplies thereof and to pay express charges on the gold and also on the currency returned in exchange thereof. He also instructed the sub- treasurers to receive light weight gold coin and to ascer tain the exact value of such coin and for each troy grain if such coins are found to be below standard weight.

This is believed to be the second time in the history of the government that it has paid express charges both on the gold received and the currency returned therefor. The only excep tion it is said was in 1893 when it was done in a few instances.
