FIVE SENTENCED FOR ARSON.

Lenoir, N. C., May 4 .- (Special)-The case of Wagners and Waycaster for burning W. T. Bryan's store, resi-dence and barn, at Boone, was on trial four days of last week. The jury this morning returned a verdict of guilty and Judge Brown sentenced Marion Waycaster to twenty years as princi-pal; James Connell, who was State's witness, to five years; Lloyd Wagner, Judson Wagner and Mack Wagner, who hired Waycaster and Connell to burn the building, ten years each, all at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Treasury would object to it. There was no reflection on him. The bond resolution should be disposed of in a few hours.

Mr. Frye, in charge of the River and Harbor bill, finally moved to proceed with that bill. The effect of this motion, if adopted, would have been to displace the bond resolution, and praccally defeat it. The motion was defeated-nays, 37;

ayes, 28.

When the vote was announced, Mr Frye remarked that he was indiffercht to the result, but it should be understood that this action was a serious

Let me suggest to the Senator from Maine," interposed Mr. Wolcott, "that the country will be delighted to know that these appropriation bills, carry-ing millions, have been laid aside until some information is had as to bonds which furnish the funds."

Mr. Hill then secured the floor, taking up the thread of his speech, opposing the bond, resolution, begun many days ago. Mr. Hill referred to the "Massachu-setts and Maryland combination," in apeaking of the votes of Mr. Lodge and Mr. Gorman, just given in favor of the bond resolution. The Senator spoke of Mr. Peffer's recent course in striking out of the resolutions the offensive insinuations against the Secretary of the Treasury. By doing this, Mr. Hill said, there had been struck out the only allegations on which the resolutions could be based. Now it was proposed to have an investigation without any allega-

Mr. Sherman asked Mr. Hill to point out any objectionable feature in the resolutions, adding that he would like to know if there was any reflection on ecretary Carlisle, for if there was, he would object to it, as the Secretary was not open to offensive criticism.

Mr. Hill responded that this debate had forced the author of the resolu-tion to strike out the offensive statements. On that alone the Senate and country was to be congratulated. At one time it looked as though the Senate was bound to throw mud.

"I would have the Senate treat John G. Carlisle just as a Democratic House of Representatives treated John Sher-man," said Mr. Hill.

Mr. Sherman rose to say that he had, while Secretary of the Treasury, will-ingly submitted to every Congressional inquiry

"It should be known," said he, "that there is a law dating from the time of Alexander Hamilton, requiring Secretary of the Treasury to submit to any inquiry from Congress.

Mr. Hill thought that should the House or Senate desire any information as to the sale of bonds, or other data regarding the conduct of the Treasury department, that a courteous note ad-

ed by Mr. Chandler for the purchase of $100,000,000 of war material, the re solution of Mr. Hale for calling out the Naval reserves and the purchase of ressels and all the other bills and resolutions introduced bearing on the Cuban question. He quoted from Mr. Vest's speech in the Senate, in which the Missouri Senator referred to Spain as a "toothless old wolf," a speech which Mr. Boutelle said caused great excitement throughout Spain. "If it were parliamentary," said Mr. Bou-telle, "I would say that the record shows that that Senator voted to strike out half the House provision for strengthening the Navy. He quoted Mr. Allen, who he said, voted to strike out all provision for the Navy and also the declaration of Senator Sherman, who voted to strike out two battle ships and was proceeding to read Quigg, (Rep., N. Y.), jumped to his feet, and called Mr. Boutelle to order for violating the rule which provides that members of the House shall not criticise the proceedings in the Senate, "When the gentleman from New York has served here somewhat longer than he has," said Mr. Boutelle, "he will have learned that in order to escape all possible strictures under the rule, it is necessary only to state a hypothetical case. This is a point of order frequently made here, but almost always by new members."

But the Speaker evidently did not coincide with Mr. Boutelle's opinion. "The chair has the impression that the point of order is well taken," he said, amid some applause.

Mr. Boutelle protested against such a ruling, declaring that the idea that a member could not read from the rec ords of the Senate or any other legisla tive body on earth, was a "monstrous proposition." He said he was amazed t such an infantile point of order.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio), decided with Mr. Boutelle, and Mr. Gow (Rep., Pa.), thought the record could be re ferred to, but not commented upon.

Mr. Boutelle, however, acomplishe all that he intended, despite the Chair's ruling. Subsequently, Mr. Sayers, of Texas, moved to concur in the Senate amendment reducing the number of battleships, but, by consent, the motion went over for action until to-mor row, when it is likely that the whole question of large apropriations at this time for strengthening the navy, will be opened and ventilated.

Quite a number of bills were passed during the day, mostly of minor im-portance. Among them were bills for the protection of yacht owners and shipbuilders, to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Illinois river at Grafton, Illinois; to create a new division of the Eastern judicial district was of Texas; to pension Gen. Joseph R. its.

BOUGHT OUT BY THE TRUST.

Winston, N. C., May 4.—(Special.)— A gentleman from Reidsville tells me it is generally believed in that town that the American Tobacco Company has bought two brands of their plug cut, if not the entire plant, of A. H. Motley Tobacco Company. The report is being talked freely in Redisville without a denial. W. W. Fuller, at-torney for the Tobacco Trust, was in Reidsville last week, conferring with the Motley people. This is considered pretty good evidence that a trade has been consummated.
