

CLOSING SCENE OF THE SESSION

the present public school system. I vote no.
Mr. Council—"I believe in appropriating every dollar we can for public education. I have unbounded confidence in the public school system."

MR. HOFFMAN, OF BURKE. Serving His Third Term in the House of Representatives.

if I had to add five cents to the tax to do so.
Smith (col.)—"As the vote is going to be taken away from those that can't read, I want to give them something to help them learn to read and write."

SCHEME OF MONEY DEVIL.

Tried to Commit the House to the Yellow Metal.
The House is not going to be caught out in the could on the money question, if it can help it. And if it is, it's going to at once set about pulling up the tarps sown by the enemy during its temporary somnolence.

A CLERICAL REPRESENTATIVE. Mr. Barnhill, the Senior Member from Pitt.

deed so well done, and not for a moment dreaming that these phreatic schemes have more lives than any fellow that ever raised his tuncful voice on the back yard fence, the House imagined itself safe and came off guard.

Nobody thought to ask its name. Nobody cared what its name was, or indeed whether it had a name or not. But as time went on the secret leaked out, as in the natural course of events it must, that its name was Gold Point.

Happy idea! This fighting the devil with his own fire, and the House seized it as greedily as a hungry spring chicken does a grub worm.
"I've changed my political views within the last few days," announced Mr. Rountree, a recent convert from the faith of Mammon.

without some better reason for such an outrage he'd be compelled to give his voice and his vote in favor of forever wiping such monuments of sordid wealth from the statute books.

CRY OF THE HORSE LEECH.

The Penitentiary Crying for More of the Public Money.
For proof that the penitentiary is a calamity of national breadth, one will hereafter need refer only to the laws of 1899.

Already a bond bill has been passed to pay off its indebtedness of $110,000 and buy farms to the amount of $100,000.

NOT BUYING PIGS IN THE BAG.

House Wants to Know What It's About When Paying Out Money.

And now the State must foot the bill of the Wilson investigation.

MR. JOHNSON, OF SAMPSON. The Populist Leader Who Advocated The University Appropriation Bill.

That upon the order of F. I. Osborne, chairman of the Senate Finance and J. O. Carr, of the House, a joint committee appointed to investigate the matter of J. W. Wilson and S. Otto Wilson, Railroad Commissioners, the Auditor shall issue his warrant for such amounts as are allowed by law, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of said investigation.

It will be observed that no amount is named, but Frank I. Osborne and J. O. Carr are given authority to sign warrants on the Treasury for such amounts as to them may seem fit and proper.

THE HOUSE FOND OF VOTING.

It Elects One Officer as Many as Four Times.
The Keeper of the Capitol yesterday underwent his fourth election in the House.

The Commissioner of Agriculture took his third dose of ballots.

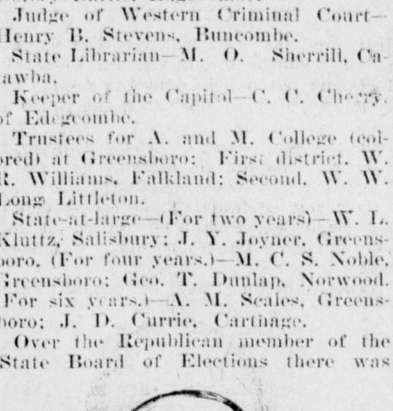

At 11 o'clock, in compliance with a resolution introduced by Judge Allan, the House went into the election of the following officers:

State-at-large—W. S. Primrose, Raleigh; W. H. Ragan, David Clark, Charlotte; T. B. Twitty, Rutherford; A. Lenzar, Mooresville; H. E. Bonitz, Wilmington; R. L. Smith, of Albemarle; H. E. Friess, Winston; P. J. Sinclair, Marion.

At the night session the following elections were held:
Insurance Commissioner—James R. Young, of Henderson.

Trustees for A. and M. College (colored) at Greensboro: First district, W. R. Williams, Falkland; Second, W. W. Long, Littleton.

MR. HOLLAND OF WAKE.

MR. HOLLAND OF WAKE. Senior Member of the House From the Metropolitan County.

some disagreement and considerable discussion.
The committee had recommended Mr. A. B. Bryan, the Representative from Madison.

Mr. Ray, of Macon, nominated Senator J. A. Franks, of Swain, in place of Mr. Bryan.

Several members favored keeping Bryan. Mr. Winston saw no reason why the Senate should come into the House and displace one of the names. He thought it would be a reflection on Mr. Bryan.

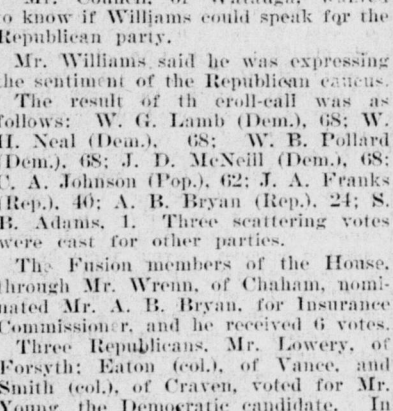

Mr. Williams, of Yadkin, said the Republicans of the House had held a meeting during the day and they had unanimously decided against both Bryan and Adams, had chosen Spencer B. Adams. They said he'd be their man or they'd have no man at all.

Mr. Gattis, of Orange, said the committee had first recommended Bryan, but during the day the committee had met again and had decided to recommend Franks.

Smith (col.) of Craven, wanted Franks "put through." He declared the colored people of the State would be perfectly satisfied with Senator Franks.

Mr. Lowery (Rep.) of Forsyth, thought the Republicans ought to be consulted, and if they were consulted Adams would be selected.

MR. GASTON POWELL OF WAKE.

HALE, STRONG, LIVELY. New Flesh, New Vigor and New Hope.

When a physician discovers, studies or classifies a disease, his name is given to it by his fellow doctors. They think that in this way they pay him a compliment, although the discoverer need not have found a cure for the disease, Dr. Richard Bright, an Englishman, is condemned to a sad immortality which associates his name with a terrible disorder of the kidneys. Bright's disease appears in several forms, it springs from several causes, and the older works on medicine positively declare it to be incurable.

To say that a man has Bright's disease was once considered equivalent to saying that he stood in the valley of the shadow of death. The end was only a question of time. But that was before Warner's Safe Cure had spread its benefits over the land. The story of C. H. Lincoln, of Melford, Mass., shows this wonderful medicine raised a man from his sick bed, even when his closest friends believed they were hoping against hope.

Mr. Lincoln says: "I had typhoid fever and after it came kidney trouble. I tried a dozen doctors and still grew worse. After taking doctor's medicine enough to sink a ship, I heard it whispered around that I had Bright's disease of the kidneys. I knew what that meant, so I pitched the medicine I had outdoors. I then bought one bottle of Warner's Safe Cure and took it according to directions. The first bottle gave me relief and I bought a second. Before that was gone I had gained nearly ten pounds. I continued taking Safe Cure and it cured me. I am fifty-nine years old and enjoy as good health as any man of my age. If anyone has kidney trouble and Warner's Safe Cure will not cure him, nothing this side of the grave will. I believe it is the best and only cure for kidney disease on earth."

Mr. Lincoln is a veteran fireman with a wide acquaintance in Melford. Unconsciously he makes a valuable suggestion to sufferers from kidney disease. Do not wait until you have taken "medicine enough to sink a ship." Maybe in the course of your investigations you will light on a good remedy you never heard of before. But probabilities are all against it.

Nowhere does the proverb, "Delays a re dangerous," apply with such force as in kidney derangement. When Bright's disease has set in, the kidney tissue is breaking down and passing away every minute. The strength of the body is sapped steadily, surely.

Inasmuch as Warner's Safe Cure alone stops kidney degeneration, should it not be used without an hour's delay when pain in the back and head, a cold skin and bad digestion give unmistakable warnings?

As the season of the year when pneumonia, influenza, bronchitis, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt and Henry T. Hicks.
