society were present, including a num-ber of ladies in rich toilette. The presiding judge in the course of his address, recalled the fact that the Comte de Dion, one of the prisoners, was mixed up in a similar affair in 1880. After asking the accused persons reply, the Judge turning towards the Comte de Dion, said he took the principal part in the affair. The Comte. in replying, affirmed that he was not Royalist but a Republican, adding that, however, he desired "another" kind of a republic." He added that he had no idea of going to Auteuil with the object of engaging in a demonstration, but claimed he had the privilege like any other French citizen of cheering for the army. He denied having struck Police Director Tonny, and asserted that he had taken lessons in fencing, boxing and kicking. and that if he had hit anyone the per son struck would not have been capable of coming to court and defying him The Comte de Dion also said that not being a Senator or a Deputy his only chance to speak was in public places and he wished to prove to President Loubet that all the world hated him. The other defendants denied the charges made against them, saying they merely cheered for the army and were thrown to the ground, pounded rageously and otherwise ill-treated. Wit nesses then testified that Police Director Touny was unable to identify hi assailant and that the police were un able to say the prisoners were their assailants.

were dead and if his death occurred a month ago people would have expected a collapse of the revolution to follow.

The failure of the Filipinos to follow the peace negotiations strengthens the impression that their overtures were merely to gain time and in order to lure the Americans to show their hands.

The Independencia, a revolutionary organ of May 20th, a copy of which has just been obtained, prints an interview with General Luna showing the arguments he used to keep up the spirits of his followers. He represents the Filipino cause as prospering, "because the Americans have gained only a hundredth part of Luzon by hard fighting," and avs the women and children tilling the fields within the American lines give proceeds of their work to support the Filipino army. He is said to have further remarked:

"More Americans will be killed by ambuscade, surprises and disease than in battles.

"I detest war, but we cannot accept peace at any price but independence. The Americans suffered for their own independence, and in their own hearts they appreciate why we resist them."

THINK TWILL SOON BE OVER.

Washington, June 15 .- The War Department officials feel greatly encouraged over the dispatch from General Otis today and think that the heavy fighting will soon be over. Information which has been received indicating that the source of supply of ammunition and arms for the Filipinos has been located and that this supply will now be cut off, it is said, will result in disaster to the Filipino army.

THREE NEW REGIMENTS.

"OTIS."

Hard to organize as the Volunteers Wish to Return Home.

(Signed)

Washington, June 15 .- Pursuing a policy determined upon some months ago, General Otis is organizing three regi-ments in the Philippines composed of officers and men of the State volunteers who desire to remain in the service. The army bill authorized this kind of enlistment in the Philippines. If the full complement cannot be made up from those discharged volunteers in the Philippines ,the regiments will be organized and officered in skeleton form until re cruits can be sent from the United States to fill them.

General Otis and volunteer officers in the Philippines have been consulting to whether Fitzsimmons was knocked out. and ended up by saying he thought the Cornishman had had enough.

Mr. Moss then questioned Devery as to whether he had made any attempt to close pool rooms since he was last on the stand Devery said he had not. A wrangle ensued between the two, and unpleasant personalities were passing when Mazet ordered Devery to leave the room. As he made no move. Mr. Mazet called the sergeant-at-arms. Devery then stepped down from the stand and went from the sitting.

Testimony was given to the effect that policemen were guilty of blackmailing disorderly women. This was testified to by an eighteen year old girl who had attempted to kill herself in a Bowery music hall. She said the policemen had a regular schedule of prices for protecting the women of the lower ast Side, which the women had

ARBUCKLE'S MANAGER TALKS.

Thinks His People Can Keep up Fight in Sugar.

Washington, June 15 .- The Industrial Commission held only an afternoon session and heard but one witness today. J. N. Jarvie, of the firm of Arbuckle & Brothers, and manager of the firm's sugar refining business.

Mr. Jarvie put the necessary margin between raw and refined sugar at between fifty and sixty pounds to allow a profit on the business. He said when his firm started business in 1898 this margin was about 90. It had dropped as low as 32 and was now about 50. He explained the entrance of the Arbuckles into the sugar field by saying that in '93 they secured a machine for weighing and packing sugar and undertook to sell package sugar to the wholesale trade. They bought from They bought from the American Refining Company, but found they could make no profit in that way and so started their own refinery. Mr. Jarvie said there had been many overtures from the sugar trust to settle the differences with the Arbuckles but they had all been made "for stock job-bing purposes," and consequently there had been nothing in them.

Witness in speaking of the coffee busi ness in which the American Sugar Refining Company had invaded the Ar buckle's field, said that while there had been a decline in been a decline in prices it would not be fair to lay it all to competition as there had been a great increase in coffee production all over the world, last year's crop going from 11,000,000 to 15,000,000 bags.

Asked if he could suggest any plan that would lessen the present destructive competition in the sugar business, with ness said that the fight could only stop when the one big concern decided to be content with less than 100 per cent of all the business in the country.

When asked how long the rival com panies could keep on selling sugar at i joss, Mr. Jarvie replied cheerfully that he thought a concern supplying 90 per cent of the sugar sold in this country would lose more under those conditions than the firm supplying the other 10 per cent, and that he had the 10 per cent
