WHAT THE ISLAND IS.

Washington, August 7.-The Island of Balbac, the scene of the brush with the Moros, detailed in Admiral Watson's dispatch, is situated southeast of the Island of Balawan, which is the most westerly of the Philippines, and directly west of the Island of Panay. The light there, which was re-established by Lieutenant Commander Nezro, shows for twenty-five miles and is regarded as of considerable importance to navigation, being in direct line between Singapore and the Straits Settlements and the Islands to the north. The island is twenty-two miles long and according to the information in the possession of the Department, has but a population of 1,000. These are described in Admiral Watson's dispatch as Moros, the name ap plied to the fierce natives of the Sulu They are Mohammedans and are regarded as the most war-like people in the Philippines. The capital, Balbac, has a population of 200. The Spanish Government established a military post there in 1857. It consists of a arracks, a hospital and an armed fort. The Manila, the vessel described in the dispatch, is a captured cransport. Its mission in that vicinity is unknown at the Navy Department. It is evident from the dispatch that the Manila has left a landing force there to guard the light and that the Charleston, which is on its way there, will see that the landing party receives such reinforcements as may be deemed necessary.

WASHINGTON'S VIEWS.

Washington, Aug. 7 .- Notwithstanding the growing turbulence in San Domingo, as disclosed in press dispatches, neither the State nor Navy Departments had received anything up to the close of office hours today to show that our officials there were apprehensive over the developments. The authorities here are proceeding on the theory that the existing order of affairs is regular, and this will continue to be the course observed. Only off and the ears and a hand and an arm in the event that the insurrection becomes strong enough to establish a de facto form of government is there any likelihood that its claim could be taken into consideration as against the political de jure government.
