Is it Subjugation, Emigration or Extermination?

NO. IT IS NONE OF THESE

IT IS CHRISTIANIZATION, SAYS REV. DR. BROWN.

HE IS A COLORED DIVINE OF WINSTON

Backbone and Grace Needed in the Pulpit. Condemnation of Rapes and Lyrchings. People Should be Taught to Respect the Law.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 30.-The status of the colored race was discussed today at the second annual convention of the District Foreign Missionary Society of the Colored Baptist churches. The President, Rev. Dr. W. C. Brown, of Winston, N. C., sounded the keynote in his annual address. From the expressions of approval given by the delegates it becomes evident that he voiced their sentiments in condemning unlawfulness by negroes, as well as unlawful punishment of their crimes.

The President said in part:
"The greatest sociological question be fore the people of this country is what shall be done with the negro. Three alternations have been suggested, subjugation, emigration or extermination but the true solution has not been touched-Christianization. Put backbone and grace in the pulpits; put moral Lower and courage into the ministry, both white and black, let them preach fearlessly the gospel of peace and universal brother-hood. Let the people be taught to fear God and keep his commandments; let all, both white and black, be trained to respect the majesty of the law and this much vexed race problem will solve it-

"Let us condemn rape and rapists; lynching and lynchers. Race preachers are a menace to the religion of Jesus Christ, and by cunning, ill-advised indoctrination and subtle theories they are sowing from the pulpits tares in sufficient abundance to choke the maturing grain. Race maniacs may do for politicians, but they will not do for preach-

In indorsing the President's address, Rev. Dr. R. Spiller, of Hampton- Va.,

"I am as ready as anyone to rise up and condemn the wrong doer, be he white or colored. I want to sustain the law, and if necessary for the protection of our homes, to exterminate every negro who disobeys the law."

Delegates are present from Maryland. the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio and North Carolina.

Sparkill, N. Y., Aug. 30.-Workmen digging in the ruins of Saint Agnes Convent and Orphanage found a charred skull, supposed to be that of Jane, the 70 year old pensioner, who perish the fire. It is believed that Theresa Murphy and Anna Brown, the missing children, who, it was hoped, had escapand were in the woods, were burned to death and that their bodies will be found in the ruins, making the total number of dead six.

DICK BLAND'S SUCCESSOR.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 30-Returns from four-fifths of the voting precincts in the Eighth Congressional District In this State, and close estimates of the remaining one-fifth, give the following vote for each candidate for the seat of the late Richard P. Bland:

Judge D. W. Shackleford, (Dem.) 19,830; Wm. J. Voshall, (Rep.) 16,801; A. L. R. Hale, (Pop.) 614. This gives Shackleford a plurality of 3.029. This is about 3,300 less than last year.

DEWEY WILL SAIL TODAY.

Nice, Aug. 30.-Admiral Dewey to day received a visit from Consul Fletcher of Genoa. The cruiser Olympia sails from Ville-franche at 4 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Hans Andersen has a story of a buffalo that scorned the snow flakes. "Pouf," he snorted, "I can blow you away with a breath, what can you do to me?" But the flakes kept falling, falling, until the buffalo was almost buried, and the hunter slipped along the snow crust and made him an easy prey. There's another hunter who hunts to kill, who makes many a man his victim because of a folly like that of the buffalo in Andersen's fable. It's a little thing to have that uneasy feeling in the stomach after eating. Sour risings and belching are also reckoned little things. Yet these little things are among the minor marks of a disordered condition of the stomach and organs of nutrition and digestion. Of themselves they may not kill, but if despised they may open a pathway to some deadly disease. Don't neglect the first symptoms of indigestion or "stomach trouble." The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may avert a more serious danger. It will surely cure any disease of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, excepting cancer.

and nutrition, excepting cancer.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it, till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

MAHDI'S TWO SONS KILLED.

London, Aug. 30.-The Sirdar, General Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, has telegraphed the Foreign Office that the Mahdi's two sons have been killed by British troops while resisting arrest at the village of Skukaba, A force of British troops has been dispatched there, in consequence of a reported Mahdist insurrection on the Blue Nile, instigated by Malifa Cherif and the Mahdi's sons. The latter had been living under supervision of Skukaba. On the arrival of the troops the Dervishers met them with a warm fire. During the fight the Cherif and the Mahdi's sons were killed and the village was burned.

sation Professor Molinier said a change was apparent in Esterhazy's handwriting after 1894 and asked that the Profe sor's former evidence be read.

M. Labori, leading counsel for the defense, inquired if General Mercier intervened with the object of verifying Professor Molinier's evidence. Counsel add ed that it seemed to him General Mercier intervened less in the character of a witness, than as a representative of the Government commissioner.

Mercier replied that on this special oint he desired to confirm the evidence of Professor Molinier, which, he said, corroborated M. Bertillon's statement that Esterhazy, the man of straw, changed his handwriting in order to replace

In conclusion, General Mercier said: "Having emphasized the point in regard to the change in Esterhazy's handwriting in 1897, perhaps before, I am satisfied." (Commotion.)

Professor Giry, also of the School of Ancient Manuscripts, traversed similar ground to that covered by Professor Molinier. He said the bordereau had only a superficial likeness to Dreyfus' handwriting, and asserted that it was certainly the work of Esterhazy.

The witness also said the bordereau was not written with the aid of key words

M. Labori asked if the witness noticed a change in Esterhazy's caligraphy, and Professor Giry replied that he had studied the question, but did not think there had been any marked change.

M. Bertillon at this juncture, said that he desired to speak, but the President of the court, Colonel Jouaust, hastily rose and said amid laughter: "The sitting is suspended."

Then M. Bertillon resumed his seat in high dudgeon.

On the resumption of the sitting, M. Georges Picot, a member of the Institute, was called for the defence, Maitre Demange, of counsel for the prisoner, explaining that Picot was summoned because, in May last he had an interview with a foreign military attache, in the course of which mention was made of the document inserted in the dossier by General Mercier.

Colonel Jouanst recommended the witness to be very cautious in his state-

After promising to exercise care, M Picot started with saying that he had an interview with the Austro-Hungarian military attache. Colonel Jouaust stopped the witness, saying:
"You cannot continue like this."

Major Carriere, the Government commissary, also exclaimed, sharply:

"I protest in the name of the Government and the state against the indiscretion committed by the witness."

M. Picot then recommenced his testimony, saying he had an interview with oles were shut out by Hahn's effective pitching today. Neither pitcher gave a base on ball. Attendance 1,150.

"My impression," added the witness, "was that he was anxious to assert firmly and unequivocally the absolute innocence of Dreyfus," (Sensation.)

"Regarding the bordereau," continued documents, to, the fact being that the others were padding, meant to swell the dossier." Witness noted that the attache employed the expression "hydraulic brake," and never "pneumatic brake."

In regard to Esterhazy, the attache, M. Picot said, declared that he considered him a swindler. The attache also asserted that Esterhazy had relations with Colonel Scwartzkoppen, who dismissed him because Esterhazy only brought information devoid of interest.

It was then, continued M. Picot, that Esterhazy tried to enter the War Office and almost suceeded, and it was then that he wrote to Colonel Schwartzoppen the letter since known as the bordereau. In reply to the writer of the bordereau, added M. Picot, Colonel Schwartoppen wrote the telegram-card, known as the Petit Bleu, but on reflection he crumpled t up and threw it in the fireplace.

At this juncture General Roget asked leave to speak, and stationing himself beside the witness, he said he must strongly protest against M. Picot's evidence regarding the military attache's surprise that French officers did not believe their foreign colleagues.

"It is not for me to accuse or excuse, replied the general. "I confine myself to pointing out to the court that the conversation repeated occurred in Maythat is to say, at the time the investigation of the Court of Cassation was already known. For my part, I only in tervened because French officers have been arraigned, and when being accused, French officers have a right to reply. (Excitement.)

The court closely questioned General Deloye concerning the probability of information being obtained by the pris oner concerning the short gun, the firing manual, etc. In connection with the discussion Drey fus made a statement in the course of which he reiterated his previous statements concerning his knowledge of the short gun. He, with other officers were given some information about the gun in a series of lectures. All his knowlof the gun and other pneumatic brakes had been derived from the lec-

When the prisoner was reseated Major Carriere announced that he had received a letter from General Chamoin, informing him that by order of the Minister of War the Third Artillery Department had prepared a dossier of the documents the defence requested, and that those documents could be submitted to the court by General Deloye under the same conditions as observed in regard to the secret dossier. The Major, therefore asked the court to sit in secret, or be hind closed doors.

M. Demange asked that Majors Hartman and Ducros be allowed to attend when General Deloye communicated the documents.

After the court had deliberated in private, Colonel Jouaust announced that it would sit in secret tomorrow morning, in order to consider the dossier. and that Majors Hartman and Ducros were authorized to attend.

The court adjourned at 11:15 o'clock.

A BIG SCHOOL OPENING.

Kenly, N. C., Aug. 30.—(Special.)— Monday, August 28th, was an educa-tional red-letter day in the history of Kenly, N. C.

Kenly Academy opened under the management of Prof. S. M. Smith with the largest enrollment ever known in the history of the school.

At nine o'clock business was suspended and the citizens of the town, with their families, retired to the beautiful academy building on South Main street where for two hours they listened to stirring educational addresses by prominent speakers.

Kenly is destined to become distinguished as an educational centre, in that it can boast of the largest, best equipped and most attractive school building in Eastern North Carolina, controlled and supervised, during the present session, by faculty second to none in the State. This, the third session, opened with an enrollment three times larger than ever before. Students continue to come in from various sections of the State, and it is probable that before the end of the session, Kenly Academy will stand well up among the secondary schools of

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is.
