(Special to the News and Observer.)

Richmond, Va., May 2.—Richmond celebrated its return home by defeating the fast team from Raleigh yesterday afternoon by the score of 11 to 5. The game started off like a comedy of errors on the part of the visitors, and it was in the first inning that the game was won. After that the visitors settled down to some extent, and throughout the game from that point a splendid exhibition was given and some sensational playing indulged in.

Raleigh had nothing to its credit up to the fifth inning but in that inning they jumped on Bishop for four hits, one of them a home run, over the fence, by Hennager, the first of the season.

Fillman made a sensational catch of Meade's fly in the second inning, when he stumbled and fell and in going down grabbed the ball and held it up. Kelly made a beautiful running catch of LeGrande's fly and Soffle's circus catch in the ninth of Kelly's pop fly caused a thunder of applause. Raleigh's outfield did some good work, while Richmond's base running especially that by Bigbie, Soffle, Kain and Fillman was as fast as ever seen here. Some of Raleigh's errors were costly and the visitors made a great uphill fight, for which the thousand faithfuls gave them credit.

BY THE SKIN OF THE TEETH.

Norfolk Wins From Wilmington by a Score of Nine to Eight.

(Special to the News and Observer.) Norfolk, Va., May 2.—Norfolk defeated Wilmington today by scoring three runs in the last half of the ninth inning on bunched hits, and clever base running by Mullen, who stole second and third. The game was close and belonged to anybody until the last man was out. First one team would take the lead and then the other would catch up and forge ahead. Neither side played a brilliant game in the field, but heavy hitting was a prominent feature.

The score: R. H. E. Norfolk 9 1 0 0 1 0 0 3-9 12 4. Wilmington 10 0 3 0 0 0 2 0-8 10 3.

Batteries: Morrissy and Nelson; Foreman and Thacker.

Messrs. Bland and White, who have been running the Portsmouth club, have turned their franchise over to the league and the team is now being run by the players on it, who continued the games for what they can make out of the gate receipts.

The Triennial Conclave—Knights Templar of America

It Will be Held at Louisville During the Fourth Week in Next August and North Carolina Will be Well Represented.

(Special to the News and Observer.)

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—The Old North State will be well represented at the triennial conclave of the Knights Templars of America in Louisville the fourth week of next August. Dr. Frank T. Meriwether, of Asheville, who is Grand Standard Bearer of the Grand Commandery and Eminent Commander of Cyrene Commandery, No. 5, of Asheville, was here today and closed a contract for quarters for a party of forty Knights and ladies from his commonwealth at one of the well-known Old Southern homes at Broadway and Brook streets. Here will be located the Grand Commandery officers and the "swords" of Cyrene Commandery. However, the members of any of the other ten commanderies—at Enfield, Newbern, Tarboro, Greensboro, Winston, Raleigh, Durham, Charlotte and Wilmington—will be welcomed at this home. Dr. Meriwether said all knights from North Carolina would act as escort to the Grand Commandery.

This will be the first conclave since the original meeting in New York in 1816, that North Carolina has attended, and special attention will be paid to the members of the order from that State on this trip to Louisville.

The preparations for the Louisville conclave are the most extensive ever conducted in a triennial city. There are about 1,500 local Templars at work on the preliminaries. An entertainment fund of $100,000 has been raised to provide a program of attractions. So far as outlined the entertainment will include the following: A big parade, with 300,000 uniformed Knights and 125 bands of music in line, the greatest pageant in the history of the South; a competitive drill, the first in eighteen years, at which five handsome sterling silver trophies, costing over $5,000 will be awarded the successful contestants; a horse display at Churchill Downs, at which only the equine aristocracy of the Blue Grass State will be on exhibition—the trotter, the runner and the pacer in all his glory; boat excursions up the Ohio river every afternoon and night; a grand ball at Confederate Hall, which will accommodate 15,000 dancers and spectators; a reception at the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home, the pioneer institution of the kind in the United States; numerous receptions to the distinguished guests, among whom will be President McKinley, Rear Admiral Schley, Speaker Henderson, of Congress; Grand Sovereign Commander James D. Richardson, of the Southern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masonry; Most Eminent Sir Reuben Hedley Lloyd, of San Francisco and others; divine services at the Broadway Methodist church, within a block of North Carolina headquarters, conducted by Very Eminent Sir and Rev. J. C. W. Cox, of Washington, Iowa, Grand Prelate of the Grand Encampment.

It is estimated that between $40,000 and $50,000 will be spent on illumination and decoration. Among the innovations in this line will be a quadruple arch, which will require 7,000 incandescent lights and cost $5,000, and a floral arch, on which will be placed 5,000 palms and other growing plants.

The weather today is clear and warm. As the President entered the grounds of the University he was welcomed with "Hail to the Chief," sung by a chorus of 1,000 school children and accompanied by the student orchestra. Brief addresses were made by George Alexis and Ernestine M. Theophile, bright pupils of the school. The President made a felicitous response in which he said to the negro children, "I am glad to know that all over the South, where most of you dwell, the States have provided institutions of learning, where every boy and girl can prepare themselves for usefulness and honor under the Government in which they live. The thing today is to be practical. What you want is to get education and with it you want good character and with these you want unflinching industry, and if you have these things, you will have success anywhere and everywhere. God bless you."

Five thousand negroes attended the reception, among them the leading local members of the race.

From the Southern University the President was driven to the historic Cabildo, facing Jackson Square, where a multitude of people had gathered. It was within the Cabildo, in the room now occupied by the State Supreme Court that the transfer was made of the Louisiana Territory by France to Governor Claiborne, the American Commissioner of President Jefferson. The President was received today by Governor Heard, the State officials and the members of the Supreme Court promptly at noon and was escorted to a seat on the right of Chief Justice Nichols. President A. E. Fortier, of the Louisiana Historical Association, was dignified by the Chief Justice and delivered an address on the Historical Associations of the Cabildo. The McKinley Refers to Institutions of Learning Provided.

HE IS RECEIVED BY THE STATE OFFICIALS

(By the Associated Press.)

New Orleans, La., May 2.—President McKinley, accompanied by Governor Heard and Mayor Capdevielle and escorted by a mounted detachment of police and of the Louisiana cavalry troop, left the St. Charles Hotel at 9:29 after breakfasting in his apartments with Mrs. McKinley, and proceeded to the Southern University, a colored institution. He was enthusiastically received by the faculty and students

President made a brief reply and an official record was made of the minutes of the visit of President McKinley to the court.

Afterward the President spoke briefly from the balcony to an immense assembly in the streets.

A national salute brought the ceremonies to a close. President McKinley and his Cabinet made their way with difficulty through the acres of people surrounding the Cabildo on their way back to their hotel. They drove through throngs of cheering people and the President's face was wreathed in smiles as he acknowledged the unceasing demonstrations in his honor. After lunch and a short rest the party, including many of the ladies, was driven to the head of Canal street where they boarded the big river steamer City of St. Louis. On its run up and down the river as far as the scene of the battle of New Orleans, the President's boat, was accompanied by a score of gaily decorated tugs and other craft whose steam whistles found little rest. The levee on either side was lined with people. The party is expected to return at 5 o'clock and board the train at 6.

THE PENITENTIARY DIRECTORS.

The Question of Election of Superintendent May Come up Today.

The penitentiary directors met yesterday morning, were in session during the afternoon and again last night.

Only routine business was transacted and certain rules adopted for management of the institution.

At neither meeting was the subject of election of a superintendent mentioned. That may come up at today's meeting. Four names are mentioned in connection with the superintendency: J. A. Long, of Alamance; A. Lear, of Iredell; J. L. Gwaltney, of Alexander; J. Y. Jordan, of Buncombe.

It is intimated that some man not yet mentioned may be chosen.

The directors are already putting on force business rules for the management of the penitentiary and the prospects are that they will soon be running it on the most economical basis possible.

One reform they decided on yesterday was that all requisitions for supplies to be purchased each month must be in by the first of the month and passed on by the directors. Heretofore purchases have been made at any time and it was impossible to tell with any accuracy what it was costing to maintain each prisoner or just where there ought to be a reduction of expenses.

Other similar business rules are being adopted for the prison here and the farms.

A DEATH FROM SMALLPOX.

A New and Rich Vein of Gold Discovered in Forsyth.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 2.—William Claybrook, colored, died today of smallpox, at his home, Northeast Winston. He had been sick with the disease eight or ten days, and the county physician says it was the most malignant case he has ever seen in this section. Claybrook was quarantined at his home. This disease, which has been prevalent in this section several months is gradually being wiped out. The hot weather is no doubt responsible for it.

A gold vein, which extends from Plattsford, this county, to Yadkin, has just been discovered. An English miner, an intellectual giant of splendid executive ability and sterling character, is superintendent. Prof. Dronjon, in the school for whites, is surrounded by an able corps of 10 teachers, all of whom are doing a most excellent work, but, my, my, how they are hampered by quarters inadequate to the demands upon them. This misfortune, however, will not long remain to cripple and hinder, for the people of progressive Kinston will on Monday next approve an issuance of bonds in the sum of $20,000 to meet these very needs. And right gladly will they be proud of it, too. There are some yet, among the best people of the town, who have not fully determined to put their shoulders also to the wheel and make the victory, as they should, a unanimous one, but many of these will think and act differently by Monday and get on the band wagon of educational endeavor that is surely heading Kinston way. Passing through the city yesterday, your correspondent heard the school question and proposed bond issue discussed on every hand and the prevailing sentiment was that the bond issue would be approved by a good majority. This is as it should be. A town with the advantages of Kinston that is rapidly forging ahead as a manufacturing and commercial center, cannot afford to take a back seat along educational lines and I cannot believe Kinston will. The graded school is a boon to the poor man with one or more children to prepare for usefulness. In no other way can he educate so cheaply. Certainly he cannot for so little a sum as his graded school tax, for any one year provide a single term in any private school. Parents of Kinston, your boy and girl of today, the man and woman of tomorrow, appeal to you in this matter so fraught with well bring to them. In passing, I would speak yet of the Kinston of today.

Interest continues to increase on the graded school question, and Governor Aycock will have an enthusiastic audience hear his address Saturday evening on this subject.

Mrs. F. B. Wimlish, of Raleigh, is here visiting her aunt, Mrs. Henry Taylor.

Presbytery will meet here Friday for the purpose of installing Rev. Jno. E. Wool as pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Martinelli Takes the Oath.

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, May 2.—Cardinal Martinelli took the oath of his new office and subscribed to the profession of faith at the Papal Delegation today. The oath was administered by Mgr. Conati, of the Catholic University, and witnessed by Mgr. Marchetti, the Papal Ablegate.

The Government Buys Bonds.

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, May 2.—The Secretary of the Treasury today purchased $150,000 short term 4 per cent bonds at $113.61, and $125,000 short fours as of April 29th at $113.5953.

A petition to the governors of the New York Stock Exchange was circulated amongst members of the board yesterday to close the exchange on Saturday in order to enable members to catch up with their belated business, owing to the great press of the recent very active market. A special meeting of the governing board would have to be called to consider the petition, as there is no regular meeting between now and Saturday.

The third anniversary of the battle of Manila Bay was celebrated at Washington last night by a banquet at the Raleigh Hotel, participated in by officers of the American fleet who took part in that conflict.

KINSTON IS PROSPERING ON TRUCK FARMS

Its Tobacco Market is One of the Largest in the South. A Glance at Its Growth Since the Federal Troops Captured It.

(Special to The News and Observer.)

Kinston, N. C., May 2.—Travelers passing over the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway need no pen picture to convince them of the fact that the capitol of Lenoir county is a live, progressive town, taking on city-like proportions. Indeed, from the car windows, in passing through Kinston, the watchful eye is greeted in every direction with evidence conclusive. The buzz of the saw, the hum of the hammer, the click of the masons' trowel tell their own story, as building after building is rapidly being erected. Truly the hamlet that was captured by the Federal forces some forty odd years ago is lost sight of in the hustling town of today with its beautifully shaded streets, cozy dwellings, mammoth mercantile houses, tobacco warehouses, prize houses, stem meries, varied manufacturing enterprises, banking institutions and splendid hotel and boarding houses. Within the city limits there are 136 mercantile firms, numerous trucksters' stalls, 9 saloons, hotels, of these a 2-story brick building of 20 rooms with modern equipment owned by a colored man and kept for the patronage of colored people, numerous boarding houses, 4 banks, with an operating capital of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, one of these the Citizens' Savings, N. J. Rouse, president just organized; one other a Dime Savings, owned and operated by a colored man, the deposits of which only a few days since were $10,927.45, a sanitarium, an apary, where in plenty, the busy bee has deposited and made most delicious honey from the sweets gathered from the pretty flowers of neighboring fields and woodland, 2 lumber plants of some 80,000 feet daily output with tram road running out 20 to 30 miles to the pine timber forests, 1 knitting mill for the manufacture of all kinds of hosiery with an output of 425 dozen per day, 1 cotton mill whose daily output of yarn is 6,000 pounds, 1 furniture factory, ice factory of 10 tons daily capacity, 2 buggy factories, 1 machine shop, 2 brick plants, 1 corn and feed mill, 1 mantel, sash, door and blind factory, 1 oil mill, 5 tobacco warehouses with 10 steam houses and 6 prize houses under way for the approaching season which opens August 1st, 1 electric light plant, an excellent afternoon daily, the "Evening Free Press," 2 Baptist, 1 Episcopal, 1 Presbyterian, 1 Disciple, 1 Methodist church and chapel, and a system of graded schools for white and colored with an enrollment for whites of 600, for colored of 350.

Of this graded school system, Prof. L. Crammer Brodga, a Wayne county boy, an intellectual giant of splendid executive ability and sterling character, is superintendent. Prof. Dronjon, in the school for whites, is surrounded by an able corps of 10 teachers, all of whom are doing a most excellent work, but, my, my, how they are hampered by quarters inadequate to the demands upon them.
