GOVERNOR AYCOCK OFFERS $30,000 FOR LYNCHERS

Four Hundred Dollars Each Will be Given For the his splendid country home at Blowing Salisbury Mob.

BIGGEST REWARD EVER HEARD OF IN STATE

Solicitor Hammer May Have+ Names of Several.

THE GOVERNOR HAS BEEN MUCH WORRIED

He Appeals to All Thoughtful and Law-Abiding People in the State to Uphold His Hands in Suppressing This Form of Lawlessness.

Governor Aycock yesterday morning issued a proclamation offering $400 reward for the arrest and conviction of each member of the mob that lynched the two negro boys, Harrison and James Gillespie, who were taken from the jail at Salisbury on the morning of June 11th and hanged without process of law, for the murder of Miss Benson. The proclamation is as follows:

Proclamation by the Governor $400 REWARD.

State of North Carolina,

Executive Department. Whereas, official information has been received at this department that Harrison and James Gillespie were lynched at Salisbury about June 10, 1902, by parties unknown.

And whereas, it appears that the said parties unknown have fled the State, or so concealed themselves that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them;

Now, therefore, I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority in me vested by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of four hundred dollars each for the apprehension and delivery of the said parties unknown or any of them to the sheriff of Rowan county at the court house in Salisbury with evidence sufficient to convict and a conviction, and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminals to justice.

Done at our City of Raleigh, the 18th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and in the one hundred and twenty-sixth year of our American Independence. CHARLES B. AYCOCK.

By the Governor: P. M. PEARSALL, Private Secretary.

As it has been estimated that there for the chief executive to offer, and it looks as if he were determined to do Humphrey. everything to the uttermost to arrest those who flagrantly disregarded law and order. This will lead to important disclosures, if anything will.

The issuing of this proclamation was about the first thing the Governor did upon his return from Cooleemee yesterday morning. Col. P. M. Pearsall, the Governor's Secretary, drew up the paper, and the Governor signed it.

Solicitor Hammer is now in Salisbury and is at work on this case. He thinks that he has the names of several who took part in the lynching, and when further evidence against them is collectgo to the very bottom of this indefensible lynching. Governor Aycock has been very much worried about the matter. The boys charged with the murder were under arrest and in jail, with the certainty of a speedy trial, and the crime for which they were lynched was not the crime for which lynching is ordinarily the penalty in the South, and sometimes in other parts of the country. How far lynching will go and for what crimes it will be practised cannot be determined. It is a form of lawlessness which grows and nothing can stop it but an enlightened public sentiment. The Governor appeals to all thoughtful and lawabiding people in the State to uphold his hands in suppressing it.

A gentleman from Salisbury yesterday said that there was very grave doubt as to the guilt of the younger of the two negroes recently lynched at Salisbury. He says that the parents of the two boys affirmed all the time that the younger boy was at home at the moment of the commission of the crime, while they readily agreed that the elder one was from home. He states that the younger boy died protesting his innocence and singing, "I want to go to Heaven when I die." The Gentleman making this statement is a man well for the public opinion of the State to rise up and put a stop to this form of lawlessness.

REPLIES TO RICHARDSON

The General Deficiency Measure, the Last of the Supply Bills, is Passed. A Speech is Delivered by Mr. Shallenberger.

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, June 18 .- The near approach of the end of the present session of Congress was signalized by a general political speech by Mr. Richardson (Tenn.), the leader of the minority. Taking advantage of the latitude allowed during general debate on the General Dethree new store houses on Corcoran ficiency Bill he delivered a set speech of an hour and a half. Mr. Shallenberger (Dem., Neb.), also made a political speech.

Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, in a brief reply to both speeches, said he was ready to go to the country on the record of the Republican party. In the course of some remarks early in the session Mr. Cannon today that aCpt. Charles Price, of Salis- declared that if he could have his way Congress would adjourn sine die before July 4th.

The General Deficiency Appropriation Bill, the last of the supply bills, was

A night session was held at which the House considered bills reported from the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Mr. Richardson said the Republican party had had absolute control of all branches of the Government for six years. He proposed to examine into its trusteeship.

The dominant party, he said, had come into power with certain ises and pledges and he argued that its record was spotted all over with the leprosy of pledges unredeemed. First he directed attention to the promise of reasonable trade concessions to Cuba solemnly given which had been defeated, he stated, by discord and rebellion in the Republican ranks. He then went back to 1896, charging that the Republicans had betrayed their pledges on the money question and later in 1990 when they appealed for a further lease of power in order to cure the alleged defect in the legislation for the perpetuation of the gold standard. Not one line of remedial legislation had been placed upon the statute books since 1900.

Mr. Richardson announced that in his opinion the gravest danger now threatening the welfare of the people and the country was the growth of the power of the trusts. There was, he declared, an irrepressible cry throughout the country for Government control of the great trusts. Congress alone could heed that cry. If it was not heeded these remorseless trusts could proceed in their greed to defy the power of the Government itself. Mr. Richardson charged that the growth of these great trusts was due to the existence of the highest protective tariff ever season they will be prepared to give ex- placed on the statute books. There was sworn testimony of the beneficiaries of the tariff that it was "the mother of trusts.'

The Sherman Anti-Trust Law to which the dominant party pointed with pride, trusts flourished like mushrooms in a dark cellar. Yet Congress did nothing. If the people did not turn out of power the friends of the trusts, he said, they would deserve the fate the trusts had in store for them. The Repubwith fear. They cried out and asked whether the President and Attorney Gen--President, G. W. Montcastle, Lexing- eral were not now endeavoring to restrain the trusts. That was true, he said, but action against a single trust could accomplish nothing. Congress must act. Presidential strenuousity would not compensate for Congressional ennui.

When Mr. Richardson declared that the Democrats were willing to remain in session until the snow flew in order to give the people some relief from tariff taxaabout the circulation of false reports "From recent developments it would seem that possibly the Government itself was particeps criminis to the circulation of the reports of which the Speaker complained." (Democratic laughter). In conclusion Mr. Richardson charged the Republican party with improper, scandalous and reckless extravagance In four years the increase of appropriations, he said, was $1,067,000,000. For that vast sum of money he asked what the United States had gained and in reply read the closing paragraph of Senator Hoar's Philippine speech, in which the Massachusetts Senator gave a list of the vessels we had acquired by the war with Spain. Mr. Richardson was warmly congratu-in the United States in favor of Cuban Mr. Cannon made a brief reply to the speeches of Mr. Richardson and Mr. Shallenberger. "I listened with care for almost an hour and a half," said Mr.

the administration. He also condemned the action of General Wood in using

Cuban funds to make public sentiment

Cannon, "to the remarks of the gentleman from Tennessee, the leader on the other side of the House, and after listening to him I am here to confess that on this side of the House, and I rather suspect on that side of the House, the millenium has not yet come. (Laughter.) We are not perfect and we do not claim to be. We pull the wagon and we do the work and you find the fault. You had full power under Clevelandyou come in power partially from time to time-but then you had full power It is recent-from 1893 to 1897. Don't you wish you could blot out the recollection of the manner in which you exercised it? (Laughter and applause on the Republican side.) The bill then was read for amendment under the five minute rule.

Mr. Bartlett, of Georgia, offered an amendment to appropriate $25,500 to reimburse the revenues of Cuba for the amount paid to Governor General Wood out of the Cuban revenues by direction of the Secretary of War in excess of his salary as brigadier general.

"With great grief and pain," observed Mr. Cannon sarcastically, 'I' am compelled to raise the point of order that the appropriation is not authorized by Mr. Bartlett pointed out that a somewhat similar provision appeared in a former deficiency bill to pay back to the Cuban revenues the money "stolen by Rathbone and Neely and Reeves." That provision was lost in conference. Nevertheless he did not believe gentlemen on the other side should seek to prevent by a technicality the return of money taken from the Cuban treasury 'illegitimately, illegally and in violation of law.'

"You cannot cry this matter down," said Mr. Bartlett addressing the Republican side; "you might as well face it now. I commend to the country this continued effort on the part of the other side of the House to smother every attempt to investigate the situation of affairs in Cuba."

When Mr. Cannon declined to withdraw his point of order Mr. Bartlett withdrew the amendment. The was then passed.

Case Against McBrayer and Justice May be Nolle Prossed if They Will Turn Over $8,000 Given Them by the

Convicted Men. (Special to the News and Observer.) Charlotte, N. C., June 18 .- In the Federal Court this afternoon Judge Boyd passed sentence partially on Dr. Frank Bright, his father, Rev. T. Bright, and C. D. Wilkie, the newspaper correspondent. The court requires these thtree defendants to return $12,000 of the money to the clerk of the court, who in turn requires them to turn it over to those who were duped by the cherry tree scheme. They are given until the October term of the court which meets in Greensboro to pay over this amount.

The sentence does not stop here. Each of the three defendants are required to give a bond of $2,500 for their appearance at Greensboro, when the judge will give each a term of imprisonment in some county jail. The imprisonment was not inflicted at this time in order that the defendants might arrange their business affairs so that the money may be forthcoming by the next term of the court.

As to Lawyers McBrayer and Justice, Judge Boyd states to your correspondent tonight that he is willing to nolle pros the case against each, provided they turn over the $8,000 that was given them by the three convicted defendants. It is understood that both will agree to do this.

The cases against the other men connected with the swindle have been continued until the October term of court, Col. H. C. Cowles, clerk of the Federal Court, has been appointed custodian of the monies to be paid in by the defendants and he will have charge of distributing the same.

The sentence of the court is regarded here as a humane one, as the money will be distributed to those from whom it was fraudulently extracted.
