Leads all North Carolina TO WIN THE BOERS BY A KIND POLICY

This the Keynote of Chamberlain's Speech,

AND IT EVOKES APPLAUSE

Let Them Preserve Best Characteris tics of the Race.

NO BREAKING WITH OLD TRADITIONS

We Want Them to Shake Hands With Us Thus Securing Prosperity in South Africa Under the Flag Which Protects All.

(By the Associated Press.)

London, July 29 .- Colonial Secretary Chamberlain appeared in the House of Commons this afternoon for the first time since his recent accident. He was greet ed with hearty cheering and later he was warmly congratulated by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal leader of Mr. Chamberlain's appearance marked by a speech, which won the applause even of such opponents as Henry Labouchere. Mr. Chamberlain dealt comprehensively with the past and future of South Africa.

"We have no intention," he declared "that the Boers should break with their league, old traditions. We desire that they should preserve all the best characteristies of their race and hope they will shake hands with us, thus securing prosperity in South Africa under the flag which protects different races and different religions." That sentiment was the keynote of the speech.

Dealing with the much discussed labor question. Mr. Chamberlain said he be lieved every inducement to labor should be held out to the blacks, but no scheme of compulsory labor would receive the slightest government support. There was no intention of packing the country with Britishers, but so much Transvaal land was lying idle that the colonies could only be made a great corn pro- The King Makes Excellent Progress. ducing factor by bringing in British set

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman supplemented his congratulations, asking for information of the colonial conference. He expressed the hope that lenient treatment would be extended to the Boers in South Africa. Mr. Chamberlain number of visitors aboard the royal yacht replied that the one spirit animating the Victoria and Albert today. members of the conference was the desire to draw closer together the constituent parts of the empire, and he thought it safe to say that the conference had made important progress towards a perfeet union to which he himself looked forward. Regarding South Africa, Lord Milner, the High Commissioner, had telegraphed spontaneously that he did pot bition games, whence they will try conthink further legislation necessary to make the banishment proclamation offective. The government, however, rethe new colonies to refuse to allow the return or to keep watch over persons who showed themselves inimical to secol Tarboro order and peace. "We are not going to allow the result of the war to be undermined," said Mr. Chamberlain, "by intrigues carried on by nominally constitutional means."

Regarding the future status of South Africa, the Colonial Secretary said the Imperial Government had established crown colony in the strictest sense. The next step would be to add a nominated official element. Thereafter there would be an elected official element and then nothing but circumstances and time would separate the new colonies from full self-government, the ultimate goa of their ambition. That consummation would not be delayed, if for no other reason, because it might relieve the government of the tremendous burden of responsibility involved in the present situation, but all must understand tha the government would not be rushed or hustled into any action which circumstances did not warrant.

The speaker said he was one of those optimistic enough to believe that the new colonies would reach the ultimate goal of their ambition much sooner than many persons now thought possible. So far as the government was concerned the surrender promises would be kept in spirit, as well as in letter. The government, he said, was bound by honor and interest to this course.

There remained many questions to be dealt with; a new tariff must be arranged involving intricate questions concerning which experts must be consulted, and the taxation of mines must be settled, but he wished to say nothing would be done to punish owners of mines as had been suggested in many quarters The government would do nothing to interfere with a quick revival of dedelopment of the country. Subject to that consideration, Mr. Chamberlain continued, no man was more anxious than he to recover some considerable part o the cost of the war from South Africa. He thought it would be perfectly fair to lay a part of the cost of the war on the principal industry of the Transvaal, but what amount it was too soon to say. Mr. Chamberlain's speech evoked criticism of the financial features of the policy outlined for South Africa from Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, James Bryce and others. Mr. Bryce said he hoped the life or the other fellow's.

national scouts would not be used as national scouts would not be used as police, but Mr. Chamberlain said he could not see why they should not be so employed as he believed they would make admirable civil guards. Mr. Chamberlain also said he hoped the South Africa would exercise the King's clemency in view of the large number of sentences imposed during the war.

The Ambassador Secures Restitution in a Great Embezzlement Case.

(By the Assocated Press.) Washington, July 29.-United States Ambassador Clayton, at Mexico, has succeeded in securing restitution in one of the largest embezzlement cases before the Mexican State Department. Some time ago James Brown Potter, represent ing large American and English interests in the Tlahaulilo Mining Company, of Mexico, appealed to the State Department for Justice, claiming that by fraudulent conspiracy some of the directors of the company had embezzled funds to the amount of over $2,006,000. This, it was charged, was accomplished by packed elections and the bestowal of illegal power upon one of the directors in the company. The fact that some ininvolved i the conspiracy made it almost impossible to obtain justice by the ordinary methods. The State Department referred the case to Ambassador Clayton and he brought it to the attention of the Mexican Government and pressed it so vigorously that he is now able to report that the conspirators have been obliged to disgorge all of the money and securities they had obtained by their fraudulent
