JOSEPH L. WINNER DEAD.

Coast Line Officers' Headquarters in New York ---Central Federation of Labor.

(Special to News and Observer.)
Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 25.—Joseph L. Winner, an aged and highly respected citizen of New Hanover county, died Sunday at his home on Carolina Beach, which resort he was given the honor of founding years ago. Deceased was 68 years of age and leaves a family of four sons and one daughter, the last named residing in Arkansas. The funeral was conducted yesterday afternoon from the late residence and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground on the sound.

Mr. Herbert L. Borden, the newly elected secretary of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company, will have his headquarters in New York. President R. G. Erwin, of the company, and Mr. Henry Walters, chairman of the board of directors, will also have their principal offices in New York, though both officials, it is announced, will spend much of their time in the South. Mr. Elliott, who was recently made president of the parent company of the Atlantic Coast Line, and Mr. R. D. Cronly, who was elected secretary of the same corporation, will move from Wilmington to Baltimore.

A Central Federation of Labor is now in process of formation in this city. The Carpenters' and Joiners' Union is behind the movement for the central organization and it is claimed that every branch of skilled labor in the city will be represented. The organization of the trades in Wilmington during the past three months has been wonderful and still other unions, it is said, are to be formed.

GENERAL GORDON LECTURES.

At North Wilkesboro Within 200 Yards of his Father's Old Home.

(Special to News and Observer.)
North Wilkesboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Gen. J. B. Gordon's lecture, which was delivered here Saturday evening was of more than ordinary interest, as the hall in which he spoke was within 200 yards of the birth place of his father. In fact North Wilkesboro is built on the old Gordon farm and his great grandfather and grandfather's remains lie in our town.

He was introduced by Mr. R. N. Hackett, whose mother's maiden name was Miss Caroline Gordon, and in the audience was Mrs. Ann Finley, who was before her marriage Miss Ann Gordon, and there were something like a score of other descendants of the Gordon who settled in this county over 125 years ago. The General was visibly affected by this, his first visit to the home of his father's boyhood, and many will treasure this occasion as a sweet memory. General Gordon spent the night with Mrs. Ann Finley and many an old memory was recalled.

Mr. Giles Kornegay Dead.

(Special to News and Observer.)
Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Mr. Giles Kornegay died at his home this morning in Dudley in the 67th year of his age. He was perhaps the only man this country has ever seen who lived to see his estate settled by an administrator and then accepted the settlement and began life anew.

He fought for the Confederacy, going through the war from beginning to end. At the close, as nothing whatever was heard from him, he was thought to be dead, and an administrator was appointed to settle his estate. When the settlement was made, to the surprise of everybody who knew him, Mr. Kornegay appeared on the scene. After giving an interesting account of his checkered wanderings in his efforts to reach home Mr. Kornegay settled down in his old community, accepted the settlement of his administrator and began life anew. He accumulated considerable property.

Alexander County News.

(Special to News and Observer.)
Taylorsville, N. C., Nov. 25.—A special term of Alexander county Superior court will be held December 8th, Judge Starbuck will preside.

The Bank of Alexander, Mr. T. W. Watson cashier, is opening up and doing a nice business.

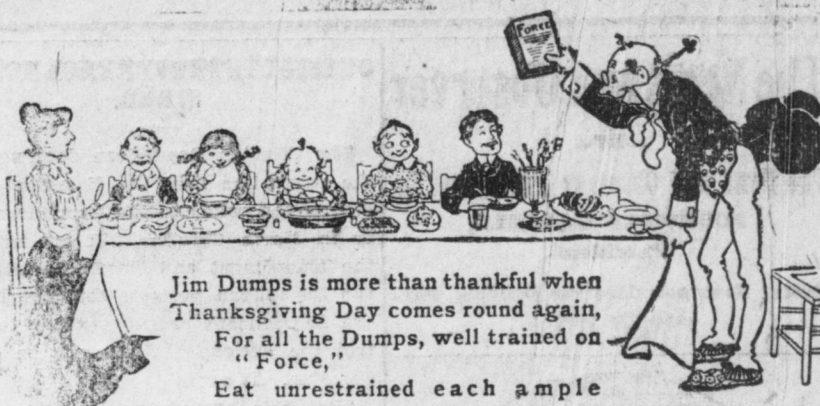

Dont snub a man because he looks green. A watermelon has a similar look, but it is usually all right at heart.
