OLMSTEAD-FETTER.

A Very Pretty Home Wedding Yesterday Evening at 6 O'Clock.

Yesterday evening at 6 o'clock occurred the beautiful home wedding of Miss Dora Rosemond Olmstead and Mr. Harris Augustus Fetter, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. A. E. Olmstead, on East Lenoir street.

The parlors of the home, where the ceremony took place, were tastefully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Rev. W. D. Hubbard, of the Tabernacle Baptist church, officiated. The ring ceremony was used. Only a few intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

The attendants were Miss Pansy Fetter, sister of the groom, with Mr. Frank Cole; Miss Bessie Lewellyn, with Mr. John Olmstead, brother of the bride.

The bride and groom, immediately after the ceremony, took the 6:58 train for Jacksonville, Tampa and other points in Florida. They will be away about two weeks.

Miss Olmstead is a popular and beautiful young lady, loved by all who know her. Mr. Fetter is an engineer on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and has lived in Raleigh for the past nine years. Many valuable presents evidenced the esteem of friends in and out of the city.

The Vance Monument.

The committee appointed by the Vance Monument Association to select a design for the proposed monument met yesterday and considered several suggestions. Those present were Mrs. Armistead Burwell, Mrs. R. L. Gibson and Miss Coddie Pfifer.

It was decided that the best memorial would be a life-size marble statue placed in the lobby of the Carnegie Library. Miss Pfifer, who has charge of negotiations with artists on the subject of design, will proceed in accordance with this decision.

An offer had been made to furnish a bronze figure from the same mould as that from which was cast the statue in the State House grounds at Raleigh, but the committee thought the marble statue placed in the library would be better.—Charlotte Observer.

MR. WALTER GUERRY GREEN WEDS MISS DAISIE HOLT.

Amid the Soft Luminance of Flowers While Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" Pales in Swarming Melody They are Made Man and Wife.

Burlington, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The sound of wedding music was in the air, the wedding march ceased and, while the soft echoes of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" was throbbing its melody the voice of the minister of God was heard, giving in impressive words the vows which joined for life the futures of the couple who stood in bridal array before him.

It was the wedding of Miss Daisie Holt, one of the fairest daughters of Alamance, and Mr. Walter Guerry Green, of Charleston, S. C., a prominent young business man of the metropolis of the "Palmetto State," and to this marriage many friends and relatives had gathered that they might enjoy the rare pleasure of the occasion, and bid "God speed" to the happy couple, whose union of hearts was completed by this union of hands.

The event was an "At Home Wedding" and it took place at half past three o'clock in the drawing room of the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Holt, the brother and sister of the bride. This was charmingly decorated throughout the entire lower floor, the beauty of drawing rooms, dining rooms, gift room and halls, all being enhanced by the decorations, in which chrysanthemums, roses, carnations and Southern smilax, all had a part.

The wedding took place in the drawing room on the right, which, with its background of gold and white was ornamented in Southern smilax, ferns, potted plants and pink carnations, pink being the color scheme of the room, these flowers being in abundance. The bay window, backed in white with lace effect of smilax, had within its embrasure a stand of beautiful pink carnations, amid which waxen tapes glowed, while on each side were jardinières with beautiful ferns. Here it was that the marriage vows were given by the Rev. LeGrand F. Guerry, of Waverly Mills, S. C., the uncle of the groom.

The bride entered down the lower hall, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Robert Lacy Holt, while at the same time the groom, accompanied by his best man came down the broad stairway and joined the bride-elect in the drawing room, where were assembled the relatives, the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding march sounding as the party entered.

The maid of honor was Miss Sarah G. Kenan, of Wilmington, while the groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Frederick L. Green, of Charleston. With these and the bridal couple about the altar the solemn words were spoken, while Miss Hicks, at the grand piano in the hall, rendered Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

The bride made a picture of beauty and grace. She was exquisitely gowned in embroidered chiffon, trimmed with Venetian lace, her bridal veil being of Duchesse lace, plumed with a harvest moon of diamonds, the gift of the groom. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Miss Kenan, the maid of honor, was daintily costumed in Nile green crepe de Chine, trimmed with Venetian point lace. She wore a black picture hat and her ornaments were pearls and diamonds, her bouquet being of white chrysanthemums. The groom, his best man and Mr. Robert L. Holt, were all in Prince Alberts.

After the warm congratulatory words following the marriage a reception was held from four to six o'clock. The receiving party were in the drawing room on the left, where the decorations were in smilax and pink carnations. In the receiving party were Mrs. Walter L. Holt, of Fayetteville, gowned in pink moire de velours, trimmed with point de Venise, and with white beaver hat, white plumes; Mrs. E. C. Holt, of Wilmington, in light blue crepe de Chine, diamonds, blue velvet hat, with Irish point lace; Mrs. James H. Holt, of Burlington, in silver gray embroidered crepe de Chine, diamonds, white moire hat; Mrs. W. I. Holt, in blue cloth, real Irish point lace, diamonds, white lace hat; Mrs. George T. Pringle, of Charleston, S. C., in black crepe de Chine, point lace and diamonds; Mrs. William T. Beidler, of Baltimore, in black cloth, white lace and diamonds. These, all relatives of the families, assisted the bride and groom in receiving the one hundred and fifty and more guests present during the afternoon.

Passing from the receiving room to the dining room, where refreshments were served, the guests found the spacious hall, with its handsome settings, beautifully decorated in smilax and yellow chrysanthemums, the stair rail being garlanded in yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining room the pink color scheme was delightfully carried out. In the centre of the table, beneath the chandelier, trimmed in smilax, was a huge stand of La France roses, while the waxen tapers gleamed from beneath covers of pink. The already handsome room was made more beautiful and here the guests were served, the menu being under the personal supervision of Flederman, of Baltimore, a celebrated caterer.

The menu was:
Croquettes and Peas.
Chicken Salad. Fancy Individual Ices.
Meringues. Roman Punch.
Coffee and Champagne.

Just across the hall from the dining room was the gift room. In it was to be seen the handsome remembrances to the happy couple from many sections. The room had its floral decorations, but it was the wedding gifts that attracted all. There were over two hundred of these, and they were in silver, in china, in cut glass, all of many designs, while handsome pictures, bronze statuettes and valuable bric-a-brac of all kinds added to the number. These many and costly gifts showed the popularity of the young couple, and all were greatly admired.

During the entire reception music was rendered by the Italian band from Wilson, and the many guests enjoyed an afternoon of great pleasure, while congratulations were showered on bride and groom.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Green left on the evening train, going via Greensboro to a number of points south on a bridal tour.

The wedding and its attendant social events have drawn here many friends of the bride and groom, and to friends here and from a distance the wedding has proved one of the most delightful events of the year.

The bride is a beautiful and charming young woman. She is of the brunette type of beauty and her graces of manner have won hosts of friends. She is a social favorite North and South, and is a daughter of the late James H. Holt, the pioneer of the cotton mill industry in this State, and a niece of the late Governor Thomas M. Holt. In all respects she is one of the most popular young ladies of the "Old North State," not only possessing the natural charms of beauty, but a combination of winning ways that has placed her among the reigning belles of the State. Her family name is one, which is synonymous with Alamance, and she is a worthy daughter of the Holts.

The groom is a prominent and successful young business man of Charleston, S. C. He comes of a distinguished family of South Carolinian, and is popular in both social and business circles. It is certain that his bride will make their home a popular and delightful one in the "City by the Sea," and that she will win new friends for the family.

Among the guests who were present at the wedding and reception were those who are mentioned as being present at the German last night and other prominent people from North Carolina and other States, while a host of friends from this section were in attendance to give all manner of good wishes to the happy couple.

THE GERMAN MONDAY NIGHT.

The ante-nuptial social events had their culmination in a most charming dance last night at the Burlington Inn, followed by double receptions held at the homes of relatives of the bride-elect, Mr. Lawrence S. Holt, the uncle of Miss Holt, and Col. James H. Holt, her brother.

At the Burlington Inn the dance was held in the spacious dining hall which, with its decoration of handsome flowers and national colors made a fitting setting for so brilliant a scene. At the east end of the hall was suspended a floral wreath, exquisitely designed and bearing on it the names, "Green-Holt," in pink and white carnations, the whole bordered in Southern smilax.

The dance music for the German was furnished by the Italian band of Wilson, and the floor was in perfect condition. Amid such environment the hours sped quickly on, as beautiful women in enchanting costumes made pictures fair to look upon, before whom gallant men, in evening dress, made abasement in rapt devotion.

The German was most graciously led by Mr. W. Manley Baker, of Burlington, with Miss Lois Holt, of Charlotte, assisted by Mr. Lawrence S. Holt, Jr., with Miss Irma Joyner, of Baltimore. One of the many new figures introduced was a gem, in which the letters "G" and "H" were formed by the couples.

The couples participating in the dance were: Miss Daisie Holt with Mr. Walter Guerry Green, of Charleston, S. C.; Miss Katie Lee Banks with Mr. Holt Laidt; Miss Owens, of New York, with Mr. Irwin Holt; Miss Barnes, of Virginia, with Col. Eugene Holt; Miss Irma Joyner, of Baltimore, with Mr. Lawrence S. Holt, Jr.; Miss Sarah C. Kenan with Mr. Robert Lacy Holt; Miss Sallie Colten, of Tarboro, with Mr. F. L. Williamson; Miss Addie Moore, of Morgantown, with Mr. Joseph Gant; Miss Lord, of Pennsylvania, with Mr. Victor Graves; Miss Margarette Smedes, of Raleigh, with Mr. J. L. Barham, of Virginia; Miss Jessamine Gant with Mr. Louis B. Williamson; Miss Ethel Holt, of Charlotte, with Mr. L. Banks Williamson; Miss Daisy Haines, of Winton, with Mr. Harry Patti, of Asheville; Miss Florence Holt with Mr. Watkins Robards, of Raleigh; Miss Margarette Holt with Mr. Lynn B. Williamson; Miss Hallie Irwin with Mr. Hal Mebane; Miss Lois Holt, of Charlotte, with Mr. W. Manley Baker; Miss Neal Norwood with Mr. Clyde Hunter; Miss Addie Jones, of Montgomery, Ala., with Mr. Norman H. Johnson; Miss Mamie Parker with Dr. Moore; Miss Bertha Holt with Mr. Holt Haywood; Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Holt; Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson, Jr.; Colonel and Mrs. J. H. Holt; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Holt, of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holt, of Fayetteville; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams, of Fayetteville; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Minnefee, of Graham; Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Williamson, of Wilmington.

Stags.—Watts Richardson, of Greensboro; Fred Lemly, of Winston; Kenneth Gant, Mr. Galloway, W. G. Green, of Camden, S. C., and Mr. F. L. Green, of Charleston; Jim Corrigan.

Chaperones.—Mrs. J. Q. Gant, Mrs. J. H. Spencer, of Martinsville, Va.; Mrs. George T. Pringle, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. W. T. Beidler, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holt, Mrs. E. M. Ward.

After the close of the delightful German the entire party, divided into two groups, were entertained at a midnight luncheon, one of these being at the residence of Mr. Lawrence S. Holt, and the other at that of Col. James H. Holt.

The menus at both luncheons were served by Dughl, of Raleigh, and these were in his always excellent style. These receptions were enjoyed greatly, and it was with regret that the happy parties found that the hours had slipped away and that time of departure had come.

The evening was full of pleasure, and it was a most pleasant introduction to the events of the wedding, which came in all its beauty this afternoon.
EDWARD E. BRITTON.

Moore-Graham.

Raeford, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Mary Bettie Graham, of Union Ridge, N. C., to Mr. Benjett F. Moore, of Raeford, N. C., was an event of great interest to the social circles of Raeford.

The nuptials were solemnized at eight o'clock, a. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Graham, at Union Ridge.

The bridal party consisted of Miss Moore, of Florida; Miss Robey, of Baltimore; Messrs. W. B. McLaughlin, and W. T. Covington, of Raeford.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by the bridal party, left for Raeford. They arrived here at five o'clock, and were welcomed by hosts of friends.

Wednesday night the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore was the scene of an elegant reception, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Benjett F. Moore. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams received at the door; they were assisted by Misses Ida McLaughlin, Esther and Maggie Numan, Fannie Dixon, Lizzie McDuffie and Mr. J. W. McLaughlin. Mr. Dan Campbell officiated as marshal for the occasion.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Graham, of Union Ridge. She has a sweet attractive manner which wins for her many friends.

Mr. Moore is a popular young business man of this place. The happy couple are now taking an extended tour to Washington and other places of interest. After November 25th they will be at home to their friends at Raeford.

Their host of friends here wish them a most happy and successful career.

MISS MARGARET SHEPHERD BRYAN.

A Most Charming Reception Given by her in New Bern.

New Bern, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—A number of friends were charmingly entertained by Miss Margaret Shepard Bryan at her home on Saturday evening. The New Bern ladies are noted for their hospitality, and Miss Bryan deservedly sustained this reputation by the elegant manner in which she entertained her guests on this occasion.

The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Misses Caroline Claypool, Elizabeth Ellis, Elizabeth Burns, Agnes Foy, Nannie Street, Adeline Claypool, Israel Bryan and Miss Cole, of New York. Mr. E. R. Bishop, Mr. Romulus Nunn, Mr. Dodson, of Danville, Va.; Mr. Hill, of Portsmouth, Va.; Mr. Alex Justice, Mr. T. W. Waters, Mr. John Seymour, of El Paso, Texas; Mr. Dave Foy, Dr. Frank Duffy, Mr. H. R. Bryan, Jr.

Progressive whist was the chief feature of the evening. Mr. E. R. Bishop being the fortunate one, was presented with a handsome prize of burnt wood. The game being over the guests were invited into the dining room where a tempting and daintily set table awaited them, brilliantly lit with candles and brightened with flowers. Hand painted cards with conundrums marked the places for each guest. Refreshments being served the guests returned to the parlors where happy thoughts were exchanged, mingled with wit and humor and enlivened by merry strains of laughter until the finger of time told the near approach of another day. A happy good night was said and each guest voted thanks to their popular hostess for so delightful an evening.

Approaching Nuptials.

Lincolnton, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Miss Daisy Reinhardt, the popular and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Reinhardt, of Lincolnton, will be married December 2nd to Mr. Fred MacDonald, of Goldsboro. The bride-elect is one of Lincolnton's fairest daughters.

Forthcoming Marriage.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Handsome engraved invitations received in the city this week announce the forthcoming marriage on December 10th of Miss Genevieve Palmer, of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. Robert Edgar Post, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Post, of this city, and a prominent young business man of Baltimore.

Marriage Stopped by Guns.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—A marriage was to have been solemnized in Edmont last night, but the father of the young lady forced a shot-gun brigade, locked his daughter in her room and during the night kept close guard to prevent her being spirited away.

Ed Barton is the young man in the case, and Miss Nettie Teasley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Teasley, is the young lady. The license was secured yesterday afternoon, the ages of both being given as 18. The services of Justice J. E. Owens were secured and soon after nightfall he went to Edmont to officiate at the marriage. He saw the guns, and he saw the young lady, who looked to be about 14 or 15 years of age. She was in her room, the door to which was open, and she was attired in her wedding costume. Inside the house were four guards and on the outside there were two more and they looked as if they meant business. The justice returned to town.

What the outcome will be no man knoweth at present.

Elopers Marry in Fayetteville.

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Mr. D. P. Spell, A. C. L. agent at Conrad, S. C., and Miss Lessie Holt, of Vander, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, and were married at the La-Fayette Hotel, where they were stopping, by Rev. A. T. Kins, temporary pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city. It was an elopement with many exciting incidents. Mr. and Mrs. Spell left for Conrad immediately.
