General Chaffee Seizes the Madman by the Throat and Wrests the Smoking Revolver From His Hand. The Soldier Taken Hence Raging.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, March 3 .- Armed with a 38 calibre revolver, William J. O'Brien, alias William Duffy, an insane discharged soldier, today entered the War Departmert and going to coom 227 in the mail and record division, shot Robert J. Manning, a messenger, and Arthur Wiecker, a clerk.

Miss Emma Saxton, another clerk, barely missed being shot through the head. The injury to Manning is on the right side just above the kidneys and is regarded as dangerous. Wiecker was shot in the left arm above the elbow. Before the maniac could fire a third time he was overpowered by James J. Dawson, a messenger.

It required the combined strength of man's throat took the weapon from him, and also the papers in his pocket. Majors ion there is adverse to the claim of the line clear and to send eleven trains in Kean and Ireland, of the Surgeon Gencompany that the work done by them is eral's staff, were hastily sent for and gave first aid to the injured men before they were taken to the Emergency Hospital.

O'Brien, or Duffy, in talking to Charles | day. Brandt, the chief of the division, expressed dissatisfaction with his discharge papers Then, without a word of warning, he drew the pistol from his pocket and aimed it directly at Brandt's head. Brandt ducked and the bullet entered the arm of Wiccker. He then turned the weapon on Miss Saxton and fired. She, too, dodged and the bullet struck Manning:

O'Brien was taken to the police station, requiring four men to get him out of the building.

O'Brien was admitted to St. Elizabeth's Asylum in 1893. He later was paroled, but was returned in 1897. He served in the Sixth cavalry and Third artillery.

William Price, one of the colored men shot, arrived in this city today and is now at the hospital. He says that on Tuesday negroes were ordered out of the camp and went. They returned Wednes day, armed and ready to resist an attack They were standing in a group on the depot platform awaiting the arrival of a train, seventeen in number, when a white man shot at Jackson, when returned the fire and both men dropped dead about the same time.

Both whites and blacks began shootng, the latter scattering in all directions and seeking places of safety. Their flight put a stop to the conflict. Price says many were injured. The negroes wer; employed on the Midland Valley Railroad and their presence was objected to by the white laborers. Everything is not quiet, though there is an undercurrent of excitement which may cause further bloodshed if the negroes do not
